OFFICIAL USC POLICY ON COLLEGE CLOSINGS

Because of questions about Coastal closing during the recent snow, Chancellor's Administrative Assistant Mildred Allen submits the following USC policy which should apply to future closings:

Employees may be unable to report to work due to hazardous weather conditions. University policy states that if weather conditions make it impossible for employees to get to the University, or if the University is closed due to hazardous weather conditions, employees will be allowed to:

1. Make-up the time lost from work at a time scheduled by the department head;
2. Use accrued annual leave; or
3. Take leave without pay.

Unclassified employees who do accrue annual leave will use either option 1 or option 3. Use of annual leave or leave without pay should be noted on the time card or turnaround document.

Employees who wish to make up the lost time should do so prior to April first and should contact their department head to make arrangements. If an employee is going to make-up the time, the time missed should be entered on the turnaround document under the "other" category with a brief explanation that the time missed was for hazardous weather. When the time is made up, this time should be entered as "other" with a notation referring to the date of the hazardous weather.

This procedure will be used for instances of hazardous weather in the future. Please call Ext. 116 if you have questions.
