

11-17-1997

On Campus, November 17, 1997

Coastal Carolina University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/on-campus>

 Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the History Commons

Recommended Citation

Coastal Carolina University, "On Campus, November 17, 1997" (1997). On Campus Newsletter. 113.
<https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/on-campus/113>

This Periodical is brought to you for free and open access by the CCU Newsletters at CCU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in On Campus Newsletter by an authorized administrator of CCU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact commons@coastal.edu.

On Campus

A Newsletter for Faculty and Staff of Coastal Carolina University • Volume 6, Number 19 • November 17, 1997

Coastal to host conference on writer William Faulkner

To mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of Nobel Prize-winning American novelist William Faulkner, Coastal Carolina University is hosting "William Faulkner and Southern History: The Centennial Conference" on Nov. 21 and 22 at the Wall Auditorium. The conference is free and open to the public.

Charles Joyner, Burroughs Distinguished Professor of Southern History and Culture and director of the Waccamaw Center for Cultural and Historical Studies, organized the conference. "This conference will feature a number of prize-winning literary scholars, historians and novelists who have a special affinity for Faulkner's work and a penetrating insight into the fascinating world he created in his novels," said Joyner.

One of the preeminent authors of the 20th century, Faulkner was born in 1897 in Mississippi, the setting for most of his novels including The Sound and the Fury, As I Lay Dying, Light in August, Absalom, Absalom! and Go Down, Moses. Faulkner won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1949. He died in 1962.

In addition to lectures and readings, the conference also will include a one-man performance by James L. Skinner, professor of English at Presbyterian College, who will portray Faulkner.

Conference participants include:

- Leland H. Cox is the author of the two-volume study William Faulkner in the Gale Authors Series. His study of Faulkner's early short fiction is currently in press at the University of South Carolina Press. Cox is president of the South Carolina Governor's School for Math and Science and former executive director of the South Carolina Committee for the Humanities.

- Don H. Doyle is professor of history at Vanderbilt University and is currently visiting in England at the University of Leeds. He is the author of The Social Order of a Frontier Community and several books on the urban history of the South: Nashville in the New South: Nashville Since the 1920s and New Men, New Cities, New South. He recently co-edited The South as an American Problem. His current project is a history of Lafayette County, Mississippi, the main historical source for Faulkner's Yoknapatawpha County.

- Fumiyo Hayashi is professor of English at the University of Tokyo. A noted Faulkner scholar, she has published numerous articles and essays in Portrait of Families in English and American Literature, Rereading American Literature and Faulkner: After the Nobel Prize. She also is a co-translator of Faulkner's Essays, Speeches and Public Letters. Currently a visiting scholar at Harvard University, she is preparing a book on Faulkner to be published by the University of Tokyo Press.

- James B. Meriwether, distinguished professor emeritus at the University of South Carolina, is one of the world's most eminent Faulkner scholars. He is author of numerous studies, including The Literary Career of William Faulkner; William Faulkner: An Exhibit of Manuscripts, Faulkner's Essays, Speeches and Public Letters; The Lion in the Garden: Interviews with

continued on page two

Legendary songwriter makes rare concert appearance

Mickey Newbury, one of the most highly acclaimed songwriters in American popular music, will perform a concert with virtuoso guitarist Jack Williams in Wheelwright Auditorium Saturday, Nov. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $15; $5 for students.

A native of Houston, Newbury was part of the new breed of songwriters — Kris Kristofferson and Roger Miller were others — who brought a new perspective to country music in the late 1960s. Newbury's music is known for its blues and jazz influences and his lyrics for their complex literary quality.

Newbury tunes have been recorded by Ray Charles, Elvis Presley ("American Trilogy"), Willie Nelson ("Sweet Memories"), B.B. King, Kenny Rogers and the First Edition ("Just Dropped In"), Waylon Jennings, Bobbie Blue Bland, Jerry Lee Lewis, Joan Baez and many others.

The concert at Coastal is all the more significant because Newbury rarely agrees to make live appearances. He stopped touring in the early 1970s and eventually retired to Oregon, emerging only for occasional performances at songwriters' festivals and other special events. During performances, Newbury plays a guitar given to him by Elvis Presley.

