It’s time to plan a summer trip to England

Faculty, staff and alumni are invited to participate in Coastal’s summer 1995 program based at Manchester College in Oxford. The group will leave Monday, July 10 and return Friday, July 21.

The faculty, staff and alumni program will begin with two days in London to see sights such as the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, Houses of Parliament, Covent Gardens, St. Paul’s Cathedral, Buckingham Palace, the Changing of the Guards, and more. The group will attend a professional performance of a play, before going to Oxford’s Manchester College to stay for eight days.

From Oxford, the group will make day trips to Bath, Winchester, visit Blenheim Palace (Winston Churchill’s birthplace), and travel to Stratford to see a Royal Shakespeare Company production. Ample time also will be available to enjoy the excitement at Oxford.

Most evenings will be free to choose from a wide variety of theatre and concerts available in Oxford. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended since walking is an enjoyable part of sight-seeing during the trip, although the group will travel by bus to the various sites mentioned.

The fee for the trip is $1,925 and includes round trip airfare from Myrtle Beach; single accommodations and breakfast in London; two 24-hour subway travel passes in London; double- accommodations (single accommodations extra); breakfast and dinner in Oxford; one ticket each for a play performance in London, Stratford and Oxford; admission to the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, Mary Arden’s and Anne Hathaway’s homes, the Roman Baths, and Blenheim Palace; and all ground transportation.

The fee does not include lunches, dinner in London (two nights) or Stratford (one night) or travel insurance. Additional travel money will depend on souvenir purchases, the frequency and intensity of pub visits, and the choices made by the individual concerning lunch and evening activities.

Space is limited; early registration is advised.

For more information or space reservation for the trip, contact Geoff Parsons at extension 2054. A deposit of $200 is required for each reservation.

Guided tour of Waites Island is available

The Center for Marine and Wetland Studies invite Coastal faculty to participate in a guided tour of the varied and beautiful environments at Waites Island and Tilghman Point. The trip will be held Friday Sept. 30 and is designed to introduce faculty to the resources available for educational use and to clarify the procedure for access to the property. A maximum of 25 people can be accommodated on the tour.

The group will leave Coastal at 2:30 p.m. and return to campus no later than 5:30 p.m.

The deadline to register for the trip is Thursday, September 22.

Counseling Services to host reception

Counseling Services will host a farewell reception for Joan King on Thursday, September 22 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in SC 205. All faculty and staff are invited to attend.

King has been a member of the Coastal family for a number of years and is leaving campus to move to Maryland.

1994-1995 Wheelwright cultural arts season begins

The 1994-1995 Wheelwright Season comprises 12 productions that include theater, ragtime music, country music, athletic dance and more. Local artists will appear with professional groups in several performances. All performances will be held in Wheelwright Auditorium.

Professional touring performances include:

- With brassy syncopation and authentic vitality, the 12-piece Paragon Ragtime Orchestra presents the original music of the United States. As a highlight, the orchestra performs as part band for a classic silent movie. The group will perform Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12, $5 for students.
- A theater classic of the 20th century, The Lion, the Witch & the Wardrobe, adapted from C.S. Lewis’ children’s classic, is a magical and musical Theatreworks USA production that entertains, educates, and inspires all ages. It will be performed Friday, March 3 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12 (free if accompanied by a child), $5 for students.
- The inventive and athletic dancers of Shoprin & Smith Dance whirl, thump, plunge, vault, cartwheel and talk. The stories they tell are droll, tense, witty, true. The group will perform Thursday, March 9 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12, $5 for students.
- Professional performances with community and university artists include:
  - From jazz to pop and the smooth to the scatty, the seven vocalists that comprise Beachfront Property deliver versatility with chops. The performance will be held Thursday, Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12, $5 for students.
  - Sponsoring the Palmetto Lodge B’nai Brith and Coastal Carolina University, the acclaimed choral music of the Solstice Assembly and the Mappamundi band repertoire are joined by Myrtle Beach’s Vocal Edition. The group will perform Saturday, Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $8, $5 for students. All proceeds will support the Community Kitchen, a charity feeding the Grand Strand’s hungry and homeless.
  - In a debut collaboration with the Choral Music of the Americas, the Long Bay Symphony returns to Wheelwright Auditorium for a program featuring Borodin’s “Polovetian Dances.” The performance will be held Saturday, April 1, at 7:30 p.m. The performance is free.

