Coastal Theater presents America's musical, "1776"

The award-winning musical comedy "1776" opens Friday, April 23 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Performances continue Saturday, April 24 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 25 at 3 p.m. Tickets are $8 for adults and $5 for students.

"1776" is the winner of the 1968-1969 New York Drama Critics' Circle Award, and the 1969 Tony Award for the best musical comedy. The central issue of the musical is the writing of the American Declaration of Independence.

The Coastal Carolina Theater production is directed by Charles Whetzel.

Whetzel said, "How does one tell a prospective ticket buyer that what lies ahead is an evening devoted to a musical concerning the drafting and signing of the Declaration of Independence, and convince the ticket buyer to go? But one can forget about any dreary historical tableau with pompous speeches. Instead, '1776' offers a stage crowded with living men concerned with freedom. '1776' is a suspenseful, moving and funny cliff-hanger."

Broadway critic Clive Barnes said, "The authors have really captured the Spirit of '76. The characters are most unusually full for a musical, and even though the outcome of the story is never in any very serious doubt, '1776' is consistently exciting and entertaining for the book is literate, urbane and, on occasion, very amusing. It is a musical with style, humanity, wit and passion."

The timeliness of a musical about independence has not escaped the Coastal Carolina College theater staff. "How could we resist?" said Theater Department chair David Millard. "The bill to make Coastal Carolina College an independent university is now in the South Carolina State Legislature."

Jordon Alexander is musical director and conductor. Alexander is an instructor of music at Coastal and a candidate for a Ph.D. in music at USC. In summer 1990

Academic excellence recognized during Honors Convocation

Students who have achieved academic excellence will be recognized during the annual Honors Convocation on Tuesday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The event is free and open to the public.

In addition to awards from each of the college's academic areas, students who have earned membership to nine honor societies will be recognized. Also, the Academic Excellence Award recognizes a senior who has achieved an outstanding record of academic achievement through his or her enrollment at the college; the Coastal Educational Foundation

Distinguished Teaching Award recognizes a faculty member who has demonstrated excellence in teaching; the Ronald D. Lackey Service Award, named in honor of a faculty member and college chaplain who continues to serve the college with singular dedication, recognizes a senior who has demonstrated conspicuous service and leadership to the college community; and the Student Affairs Division Award honors faculty who have made significant contributions to student life.

"1776"

she served as musical director for the Coastal Carolina Theater production "Closer Than Ever."

Scenic and light design are by Lee Shepherd with costumes by Vivian Brooks. Shepherd is a visiting professor of theater at Coastal. He has a master's of fine arts degree in scene design from the University of South Carolina. Brooks has worked with Whetzel on Coastal Carolina Theater productions of "The Imaginary Invalid" and "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead." Most recently she designed the women's costumes for Coastal Carolina Theater production of "Our Town."

The cast is headed by local musical comedy favorite Joe Garrell as Ben Franklin. Garrell, who is president and CEO of LITUS Properties, has appeared locally as Daddy Warbucks in "Annie" and as Tevye in "Fiddler On the Roof."

Musical "showstoppers" are sung by Richard Flood as South Carolina's Edward Rutledge, an employee of AVX; and Russell Johnson, a Coastal student, who sings the mournful "Mamma Look Sharp."

Also featured in this cast of 25 are Coastal students Michael Matthews and Cheryl Felder as Tom and Martha Jefferson, and Surfside Beach resident Dean Jackson as John Rutledge of Pennsylvania. Jackson is retired from the United States Air Force.

Other Coastal students in the cast are Dean Reynolds, Eric Lavoie, Mark Duncan, D.L. Page, Jason Vail, Darryl Cook, Joe Powers, Dargan Baldwin, Chad Feagan, Donnie Guyton, and Chad Grimm.

Community cast members in addition to Garrell, Flood and Jackson include Sam Sands and Bruce Chestnut from Murrells Inlet, Byron Fowler from North Myrtle Beach, Socastee High School choral music director Norman McQueen and Jim Blackburn, assistant professor of French at Coastal Carolina.

Early group reservations are extensive and seating is limited to the main floor for this production; so early reservations are recommended.

For reservations or more information, call the Wheelwright Box Office, open weekdays from noon to 5 p.m. ~

Scholarly forum presented on Declaration of Independence

As a preamble to the Coastal Carolina Theater production of the musical comedy "1776", the Department of Theater presents a scholarly forum, "Three Views on the Declaration of Independence" on Tuesday, April 20 at 2:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The forum is free and open to the public.

Key speakers will offer their views of the Declaration of Independence. The speakers are:

- Paul Peterson, who recently had a paper, entitled "Ronald Reagan and the Reformation of American Conservatism," accepted for presentation at the Ninth

Annual Presidential Conference;

- Jack Riley, who specializes in political philosophy and American politics with special attention to the founding of the nation; and

- Arthur Coleman, a partner in the law firm Nelson, Mullins, Riley and Scarborough of Columbia, who specializes in constitutional law and civil rights litigation. He was a member of the Clinton-Gore Transition Team, Justice and Civil Rights Cluster, from December 1992 to January 1993.

