Coastal Board of Trustees elects officers

Coastal Carolina University's Board of Trustees elected officers for the 1997-1998 academic year. They are: H. Franklin Burroughs, chairman; Keith S. Smith, vice chairman; and Juli Streater Powers, secretary.

H. Franklin Burroughs is an attorney practicing in Conway and Myrtle Beach. A 1984 honor graduate of Coastal, he earned a Juris Doctor from the University of South Carolina in 1987. He is a member of the Horry County, South Carolina and American Bar associations. Burroughs has served as secretary of Coastal's board of trustees since 1993 and also has served as a member of the development and alumni affairs committee.

Keith S. Smith of Greer, S.C., is a certified public accountant. He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of South Carolina-Spartanburg in 1979. Smith is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the South Carolina Association of Public Certified Accountants. A member of Coastal's board of trustees since 1993, he has served as chair of the planning and fiscal affairs committee.

Juli S. Powers of Clio, S.C., is a teacher at Cheraw Intermediate School in Cheraw, S.C. A 1979 Coastal graduate, Powers has been a member of Coastal's board of trustees since 1993 and she has served as chair of the student affairs committee. She was the recipient of the Coastal's Alumnus of the Year Award in 1994.

NOTE: During the 1997-1998 academic year, the board will meet Oct. 17, Jan. 9, April 17 and June 26 at 9 a.m. in the Wall School of Business Board Room. ♦

Math and Science Hub collaborates with Children's Museum

The Waccamaw Math and Science Hub, a support agency for math and science educators serving Horry and Georgetown counties, has formed a partnership with the Children's Museum of South Carolina to provide educational programs for kindergarten through fifth-grade students. This opportunity has been made possible through a $46,000 grant awarded to the Waccamaw Math and Science Hub, located in Kearns Hall.

The partnership will fund a full-time position for an instructor who will develop science enrichment programs called "Extending the Learning Beyond the Classroom." Monies from the grant also will be used to purchase supplies and equipment for the program. These new programs will be offered at the Children's Museum of South Carolina, which is located in Myrtle Beach, and at several area schools. "We estimate that approximately 4,000 children will benefit from these experiences during its first year of implementation," said Chris Marsh, director of the Waccamaw Math and Science Hub.

The Waccamaw Math and Science Hub originated in 1994 and is funded through the National Science Foundation.

For more information, contact Marsh at extension 2241 or the Children's Museum of South Carolina at 946-9469. ♦

The final Orientation sessions for new students who will attend Coastal Carolina during the fall semester will be Thursday, Aug. 14 and Friday, Aug. 15. The final Orientation session for transfer students will be Wednesday, Aug. 13.

Faculty and staff are encouraged to welcome the students and their parents to campus.

For more information about Orientation, contact Diane Wilson at extension 2188 or Pat Singleton-Young at extension 2304. ♦

Board appointment

J. Egerton Burroughs has been elected by the South Carolina General Assembly to serve as a member of Coastal Carolina University's Board of Trustees. His term began July 1.

Burroughs is chairman of the board of Burroughs and Chapin Company. He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., in 1964. He is a director and vice president of the South Carolina Tourism Council, chairman of the Waccamaw Youth Center in Myrtle Beach, and serves on the board of trustees of Conway Hospital as well as numerous other organizational boards and committees in the region. Burroughs recently received the first Businessman of the Year award from the Carolina Historical Foundation Society. He is a member of Episcopal Church of the Resurrection in Surfside Beach.

Coastal's Board of Trustees has 17 members. Fifteen are elected by the General Assembly (two from each Congressional District and three from the state at large), one is appointed by the Governor, and one ex-officio member is the Governor's designee. ♦

Students rank in Top 10 in national competition

Two Coastal Carolina University business students ranked in the Top 10 in a national annual competition sponsored by Phi Beta Lambda, a national organization of business students, held June 28 in Anaheim, Calif.

Laura Carr, a senior marketing major from Surfside Beach, won third place in the marketing section of the competition.

Kenneth Small, a May 1997 graduate from Aynor who majored in finance, won fifth place in the finance section of the competition.

More than 100 students from colleges and universities across the United States participated in the competition, according to Greg Krippel, assistant professor of accounting.

Both Carr and Small won first place in the state level Phi Beta Lambda conference, which was held in Greenville in April.

For more information, contact Krippel at extension 2643. ♦

WAVE program offers unique courses for adults

"WAVE: Waccamaw and Atlantic Varied Education," a new program of short, innovative courses for adults interested in marine wildlife and nature, will be offered at Coastal Carolina University from Sept. 6 to Nov. 22, 1997.

Sponsored by Coastal's Center for Marine and Wetland Studies, the program will be led by Coastal faculty, students and expert professionals.