Beachfront Property jazz vocal group to open Wheelwright Series

The 1994-1995 Wheelwright Series will open with a performance by the Southern California-based jazz ensemble Beachfront Property. The group will perform in Wheelwright Auditorium on Thursday, Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12, $5 for students.

The seven vocalists comprising Beachfront Property perform with versatility from jazz to pop, from the smooth to the scatty, and from “Angel Eyes” and “Stompin’ at the Savoy” to “The Flintstone’s Theme.”

Coastal’s 21-member vocal jazz ensemble, directed by Pat Alexander, will perform a selection with the group. Beachfront Property won the 1986 Pacific Coast Jazz Festival at the University of California at Berkeley, and also was selected in 1988 as the best college vocal group in America by Walt Disney World.

The four-woman, three-man team has a sound that’s been described as sounding “like Manhattan Transfer meets Take 6.”

Tom Dustman, founder and member of the group, said the members of Beachfront Property are more than musicians, they’re friends. According to The Jazz Review, “There’s a freshness to their singing, a feeling of joy.”

Critics have said the group brings style and a sense of elegance to songs people know. “For every 10 songs we sing, the audience will know eight immediately,” Dustman said.

An Orange County Register Review read, “One thing that sets Beachfront apart is a wonderfully eccentric choice of material ... the seven-member outfit smoothly does the unexpected.”

For more information, call the Wheelwright Box Office at extension 2502.
Third Quarter courses announced for fall 1994

The Center for Education and Community invites those age 55 and older to enroll in Third Quarter, an academic and cultural continuing education program.

The fall 1994 session begins Monday, Oct. 3 and continues through Friday, Dec. 9; each course meets once a week. No educational prerequisites are required for participation in Third Quarter.

Third Quarter is supported through a membership fee that covers the cost of courses; a campus parking decal; Coastal identification card and student privileges; use of Kimbel Library; and discounts on the purchase of the university's cultural arts package.

Course offerings for the 1994 session include:

Mondays • Oct. 3 to Dec. 5

- Horry Outback
  1 to 2:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Catherine Lewis
  From Little River to the Little Pee Dee, from North Carolina to the Georgetown County line, there are vital Horry County communities with interesting histories. Exploring this diversity will help you appreciate the towns and communities that sometimes seem overshadowed by Myrtle Beach and Conway.

- Eastern Europe in Transition: From Communism to Market Economy, Part II
  3 to 4:30 p.m.
  Instructor: James Farsolas, Ph.D.
  This course will continue to examine the major causes that led to the collapse of the communist system in Eastern Europe and the major political, economic, and social changes brought about in former communist countries. Emphasis will be placed on the rise of ethnic or separatist tendencies and internal conflicts in this area of Europe. (Part I was offered in Spring 1994).

Tuesdays • Oct. 4 to Dec. 6

- Great Books Seminar
  1 to 2:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Paul Rice, Ph.D.
  This course will focus on a number of short readings in literature, drama, philosophy, history, and politics from the tradition of great books. These readings involve inquiry into the issues and questions that are of enduring human significance. Active discussion is vital to this course.

- The Presidency
  3 to 4:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Paul Peterson, Ph.D.
  This course will examine the historical origins, original constitutional design and historical development of the office of the American president.

- Theatrical Experiences: A Participatory Workshop on Acting
  3 to 4:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Dan Danforth
  This course will involve script reading, casting, character interpretation and stage movement (blocking). Group participation is emphasized in the course. The class will perform excerpts from a Broadway play before a live audience.

Wednesdays • Oct. 5 to Dec. 7

- Aging and the Brain
  1 to 2:30 p.m.
  Instructor: William Hills, Ph.D.
  Participants will examine the effects of the aging process on mental functioning in the adult. This course will examine myths surrounding aging, the basic anatomical structure and function of the brain, and the brain's aging process. Topics to be discussed will include types of stimulation, memory alterations due to aging and disease processes, and altered sensitivities to medications. Re-examining some beliefs about aging, learning, and memory will be explored.