Since 1993, Columbia, S.C., guitarist-songwriter-performer Jack Williams has been Newbury's primary accompanist. Williams, who performed at Coastal's "Songwriters in the Round" concert in January, was the sole back-up musician on Newbury's 1994 CD, Nights When I Am Same, and co-wrote a song on the 1996 Newbury CD Lulled by the Moonlight.

Widely known as a brilliant guitarist and a versatile composer, Williams is a veteran troubadour whose 37-year professional career has included work with blues greats John Lee Hooker and Big Joe Turner as well as hundreds of gigs in clubs, coffeehouses and concert venues throughout the United States. His solo CD, Dreams of the Song Dog, was released in 1995.

For tickets or more information, contact the Wheelwright Box Office weekdays between noon and 5 p.m. at extension 2502. ♦

NASA grant funds remote sensing lab at Coastal

Craig Gilman, assistant professor of marine science, was recently awarded a $25,000 NASA grant as part of Earth System Science Education (ESSE), a four-year cooperative program designed to develop new earth and environmental science curricula. Coastal is one of 21 universities selected by NASA in 1996 to participate in the program. Other participants include Cornell University, Georgia Institute of Technology and Florida Institute of Technology. Coastal will receive a total of $90,000 for the project. The program is in its second year.

Two-thirds of the grant is being used to fund a multimedia remote sensing laboratory in the School of Natural and Applied Sciences. Completed this year, the lab makes it possible to gather real time, remote-sensing data and images for research and classroom use.

"Instead of pointing to a figure in a textbook to indicate how the oceans or atmosphere looked last year, we are able to bring the actual image into the classroom to show how the oceans and atmosphere look right now," said Gilman, the program's principal investigator. Paul Gayes, professor of marine science, and Dan Abel, instructor of marine science, are co-investigators of the program.

As part of the program, Gilman, Gayes and Abel are collaborating with participating universities and NASA scientists on ways to incorporate the most recent developments in global change research into the Coastal curriculum. The collaboration has resulted in two new classes on earth and environmental science and a new environmental science minor program at Coastal. Curricula developed at Coastal also is being provided to other universities via the Internet, according to Gilman.

Gilman joined the Coastal faculty in 1994. He earned a Ph.D. and a master's degree in physical oceanography from the University of Rhode Island. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical oceanography from Rutgers University. ♦

African American Association celebrates

The African-American Association at Coastal Carolina University will host its 25th Anniversary Celebration with a semi-formal event held Dec. 5 at the Myrtle Beach Hilton. State Senator Maggie W. Glover will present remarks during the program. The social event also includes a buffet dinner and dancing to the music of D.J. Tony D. Reservations are required.

The event is sponsored by the Office of Alumni Affairs and the Office of Minority Student Services.

Tickets are $25; $15 for students. The deadline for reservations is Thursday, Nov. 20.

For more information, contact Pat Singleton-Young at extension 2304 or Mona Dukes at extension 2006. ♦

Annual tree lighting ceremony

Coastal Carolina University will hold its annual tree lighting ceremony on Monday, Dec. 1 at 4 p.m., between the Singleton Building and the Student Center. The Coastal Carolina Concert Choir, directed by Charles Evans, will perform selected holiday music. The event is free and open to the public.

Coastal Productions will sponsor a reception in the Student Center following the tree lighting with entertainment by Carl Rosen.

For more information, contact Nadine Godwin at extension 2014. ♦

B.A.I.S. Information Session scheduled

Coastal Carolina University offers a unique program which enables adults to earn a Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies degree (BAIS). The program is designed especially for individuals who: need a bachelor's degree in order to compete for better jobs, have a college background but wish to obtain a degree, need to arrange classes around work schedules, have long-range plans for attending graduate school, or are interested in enhancing communications skills.

An information session outlining the BAIS program requirements will be held Nov. 20 at 6:15 p.m. in the Wall School of Business Building, room 119.

The BAIS degree at Coastal is a structured but flexible program that allows individuals to design a degree incorporating prior education and work experiences while addressing career aspirations. Courses are available through a combination of day, evening and Independent Distance Learning classes in order to accommodate the diverse schedules and educational needs of adult learners.

To register for an information session, contact Janice Sellers in Coastal's Division of Extended Learning and Public Services at extension 2665; e-mail janice@coastal.edu

COASTAL CAROLINA
UNIVERSITY
Did you know?

