Coastal Reaccredited For 10 Years

by ALLAN KUJALA

On December 8, Coastal Carolina College received ten year reaccreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) at its 1981 Annual Meeting in Dallas, Texas. In attendance was Chancellor E.M. Singleton, Dr. Sandy Baird, Chairman of Self-Study Committee, and Pat Rogers, Associate Vice-Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

The reaffirmation was based on a lengthy self study of Coastal Carolina College conducted by faculty and administrators under direction of Dr. Wade K. Baird. The self-study was examined and appraised by a committee of the Southern Association, which visited the college and which was headed by Dr. Raymond L. Cravens of Western Kentucky University.

Accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools means the institution is endorsed by the association as being among the colleges and schools in the nation which are qualified to provide a competent, diverse education for students. The accreditation received by Coastal Carolina College and reaffirmed in this meeting means that the College meets the demanding standards put forth by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, which is based in Atlanta. Besides Coastal Carolina College, other colleges like the University of Georgia and the university of Tennessee and about fifty other colleges also received reaffirmation of accreditation.

"Reaffirmation of accreditation for Coastal Carolina College is a testimony to the caliber of the college," says college Chancellor Dr. Edward M. Singleton.

"Coastal Carolina College has overcome many obstacles to become the type of accredited four year institution of higher education that it is today," he says. "The challenges which continue to face us are numerous, but the faculty and administration remain generally dedicated to continue development and service as a vital center of higher education."

"The faculty, administration and student body are particularly grateful to the Educational Foundation, the Horry County Higher Education Commission and the USC Board of Trustees for continued guidance and assistance. We are especially grateful to the many supporters of Coastal Carolina College, who have provided the college much of the support necessary to the development of quality education which resulted in this positive rating by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools."

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is one of the major accrediting organizations in the nation. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is a voluntary association of colleges and schools in the nation which are qualified to provide a competent, diverse education for students. The accreditation received by Coastal Carolina College and reaffirmed in this meeting means that the college receives reaffirmation of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Colleges and Schools forwarded eighteen recommendations to the College after its official campus tour in April 1981 and the college responded to some of these recommendations as follows:

RECOMMENDATION (2): It is recommended that the School of Business Administration not undertake a new program until the college is assured that there are resources available, money and staff, to undertake such programs.

RESPONSE: The adequacy of resources for new programs is a matter of continuing discussion between the Dean of the School of Business Administration and the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, and it is recognized that the most limiting resource is shortage of faculty. In response to the above recommendation, the College has added one full-time faculty member to the School of Business Administration for academic year 1981-82. Continued expansion of faculty at the School of Business Administration is projected, contingent on the adequacy of state funding. No new programs will be initiated until resources are available.

RECOMMENDATION (3): It is recommended that the College provide the School of Business with additional faculty positions in order that the burden of overloads may be relieved so that the faculty may function more effectively in carrying out their total duties.

RESPONSE: The College accepts this recommendation without reservation. During the past several years concerted effort was made to re-allocate existing resources to support faculty acquisition in the School of Business Administration. As a result of this effort, one new full time faculty position was awarded to the School of Business. While the College plans to continue this procedure whenever feasible, it is clear that internal re-allocation alone will not generate a full-time position each year. Uncertainty about the rate of faculty expansion for the School of Business relates directly to the level of state funding. Within the limitations thus imposed, the College pledges to assign top priority to the School of Business for the award of faculty positions until the burden of overloads is consistent with general college practice. Present projections call for award of full time positions to the School of Business in academic year 1982-83 and in 1983-84. An evaluation of status and needs will be conducted in 1984. See Tab B, letter of appointment.

RECOMMENDATION (4): Full-formula funding should continue to be justified and should be funded by the State Legislature when appropriate funding is available to assure quality higher education at the University of South Carolina at Coastal Carolina College.

