Homecoming '94 celebration set for Feb. 4 and 5

Coastal's Homecoming '94 celebration will be held Friday, Feb. 4 and Saturday, Feb. 5.

The celebration will begin with the Coastal Carolina University Service Awards Dinner on Friday, Feb. 4 at 7 p.m. in the Student Center cafeteria. Honorees have been selected from the university's volunteer groups for recognition during this special event. The dinner is open to university volunteer groups, faculty and staff. The cost is $10; reservations are required by Friday, Jan. 28.

Additional Homecoming activities for Friday, Feb. 4:

- The Lady Chants take on Liberty University in Kimbel Gymnasium at 7 p.m. Admission is $5 and $3 for alumni.
- A tailgate party and pep rally for students, alumni, faculty, and staff will be held at the Soccer Stadium at 8:30 p.m. Admission is $2 per person, $5 per carload, or free with a Lady Chants game ticket stub.

Homecoming activities for Saturday, Feb. 5:

- Campus tours begin at the information booth and will be available from noon to 1 p.m. Tours are free and open to the public.
- The 5K President's Cup Race begins at 9 a.m.; registration begins at 8:30 a.m. The race is open to students, faculty, staff, and the community. The entry fee is $10.
- Former Chanticleers and Lady Chants will play in the Women's Alumni Basketball Game at 10:30 a.m.; the Men's Alumni Basketball Game will be at 11:30 a.m. The games will be held in the P.E. Center Gymnasium and are free and open to the public.
- A 40th Anniversary Luncheon will be held at noon in the Student Center cafeteria. The luncheon will spotlight the classes of '74, '84, and '93 and is open

Touring group to perform "Echoes of Africa"

Echoes of Africa, performed by the professional touring group Columbia Artists Festivals, will be presented Tuesday, Feb. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Tickets are $12; $5 for students.

The performance offers a glimpse of the African folk origins of America's popular music and dance. Songs, rhythms, and stories kept on the Georgia Sea Islands and older Piedmont blues from the Virginia Tidewater are paired with kora (harp) music, drumming and solo vocals from West Africa and modern tap.

Echoes of Africa is part of Coastal's nine-event African-American Celebration. The celebration captures the art, history, music, and theater of the African-American culture.

See Echos of Africa on page 4.

Information from Printing Services

- Printing Services will be moving to their new location near the maintenance buildings during the week of Feb. 7. Printing services will continue with limited interruptions.
- The new Coastal Carolina University mailing labels are available in the Printing Services Office.

Brown Bag Series continues

"Whales, Penguins, and Icebergs," a slide and video presentation by Steve Berkowitz, will be the subject of the next Brown Bag Series to be held Wednesday, Feb. 2 from 1 to 2 p.m. in SC 204.

The one-hour lunchtime Brown Bag Series features speakers and films about concerns such as motivation, travel, art, entertainment, diversity, planning, and more.

Staff, faculty, and students are invited to pack a lunch and join the fun; soft drinks are provided.

The series is presented through the Office of Human Resources and Affirmative Action and the Staff Enrichment Committee.

For more information, contact Kim Barth at extension 2256.

Tickets available for golf scholarships benefit dinner

The sixth annual Coastal Carolina Golf Scholarship Benefit will be held Tuesday, Feb. 1 and Wednesday, Feb. 2 at Tony's Italian Restaurant in North Myrtle Beach. Four-course dinners, with a choice of three entrees, will be served in two seatings each evening: at 5 and 7:30 p.m. The dinners are open to the public. Tickets are $25.

The event raises money for the men's and women's golf programs at Coastal. The dinners are sponsored by Jack Springs, owner of Tony's Restaurant, who initiated the fund-raising event in 1988. According to Tom Brennan, the golf program relies heavily on this event to raise money for scholarships and operational needs.

Each dinner ticket purchased entitles the holder to a prize drawing held each evening. The prize drawing ticket holder need not be present to win and all winners will be announced. Additional drawing tickets may be purchased at the restaurant from members of the men's and women's golf teams.

For tickets or more information, call the Athletic Office at extension 2820 or 2902.