Sixty-six percent of students enrolled in Coastal are South Carolina residents; 33 percent are out-of-state residents; and international students represent one percent of student enrollment.

Faulkner conference scheduled

continued from front page

William Faulkner, 1926-1962 (with Michael Millgate); "Faulkner, Lost and Found" in the New York Times Book Review and Father Abraham by William Faulkner.

- Anne Blythe Meriwether is well known as the leading scholar on South Carolina writer Elizabeth Allston Pringle. She is author of Elizabeth Allston Pringle's "The Woman Rice Planter": The New York Sun Letters, 1903-1912 and editor of new editions of Pringle's Rab and Dab (1984) and A Woman Rice Planter (1992).
- David Paul Ragan is the author of William Faulkner's Absalom, Absalom! A Critical Study, Annotations to Faulkner's Absalom, Absalom! and many published articles on Faulkner. He teaches English at the Hammond School in Columbia, S.C.
- Daniel J. Singal is author of the acclaimed new book William Faulkner: The Making of a Modernist. Professor of history at Hobart and William Smith Colleges in Geneva, N.Y., Singal also wrote The War Within: From Victorian to Modernist Thought in the South.
- James L. Skinner is Charles A. Dana Professor of English at Presbyterian College in Clinton, S.C. In 1991 he was selected as the Governor's Professor of the Year in South Carolina, and was named the same year as the South Carolina Professor of the Year by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE). He is editor of The Autobiography of Henry Merrell: Industrial Missionary to the South and The Death of a Confederate.
- Elizabeth Spencer is one of America's most distinguished novelists. A native Mississippian, she has participated in Faulkner centennial celebrations this year in Oxford and in Paris. Since leaving Mississippi in 1953, she has lived in Italy and Montreal, returning to teach at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill from 1986 to 1992. She has written nine novels, including The Voice at the Back Door, The Snare, The Light in the Piazza, The Salt Line and The Night Traveler, as well as many short stories. Her memoir, from which she will be reading at this conference, is Landscapes of the Heart, published in autumn 1997.
- Joel Williamson is author of William Faulkner and Southern History, a nominee for the Pulitzer Prize and winner of the Mayflower Cup in 1994. He also is author of The Crucible of Race, which won the Francis Parkman Prize, the Ralph Waldo Emerson Award and the Robert F. Kennedy Book Award. A native South Carolinian, he has held fellowships at Harvard and Stanford. He is Lineberger Professor in the Humanities at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and he is writing a book on Elvis Presley.
- Charles Reagan Wilson is known as "the Diderot of Dixie" for his editing of The Encyclopedia of Southern Culture. He is the author of Baptized in Blood: the Religion of the Lost Cause, 1865-1920 and the recent Judgement and Grace in Dixie: Southern Faiths from Faulkner to Elvis. He presently serves as professor of history and director of the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at the University of Mississippi in Oxford, Faulkner's home town.
- Bertram Wyatt-Brown has been called "the most gifted historian of his generation." Among his numerous books are the classic study Southern Honor: Ethics and Behavior in the Old South, Yankee Saints and Southern Sinners and The House of Percy: Honor, Melancholy and Imagination in a Southern Family. He is Richard J. Milbauer Professor of History at the University of Florida.
- Anne Wyatt-Brown is a professor of linguistics at the University of Florida and a pioneer in adding the consideration of age to that of race, class and gender in the study of literature. She is author of Barbara Pym: A Critical Biography and editor of Aging and Gender in Literature: Studies in Creativity. Her current project is a multi-generational study of immigrant literature.
- Edwin M. Yoder Jr. is a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist who is now professor of journalism and humanities at Washington & Lee University. A native North Carolinian, he has been praised for his career-long devotion to "examining and combating the persistence of American racism." A prolific writer, his latest book is The Historical Present: Uses and Abuses of the Past (1997). His essay, "William Faulkner and Race," is the lead article in the Autumn 1997 issue of Virginia Quarterly Review.

For more information about the conference, call Joyner at extension 2891 or e-mail: cjoyner@coastal.edu.

University Choir to perform holiday concert

The Coastal Carolina University Concert Choir will present a concert in Wall Auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

Directed by Charles Evans, Coastal's artist-in-residence, the choir will perform madrigals, holiday tunes, spirituals and songs by Stephen Foster.

