KIMBELS OFFER $200,000 CHALLENGE

At a news conference on Thursday, Feb. 28, Coastal Chancellor Edward M. Singleton issued the following statement: "It's my pleasure to announce that Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kimbel of Wachesaw Plantation near Murrell's Inlet have offered to donate a challenge gift of $200-thousand for the completion of Wheelwright Auditorium-if other funds can be raised to match this gift.

"Mr. and Mrs. Kimbel provided the $1-million gift which began the campaign to construct Wheelwright Auditorium. The residents of the Waccamaw and Grand Strand regions enthusiastically donated an equal amount of funds and we know the community will respond enthusiastically to this new challenge.

"Now, funds are needed to complete the interior of Wheelwright Auditorium and with this challenge gift, the Kimbels once again have demonstrated their generosity and their concern for the quality of life in our area. When this challenge is successfully met, Wheelwright Auditorium will be complete in a manner which will make it a source of pride for the residents of our community."

EDITORS SOUGHT FOR STUDENTS PUBLICATIONS

Dean of Student Development Robert Squatriglia asks faculty members to announce the following information in class:

"Applications are now being accepted for the editorship of the Chanticleer, the Antheneum and the Archarios. All positions require a variety of responsibilities and pay stipends. For details, interested students should contact the Student Development Department. Application deadlines are April 7th for the Chanticleer and Archarios; March 7th for the Antheneum.

USC-COASTAL NOW SIGNING UP FOR SHORTCOURSES

Beginning Monday, March 17, Coastal's Department of Continuing Education will offer a seven-week series of short-courses in everything from tennis to New Testament Greek. Most of the classes are taught in the afternoons and evenings and meet weekly.

"We're trying to offer a real variety of instruction in skills, hobbies and interests," explains Dr. Marshall Parker, the Director of Continuing Education at Coastal. "We believe we have something for everyone. There are no tests, of course, because these are non-credit courses. And we are scheduling them at times which will be convenient to working people and homemakers."

"We do encourage people to sign up immediately for the course they want and they can do that by calling the Department of Continuing Education at Coastal."

Among the subjects offered March 17th-May 9th at Coastal: Beginning and Intermediate Bridge, Nutrition and Weight Control, Tracing Your Roots - a How To Course in Genealogical Research, Smoking Cessation, Beginning and Intermediate Ballet for Adults, Gregg Shorthand Review, Beginning and Intermediate Drawing, Beginning and Intermediate Pastels, Oil and Acrylic Painting, Beginning and Intermediate Watercolor Painting, Preparation for SAT, Softball and Baseball Umpiring, Profiles of the Presidential Candidates and their Positions, How to Start Your Own Business, Beginning Intermediate and Advanced Tennis, Methods of Teaching Tennis, Private Tennis Instruction, New Testament Greek, Conversational Hindi, Beginning and Intermediate Guitar and Personal Financial Planning.

CREDIT CARD VIOLATION

The Chancellor's Office issues the following statement: "It has been brought to the Chancellor's attention that credit card users sometimes fail to record the license number of their vehicle on the credit card receipt. This oversight violates state regulations. Faculty and administration members are urged to remember to record the license numbers. Otherwise, state law requires the credit card user to pay the purchase."

SQUATRIGLIA ADDRESSES THE SCPGA

Dean of Student Development Robert W. Squatriglia recently presented a paper to the S.C. Personnel and Guidance Association and the S.C. College Personnel Association, which met recently at Hilton Head. Dean Squatriglia's presentation was entitled, "Developing New Student Services at an Emerging College Campus."