For more information about the forum, contact David Millard. ~

Portrayal of George Bernard Shaw, actress Stella Campbell's relationship to be presented

"Dear Liar," the professional theater portrayal of Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw and British actress Stella Campbell, will be performed Thursday, April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Tickets are $10 and $7 for students.

"Dear Liar" is the story of the impossible romance between a very married Shaw and the actress-widow he was smitten with. The play is set in the first 40 years of the 20th century.

Critics write that "Dear Liar" describes a "witty, tempestuous and flirtatious relationship between two strong personalities." The play chronicles Shaw and Campbell's stormy relationship through letters - in which they confide in the many things they could not do in real life.

The play "Pygmalion" was written for Campbell, who played the original Liza Doolittle.

The Jerome Kilty adaptation of the Shaw-Campbell relationship is performed by Lynn and Merle Lentz, who have worked together professionally in stage, television, film and radio. Merle Lentz has been a professor of theater for more than 25 years and directed the Performing Arts Center in Anchorage, Alaska, until 1985. Lynn Lentz has taught acting and dance and has choreographed for opera and theater.

Kilty launched "Dear Liar" in 1957, and since then, the play has been translated and performed in Moscow, Warsaw and Belgrade. The play was selected by the President's Cultural Exchange Program to represent American theater at the International Dramatic Festival in Paris.

"Dear Liar" is presented by the Cultural Arts Committee of the Wheelwright Council for the Arts and is the final event of the 1992-1993 Wheelwright Passport season.

Groups of 20 or more purchasing single tickets for Passport events are offered special savings. Tickets may be purchased by telephone and charged to MasterCard or VISA.

For ticket information, call the Wheelwright Box Office. ~

Faculty information for Honors Convocation

The annual Honors Convocation will be held Tuesday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The Student Government Association and the Office of Academic Affairs will host a reception in the Student Center following the convocation.

Faculty will assemble in the Student Center at 7:15 p.m., wearing academic robes, for a procession to Wheelwright Auditorium. In case of rain, faculty will assemble in the mezzanine of Wheelwright Auditorium.

The Honors Convocation is a singular occasion for the faculty's recognition of outstanding academic achievement by students and colleagues.

To emphasize the academic significance of the occasion, recognitions will be limited to disciplinary awards and honor societies, the distinguished teaching award, the Student Affairs award to a faculty member contributing to co-curricular activities, the Ronald D. Lackey Service Award, and the Academic Excellence Award.

For more information, contact the Office of Academic Affairs. ~

Dunkin to be honored during hometown celebration

The Terrell's Bay Booster Club, along with family and friends, will host a parade and banquet to honor Coastal basketball player Tony "Slammin" Dunkin on Friday, April 30 in Centenary, South Carolina. Dunkin was named the Big South Conference Most Valuable Player for four consecutive years. The events are open to the public.

The parade will begin at 4 p.m. An autograph signing session in the lobby of Terrell's Bay High School will immediately follow the parade.

A banquet will be held at the Taft Watson Gymnasium of Terrell's Bay High School, beginning at 7 p.m. Donations are $10 for adults; $5 for students with an identification card.

For details or to purchase tickets, contact Mollie Bethea-Floyd; Charles McFadden, principal of Terrell's Bay High School (362-1476); Charles Pee, president of the Booster Club (423-4129); or Addie Pee Cain, Florence School District I (665-2782).

News from Drug and Alcohol Prevention Program

- Young People's AA, an alcoholics anonymous program started by students for young people, will be held every Friday at 9 p.m. in SC 204. The only requirement to attend AA meetings is a desire to stop drinking. For more information, contact Vicki Gardner.

- "Spring Break," a seven-minute video taped at Daytona Beach during spring break 1990, is available in the Student Affairs Office. The discussion film is about the role of alcohol in decision making about sex. For more information, contact Vicki Gardner or Patti Loeb.

Drop-in planned to honor secretaries

The Conway Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will host a drop-in to honor secretaries on Tuesday, April 20 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Horry-Georgetown Technical College, room 801. The event is free and open to all secretaries.

For more information, contact Carole Abner.

Graduate advisement, registration for summer 1993 to be held

Advisement for graduate students at Coastal will be held Monday, April 19 through Friday, April 23 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Graduate Office in the Graduate and Continuing Education Center.

Advisement appointments are now being scheduled; students must have appointments. Following advisement, graduate students may register for summer classes throughout the week in the Graduate Office. Summer classes begin Monday, June 7.

According to Helen Hood, graduate registrar at Coastal, students will avoid long lines during the late registration period in June and may get a better selection of classes if they take this opportunity for early advisement and registration.

Graduate students may also use telephone registration (TIPS) from push-button telephones, beginning Wednesday,

April 7. The TIPS number is (803) 251-8477.

No tuition bills will be mailed for summer courses.

Graduate courses are offered through USC Graduate Regional Studies at Coastal in education, English, government, history, librarianship, mathematics, psychology, public health administration, social work, and several other disciplines. USC also offers courses at Coastal leading to the Professional MBA and master of engineering degrees.