For more information, contact the Department of Music at extension 2421. ♦

COASTAL CAROLINA PEOPLE

Jim Blackburn's book review of The French Revolution in Social and Political Perspective (edited by Peter Jones, London: Arnold 1996) has been accepted for publication in the May 1998 edition of French Review.

Karen Carpenter presented the results of her ongoing research, "Using COPS II to diagnose and deal with diversity in seventh grade girls," at the Southeastern Regional Conference of the Association of Teacher Educators held in Norfolk, Va., Nov. 5 to 9. Carpenter's research, which was funded in part by a grant from the American Association of University Women, will be submitted to the journals Sex Roles and Journal of Counseling and Development.

Mary Crowe and John Laut have been selected to participate in the Reciprocal Sciences Success: Visions and Strategies project for 1997-1998 sponsored by the National Science Foundation. One of only 24 teams chosen from colleges and universities across the nation including Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, the Coastal Carolina University faculty team will examine successful urban science initiatives in action in Baltimore City Public Schools, review AAAS national science standards, construct rubrics, and develop performance assessments at a November conference at Towson University in Maryland. Collaboratively, the national teams will design strategies to enhance the active participation of minorities in science and to promote effective teacher preparation on their home campuses.

Steve Hamelman presented a workshop on proofreading at the annual College Media Advisers Convention in Chicago, Oct. 29 to Nov. 2. His session attracted an audience of more than 75 student journalists.

Subhash Saxena with undergraduate students Sheila Page and Matthew Small attended the annual dinner of the Southeastern Section of the Mathematical Association of America held at Columbia College. Saxena was introduced as the Section Lecturer of the Southeastern Section of the Association; Page and Small represented Coastal's Number and Bytes Club. ♦

Information from Counseling Services

• Counseling Services offers an eating disorders support group for students on Thursdays from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in SC 201. The group meetings are confidential and open to anyone dealing with anorexia nervosa, bulimia, compulsive eating, and/or compulsive dieting. For more information, contact the Counseling Services Center.

• A Women's Issues Group meets to discuss issues of concern to women on Tuesdays from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in SC 204. The group is open to female students, faculty and staff at Coastal.

For more information, contact the Counseling Services Center at extension 2305. ♦

Financial Aid videoconference

A videoconference, "Student Financial Aid: A New Age of Borrowing?" will be presented Thursday, Nov. 20 from 1 to 3 p.m. in ADM 003. The videoconference is free and open to anyone interested in student financial aid. Registration is not necessary.

For more information, contact Ramona Lookadoo at extension 2313. ♦

What are we reading?

What are your students, and you, reading? Recent statistics submitted by Michael Lackey, from Kimbel Library indicate the following are the top subject areas according to circulation. Subject areas from which 90 or more books have been checked out since the semester began are listed below, with the actual number of check-outs for each. (Statistics compiled by INNOPAC library management software)

Philosophy, history and systems	240
Psychology	207
Religions, mythology, rationalism	116
History (general)	117
History, eastern Asia, southeastern Asia	161
United States, colonial, special topics	147
United States, slavery and civil war	156
United States since civil war	109
Physical training	171
Family, marriage, home	116
Criminology and Penology	111
History of education	94
Theory and practice of education	117
Preschool - 12	176
Special aspects of education	111
K-12 textbooks	193
Vocal music	177
Music, instrumental	253
Visual arts (general)	123
Motion pictures	173
Shakespeare	109
English literature, 19th Century	148
English literature, 1900-1960	541
American literature, individual authors	294
Juvenile literature, American and English	759
Natural History	106
Biology (general)	163
Invertebrate and vertebrate zoology	470
Psychiatry and psychopathology	209
Hunting, sports	171

Kimbel Library)

Fishing tournament a success

An intercollegiate offshore fishing seminar held on Halloween had some of the elements of a good horror show. Teams from four South Carolina universities — Clemson, Coastal Carolina, Francis Marion and USC — braved a predictably stormy Atlantic Ocean and all came off as winners.

The event was the 24th Coastal Carolina Invitational, a fishing match and seminar held annually out of Murrells Inlet. Students and coaches began the day at Captain Dick's Marina with a pre-dawn seminar on live bait fishing for king mackerel. A film, "The Asterisk," on the history of intercollegiate sport fishing, an event begun in Nova Scotia almost half a century ago, was the centerpiece of the presentation.

