Michael T. Benson, a veteran of higher education administration, is the third president of Coastal Carolina University. He began his tenure on Jan. 1, 2021, and also holds the title of professor of history at CCU.

Benson previously served as the 13th president of Eastern Kentucky University from 2013 to 2020 and was named president emeritus of EKU in December 2019. While at EKU, he held an appointment as professor of government. He recently served as a visiting professor in the Department of History of Science and Technology in the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at Johns Hopkins University.

Before serving as president of Eastern Kentucky, Benson was the 15th president of Southern Utah University, where he helped secure the designation for SUU as the state’s public liberal arts and sciences university; established the Hispanic Center for Academic Excellence; gained admission into the Big Sky Conference for all athletic teams; completed new residence halls, a teacher education facility, and a science and engineering center; and directed the development and implementation of SUU’s largest and most ambitious comprehensive fundraising effort. This campaign, The Future is Rising, raised a record $105 million for SUU.

Benson previously served for five years as the 14th president of Snow College in Ephraim, Utah, where he helped raise more private money for the institution during his tenure than had been secured in the previous 115 years of the college’s history combined. Appointed president of Snow College at age 36, Benson was the youngest college president in the history of the Utah System of Higher Education.

Benson’s background includes membership on the Council of Presidents of the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, on the Presidents’ Trust for the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and on the Task Force on University Partnerships of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. He has chaired multiple substantive change committees for universities in Texas, Georgia, Florida, and North Carolina for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges.

Active in intercollegiate athletics, Benson completed a four-year term as a member of the nine-person NCAA Honors Committee, the group charged with awarding the NCAA’s highest recognitions each year. He is also a past chair of the Presidents’ Council for the Ohio Valley Conference and was elected as representative for the Ohio Valley Conference on the NCAA Division I Presidential Forum.

Born in Utah and raised in Texas and Indiana, Benson has worked and studied abroad for seven years in Italy, England, and Israel. He earned his bachelor’s degree cum laude from Brigham Young University in 1990 with a major in political science and double minors in English and history. He completed his doctorate in modern history from the University of Oxford (St. Antony’s College) in 1995, where he was a Rotary Foundation Scholar and recipient of the Oxford Graduate Overseas Fellowship. He also earned a master’s degree cum laude in nonprofit administration in 2011 from the University of Notre Dame Mendoza College of Business, where he was the recipient of the prestigious Father Theodore Hesburgh Founder’s Award. Benson will graduate with a Master of Liberal Arts from Johns Hopkins University in August 2021.

Benson’s scholarly work has focused on the development of the research university and its impact on society. His most recent book, Gilman at Hopkins: The Birth of the Modern American Research University, will be released by Johns Hopkins University Press this fall.

An accomplished athlete, Benson played basketball at both Brigham Young and Oxford, and his best marathon time – 2 hours and 41 minutes – won his age division in the St. George (Utah) Marathon, one of the largest marathons in the U.S. He also finished among the top 15% of all registered runners in the 1984 Boston Marathon.

Benson and his wife, Debi, are the parents of three children – Truman, Tatum, and Talmage. His two older children from a previous marriage, Emma and Samuel, are both students at Brigham Young University.
RETIRING FACULTY

AMY EDMUNDS

Distinguished Lecturer

Amy Edmunds joined the CCU faculty in 2010 with a research focus on stroke among young adults. Her tenure was distinguished by service to both the Edwards College of Humanities and Fine Arts and the Gupta College of Science. Edmunds' research earned awards from the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke as well as the National Institute on Minority Health and Disparities. She was inducted as a World Stroke Fellow in 2018 in recognition of excellence, innovation, and sustained contributions in stroke and cerebrovascular disease.

Edmunds conceptualized CCU's Campus and Community Research Collaborative in 2012 to generate experiential student learning outcomes, mutually benefiting research faculty and community partners. Her health disparities coursework earned her selection as a visiting international lecturer at the University of Koblenz, Remagen Ahr Campus, in Germany in 2018.

Two key collaborations propelled her work. Firstly, Edmunds coordinated the first international scientific conference to address young stroke in conjunction with Mayo Clinic in 2015. Secondly, she co-authored the Young Stroke Questionnaire as a clinical assessment tool in collaboration with the University of South Carolina in 2019.

Initially, Edmunds leveraged findings from her graduate studies to launch YoungStroke Inc. as a nonprofit patient advocacy organization in 2005 after previously experiencing cryptogenic stroke.

Edmunds earned a bachelor's degree in public policy from Davidson College, and a master's degree in organizational communication from Murray State University.

DAVID EVANS

Emeritus Professor

David Evans joined the CCU faculty in 1997 and served as associate professor of chemistry and chair of the Department of Chemistry and Physics in the Gupta College of Science.