The following courses will be offered:

• Cruising Introduction to South Carolina Coastal Marine Life

Instructor: Sharon Gilman; $27 per section and a $48 boat fee

Section 1: Saturday, Sept. 6; 9 a.m. to noon

Section 2: Saturday, Oct. 25; 9 a.m. to noon

Participants will leave from Calabash, N.C., wind through Little River Inlet, past pristine Waites Island, and out into the Atlantic. Activities will include a fish trawl and dolphin counting.

• Birds and Birding in South Carolina

Instructor: Jessica Young; $56 per person

Part I: Saturday, Oct. 4; 9 a.m. to noon

Part II: Saturday, Oct. 11; 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This two-part workshop is designed to introduce novice birders to the amazing diversity of coastal birds.

• Kingston Lake and Crabtree Swamp by Canoe

Instructor: Tabby Shelton; $26 per section and a $7 boat fee

Section 1: Thursday, Sept. 18; 3 to 6 p.m.

Section 2: Sunday, Sept. 28; 9 a.m. to noon

This course explores the plant life, birds, fish, and wildlife which make up the diverse and beautiful river ecosystem of historic Kingston Lake.

• Finding Fossils

Instructor: Don Kirkpatrick; $35 per person

Section 1: Saturday, Oct. 4; 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Section 2: Saturday, Nov. 1; 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Participants will explore several productive fossil pits near the Grand Strand to learn more about the geological history of South Carolina's coastal plain. Dig for and learn to identify some common local fossils for your collection.

• Nature and Art Series

Instructor: Arden Inabinette; $18 per section

Four hands-on workshops on how to create art from natural and recycled material.

Leaf Printing

Saturday, Sept. 13; 10 a.m. to noon

Learn how to leaf print with acrylic paint to make colorful designs on many types of material.

Beach Sweep Collage

Saturday, Sept. 27; 10 a.m. to noon

Participate in International Beach Sweep on Sept. 20 and recycle what you find in a creative and ecological art work.

Twig Art

Thursday, Oct. 9; 7 to 9 p.m.

Learn how to use twigs and recycled boards to make unique signs.

Grapevine Wreaths

Saturday, Nov. 22; 10 a.m. to noon

Participants of this course will learn how to create grapevine wreaths from recycled materials.

Early registration is recommended since many courses have limited enrollment. Items to be included in On Campus should be submitted to the Office of Public Information in SNGL 204 by noon the Tuesday before publication.

Coastal Carolina University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution.

Coastal welcomes new faculty members

Ten new faculty members have joined Coastal Carolina University for the 1997-1998 academic year. A listing of new faculty members by academic school follows:

E. Craig Wall Sr. School of Business Administration and Computer Science

• Carl Dresden is a visiting assistant professor of marketing. He is working toward his Ph.D. in international business/marketing at the University of South Carolina. Dresden earned an M.B.A. at Brigham Young University in 1991 and served as a research analyst and vice president of research services for Parea Group in Orem, Utah, in 1992 and 1993.

School of Education and Graduate Studies

• Joseph Winslow is an assistant professor of educational technology and teacher education. He earned a Ph.D. in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in computer technology from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Prior to joining the Coastal faculty, he taught at North Carolina Central University. Winslow also has taught in the Burlington City Schools and Hyde County Public Schools of North Carolina.

School of Humanities and Fine Arts

• Donna Brown is a lecturer in Spanish. She earned a master's degree and a bachelor's degree in Spanish language and literature from the State University of New York at Buffalo. Brown taught at Buffalo State College and at SUNY-Buffalo.

• Alys Culhane is an assistant professor of English. She earned a Ph.D. in composition and rhetoric from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Prior to joining the Coastal faculty, she taught at Slippery Rock University. Culhane also has worked as an editor for newspapers and literary journals and has published many articles and two book-length works.

• Maria Ennabe is an instructor of Spanish. She earned a Ph.D. in curriculum and instruction and methods of teaching foreign language from St. Louis University. Ennabe has taught at the University of Missouri at St. Louis, Northeast Missouri State University and the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater.

• Brian Schroeder is an assistant professor of philosophy. He earned a Ph.D. and a master's degree in philosophy from the State University of New York at Stony Brook. His areas of specialization include contemporary continental philosophy and ethics. Schroeder formerly taught at the University of Southern Maine in Portland.

• Kristi Steinbrecher is a lecturer in Spanish. She earned a master's degree in Spanish from Winthrop University and a bachelor's degree in history from Coastal Carolina University, where she minored in Spanish. Steinbrecher was director of the Foreign Language Instructional Center at Coastal from 1988 to 1994.

