Blues guitarist to highlight Spring Arts Festival

Painted Philip Mullen, poet Cecile Goding, the Shag, Florence Ballet's "Coppelia" also on program

The 1993 Spring Arts Festival will be held Monday, March 29 through Sunday, April 4. The annual celebration of the arts features more than 40 events including music, theater, art, literature and poetry, dance, and more. All events of the Spring Arts Festival are open to the public; most events are free.

Highlighting the annual festival is a performance by blues guitarist Drink Small on Wednesday, March 31 at 1:30 p.m. in the Little Theater. The concert is free.

An internationally acclaimed musician who refers to himself as "The Blues Doctor," Small is a proponent of the entire range of blues styles, from the Piedmont to the Delta. Born in Bishopville, S.C., Small learned to play the guitar when he was 3 years old on an instrument made of rubber bands and sticks. He has come a long way since those days — he has been featured at clubs, festivals and colleges across the United States, including performances as part of the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival, New York City's SummerStage in Central Park, Washington, D.C.'s Smithsonian Folk Art Festival, Charlotte's Spoleto Festival and Jazz Charlotte. Small also performed to packed houses in Helsinki, Finland, as part of the Kerriva Jazz Festival in 1991. Small's distinctive 12-bar blues style with three-line verses is rooted in the African-American tradition begun in the rural South in the early 1900s and popularized in Chicago's South Side in the 1930s and 1940s. It is a tradition heard in the music of Robert Johnson, Muddy Waters, Sonny Boy Williams and B.B. King.

In 1990, a special joint session of the South Carolina General Assembly was held in the Statehouse to award Small the

Florence Ballet Company to perform “Coppelia” at Coastal

The Florence Ballet Company will perform the full-length ballet "Coppelia," on Saturday, April 3 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 4 at 2:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The performances are part of the college's Spring Arts Festival. Tickets are $12 for adults and $8 for students. "Coppelia" is a romance and comedy that has been a favorite of ballet audiences for years. The ballet is considered one of the classical performances which has a broad appeal due to its humor, lively music and romantic ending.

Richard Hubscher, a leading dancer with the Houston Ballet Company, is the professional guest dancer performing with the Florence Ballet Company. He began dancing with Ballet Florida in 1977 and moved to New York City in 1980 to dance.

with David Howard. He later received a full scholarship to study with the Houston Ballet Company and earned a corps position in 1983. Hubscher has partnered with International Ballet Competition winners, including Catheline Heeley and Martha Butler, winner of the IV USA International Ballet Competition Gold Medal. He has danced leads in a variety of ballets, including "Cinderella," "Sparticus," "The Nutcracker," "Peter and the Wolf," "Romeo and Juliette," and "Sleeping Beauty." When not dancing, Hubscher is a professional artist who paints, sculpts, and designs sets for the Houston Ballet.

The ballet is directed by Elsie Jenkins, owner of the Florence Ballet Academy and founder of the Florence Ballet Company. She trained and danced with the Greenville (S.C.) Civic Ballet Company, as well as Stanley foliage of the New York City Ballet. She also studied with Karl Singletary, an internationally recognized teacher of the Vaganova, or Russian technique, ballet.

Ballet-master Carl Askew also trained under Russian technique specialist Karl Singletary. He has received scholarships from the New York State Summer School of the Arts, American Ballet Theatre, and the Alvin Ailey American Dance Center. He has toured with The Alvin Ailey Company in the United States and Europe and has danced in the Broadway musicals "A Chorus Line" and "West Side Story." He also appeared with Debbie Allen in the movie, "Fame." Since its founding in 1978, members of the Florence Ballet Company have performed in Arts Alive at Francis Marion University and Piccolo Spoleto. The company donates time to dance in benefit performances for the Florence Area Arts Council, the Florence Little Theatre, McLeod Hospital and various Pee Dee area charities.

MasterCard and Visa are accepted for ticket purchase.

Folk Heritage Award for lifetime achievement in traditional folk art. In recognizing the honor, U.S. Rep. Floyd Spence said, "As time and progress continue to take us from our roots, the artisans who preserve our heritage become more and more valuable to us. Drink Small is such an artisan . . . He is truly a national treasure."

Painter Philip Mullen will discuss his works Thursday, April 1 from 10 to 11:15 a.m. in the Little Theater, and a reception will be held from noon to 3 p.m. in the Little Theater Gallery. The discussion and reception are free.

Mullen's works have evolved from pen and pencil drawings in black and white to abstract acrylic paintings done on oversized canvases. Critics characterize Mullen's work as "bands of moving color and form." His works have been displayed at New York's Whitney Museum, San Francisco Museum of Art, and in the Smithsonian Traveling Exhibition. Sales from his pieces have generated nearly $2 million, and his works hang in the homes of singer Neil Diamond and Crown Prince Fadio Addulaziz of Saudi Arabia. Mullen lives in Columbia and teaches at the University of South Carolina.

Poet Cecile Goding will read from her works Thursday, April 1 from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in SC 205. The reading is free.