RESPONSE: The administration of USC-Coastal Carolina is strongly committed to the goal of full-formula funding for the institution, and this recommendation has a high priority. A continuing, intensive program of information on the issue is directed to the State Legislature, and each year gains have been made (i.e. 70% to 80% to 90% of the whole) as state government adopts the annual appropriation bill. In times past, the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education made ineffective attempts to have the State Legislature adopt full-formula funding as designed by the Commission for institutions of South Carolina system and other colleges and universities have insisted that the Commission enforce its position, so that today the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education is strongly committed to its own formula for full funding.

RESPONSE: USC-Coastal Carolina agrees with this recommendation. A review now underway seeks to identify sources of possible public funding for a one-time "catch-up" allocation for library materials and collections. Prior to fiscal year 1981, a supplemental appropriation of $45,000 was allocated to the library for acquisitions. It is the hope of the institution that, with increased enrollment, additional funds will become available when the legislature meets in 1982. Some of these new funds would be allocated to the library. In addition, the Horry County Higher Education Commission has given preliminary approval for county funds in the amount of $25,000. This is a necessary requirement. Final action on county funds should be completed within 60 to 90 days. With respect to the alternative suggestion of a fund-raising campaign, the College is presently in the planning stages of a three-year $30 million system-wide campaign. Of this goal, $290,000 has been tentatively earmarked for library materials and collections.

RECOMMENDATION (5): Monies available for the support of extra-class activities increased.

RESPONSE: The College accepts this recommendation. For fiscal year 1980-81, a total of $27,221 was made available for extra-class activities. This total was funded from student fees ($51,722) and local sources ($20,500). Based on an anticipated increase of five percent in full-time students, a total of $33,000 will be available for fiscal year 1981-82. This total will be funded from student fees ($58,900 est.) and local sources ($24,000).

STUDENT LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP

All Students Welcome

Welcome Back To Excitement

To the Student Body,

First, I would like to welcome everyone back for the Spring semester. The Fall semester went fairly smooth, but we had to spend a lot of trying to get things organized. We have already started serving on committees and serving on committees ourselves. There is a faculty, committee for each area of the college. These committees are advisory to the Chancellor and they play a significant role in determining the course of the college. All these committees have seats which can be filled by students. If you are concerned about a certain area of the college or would like to have a say in what goes on around the campus, you can serve on a committee. Placement on a committee is by appointment by the Student Government Association President, so all you have to do to get on a committee is see me. You can get in contact with me by calling ext. 277, or at 651-7244 (evenings) or come by my office located on the second floor of the Student Center. ANY STUDENT CAN SERVE ON A COMMITTEE.

During the Fall semester, I received many complaints about the dances (music, etc.) and I voiced my concerns at the Campus Union meetings. However, I only have one vote, but so do you. All you have to do to become a voting member of the Campus Union is attend two consecutive meetings (held 1:30, second floor of the Student Center). The SGA is presently working on a few projects. First, we are trying to build a radio station. The college already owns most of the equipment needed to build a station. This project is being headed by Philip Lassen and Alex Council.

Second, we are planning on building a patio behind the Student Center. Included are a grill, benches, and picnic tables. If you have an idea for improving the campus or would like to work on one of these projects please contact me at one of the above numbers or come by the office. On December 18, 1981, the SGA Treasurer, P.C. Spivey resigned. Replacement is by appointment by the SGA President and approval by the SGA body. If you would like to apply for this position, the deadline is January 22, 1982. Sincerely,

by: BRIAN MERRY
SGA President

To The Editor:

This letter is to inform the Coastal Carolina student body that I, P.C. Spivey, am resigning from my position as SGA Treasurer, effective today, December 18, 1981. I have enjoyed working as the SGA Treasurer but due to personal conflicts, it would be in the best interest of everyone concerned for me to resign at this time.

Thank you for supporting me in this decision.

Sincerely,
P.C. SPIVEY

The Financial Aid Office announced today that the applications for financial aid under the Educational Opportunity Grant, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, College Work Study, and National Direct Student Loan programs for 1982-83 are available now at rm 206 in the Student Center.

