COASTAL REQUESTS PROBE

The administration of USC-Coastal Carolina College has asked the South Carolina State Auditor's Office and the State Law Enforcement Division to conduct an investigation into the expenditure of student activity funds at the college.

College officials requested an investigation of student activity expenditures after an internal examination of student activity records by Coastal Carolina College personnel indicated a possible accounting discrepancy.

Following its examination of the records, the administration of Coastal Carolina College asked the University of South Carolina Department of Internal Audits to conduct further examination of student activity expenditures.

In response to the college administration's request for an investigation, the USC Department of Internal Audits recommended an official investigation, which is now being conducted by the State Law Enforcement Division.

When the investigation is completed, its conclusions will be released to the public.

COMPUTER COURSES OFFERED

In order to provide an opportunity for increased utilization of the batch and interactive computing facilities at Coastal Carolina College, the School of Mathematics and Computer Service is offering four short courses in Computer Programming for the faculty. These courses will be ten-hour courses offered on Thursday afternoons from 2:30 pm to 4:30 pm for five weeks each. The courses will introduce the VSPC interactive computing system and the languages: BASIC, FORTRAN, PL/I, and PASCAL in that order.

The programming language syllabus will be the same for each of the courses. Beginning in BASIC and continuing through the other languages, the same four computer programs will be developed. First, there will be a program to read data and compute the mean, variance, and standard deviation. The next program will be a record-keeping program similar to a payroll or grade records, followed by a simulation using random numbers. The last program will be an amortization schedule which is useful in any installment buying situation.

If you are interested in participating in these courses, call Extension 123. The courses will begin on February 19, at 2:30 pm in ADM 214.

FACULTY-STAFF ACTIVITIES

Marianna Hamilton recently addressed the Loris Music Literary Club on "Traditional and Contemporary Batik". She will present a slide lecture on "Arts of the South Pacific Islands" at Waccamaw School P.T.A. on February 17 at 8 p.m. Miss Hamilton has been selected to present a paper at the International Society for Education Through Art (INSEA) at the 24th World Congress, Rotterdam, The Netherlands, August, 1981. Topic will be on "New Directions of Traditional and Contemporary Batik".

Dr. Subhash C. Saxena presided over a session on "Linear Algebra and Matrix Theory" at the annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society in San Francisco.

John Vrooman spoke at the Delmar Book Club recently on the topic of personal motivation.

CAUTION URGED ON CONSTRUCTION SITES

The administration urges faculty, staff and students to avoid areas of the college where construction is currently underway. Construction company officials have asked that Wheelwright Auditorium and the Science Building site be viewed as off-limits for visits unless authorized by the administration. Tours of Wheelwright may be arranged through the Office of College Relations. Visits to the Science Building construction site should be coordinated with Phillip Massey.

SHORT COURSES DISCOUNTED

" Staff may apply for staff development funds to cover the costs of short courses," says Coastal Director of Continuing Education Dr. Sally Hare. Some upcoming courses that may be of interest: Tennis, Golf, Riverboat'n, Effective Parenting, Assertiveness Training, Deat: A Part of Life, Making Your Money Work, You and Your Heart, Time-Life Photography Workshop, Gliding.

For details, call the Office of Continuing Education, 190 or 194. (Gift certificates are still available if you want to give a family member a short course.)
