ACADEMIC REGALIA & PROCESSION

The custom of wearing a distinctive dress for academic ceremonies dates back to the Middle Ages, when people dressed in keeping with their class: nobility, clergy, or third estate. The faculties of American universities have worn distinguishing costumes since the beginning, in 1636, at Harvard University.

Today, academic costume is worn in the United States by persons taking part in academic ceremonies in general, at commencement exercises, at baccalaureate services, and at various inauguration ceremonies, such as the installation of a president, the conferring of an honorary degree on a distinguished guest, or the laying of the cornerstone of a building.

The institutions awarding degrees, the nature of the degrees, and the major fields of knowledge represented by the degrees can be readily identified by the designs and colors used.

The baccalaureate gown is the simplest in design. Usually black, it is distinguished by a wide yoke with shirring in front and back and by open flowing sleeves which end in a point. The baccalaureate gown is worn closed.

The master's gown is similar to the baccalaureate gown except that it has a closed or glove sleeve which is open at the wrist. The master's gown has no other trim and may be worn either open or closed.

The doctoral gown is full flowing and has large bell-shaped sleeves, and is trimmed with velvet panels down the front and has velvet chevrons on the sleeves. While black is still the predominant color for doctoral gowns, the trim may be in a color which denotes the wearer's discipline or the color of the gown may denote the wearer's university.

The square Oxford cap, or mortarboard, of serge or broadcloth, with a stiff crown, is traditionally black. Once the baccalaureate degree has been conferred, the tassel is worn on the left side. The tassel is usually black, but may be of a color denoting the major field of knowledge for bachelor's and master's degrees and gold for doctoral degrees.

The color cord, worn around the neck, signifies academic honors. Students belonging to specific honor societies also may wear cords denoting their membership. Honor society colors are: Alpha Mu Gamma – gold; Kappa Delta Pi – green/purple; Omicron Delta Kappa – light blue/white/black; Phi Alpha Theta – blue/red; Phi Sigma Tau – purple/white; Psi Chi – gold/blue with gold tassel; Phi Mu Epsilon – purple/yellow-orange; Sigma Tau Delta – red/black.

The greatest degree of symbolism is shown by the hood. The size and shape of the American hood marks the college degree attained by the wearer. The lining of the hood is indicative of the college from which the degree was granted. If more than one color is used, one color is generally arranged as a chevron upon the other. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the major field of knowledge.

Most academic ceremonies begin and end with an academic procession. At Coastal Carolina University, candidates for degrees are first and process in the order in which the degrees will be bestowed, followed by the platform party and deans. The faculty is next and arranged by rank, with senior professors first.

The Coastal Carolina Alumni Association will host a reception for graduates and their guests in the lobby following commencement.
CITATION FOR THE DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD

LINDA P. HOLLANDSWORTH is from Fieldale, Virginia, where she attended public schools. She received her undergraduate education at Ferrum Junior College and Greensboro College, graduating with a bachelor's degree in theater and speech in 1969. She has taught high school English and theater in Virginia and Massachusetts. After receiving a master's degree from Hollins College in 1978, she taught English and speech at Ferrum College and Patrick Henry Community College in Virginia.

She came to Coastal Carolina in 1985 as a part-time instructor of English. She directed Brighton Beach Memoirs in 1986, Carousel in 1988, and Girl Crazy in 1989. While teaching part-time, she pursued doctoral studies in rhetoric and linguistics at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, and received a Ph.D. in 1990. She is an associate professor of English and teaches Freshman Composition, American Literature, and English as a Second Language.

Hollandsworth has published articles and reviews in Studies in Short Fiction, Education, California TESOL, and Virginia English. She has made presentations at the Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) International Conference, the National Conference for Teachers of English (NCTE), and the Flannery O'Connor International Symposium. She is a member of the NCTE, TESOL, and South Carolina Council of Teachers of English.

In 1992, Hollandsworth was appointed the University's NCAA Faculty Athletics Representative and represents the University at the Big South Conference and the NCAA Conference. She has served as a member of the Faculty Senate, Freshman Composition Committee, University Promotion and Tenure Committee, Faculty Welfare and Development Committee and Intercollegiate Athletics Committee. She was a member of the Committee for Restructuring in the Horry County Public Schools in 1994-1995, working specifically at Myrtle Beach Middle School, and also is active as a member of the Grand Strand Humane Society.

Since 1990, she has received Academic Specialist grants from the United States Information Agency to conduct English workshops in Poland, Italy, Russia, and Mexico.

Hollandsworth was a finalist in the 1995 Governor's Professor of the Year Award.

The Coastal Educational Foundation Distinguished Teaching Award recognizes faculty who demonstrate excellence in teaching. A student committee solicits nominations from students; top candidates then receive classroom visitations and are interviewed by the committee.

In recognition of teaching excellence, Professor Hollandsworth was selected by Coastal Carolina University students to receive the Coastal Educational Foundation, Inc., Distinguished Teaching Award for 1994-1995.
DEGREES IN COURSE

The following list of candidates for graduation was prepared before final grades were reported, and inclusion herein does not constitute evidence of graduation. The listing of a name in this program should not be construed as an indication that the person will, in fact, receive a degree from Coastal Carolina at this commencement. Conversely, the absence of a student’s name from this list does not necessarily mean that the person will not be awarded a degree. Honors for degree candidates are based on the collegiate grade point average on file at this time. Honors to be printed on the diplomas will be based on the final cumulative grade point average on all collegiate work.

Where indicated with an asterisk (*) the individual completed all degree requirements and was awarded the degree at the conclusion of Summer 1995. Appropriate honors are indicated.

COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY
ALMA MATER

Coastal Carolina

We come to you to lead our search, and learn to reach beyond ourselves –
below the earth, beyond the stars – to form our dreams for better years.

Here, green and bronze in nature; light – sweet pine forests that surround us, ocean waters that sustain us – reflect your standards that prepare us.

May we return in thought and care to share your promise of enrichment, and celebrate and sing our praise for Coastal Carolina.

Bennie Lee Sinclair

The Coastal Carolina University Alma Mater was written in 1994 by Bennie Lee Sinclair, Poet Laureate of South Carolina, to commemorate the first year of the institution’s status as a university.

The original score for the Alma Mater was written by William R. Hamilton, Coastal Carolina University music professor.

For making this great occasion for our graduates possible, special thanks are extended to WCI Management Group, Inc. for use of the Gatlin Brothers Theatre.

Coastal Carolina University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution.