School of Natural and Applied Sciences

• Scott L. Cross is a visiting instructor of marine science. He earned a Ph.D. in earth sciences from Duke University. His research has focused on geochemical records of environmental change. Cross is a member of the American Geophysical Union and the Council on Undergraduate Research.

• David W. Evans is an associate professor of chemistry and chair of the chemistry/physics department. He earned a Ph.D. in organic chemistry from Louisiana State University. Evans comes to Coastal from Presbyterian College where he taught undergraduate chemistry. He is active in the American Chemical Society, the Council on Undergraduate Research and the South Carolina Academy of Sciences.

• Mary E. Wisgirda is a visiting assistant professor of biology. She earned a Ph.D. in neuroscience from Florida State University. She has served as a postdoctoral research associate at the Yale University School of Medicine and has published many scholarly articles on physiology and neuroscience. ♦

COASTAL CAROLINA PEOPLE

Mary Crowe has been selected for listing in the fourth edition of Who's Who in Science and Engineering.

Linda Hollandsworth has been selected to serve a two-year appointment on a national committee of the NCAA. She is one of 30 institutional representatives among Division I institutions who meet regularly to decide on regulations and rules concerning restructuring the organization.

Steve Hamelman had a column published in the August 1997 issue of Bike magazine. Bike is one of the major mountain bike magazines, serving thousands of readers in the United States and Europe.

Ioana Mihaila and Prashant Sansgiry attended the Rocky Mountain Mathematics Consortium's Summer Conference in Laramie, Wyoming, July 14 to 25. The conference focused on "Difference Equations and Their Applications."

Department of Mathematics faculty members and a senior mathematics student participated in MATHFEST, the Mathematical Association of America Summer Meeting, held in Atlanta, Aug. 1 to 4. Ioana Mihaila presented "Active Mathematics: Visualizing Multivariable Calculus" for Project NEXt. Her research for this topic was supported by an Academic Enhancement Grant from Coastal Carolina. Subhash Saxena attended meetings at the MAA Conference as the MAA Student Chapter Advisor. Deborah Vrooman presented a lecture, "Statistics in a Mathematics Course for Early Childhood and Elementary Education Majors." Sheila Page, a senior mathematics major, presented "Modified Thresholding Techniques Using Haar Wavelets" during the MAA student paper sessions. Page was selected to receive a cash award for her outstanding presentation. Of the 45 student papers presented, only eight were chosen to receive an award. Her paper was a collaboration with Heidi Zeleznik, a May 1997 graduate of Coastal Carolina. ♦

Information from Kimbel Library

• Kimbel Library's Online Catalog is on the Web

Kimbel Library's new online catalog is now on the Internet and can be accessed at <http://library.coastal.edu>

To search the holdings of Kimbel Library, select "Search the WebPac" and then select the "Library Catalog." The library's new online system, an Innovative Interfaces product, provides access to all the library's cataloged holdings, as well as direct access to online catalogs at other libraries in the United States and worldwide. Faculty and staff must have a valid Coastal Identification Card to check out materials with the new system.

The Innovative Interfaces system includes the online catalog, as well as circulation, interlibrary loan, acquisitions, serials and cataloging modules, which enable Kimbel Library's staff to order, process and catalog all new materials in-house. The implementation of the new system is the culmination of several years of work by the librarians and library staff to achieve full control of library processes formerly done by the USC system.

• New Online System workshops offered

How do you use the new online library catalog? Informal workshop sessions will be offered for faculty and staff to introduce the new features and answer questions about the system.

Workshop sessions will be as follows:

Tuesday, August 19 from 9 to 10 a.m.

Wednesday, August 20 from 2 to 3 p.m.

Thursday, August 21 from 9 to 10 a.m.

Workshop participants should meet at the reference desk in Kimbel Library. Sessions are open on a first come, first serve basis. To reserve a space, contact Margaret Fain at extension 2410.

• Faculty borrowing at Kimbel Library

Now that the new online catalog is available via the Internet and in most faculty offices (<http://library.coastal.edu>), the library staff would like to review faculty borrowing privileges and introduce changes for the upcoming year.

Faculty have semester loan of most library materials, with the exception of videos and compact discs; however, all items are recallable after the first 21 days if needed by another patron.

By special arrangement, faculty also may borrow reference materials and periodicals for one-day loan.

Faculty borrowing privileges will be blocked when items become overdue or when faculty are billed for replacements. Please be aware of this policy and respond to overdue notices and invoices as quickly as possible. Questions concerning overdue notices and invoices should be directed to the circulation supervisor at extension 2400.

Faculty, staff and administrators must present a valid Coastal Carolina University identification card, with a digitized barcode, to borrow library materials. This is the only card that will access the new online system. To obtain an identification card, visit the ID Office operated by ARAMARK, which is located in the Student Center.

For more information contact, Peggy Bates at extension 2482. ♦