During his 20-plus years at the University, he also served as assistant/associate provost, chair of the Faculty Senate, and director of the Bridge Program. The program, formed in partnership with Horry-Georgetown Technical College, is a comprehensive, rigorous, residential transfer program that provides an opportunity for participants to improve their academic skills and meet the admission requirements of CCU.

In addition, Evans was appointed to the University’s Strategic Planning Steering Committee in 2007 and the Presidential Search Advisory Committee (2005-2007).

Prior to his appointment at Coastal Carolina, he was an assistant/associate professor of chemistry at Presbyterian College for 10 years.

Evans earned a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Dickinson College in 1976, and a doctorate in organic chemistry from Louisiana State University in 1986, with a minor in biochemistry.
SANDRA NELSON

Emeritus Professor

Sandra Nelson joined the CCU faculty in 1992 and was an associate professor of physical education teacher education in the Spadoni College of Education. She was directly involved with the accreditation of the physical education program during three evaluation cycles. She served on various Faculty Senate and college committees, including as chair of the Committee on Gender Equity: The NCAA Self Study, and, most recently, as chair of the Intercollegiate Athletics Committee.

Nelson was very supportive of candidate professional growth within the program and at the state and national levels. She served as a member of the National Education Advisory Committee of the Teaching and Club Professional Division of the Ladies Professional Golf Association for seven years. For three years, she served as a national consultant and grant reviewer for the Head Start Body Start physical activity initiative of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance. She also has held a variety of leadership roles within the South Carolina Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance.

Born and raised in Saskatchewan, Canada, Nelson earned a bachelor's degree in physical education with a minor in mathematics from the University of Regina. She also holds a Master of Arts in Teaching from the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, and an Ed.D. in curriculum and instruction from Arizona State University.

SHARON THOMPSON

Distinguished Professor Emeritus

Sharon Thompson joined the CCU faculty in 1991 and served as a professor of public health and coordinator of the Swain Scholars program in the Gupta College of Science. She also served for 14 years as the coordinator of the public health program.

Thompson is a national authority on nutrition and has written extensively on this and other public health topics for academic journals and other publications. As a professor, she was a strong advocate of the teacher-scholar model, integrating her research and service experiences into classroom lectures and involving her students in scholarly pursuits.

In 2008, Thompson became CCU's first and only professor to be named South Carolina Governor's Professor of the Year (1988-2014). In 2004, she received the University's Distinguished Teacher-Scholar Lecturer Award; and in 1997, she was named the South Carolina Health Professional of the Year by the South Carolina Association for the Advancement of Health Education. Thompson also served for seven years as CCU's Faculty Athletics Representative, and was the faculty advisor for Eta Sigma Gamma, the health education honor society.

Thompson earned a bachelor's degree in plant sciences from Clemson University in 1980. She earned a master's degree in community education in 1982, an educational specialist degree in educational administration in 1992, and a doctorate degree in health education in 1993, all from the University of South Carolina.
The University Seal
The seal of Coastal Carolina University designates the founding year of the institution and associates the campus symbol, the Atheneum, with the coastal locale of the University. Bearing the Latin motto — Ex Libertate Veritas (from liberty, truth) — the seal refers to the Temple of Athene in ancient Athens where professors and students gathered. The Greek temple was named for Athena, the daughter of Zeus, who embodies wisdom and reason. The waves at the foot of the Atheneum acknowledge a diversified coastal environment encompassing a distinctive geography and history, a vital present, and an abundant future. The seal was commissioned by Trustee Oran P. Smith as a gift to celebrate the July 1, 1993, establishment of the University as an independent, public institution of higher education.

The University Logo
The identifying symbol of Coastal Carolina University captures the dynamic and traditional commitment of the University to teaching and learning. The Atheneum, constructed on the campus in 1966, is a recognized architectural symbol of a meeting place for persons engaged in literary and scientific pursuits. In the logo, the Atheneum is set against an undulating background that captures the energy and unbounded promise of the institution.

The University Medallion
As symbols of events and affiliations, medallions in academic regalia can be traced to religious orders during the Middle Ages. Since many orders, societies, and universities used similar designs — a circle, cross, or an oval — the detailed artwork in the center of the medallion was adopted to differentiate each affiliation. Colleges and universities traditionally use ceremonial and commemorative medallions for formal occasions such as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, when academic regalia is worn. To commemorate Coastal Carolina’s status as an independent university, the institution’s medallion was commissioned in 1994. The installation of President Ronald R. Ingle, on Oct. 22, 1994, was the first time the Coastal Carolina University medallion was publicly displayed.

The University Mace
The University mace, the symbol of the Coastal Carolina University community, attaches significance to important events of the academic calendar. Commissioned by the Horry County Higher Education Commission, the mace was designed and crafted by silversmith Alfred D. Ward and presented to the University in the spring of 1997. The mace is carried during official convocations of the University by the senior member of the faculty. When not being used for a convocation, the mace is on display in the boardroom of the E. Craig Wall Sr. College of Business Administration.