In the film, student anglers are shown catching some fifty kings from the deck of the head boat, "New Captain Bill," that they would be sailing on before sunrise. In the film it was a calm sunny day but the reality was a rough Atlantic that had many of the participants in foul weather gear by the time they cleared the Murrells Inlet jetties.

Fortunately, forecasts of rain and 20-knot winds did not materialize. Captain Jack Orr set up for drift

Singleton House event

The next Singleton House gathering for members will be Tuesday, Nov. 18 at the Singleton House. The event will begin at 4:30 p.m. with food available at 5:30 p.m.

Membership to Singleton House, a social club for faculty and staff at Coastal Carolina, is open to all faculty and staff. Membership dues are $20 per semester or $35 for the academic year.

To join Singleton House, faculty and staff may contact any member of the Singleton House committee to pay their membership dues or pay the membership dues at the upcoming event.

The last event for the fall semester is planned for Monday, December 8.

Anyone with ideas for Singleton House events and themes are encouraged to contact members of the committee. Committee members are Bob Burney, John Eberwein, Andy Hendrick, Bill King, Colleen Lohr, Claudia McCollough, Richard Moore, Joan Piroch and Tom Secrest. ♦

DON'T FORGET

Coming in December . . .

Birthdays

November

- 17 Sally Horner
- 18 Glenn Hanson
Wendy Ogawa
- 19 Patricia Donovan-Ealy
Art Wendelken
- 21 Bret Elliott
Ernest Smith
- 22 Cathy Fitzsimmons
Ed McNew
Gayle Skipper
- 23 Sandra Ridenour
Bob Squatriglia
- 25 Arizona Fairwell
- 26 Michael Lackey
- 29 Gary Gilmore
James Stephen Roberts
- 30 Paris Ridley

December

- 1 Wade Baird

fishing some thirty miles offshore and the winds died down almost completely. Fishing was slow under a sky that grew increasingly dark, but gave only a sprinkle of rain.

Student anglers did manage to catch a dozen kings, plus a few grouper, amberjack and seabass. The scary part of the afternoon came when a few giant barracuda attacked some of the kings being brought to the boat. One barracuda estimated at 40 pounds or so simply ripped a king mackerel in half just before it was gaffed.

That king was being fought by Coastal Carolina student Kentaro Amemiya of Hino City, near Tokyo. He had already taken three kings, but the king savaged by the barracuda might have brought Coastal its second championship in two years. Without it, Coastal finished in third place, just ahead of USC and the Clemson "B" team. The Clemson "A" squad and Francis Marion finished ahead of Coastal, with Francis Marion the overall winner by one pound.

Next year's match will be held on the last Friday of October. ♦

Women's Business Roundtable held

The Small Business Development Center at Coastal will conduct a seminar, "Women's Business Roundtable," about the Small Business Administration's Women's Prequalification Loan Program on Friday, Dec. 5 from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in the Wall Auditorium. The program is free and open to the public; however, space is limited and early registration is advised.

To register or for more information, contact Nancy Robinson in Small Business Development Center at extension 2170. ♦

A note of thanks

I would like to say thank you to the Coastal Carolina community for the many expressions of sympathy since the recent death of my grandfather, James Milton. Your acts of kindness will not be forgotten.

Sincerely,
Linda Ford

Coastal Carolina University Theater presents
Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick's musical

SHE LOVES ME

Thursday, December 4 • 7:30 p.m.

Friday, December 5 • 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, December 6 • 7:30 p.m.

Sunday, December 7 • 3 p.m.

TICKETS: $8, $5 students

For more information, contact the Wheelwright
Box Office at 349.2502, Monday through Friday, noon to 5 p.m.

Menus

Monday through Friday:

- Breakfast: $3.50; 7 to 9:30 a.m.
- Lunch: $4.50; 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.
- Dinner: $5; 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday

- Brunch Buffet: $5.50; 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.
- Dinner: $5; 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

For more information, contact Evan

Klingman at extension 2365.

