Commencement Exercises
May 5, 1984

Ten o'clock a.m.

Coastal Carolina Campus
Higher Education in Horry County had its beginning with the formation of the Coastal Education Foundation on July 23, 1954. The Foundation, an eleemosynary cooperation, gave birth to the Horry County Higher Education Commission which was created by statute on April 9, 1959. These two groups established and supported Coastal Carolina Junior College, the forerunner of Coastal Carolina College of the University of South Carolina.

Coastal Carolina College signed its first contract with the University of South Carolina on August 1, 1959, and received its first students with the beginning of the fall semester on September 16, 1960. Coastal Carolina served as a two-year regional campus of the University for the next thirteen years.

By special legislation, Coastal Carolina added a junior year to its educational program with the fall semester, 1973. Subsequently, the senior year followed, and Coastal Carolina became a four-year branch of the University of South Carolina with authority to award baccalaureate degrees.

The College now has a student population of 3000 with 116 full-time faculty members. Students may pursue associate and baccalaureate degrees in sixteen fields of study, while participating in more than thirty student clubs and organizations.

Coastal Carolina College is located on a 312-acre tract of land between Conway and Myrtle Beach on South Carolina’s popular and rapidly developing Grand Strand.

CITATION FOR THE HONORARY DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

DR. RALEIGH KIRBY GODSEY

Raleigh Kirby Godsey was born in Birmingham, Alabama, on April 6, 1936. He was educated in the public schools of Birmingham and was graduated in 1957 from Samford University, where he majored in history and minored in religion. He entered New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary shortly after graduation and earned a Bachelor of Divinity degree in 1960. Mr. Godsey, thereafter, continued his formal education for nine years, earning a Master of Arts Degree in Philosophy from the University of Alabama, a Doctor of Theology Degree from the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and a Doctorate of Philosophy Degree from Tulane University.

Dr. Godsey began his distinguished career in higher education in 1962 as Assistant Professor of Philosophy and Religion at Judson College in Marion, Alabama. During that time, in 1965, and again in 1970, he was named to “Outstanding Young Men in America.”

Today, he is a valued leader in the higher education community. He gained this distinction from years of service as a Danforth Associate for the Danforth Foundation; Vice President and Dean of the College of Averett College in Danville, Virginia; Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Mercer University in Macon, Georgia; Executive Vice President of Mercer University and, finally, since 1979, as President of the University.

He has served on the Board of Trustees for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, as a consultant, task force chairman, guest lecturer, and civil leader. He received the Citizenship Award for Danville, Virginia, in 1971, and has served as a Deacon of the First Baptist Church of Macon, Georgia, for five years.

Highlights of Dr. Godsey’s Presidency at Mercer include exemplary progress in the School of Liberal Arts and Law, and the establishment of Schools of Business, Nursing, and Medicine.

Dr. Godsey is married to Joan Stockstill of Hattiesburg, Mississippi. They have two sons and two daughters.

For his record of distinguished services in higher education and his dedication to civic progress; for his continuous enrichment of higher education and community development in the South; and for fostering the development of students, faculty, and administration through thoughtful vision for the future; the University of South Carolina, with the approval of its Board of Trustees, now presents Dr. Raleigh Kirby Godsey the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

DR. SAMUEL GEORGE LOVELL, JR.

Samuel George Lovell, Jr. was born the son of Samuel George and Collie P. Lovell in Ocala, Florida, on September 3, 1918. He was educated in the public schools of Marion County, Florida, and was graduated from Furman University in Greenville South Carolina, in 1942.

He earned a Master of Theology Degree from Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, in 1947, and studied at Oxford University in England in 1976. Dr. Lovell served as Chaplain with the Thirty-Fifth Infantry Division in Europe and received the Purple Heart and two Bronze Star Medals.

North Augusta is where Dr. Lovell began his service in the Ministry in 1947. From there, he moved to Statesboro, Georgia, in 1949 and to Conway, South Carolina, in 1954.

He has served the Baptist denomination in numerous capacities, including President of The South Carolina Baptist Convention and Trustee of Furman University. He currently serves as Director of Development for the South Carolina Baptist Ministries for the Aging, Inc., in Laurens, South Carolina. Dr. Lovell holds an Honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree from Furman University.

While in Conway, Dr. Lovell diligently served his community and higher education. He was President of The Conway Rotary Club and a dedicated member of the Horry County Higher Education Commission. Dr. Lovell served as Chairman of the Commission in 1963, when 185 acres were acquired and the Edward M. Singleton Building was erected at Coastal Carolina College of the University of South Carolina.

He was Conway Man of the Year in 1980.

Dr. Lovell is married to the former Julia Chiles of Rogersville, Tennessee. They have three children, two daughters and one son.

For his record of community service to our state and to the University’s Coastal Carolina College; for his unfailing concerns for people and their well being; for diligent civic commitment to people of all ages, at all stages of spiritual and emotional growth; the University of South Carolina, with the approval of its Board of Trustees, now presents Dr. Samuel George Lovell, Jr., the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

THE CAROLINA MACE

The University's Mace, designed and fashioned by the world famous English silversmith Leslie Durbin, is the symbol of the University's corporate entity and authority as well as of the endeavors of the entire university community. It was created and dedicated in 1967 and is carried in procession on occasions of outstanding importance, such as degree-granting ceremonies or formal dedications. Placing the Mace on its stand is a signal that the proceedings are about to come to order; its retirement indicates that the exercises are concluded.

The Mace, representing the whole of the University, is carried in today's graduation procession by Coastal's senior faculty member, Professor James Branham. Professor Branham has been a member of the Coastal Carolina College Department of History for the past twenty-one years.

USC EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION TEACHING AWARD

Ms. Cleary is the first Coastal Carolina College recipient of this prestigious award.
ALMA MATER

"We Hail Thee, Carolina"

(Tune - Flow Gently, Sweet Afton)

We hail thee, Carolina, and sing thy high praise;
With loyal devotion, rememb'ring the days,
When proudly we sought thee, thy children to be;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!

Since pilgrims of learning, we entered thy walls,
And found dearest comrades in thy classic halls;
We've honored and loved thee, as sons faithfully;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!

Fair shrine of high honor and truth, thou shalt still
Blaze forth as a beacon, thy mission fulfill;
And be crowned by all hearts in a new jubilee;
Here's a health, Carolina, forever to thee!