The three-dimensional, 48-inch staff is topped with a 22-karat gold-plate model of the campus symbol, the Atheneum. Modified relief seals of the University and engraved lettering embellish the sterling silver cup. Supported by a base of solid walnut, the stem of the mace is adorned with sterling silver shells, reflecting the coastal location of the University. On the base of the stem is an engraved seal of the state of South Carolina, representing the University’s status as a public institution.

On the evening of July 23, 1954, a group of Horry County citizens met at the Horry County Memorial Library to discuss a daring proposal — the creation of a local college. These civic leaders were determined to improve the educational and economic profile of the area, and in less than two months — on Sept. 20 — Coastal Carolina Junior College held its first classes in the old Conway High School (enrollment: 53).

For its first four years, the new endeavor was sponsored by the College of Charleston. In 1958, Horry County voters approved a referendum levying a three-mill tax to fund the two-year college independently. Members of the college’s governing board, the Coastal Educational Foundation, personally pledged funds to meet financial shortfalls.

From the beginning, Coastal Carolina has maintained a close, reciprocal relationship with the surrounding region, which during the past half-century has advanced from a primarily agricultural district into a major Atlantic coast resort. In 1959, the state’s general assembly created the Horry County Higher Education Commission (HCHEC), a regulatory body to manage the college’s county tax money. For more than 60 years, the Coastal Educational Foundation and the HCHEC have worked in concert to guide the University’s endowment and fiscal policies.

In 1960, Coastal Carolina became a regional campus in the University of South Carolina (USC) system, the beginning of a 33-year affiliation. (The deal was finalized at the Chat & Chew restaurant in Turbeville, halfway between Conway and Columbia.) The following year, a site was chosen for a permanent campus.

The traditional Georgian architecture of the first campus structure, now the Edward M. Singleton Building, set the style for the new campus when it was completed in 1963. Enrollment was 110 that year, and it increased steadily during the 1960s. The present Clark and Marcia Parker Atheneum Hall Alumni Center was built in 1966, featuring the trademark symbol of the institution. In 1975, USC Coastal Carolina College awarded its first four-year bachelor’s degrees, and the first residence halls opened in 1987.

By the end of the 1980s, enrollment had reached 4,000, and there were 175 full-time faculty members. In view of sustained growth and obvious potential, many supporters of the college believed that the time had come to consider leaving the USC system. In 1991, the HCHEC voted to seek legislative approval to establish an independent Coastal Carolina University. This bold move, a watershed event in our history, was officially accomplished in 1993 when then Gov. Carroll Campbell signed the bill on the steps of the Edward M. Singleton Building.

Coastal Carolina’s new status as an independent state university set the stage for a new era of growth and achievement. During the next decade, graduate courses were offered for the first time; new academic and residence buildings were added; the faculty increased in number and distinction; and the institution began attracting an increasingly diverse and gifted community of students.

In September 2003, the Chanticleers (our mascot, derived from The Canterbury Tales) won their inaugural football game in the brand-new Brooks Stadium. A founding member of the NCAA Division I Big South Conference, the Chanticleers have a proud history in 19 sports, winning the conference’s Sasser Cup a total of 11 times.

In 2004, CCU celebrated its 50th anniversary. Enrollment reached 7,000 students, and the campus was expanding significantly, with properties now situated across U.S. 501 and S.C. 544 as well as its splendid 1,105-acre ocean research site on Waties Island.

In 2014, CCU established its first doctoral program – coastal and marine systems science. The enrollment milestone of 10,000 students was reached in Fall 2015.

CCU won its first-ever national championship on June 30, 2016, when the baseball program captured the College World Series title. The next day, Chanticleer Athletics officially joined the Sun Belt Conference, which also marked a move up to the Football Bowl Subdivision – the highest level in intercollegiate athletics. During Fall 2020, the University gained tremendous national exposure thanks to the unprecedented success of the Chanticleer football team, which was ranked in the AP Top 25 for a majority of the season and played in its first-ever postseason bowl game.

Coastal Carolina is the first institution in South Carolina to be recognized for meeting exceptional standards of inclusion by Strive for College.

On Jan. 1, 2021, Michael T. Benson began his tenure as the University’s third president, assuming the role previously held by David A. DeCenzo, who retired at the end of December 2020 after nearly 14 years of dedicated service at the helm. Among DeCenzo’s many accomplishments were a $300 million building program, augmented by a local penny sales tax for education-related construction.

