December Commencement set for December 15

Coastal Carolina University will recognize more than 300 students during commencement Sunday, December 15 at 1 p.m. at the Gatlin Brothers Theatre in Myrtle Beach.

One hundred ninety-two December 1996 undergraduate candidates will be recognized, as well as 105 August graduates. In addition, two December candidates for master's degrees and 24 graduates who received master's degrees in August will be recognized. The public is welcome to attend.

Marios Katsiolouides, associate professor of management in Coastal's E. Craig Wall Sr. School of Business Administration and Computer Science, will deliver the commencement address.

Katsiolouides was selected by Coastal Carolina University students to receive the Coastal Educational Foundation, Inc., Distinguished Teaching Award for 1995-1996. He also was recently named director of Coastal's Honors Program.

Katsiolouides joined the Coastal faculty in 1990. He earned a bachelor's degree in social work and sociology from Deree-Pierce College in Athens, Greece, in 1976. From 1977 to 1980 he was a Fulbright Scholar to the United States. In 1978, Katsiolouides earned a master's degree in urban studies from the University of Bridgeport in Connecticut and, in 1980, he earned a master's degree in city and regional planning from the University of Pennsylvania. In 1990, he earned a Ph.D. in management from the Wharton School of Business of the University of Pennsylvania.

Katsiolouides' interests include strategic planning, community development, organizational design and development, entrepreneurship, business ethics, international business, and development planning in developing countries. He is the author of Strategic Planning for the Non-Profit Sector: Theory and Cases, published by McGraw-Hill in 1993, and is currently working on two textbooks. He has been published extensively in scholarly journals and has presented numerous papers at national and international conferences.

Katsiolouides has served as planning consultant for many area organizations. He also serves on the board of many area community service organizations, such as Citizens Against Spouse Abuse and the Smith-Jones Community Center in Conway. ♦

Travel-study programs offered in 1997

The Division of Extended Learning is offering the following travel/study programs in 1997:

- "Toward 2000 - Leadership in America" at the Chautauqua Institution in upstate New York - June 21 through June 28, 1997

One of the foremost educational institutions in America, Chautauqua is the home of one of America's oldest and most famous summer arts festivals. Founded in 1874, Chautauqua provides educational, religious, recreational and cultural opportunities for persons of all ages from all parts of the world. A National Historic Landmark, the Chautauqua Institution is a 750-acre complex featuring tree-lined streets and Victorian architecture. More than 180,000 people attend events during the nine-week summer season.

During the week of June 21 to 28, the Chautauqua Institution will offer a special lecture series on Leadership in America. Experts from throughout the country will discuss leadership styles and qualities.

The fee will range from $825 to $965 (depending on air fare) and will include round trip air transportation (Myrtle Beach or Charlotte to Jamestown, N.Y., or Buffalo, N.Y.), ground transportation, double occupancy lodging at the Spencer Hotel on the Chautauqua grounds, and the gate pass. Gate pass includes admittance to the grounds and amphitheater and the Hall of Philosophy events. Teachers participating in the program may arrange

Academic Affairs Committee deadlines

The deadline dates for materials to be considered by the Academic Affairs Committee in the 1997 Spring Semester are as follows:

- Wednesday, January 8 at noon
- Monday, February 10 at noon
- Wednesday, March 5 at noon
- Wednesday, April 9 at noon

Questions about submitting items for consideration should be directed to Margaret Fain, chair of the Academic Affairs Committee, at extension 2410. ♦ to earn graduate credit for an additional charge. Registration and non-refundable deposit ($125) deadline is March 1.

- "Learn at Leisure" Summer School at the University of Nottingham, England - July 19 to 26, 1997

For more than 75 years, the University of Nottingham Department of Adult Education has sponsored a summer school for adults who wish to "combine serious study with a pleasant holiday in delightful surroundings."

Participants may enroll in one of 12 courses which will be offered: Looking at Country Houses, Approaches to Painting, Victorian Popular Culture, Literature in Film, Keys to Happiness, Exploring the Past through Archaeology, Historic Towns of the Midlands, Painting and Sculpture of the Renaissance, Wildlife of Town and Country, and others to be announced later.

Participants will be lodged in Ancaster Hall on the 330-acre parkland campus, and each participant will have a single study bedroom with a shared bathroom. Full board is included.

The $1,795 fee includes air fare, ground transportation to and from the airport in England, and lodging and food while on the Nottingham campus. The group will leave from and return to Charlotte International Airport. Participants who wish to extend their stay in England beyond July 26 should make inquiries at the time of registration. Teachers participating in the program may arrange to earn graduate credit for an additional charge. Registration and non-refundable deposit ($200) deadline is Feb. 19.

The travel/study program is sponsored in cooperation with Coastal's Office of International Programs. For more information, contact Peter Balsamo at extension 2648. Internet e-mail: balsamo@coastal.edu

Holiday schedule changes

Christmas Eve 1996 has been declared an official holiday by Gov. David Beasley. Because Dec. 24 is already scheduled as a holiday in the University calendar, the additional day will be observed on Monday, Dec. 23. The University will be closed on Monday, Dec. 23, 1996, and return to a normal work schedule on Thursday, Jan. 2, 1997. ♦

Coastal develops new outreach programs

The Division of Extended Learning and Public Services will offer a variety of new learning programs during the 1997 spring semester. Programs include Cyber Days, a series of computer applications workshops; travel/study trips to the Chautauqua (N.Y.) Institution, the University of Nottingham in England and more than 15 other counties; Elderhostel, an educational program for older adults; a short course on the history of Georgetown County; and options for adult learners interested in earning a degree.

A brochure outlining these new opportunities will be distributed as an insert in local newspapers in early January. A complete brochure is available on the World Wide Web at http://www.coastal.edu/pages/ext_learn/ext_learn.htm

Peter Balsamo, dean of Division of Extended Learning and Public Services, invites anyone with ideas for credit courses, noncredit courses, conferences, workshops, travel-study programs or other innovative educational programs (e.g., short courses over the World Wide Web) to share them with the division staff.

"Learning is a lifelong process," said Balsamo. "We are here to serve the educational needs of adults in our area, and we are interested in new ideas for courses. Someone may wish to see a subject taught so that they can take it, or perhaps someone is qualified to teach a special interest course. As we are now planning for summer and fall 1997 programs, we are eager to receive suggestions."

Share your ideas by sending your name, daytime telephone number, mailing address and ideas by facsimile (extension 2981), by e-mail (balsamo@coastal.edu) or by mail (Division of Extended Learning and Public Services). ♦

For more information, contact the Payroll Office at extension 2346. ♦

University wins bid to host national conference

Coastal Carolina University will host the 62nd annual conference of the Association for Continuing Higher Education (ACHE) in October 2000. More than 400 continuing education professionals from throughout the United States, Canada and Europe are expected to attend.

ACHE is a national association whose goal is to develop the infrastructure needed to advance learning systems for continuing education and adult learning, according to Peter Balsamo, dean of Coastal's Division of Extended Learning and Public Services. Balsamo will coordinate local arrangement for the conference, working closely with the Myrtle Beach Area Convention Bureau.

The 1996 ACHE annual conference was held in Palm Desert, Calif.

For more information, contact Peter Balsamo at extension 2648. ♦

An expression of appreciation

"On behalf of the family of Larry B. Jordan [father of Elaine Bridges] I would like to express gratitude to the president, faculty and staff at Coastal for the beautiful flowers, visits and expressions of concern and support in our time of sorrow. These kind efforts are representative of the warmth and consideration the people at Coastal possess, and these expressions are most appreciated."

Sincerely,
Elaine Bridges