Television instruction in some disciplines provides an alternative to traditional classroom instruction. Instruction for these courses is offered on closed-circuit television, through ETV or on videotape.

For more information about registration or eligibility requirements, contact Coastal's Graduate Office.

Pee Dee Heritage Center to present program

Southern Accents: Varieties of Speech and Storytelling in South Carolina will be presented Sunday, May 2 from 3 to 5 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The program is sponsored by the Pee Dee Heritage Center, a joint endeavor of Coker College, Francis Marion University, The Governor's School for Science and Mathematics, and Coastal Carolina College. The program, followed by a reception, is free and open to the public.

The keynote speaker will be Patricia Causey Nichols who will speak on the topic "Voices of the Past: Africans, Europeans, and Native Americans in Early South Carolina." Nichols, a professor of linguistics and language development at San Jose State University in California, is a leading authority on speech patterns in the American South.

A native of Horry County, Nichols is a 1992-1993 Rockefeller Fellow in Comparative Cultures of the South at the Institute for the Arts and Humanities at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. A graduate of Conway High School, she received her B.A. in English from Winthrop College and her Ph.D. from Stanford University.

A video presentation of "Horry Stories," from the Horry County Oral History Project collected by Randall Wells and Catherine Lewis, also will be included in the program.

For more information, contact Charles Joyner or Jim Michie.

Coastal Carolina People

Paul Gayes and Doug Nelson recently participated in a series of oceanographic cruises aboard NOAA's research ship Ferrell. On the first portion, Gayes collaborated with researchers from University of Delaware to determine the history of deposits at the mouth of Delaware Bay. The second portion involved Nelson and two marine science students in a study of sediments from Cape Fear to Edisto Island. The fault that caused the 1886 Charleston earthquake was recognized in several localities under the sea floor and will be the subject of a future article by these marine scientists.

James Farsolas recently presented a lecture, entitled "Russia and the Central Asian Republics: After Independence, New Directions?", to the Senior Scholars Meeting in Georgetown. The lectures are organized by the Friends of the Georgetown Library, chairperson of the Senior Scholars, as part of the "Great Decision of 1993" program series. More than 40 Senior Scholars attended the presentation and question and answer session.

Ed Cerny served as chair for the International Day which was held in Montreal, Canada, and held in conjunction with the American Academy of Advertisers' National Convention. Presentations were made by ten different international advertising professionals and professors.

Subhash Saxena has been listed in the publication "Men of Achievement," sixteenth edition, of the International Biographical Centre, Cambridge, England.

Thomas O'Loughlin, assisted by Linda Vereen, conducted a two-year and four-year college level mathematics instructors workshop, entitled "Updating College Mathematics Instruction Using Computers and Graphing Calculators," at the Southeastern Regional Meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, held March 11-13 in Columbus, Georgia.

Jacqueline Gmuca attended the National Conference on Higher Education held in Washington, D.C., March 15-17. She also presented a paper, entitled "For This, For Everything, We Are Out of Tune: The Plight of F. Anstey," at the Fourteenth International Conference on the Fantastic in the Arts, held in Fort Lauderdale, March 18. Her essay has been recommended by the session chairperson for inclusion in one of the organization's upcoming journals. ~

Wellness Committee Notes

The Wellness Committee has announced the winners of a $25 gift certificate. Names were drawn from the monthly personal wellness records that were submitted to Kay Alford. The winners are:

January - Ed Cerny
February - Lois Graff
March - Pat Snell

Wellness Club cards are now available for all Wellness participants who qualify. To qualify participants must achieve 12 or more wellness points on their Personal Wellness Records.

Faculty and staff who have made major health achievements this semester, such as stopping smoking, weight loss of 10 pounds or more, achieved high levels of fitness, or notable participation in community health-related activities, should contact Kay Alford or Patti Loeb. The Wellness Committee would like to recognize these people through publication in On Campus.

For information about Wellness Committee events, contact Kay Alford or Patti Loeb. ~

Biology of Human Cancer course offered

A new three-credit science course, Biology of Human Cancer, will be offered during Maymester.

Maymester classes will be held Monday, May 17 to Friday, June 4. Registration for Maymester classes will be held Thursday, May 13 and Friday, May 14 from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. in the Office of the Registrar, located in the Singleton Building.

The course, CBIO 345, is open to majors and non-majors, and will be held weekdays from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. during Maymester. The course is a three-credit elective. Biological Science I (CBIO 111) or an equivalent course is a prerequisite to Biology of Human Cancer.

The course will be taught by Michael Ferguson. Students will receive a basic understanding of the biology of cancer, the nature and causes of cancer, major types of cancer and prevention and treatment measures. The course also includes how research of immunology, genetics, virology, cell biology, molecular biology, disease epidemiology and disease control focus on cancer.

Coastal also offers Maymester courses in anthropology, business administration, economics, English, geography, marine science, philosophy, physical education, politics, recreation, and theater.

For more information about Biology of Human Cancer, call Mike Ferguson.