Will Allred, Financial Aid Officer, indicated that all students should file the American College Testing Family Financial Statement that is available now. "The earlier you file, the better the chance your money will be here for 1982." Allred observed that a large group of students who are eligible for Pell Grant (Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program) in 1981-82 failed to apply. "Around 400 should have completed applications, but for one reason or the other, did not," Allred said.

As a matter of university of South Carolina policy financial aid is awarded to students for the Spring semester (Fall semester, Spring semester) through May academic year.

The Federal College Work-Study Program will be available around $100,000 for wages in 1982-83. Most students who are awarded wages under this program will be returning sophomores, juniors and seniors in 1982-83. Allred estimates that freshmen will be awarded wages to be earned under this program.

Students under age 25 who apply for Federal Student Financial Aid as independent of parents' support are required to complete an affidavit of Non-Support for 1982-83. Parents attest that the student is independent. If Financial independence is not proved, students would not be given priority consideration for Federal Student Financial Aid in 1982-83.

If a student receives Federal Student Financial Aid, they are required to report scholarships, grants, loans, in-kind assistance (Room, board, spending money, and other support) work for wages from any source you receive it.

No aid will be authorized in the August 15, 1982-September 15, 1982 period. To apply for aid, the student should do the following:

Step 1- Fill out the American Testing Form, "Student Data Form 1982-83." Deliver to the Financial Aid Center.

Step 3- Mail or bring to the Financial Aid Office a copy of your Internal Revenue Service 1040 or 1040-A form for the year ending 12/31/81.

Step 4- Mail or bring to the Financial Aid Office a copy of your Internal Revenue Service 1040 or 1040-A form for the year ending 12/31/81.

When steps 1, 2, 3 and 4 are done, you will have a complete file. A complete file means that you are among those that are first in line to get notification of what money you will receive for the next year.

As required by a recent Department of Education Program review, 1982-83 financial aid recipients will be required to make satisfactory academic progress toward a college degree to receive federal student financial aid. Allred stated, "The purpose of the satisfactory academic progress requirements is to insure that the federal tax dollars given to students are used to support educational activities that result in graduation with a baccalaureate degree within a reasonable time."

The college applies a standard involving a normal time period to complete a course of study; (Usually 8 semesters with a class load averaging 15 semester hours.) and a normal measurement such as a grade point average (2.00 on work completed) indicating the average required to receive a baccalaureate degree.

When the financial aid officer determines that a students academic progress does not satisfy the standard, the financial aid office will notify the student that eligibility for federal student aid is suspended and inform the student how eligibility may be restored. In all cases, eligibility suspension will span one semester while the student is enrolled at least half-time (6 hrs.) at Coastal Carolina College. Students whose financial aid eligibility is suspended must earn a 2.00 grade point average during the semester in which aid is suspended in courses directly related to their baccalaureate degree program in order to restore eligibility to receive student financial aid.

Theatre of the Deaf

On January 18, the Wheelwright Auditorium was honored with the performance of the National Theater of the Deaf. The company is a traveling group of actors originally from Connecticut established under the Eugene O'Neill Foundation. They've been recognized with numerous awards including the Antoinette Perry Award.

The performance included a series of Aesop's fables done basically in pantomime. The majority of the company is deaf and some members possess a small vocabulary. The audience is immediately struck by the immense vitality of the company which radiates its personality. Most of the acting is done in pantomime with a small amount of dialogue.

The players went on this week to the Horry County elementary schools to theater workshops. They basically worked in their pantomime with the children.

If you missed the nationally acclaimed Theater of the Deaf, remember that there are many more events scheduled. Watch for the upcoming "Feats" performed by Sheffield Theater Ensemble on February 1st at Wheelwright Auditorium.
Carolina Coastal Couples

Macneir and Herman

by ESTA HILL

Feature Writer

The focus this issue is the student couple of Todd Mcneir and Susie Herman. The couple resides in a trailer, two miles south of Coastal Carolina and they have been together for four years.

They attended the same High School in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. when they started dating. They began dancing at a rma Querade part and they have been together ever since.