On Campus is published biweekly on Monday by the Office of Public Information. Items to be included should be submitted by noon the Tuesday before publication.

Coastal Carolina University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity, state-supported institution.

The next issue of On Campus will be Monday, Feb. 7; deadline to submit information is Tuesday, Feb. 1.

The Bookstore will be open on Saturday, Feb. 5 from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.

For reservations or more information about Homecoming '94 activities, call the Alumni Office at extension 2007.

Bulletin Board

Bulletin Board is a free service for faculty and staff who wish to advertise items or services for sale or needed. Ads may run no more than two consecutive times and are subject to space availability.

For sale: 1987 Cadillac Sedan DeVille. Red with leather interior; loaded. $5,995 or best offer. For more information, call Robin Morris at 248-7225 or Richard Moore at extension 2050.

Coastal Carolina People

Dennis Wiseman has been appointed by Barbara Nielsen, State Superintendent of Education, to a five-member technical assistance team to work with one of the two school districts in South Carolina recently identified as a "greatest need" district. Districts placed in this category are under a state mandate to implement strategies designed to strengthen their instructional programs and overall operations.

Sally Horner represented Coastal at the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools held in Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 13-17.

Claudia Cleary had an article, entitled "Community Involvement: An Imperative for Action," selected for publication in the Winter 1993 volume of the Journal of Social Philosophy, a juried journal published at Trinity University. The article explores the relationship between the choice to act with benevolence towards society and self-actualization. Theories on the notions of action, self, society and duty as found in the works of Aristotle, Hegel, F. H. Bradley and Jean-Paul Sartre are examined.

Steve Hamelman will present "Look Who's Not Talking: The Abuse of Signs in Kelroy" at the American Literature Association Convention in San Diego, on June 2. His paper was accepted to represent the Society of Early Americanists.

John Farrelly, Tom Cooke, Sandra Nelson and Jody Davis attended a leadership conference of the South Carolina Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreations and Dance which was held in Columbia, Jan. 15. Farrelly, Cooke, Nelson and Davis all serve as officers for the alliance. Sixty participants from South Carolina attended the conference representing the five associations within the SCAHPERD Alliance.

Alan Case and student Jim Witten recently attended a basketball coaching certification workshop for Special Olympics coaches which was held in Columbia, Jan. 15. This certification enables Case and Witten to prepare a group of local Special Olympic athletes for a major state competition to be held during March in Charleston.

Alan Case and student Marie Holmberg attended a two-day conference on Senior Citizen Programming recently held in Myrtle Beach. The conference, sponsored by the Horry County Council on Aging, dealt with different aspects of sports programming for the Senior Games, which will be hosted by Coastal's HPER Department on April 7 and 8.

Eric Koepfler has been awarded a National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) grant, under NOAA's Coastal Ocean and Estuarine Habitat Research Program. The three-year grant is funded for 250K, and is titled "Salt-marsh geomorphology and ecological development: Influences upon habitat linkages within and across ecosystem boundaries." The grant, which was co-authored by Richard Dame; Daniel Childers, National Marine Fisheries Service, Galveston, Texas; and Bjorn Kjerfve, USC Columbia; will be administered by Coastal's Center for Marine and Wetland Studies. Koepfler also had two journal articles published recently. "Variability of sediment pore water DOC in seagrass bed and unvegetated habitats in a southern Texas Estuary" was published in Estuaries and "Spatial and temporal bacterioplankton dynamics during destratification of the James River Estuary, Virginia" was published in Marine Ecology Progress Series.

Are these your boxes?

Campus Supply has two boxes which were picked up by the campus mail service on Monday, Jan. 24 to be sent to USC Columbia via the shuttle.

The packages do not have an office or person listed from our campus or for delivery in Columbia; therefore, they can not be delivered or returned to the sender on our campus.

One box is a Hammermill paper box which originally contained copy machine paper and the second box is a reused envelope box.

Anyone with information about either of the boxes should contact Suzanne Beverly at extension 2148.

Cafeteria Menu

The campus cafeteria menu features a daily lunch special which includes one entree plus three vegetables (or two vegetables and dessert of the day) with a dinner roll and a small beverage for $3.75.