The Cafe

Lunch menu week of Nov. 17

- Monday: Spaghetti with Meat Sauce; Chicken Pot Pie; Barbecue Chicken Breast Sandwich
- Tuesday: Chili Macaroni; Chicken or Beef Kabobs; Chicken and Broccoli Casserole; Steak-Ums; Marinated Chicken Breasts
- Wednesday: Meatball Subs; Baked Chicken; Beef Tips with Mushrooms over Egg Noodles
- Thursday: Carved Ham; Fried Chicken Rib Sandwich; Marinated Chicken Breasts
- Friday: Cajun Baked Fish; Pizza; Hot Wings

The CINO Grille

Week of Nov. 17

- Monday: Sweet and Sour Chicken; Linguine with Marinara Sauce; Szechuan Chicken with Broccoli and Noodles
 - Tuesday: Beef Caesar; Bowtie Pasta with Alfredo Sauce; Chicken Stir Fry
 - Wednesday: Glazed Chicken; Spaghetti with Meat Sauce; Turkey Meatloaf
 - Thursday: Stuffed Red Peppers; Fettucini with Tomato Basil Sauce; Chicken Breast with Mushrooms
 - Friday: Cheese Lasagna; Zita with Italian Sausage; Beef Stew over Rice
- Note: Menus are subject to change due to product availability.

The Cafe and The CINO Grille will be closed during Fall Break.

The Cafe will close after lunch on Friday, Nov. 21 and will reopen for brunch on Nov. 30 at 10:30 a.m.

The CINO Grille will close Friday, Nov. 21 at 4:30 p.m. and will reopen for breakfast on Monday, Dec. at 7:30 a.m.

On Campus

On Campus is published biweekly on Monday by the Office of Public Information. Items to be included should be submitted to the Office of Public Information in SNGL 204 by noon the Tuesday before publication, unless otherwise listed.

On Campus publication dates during the fall semester are as follows:

Publication date:

- Monday, December 1
- Friday, December 12

Deadline to submit information:

- Monday, November 24
- Monday, December 8

COASTAL CAROLINA
UNIVERSITY

On Campus
November 17, 1997

P. O. Box 261954 • Conway, SC 29528-6054

Office of Public Information
COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Campus Calendar

NOVEMBER

18
Beginning Word Workshop
2 to 4 p.m.; WALL 109
Kay Alford
Singleton House Event
for members, 4:30 p.m., Singleton House
Joan Piroch

19
Extended Features of Voice Mail System Workshop
9:30 to 10:30 a.m.; WALL 109
Kay Alford
Movie Night, Coastal Production Board event
7 p.m., WALL Auditorium.
Porter Medley/Debbie Conner

20
Creating Web Pages Workshop
9 to 11 a.m.; WALL 109
Kay Alford
Student Financial Aid: A New Age of Borrowing?
videoconference .1 to 3 p.m., ADM 003
Ramona Lookadoo
Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies (B.A.I.S.)
A Degree Program for Motivated Adult Learners Information Session:
6:15 p.m., WALL 119
Peter Balsamo
Coastal Carolina University Concert Choir performance
7:30 p.m., WALL Auditorium. Wheelwright Box Office
Women's Basketball
Coastal at S.C. State, TBA

21
William Faulkner and Southern History:
The Centennial Conference
continues through Nov. 22; all day, Wall Auditorium, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
Charles Joyner
Residence halls close

22
Mickey Newbury Concert
7:30 p.m., WA. Wheelwright Box Office
William Faulkner and Southern History:
The Centennial Conference:
all day, Wall Auditorium, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
Charles Joyner
Women's Basketball
Newberry at Coastal, 5 p.m.

23
Men's Basketball
Coastal at East Tennessee State, TBA

24
Thanksgiving Break
no classes, continues through Friday, Nov. 28; administrative offices open through Wednesday, Nov. 26

25
Men's Basketball
Campbell at Coastal, 7:30 p.m.

27
Thanksgiving Holidays
administrative offices closed Thursday, Nov. 27 and Friday, Nov. 28.

28
Day After Thanksgiving Day holiday administrative offices closed

29
Residence halls re-open
Women's Basketball
Coastal at Hampton, 7 p.m.
Men's Basketball
Coastal at Florida, TBA

DECEMBER

1
Tree Lighting Ceremony
4 p.m., between SNGL and Student Center; reception to follow in Student Center
Nadine Godwin
Women's Basketball
Coastal at Campbell, 7 p.m.