- Creative Writing
  3 to 4:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Susan Myers
  Through writing exercises and assignments, participants in this course will strive for the specific. The smell of rotting apples, the flick of a snake's tongue — such details are more than descriptive images used for effect in poetry or prose. Concrete language appeals to the reader's senses and says, "Look, listen, smell, taste, feel, and you will understand what I am talking about." The class will self-publish an anthology at the end of the course. This course is limited to 15 participants.

- Power of the Press
  3 to 4:30 p.m.
  Instructors: Editors from The Sun News
  This course will focus on the impact of the media on everyday life. It will study aspects of the local and national print media from how stories come together to how photographs tell a story. Emphasis will be placed on reading local, regional and national newspapers, and viewing TV news. The course will include lively discussions on the treatment of stories in the media.

Thursdays • Oct. 6 to Dec. 8

- The Opera
  1 to 2:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Ray Morvant, Ph.D.
  This course is an introduction to opera for those who wish to cultivate a taste for this grand music-drama. The class will take a historical perspective beginning with the early Italian Monodic style and culminating with today's latest minimalist offering. Sessions will contain commentary on a significant opera of the period under discussion and a viewing of a portion of the work. Music experience is not required.

- An Outdoor Study Exploring the Grand Strand's Nature and Historical Sites
  1 to 2:30 p.m.
  Instructor: Julie Finlayson
  This course will take you throughout Horry and Georgetown counties in order to bring to life a knowledge of the area. Not only will you visit places you have never been, but you will also visit places you never knew existed.

- The Foreign Short Story
  3 to 4:30 p.m.
  Instructor: John Beard, Ph.D.
  What can you learn about nations from the stories they tell? A good fiction piece can sometimes reveal startling insights and promote new ways of thinking about others. This course will study a variety of short stories from other countries, including examples from South America, Africa, Japan, Canada, and the Caribbean. All works will be read in translation.

Fridays • Oct. 7 to Dec. 9

- An Outdoor Study Exploring the Grand Strand's Nature and Historical Sites
  1:30 to 3 p.m.
  Instructor: Julie Finlayson
  An additional session of this course has been added by popular demand. For a complete course description, see Thursdays listings.

For one or two classes, the fee is $35 per course. One person may take three or four courses for $100. If you have a friend, spouse or neighbor interested in joining Third Quarter, the two of you may take four courses each for $150 ($75 per person).

Registration continues through Monday, Oct. 10 in KH 104.

Participants are welcome to audit classes before making final decisions on registration.

For more information about Third Quarter, call the Center for Education and Community at extension 2673.

Homeland lecture series features youth environmentalist Ocean Robbins

Internationally renowned youth environmentalist Ocean Robbins will speak in the Wall Building Auditorium on Wednesday, Sept. 28 at 7:30 p.m. as part of the 1994 Homeland Lecture and Dialogue Series. The lecture is free and open to the public.

In 1990, at the age of 16, Robbins cofounded “Youth for Environmental Sanity,” a student-operated, non-profit organization that has reached more than 375,000 students in 800 schools and 30 states. Celebrities such as Casey Kasem, Jesse Jackson and Olivia Newton-John are part of the organization’s advisory board. Robbins participated in the Creating Our Future environmental speaking tour, where he and three other participants spoke to 30,000 students, presented for 2,000 people at the United Nations, and opened for the Jerry Garcia Band in San Francisco.

Robbins has been described as a seasoned citizen diplomat; he has facilitated the environmental portion of two international youth summits in Moscow, and one in Washington, D.C.

He has been interviewed on more than 70 local and national radio and television programs, and featured in newspapers such as The New York Times, USA Today, and The Washington Post.

In 1994, Robbins had a “how to do it” book, entitled Choices for Our Future, published for students who want to make a positive difference in the world.

Robbins has said that young people have led the way to many of the social changes that have occurred in our society. His dream is to “see people of all backgrounds, races, religions, and nations joining together for something we all have in common: Planet Earth.”

The Homeland Lecture and Dialogue Series is co-sponsored by Aynor-based Blackwater Partnership of Horry County and Coastal Carolina University. Directed to citizens of the Waccamaw Neck, Pee Dee, and Grand Strand regions, the series promotes the unity of the natural world with the human mind.