Susie agrees with Todd and adds that the couple tries to divide expenses and responsibilities evenly, household chores are shared by Todd and Susie. Bills are split.

Another reason given for not marrying is economics. Todd points out that once married, BEOG and financial aid will be cut and thus they would be unable to attend college. As long as they remain single, they maintain full benefits.

Susie and Todd's parents wholeheartedly support their relationship, so they have support on all sides of the family.

Todd points out that the couple does have its ups and downs. “We are two totally different personalities and these personalities contrast.”

Todd is a highly social creature, while Susie is withdrawn and quiet. Do these personalities compliment each other? “Not really, they basically clash.” “We have definitely gained more than our share of fights.” The axiom that opposites attract is proven true for another Coastal Carolina Couple.

Higher Education Commission Discusses Budget Cuts

by EDDIE OWENS

NEWS EDITOR

On Thursday, December 3, the Horry County Higher Education Commission met in the College Center for their regular monthly meeting. Also at this meeting were members of the Horry and Georgetown legislative delegations. Representative Earche, Hodgins, Reynolds, and the entire Georgetown legislative delegation were in attendance.

USC Vice President of Finance, Robert Denton and Coastal's Associate Chancellor for Fiscal Affairs, Will Garland spoke on the problems institutions are facing due to the tight fiscal policy of the state at this time.

Robert Denton stressed that the other delegations were told the colleges and universities in this state are facing severe budget cuts that the Budget and Control Board is proposing. It was explained that many of the costs of a college are fixed and cannot be deleted such as utilities, insurance, telephone, and maintenance which are increasing due to inflation. It was shown where the amount of funding proposed would not cover these projected increases.

According to Garland, the three USC four year campuses get the short end of the stick in state appropriations and bonding for buildings. State appropriations to the six four year campuses for the 1981-82 fiscal year is: College of Charleston $10,631,122, Francis Marion $5,931,711, Lander $3,975,843, USC- Spartanburg $4,563,222, USC Coastal $4,178,390, and USC- Columbia $3,660,112.

Several members of the legislative delegation made the point that budget cuts are necessary. The Horry County Chamber of Commerce and the Carolinas Economic Development Commission are working on finding ways to provide new budget cuts that the Budget and Control Board is proposing. It was

by: LINDA FRANKLIN
Entertainment Writer

What really goes on behind the scenes of the radio stations? Are you going to take an in depth look at the practices and personalities of the people who work at WKZQ and WTGR.

Lets start with your morning man Marv Clark. Marv has been with WKZQ for two years. He started in radio when he was fourteen years old at WADE in Wadesboro, N.C.. Marv moved to the Alaskan Forces Network Radio. He attended college at the University of Anchorage. When asked if he had any words of advice for anyone interested in radio he said, "Yeah, go to Real Estate School. Seriously," Marvin said, "radio is a very demanding field. I love what I'm doing.

Next comes Henry Kaye, the mid­morning D.J. Henry has worked in Connecticut and in Oklahoma. He has been with the Q Crew for four months as Music Director. Henry gave us some words we must live by. "Get an education so we can learn to read and write. Be kind, thoughtful, understanding, and don't stop until you get what you want." How did Henry make it in radio? "Lots of hard work," says Henry.

You know him as Chris William, but his friends know him as Buffalo Christian. This is the first radio station Chris has worked at and has been at WKZQ since August 1979, when he was hired as a part timer. He now works full time as a D.J. in the drivers seat, which is from 2:30 to 7:00 for all you ladies who want to listen to Chris. Chris wants to tell you, "Thank you for all your support and thanks to all of my friends at the station. We work together as a team. We here at the Q will try and help you with your community events as our job is to serve the public. As for anyone interested in radio, I will be glad to talk to them.

