SHAKESPEARE PLAYS

On March 14th Romeo and Juliet will be televised (P.B.S. 8 p.m.) and on March 28th Richard II will be aired. (Derek Jacobi of I, Claudius is incredibly fine as Richard). For those of you with no access to E.T.V. we will have viewings on Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m. in the t.v. lounge of the Student Union Building. On alternate Tuesdays part II of each play will be shown before part I to accommodate those who cannot see the whole play through because of either a 12:30 or 2 o'clock class.

LIBRARY DISPLAY

During the month of March the Library is hosting a display assembled by students of Dr. Engelmayr using objects from his work in Egypt. Among the items are ancient scarabs, a several thousand-year-old Ibis mummie, a human skull from the Nile valley, and pottery from several Egyptian dynasties.

COMPUTER ASSISTED REGISTRATION

Advisers/Faculty can assist students by publicizing and encouraging participation in Computer Assisted Registration (C.A.R.) for the Fall 1979 Semester during the period Monday, March 19, 1979, through Wednesday April 4, 1979. Students who participate get first choice of available classes and also avoid the crowds on August 30, 1979, when regular registration will occur. They also will receive their schedule in April so as to know well ahead of time when their classes occur. Please announce this in your classes and support this program. It should also be noted that the more students who sign up for C.A.R., the easier it is for divisions/departments to anticipate student class loads, and adjust to student section demand.

The following students will be participating in a field trip to the Planetarium at Francis-Marion College on March 13.