Coastal Carolina offers baccalaureate degrees in 95 majors. Among the University’s graduate-level programs are 27 master’s degrees, two educational specialist degrees, and two doctoral programs.
The custom of wearing a distinctive dress for academic ceremonies dates back to the Middle Ages, when people dressed in keeping with their class: nobility, clergy, or third estate. The faculties of American universities have worn distinguishing costumes since the beginning, in 1636, at Harvard University.

Today, academic regalia is worn in the United States by persons taking part in academic ceremonies in general, at commencement exercises, at baccalaureate services, and at various inauguration ceremonies, such as the installation of a president, the conferring of an honorary degree on a distinguished guest, or the laying of the cornerstone of a building.

The institutions awarding degrees, the nature of the degrees, and the major fields of knowledge represented by the degrees can be readily identified by the designs and colors used.

The baccalaureate gown is the simplest in design. Usually black, it is distinguished by a wide yoke with shirring in front and back and by open flowing sleeves that end in a point. The baccalaureate gown is worn closed.

The master’s gown is similar to the baccalaureate gown except that it has a closed or glove sleeve that is open at the wrist. The master’s gown has no other trim and may be worn either open or closed.

The doctoral gown is full flowing and has large bell-shaped sleeves. It is trimmed with velvet panels down the front and has velvet chevrons on the sleeves. While black is still the predominant color for doctoral gowns, the trim may be in a color that denotes the wearer’s discipline or the color of the gown may denote the wearer’s university.

The square Oxford cap, or mortarboard, of serge or broadcloth with a stiff crown is traditionally black. Once the baccalaureate degree has been conferred, the tassel is worn on the left side. The tassel is usually black, but may be of a color denoting the major field of knowledge for bachelor’s and master’s degrees and gold for doctoral degrees.

Candidates who are eligible to be recognized for graduation with honors wear the embroidered official white honor stole with the University Seal at graduation. Also, students who are members of the HTC Honors College, the Wall Fellows, the Jackson Scholars, the Dyer Fellows, the Swain Scholars, or other selected University honors programs are eligible to wear the University stole.

ACADEMIC REGALIA AND PROCESSION
The greatest degree of symbolism is represented by the hood. The size and shape of the American hood mark the college degree attained by the wearer. The lining of the hood is indicative of the college from which the degree was granted. If more than one color is used, one color is generally arranged as a chevron upon the other. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the major field of knowledge.

The list of candidates for graduation was prepared before final grades were reported, and inclusion herein does not constitute evidence of graduation. The listing of a name in this program should not be construed as an indication that the person will, in fact, receive a degree from Coastal Carolina University at this commencement. Conversely, the absence of a student’s name from this list does not necessarily mean that the person will not be awarded a degree.

Honors for degree candidates are based on the cumulative grade point average on file at the end of the previous term. Honors to be printed on the diplomas will be based on the final Coastal Carolina University cumulative grade point average.

Where indicated with an icon (Φ), the individual has completed all requirements for multiple degrees.
Where indicated with an icon (+), the individual is an Honors College student.
Where indicated with an icon (†), the individual has received a Posthumous degree.
Where indicated with an icon (°), the individual has received the Trustee Award.

Engrave Your Legacy – Alumni Bricks

Alumni Relations extends sincere congratulations to Coastal Carolina University’s 2021 graduates.

Recognize your new Coastal Carolina University graduate with a lasting imprint on campus. The Alumni Walk, which leads up to the Clark and Marcia Parker Atheneum Hall Alumni Center, is being enhanced with a limited number of special bricks engraved with the names of alumni and friends. Money raised through the brick campaign will support CCU’s Alumni Association Endowed Scholarship for students.

To order a brick, visit ccubricks.com.

For more information, please call Alumni Relations at 843-349-ALUM (2586), or email alumni@coastal.edu.

Stay in touch!

Visit coastal.edu/alumni to keep your address up-to-date, renew your membership, and find out about events in your area. CCU alumni are located around the world and are ready to welcome you!

Alumni Relations invites you to stay involved through events and programs throughout the year. Be sure you are keeping your information updated any time you relocate. Our goal is to keep you informed of CCU happenings locally and on campus. As you graduate today, your involvement is key to a strong alumni network. Your participation increases the value of your degree from Coastal Carolina University.

Alma Mater
Coastal Carolina

We come to you to lead our search, and learn to reach beyond ourselves –
below the earth, beyond the stars – to form our dreams for better years.

Here, green and bronze in nature, light –
sweet pine forest that surround us, ocean waters that sustain us –
reflect your standards that prepare us.

May we return in thought and care
to share your promise of enrichment, and celebrate and sing our praise for Coastal Carolina.

– Bennie Lee Sinclair

The Coastal Carolina University Alma Mater was written in 1994 by the late Bennie Lee Sinclair, the fifth poet laureate of South Carolina, to commemorate the first year of the institution’s status as a university. The original score for the Alma Mater was written by Coastal Carolina University emeritus professor William R. Hamilton.