Music instructor, pianist to perform in concert

Pianist Raymond Kilburn will perform in concert Friday, March 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The concert is free and open to the public.

Kilburn will perform from the works of Chopin, Martin, Brahms, Schumann/Lisz and Bach/Rachmaninoff, and Bach/Siloti. Kilburn has performed throughout the United States and Canada and in Europe and Japan. An instructor of music at Coastal, he received a master's degree in piano performance from Indiana University, a bachelor's degree in music from McGill University, and is completing doctoral studies in piano at Indiana University.

For more information, contact Ray Kilburn.

Radio personalities to be on campus for Sigma Nu fund raiser

Local radio personalities will be on campus Tuesday, March 23 through Friday, March 26 to assist with a fund raiser sponsored by Sigma Nu Fraternity. The fraternity will be selling “feet” to raise money for the WalkAmerica for the March of Dimes campaign.

“Feet” are available for $1 each and will be displayed in the Student Center through Saturday, April 3. The name of anyone purchasing a foot will be entered for a drawing of prizes to be held at the end of the campaign.

The radio personalities will be in the Student Center dining area and will provide gifts and prizes for participants. All faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to stop by and meet the disc jockey from their favorite radio station and possibly win a prize.

The schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, March 23
- WKZQ Radio – “Banana Jack” Murphy noon to 2 p.m.

Wednesday, March 24
- WYAV Radio Wave 104) – Jim Morgan from the Jim and Jim Morning Show 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Thursday, March 25
- WSYN Radio (Sunny 106.5) – Frank Barnhill noon to 1:30 p.m.

Friday, March 26
- WBPR Radio (Power 98) – Calvin Hicks 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Important note: Calvin Hicks will be filming a segment for WPDE TV-15 while he is at Coastal. The segment will be broadcast on TV-15’s 6 p.m. news program. Don’t miss your opportunity to possibly be on television!

Sigma Nu Fraternity will continue to sell WalkAmerica “feet” through Friday, April 2. Support from faculty, staff, and students will be most appreciated.

For more information about this fund raiser, contact Mark Sikes or Sigma Nu Fraternity members. For information or to join Coastal’s WalkAmerica for the March of Dimes team, contact Patti Loeb or Nancy Burton.

Three-on-three basketball tournament scheduled

The Physical Education and Recreation Club will hold a three-on-three basketball tournament on Saturday, April 3 in Kimbel Gymnasium. Check-in begins at 8:30 a.m. and the tournament continues until 6 p.m. The tournament is open to the public. Cost is $15 per team.

Soccer team to play exhibition match with Charleston professional club

An exhibition match between the Coastal Carolina men’s soccer team and the Charleston Battery, a professional soccer club, will be held at Coastal on Saturday, March 27 at 7 p.m. Admission is $4 for adults and $2 for children; tickets will be available at the gate. Concessions will be available.

Summer Job Bank available on campus for Coastal faculty

A Faculty Summer Job Bank is being implemented by the Job Locator Office in cooperation with the Office of Academic Affairs and the Office of College Advancement. The service has been developed in response to inquiries from several faculty members about summer employment opportunities. Coastal's full-time and adjunct faculty members interested in consultation, grantwriting, project management, research or other similar temporary positions with local business and industry should contact Mollie Starbuck for additional information.

The Job Locator Office will actively seek employment opportunities and will maintain listings as they are received. Registered faculty will be contacted by the Job Locator Office about listed opportunities.

Campus Crime Alert update

Campus police have reported the three suspects involved in the March 3 carjacking incident on the Coastal campus have been apprehended.

The timely apprehension of the suspects is a prime example of the cooperation between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Horry County Police working in conjunction with the Conway Police Department and the Coastal Police Department on the investigation.

As a reminder concerning campus safety practices, please be aware of and observe the following safety tips:

- Be aware of your surroundings. Look for people who seem to just be hanging around or a vehicle that is being driven aimlessly back and forth on a street or in a parking lot.
- Avoid walking alone unless it is absolutely necessary. If you must walk at night, walk with a friend, if possible, and carry a flashlight.
- Have your keys in your hand before you reach your vehicle, don’t waste time fumbling with your keys in your pocket or buried in a purse or bookbag.
- If you observe a person unfamiliar to you, acting in a suspicious manner, notify the Office of Law Enforcement and Safety immediately (extension 2177.)
- If you have information about this or any other crime, call the Coastal Carolina College Police Department at 349-2177 or Horry County Crime Stoppers at 248-5000.

Public hearing set in Conway for Coastal’s independence from USC System

The subcommittees of the South Carolina House of Representatives and Senate will hold a public hearing on House Bill 3129 and Senate Bill 215, the legislation separating Coastal Carolina from the University of South Carolina System, on Monday, March 29 from 5 to 7 p.m. in Conway City Council Chambers, City hall, located on the corner of Main Street and Third Avenue in Conway. An agenda will be followed. The hearing is open to the public. For more information, contact June Brown.

