USC-COASTAL HOLDS CLASSES IN PHOTOGRAPHY, CHRISTMAS DECORATING AND HEART DISEASE PREVENTION

Upcoming non-credit short-courses at USC-Coastal Carolina College could teach you how to make your own Christmas decorations, improve your family photo album and learn how to avoid heart disease.

Crafts instructor Mary Lou Aylor will teach an evening short course entitled "Making Your Own Christmas Decorations," on Tuesdays at 7:30 - 9:30 p.m., Oct. 28 - Nov. 25, in the college Academic Building.

"This is a unique class," explains Continuing Education Director Dr. Sally Z. Hare. "It's a 'make and take home' workshop designed to teach people how to create Christmas decorations. Participants will learn to make fabric wreaths, stuffed fabric Christmas trees, cross-stitch ornaments, stuffed ornaments and clothespin ornaments."

Hare says the workshop fee, which is $42 per person or $65 for two family members, includes all materials except fabric for trees and wreaths.

"Master your Camera - Tips for the Intermediate Photographer," is another non-credit short-course offered at Coastal. Taught by professional photographer Leon Adelstone, the course is for "students who are beyond the beginner stage with the 35mm camera." Adelstone says his goal in teaching the course is to move participants from beginning photographers to accomplished photographers.

The photography course will meet on Tuesday evenings, 6 - 8, from Oct. 28 - Dec. 30, in the college academic building. The fee is $50 and includes all film.

A more serious subject is taught in the short-course, "You and Your Heart: A Short Course in Basic Cardiac Life Support." The course is taught by certified instructor Robin Morris and is designed to teach participants how to live in ways that are positive for the heart. The American Heart Association lists Horry County and the surrounding Pee Dee area as having one of the highest records of heart disease in the nation. Topics of the course include prudent heart living, risk factors toward heart disease, diet, danger signals and survival options. Each student will also learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

The heart course will meet 6 - 10 p.m. on Nov. 6th and 7th and will meet 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Nov. 8th. The tuition is $35 per person or $45 per couple.

USC-COASTAL SPONSORS BASKETBALL COACHES CLINIC

High school basketball coaches, recreation directors and youth program directors will have a chance to tune up their basketball coaching skills in a special basketball coaches clinic scheduled for USC-Coastal Carolina College near Myrtle Beach.

The clinic, scheduled for 7-10 p.m. on Oct. 28 and 30 and on Nov. 4 and 6, will be taught by USC-Coastal Carolina College Head Basketball Coach Russ Bergman.

Bergman, who is in his sixth year of coaching at Coastal, was a basketball letterman in the late 1960's at LSU; played semi-pro ball in the Continental Basketball Association and was an assistant coach under Press Maravich at Appalachian State University. At Coastal, Bergman has guided the Chanticleers to three district playoffs and is the new chairman of the basketball committee for NAIA District VI.

The topics Bergman will teach at the clinic will include practice organization, fundamentals in delaying offense, special situations, man-to-man defense, zones, fast break, passing game and set offenses, offense verses zones, traps and presses. The clinic offers 1.2 Continuing Education Units and has a fee of $35, which includes tickets to the Nov. 1 USC-Coastal Carolina and USC-Columbia intra-squad scrimmage at Coastal's Kimbel Gymnasium.

USC-COASTAL ESTABLISHES PHI DELTA KAPPA CHAPTER

A local chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, the professional education fraternity, has been installed at USC-Coastal Carolina College.

The fraternity is an international professional education organization designed to promote the ideals of research, service and leadership. It is the largest professional organization of its type in the world, with more than 130,000 members in 500 countries. USC-Coastal Carolina College is the latest site of a new chapter of PDK.

"The formal installation of this chapter of Phi Delta Kappa is an important event for educators in this section of South Carolina," says Dr. James Rex, Director of Teacher Education at the college.

"Phi Delta Kappa is recognized internationally as a major force for the improvement of research, service and leadership in education. The demonstrated interest and commitment from educational leaders in Horry County, Georgetown County, Marion County and from Coastal Carolina College is another indication that the 1980's will bring even greater communication and cooperation among leaders of elementary, secondary and post-secondary education. The ultimate result will be better education for the children, adolescents and adults of our section of the state."

HORRY SENATOR HONORED

South Carolina State Senator Ralph Ellis (D-Horry) has been recognized for his support of the USC-Coastal Carolina College chapter of the South Carolina State Student Legislature. Sen. Ellis was presented plaques of appreciation this week by the student legislators from Coastal.