Powell returns to campus for concert with Schleuning, Yang in Young Artist Showcase Performers in the second Young Artist Showcase will take the stage Thursday, April 1 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Featured performers include pianist Philip Powell, cellist SungWon Yang and violinist Maria Schleuning. Tickets are $12 and $9 for students.

Presented by the Wheelwright Council for the Performing Arts, the Young Artist Showcase highlights the talents of young musicians who have already garnered high international acclaim.

Pianist Philip Powell has performed with the Long Bay Symphony, the USC Symphony and the Jupiter Symphony. He is a past president of the Coastal Concert Association, pianist for the Atlantic Chamber Players and the founder and director of the "Musical de Genève" Music Series. Powell received his bachelor degree in music from Oklahoma University, his master’s degree from Indiana University and is completing his doctorate in music at Indiana University.

He was a faculty member in the Department of Music at Coastal from 1988 to 1992.

SungWon Yang’s performance travels have taken him through North and South Korea, Switzerland, France, West Germany and the United States. He made his American debut in New York City’s Alice Tully Hall in 1991 and is slated for an October 1993 concert at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. The Young Artist Series marks Yang’s second performance at Coastal; he performed with pianist Philip Powell in February 1991. Yang performs on a J.F. Pressenda 1845 cello.

Violinist Maria Schleuning is a member of the Bel Voir Quartet in New York City. She has performed as a soloist with the Oregon, Seattle and Columbia symphony orchestras and with the Indiana University Chamber Orchestra. Schleuning completed her master’s degree from the Juilliard School where she studied violin with Joel Smirnoff and chamber music with the Juilliard Quartet. She was the recipient of the Dame Myra Hess Foundation Trust Scholarship in 1989, concertmaster at the Banff Festival in Canada in 1991 and the Indiana University Philharmonic Orchestra in 1988.

Powell, Yang and Schleuning will perform from the works of Haydn, Beethoven, Debussy and Shostakovich.

The Young Artist Showcase is funded, in part, by the Horry Cultural Arts Council, an umbrella organization that provides assistance, support, resource information and funding to individuals and organizations involved with the cultural, performing and visual arts in Horry County.

Groups of 20 or more purchasing single tickets for Passport events are offered special savings. Tickets may be purchased by telephone and charged to MasterCard or VISA.

For more information or ticket information, call the Box Office.

Wheelwright Passport presents “The Actor and the Assassin”

“The Actor and the Assassin,” a drama based on the lives of Edwin and John Wilkes Booth, will be performed on Wednesday, March 31 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Tickets are $10 for adults and $7 for students.

The two-man drama is based on the lives and relationship of Shakespearean actor Edwin Booth and his brother, John Wilkes Booth, who shot Abraham Lincoln. Set in Edwin’s dressing room in 1866 not long after his infamous brother’s death, the play explores sibling rivalry as the prime motive for the assassination of Lincoln.

Steven Lloyd, director and playwright, performs as Edwin Booth. Lloyd has worked in theaters across the United States and has appeared nationally on major television networks. He holds two master’s degrees: in theater and communications. Lloyd has also served as guest artist for Tulane University and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Jerry Sipp performs as John Wilkes Booth. Sipp has toured nationally in productions of “The Hunchback of Notre Dame,” “Man of LaMancha,” and “A Christmas Carol.” Sipp is trained in stage combat and served as fight choreographer for the outdoor drama, “The Lone Star.” He has also served as artist-in-residence for Nashville Academy Theatre, Glassboro Summer Music Theatre and at Parkway Playhouse.

Lloyd and Sipp will demonstrate stage combat and sword technique in a workshop on Wednesday, March 31 from 3 to 4 p.m. as part of the college’s Spring Arts Festival. The demonstration is free and open to the public.

For reservations or more information, call the Wheelwright Box Office.
This Summer,
Spend 20 Days
in England
for $2,300.

A special opportunity for Coastal faculty, staff, and spouses only.

Join Coastal's trip to Manchester College in Oxford, and take advantage of a great price and favorable exchange rate. Manchester College has a beautiful campus and is a five-minute walk from the center of town and its varied collection of pubs, ethnic restaurants, bookstores, and shops. Much of England is an affordable day trip away by train or bus from Oxford. Since you would be participating as a non-student, after breakfast and before dinner your days would be free to roam on your own. Indications are that the dollar should be much stronger this summer than last. If the rates hold, your dollar could buy about 25 percent more than it did last year.

Included in the price are your round-trip airfare, airport transfers, breakfast and dinner, and accommodations at Manchester College (17 nights, double occupancy – single supplement approximately $250), bed and breakfast for three nights (double occupancy) in London, and introductory day trip to London our first Saturday, and a day trip to Stonehenge and Bath our last Saturday. For an additional $250, you may take part in a three-day trip (bed and breakfast included) to Stratford to see three plays and participate in discussions and presentation led by Royal Shakespeare Company actors.

We leave Charlotte International Airport July 14 on USAir and will return August 4. Round trip bus transportation will be provided to Charlotte from Coastal. Space is limited. If you are interested, please contact Geoff Parsons, extension 2054, no later than Wednesday, March 24. A $200 deposit is due by April 1, with the balance due May 1.