The man you hear from 7:00 to 11:30 is John Cline. He has been at WKZQ since August 1981. Any of you ladies from Wheeling, W. Va.? you have something in common with John. So give him a call and as John says, "Keep it on the Q." Believe it or not, WKZQ has gone co­ed. From 11:30 to 5:30 features Pam May. Pam May is from New Pad May. Pam is from York, Pa. and this is the first station she has worked at. Pam attended West Georgia University in Carrollton, Ga. for two years. Pam claims though that Bill Hennecy and Greg Fowler were her best teachers. Pam likes to enter beauty pageants, meet people, and water ski. Her greatest ambition is to be a news anchorperson. Words of advice to a woman interested in radio. "If that's what you want in your heart, be determined, work hard, and most of all, go for it.

While relaxing on the weekends, you can listen to Bob Chase from 5:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Aside from being a D.J. at WKZQ, Bob is also involved in production. His interests range from military technology to listening to a wide variety of music. When asked a little about himself, this is what he told me. "When I first came to the station I was told that when I was trained, I would be an asset to the station. You have to remember that the station is a business and I want to do all I can to be an asset to that business. One of my aspirations is to work at WLS in Chicago." All of this is according to the infinite wisdom of Mr. Bob Chase.

Your informative newsmen is Jeff McMurdy. Jeff is a graduate of Edinboro State University in Edinboro, Pa. Jeff is not only a fine reporter, but an athlete also. He tells me that he played basketball in college. Jeff's aspirations are to move up to a top 50 market station or to politics if he ever decides to get out of broadcasting.

Little do people know that WKZQ has a sister station, WTGR 1520 AM, otherwise known as "Tiger Radio". To wake you up in the morning is Bill Cornell. Bill has been with WTGR for 2 years. He began in radio at 19. Bill's talents not only include being your morning man, he is also very interested in the world of performance racing. You have heard Bill several times on national radio at many speedways, such as Charlotte Motor Speedway.

Bob Kilpatrick is most heard on the commercials you hear which are broadcast on several radio stations in the area. Bob has been with WTGR for three years. You will hear Bob's broadcast from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

When I went to interview Jack Daniels, I found him hard at work behind the control board. Jack is from Somerset, Mass. and started radio when he was 18 at WSCF in Bitterford, Maine. Jack is in the driver seat from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m., but before Jack goes on the air, he is busy, fulfilling his job as Program Director. I asked if he would like to make any famous quotes. He said, "Yes, I love the Sun Fun City and I'd say that even if I was sober.

The man who heads up this team is the General Manager of WKZQ and WTGR, Mr. Bill Henecy. Mr. Henecy runs the stations with a great deal of professionalism not found in any other radio station, as WKZQ is Billboard Award Winning Station and is South Carolina's station of the year. WTGR is not to be left out as it is ran on the same level of proficiency as WKZQ. Mr Henecy is also President of the Performance Racing Network. Everyone has to start somewhere and Mill started out as a D.J. You would have known him as Scott Young back in 1966 on WTGR, which at that time was an adult contemporary station.

In 1973 WKZO came into existence and was a rock/oldies station. Then in 1975 became a 24 hour rock station. Mr. Henecy's advice to students interested in radio is, "Obtain some practical experience before you go out all through a formal education." Through Bill Henecy's dedication and professionalism, he has obtained great respect from the radio world, his employees, and this author.

Catch the next issue of The Chanticleer as I will be interviewing Greg Fowler (formerly of WKZQ) and an interview with ALABAMA.
Cultural Arts Series tickets cost Coastal students ONE dollar

Officials at USC-Coastal Carolina College have announced the college's 1981-82 Cultural Arts Series, which will bring regionally and nationally acclaimed performers to the Waccamaw-Grand Strand region in a low-cost public program. All performances during the year are scheduled for the new, $3-million Wheelwright Auditorium at Coastal Carolina College.

From October through March, residents and visitors will be able to enjoy performances by a variety of artists: a chamber orchestra, a world-famous choral group, an internationally recognized theatre of the deaf, an art exhibit, a symphony pianist and one of America's favorite dance companies. A ticket for the entire six-performance series is only $12, due to subsidies by the college, the National Endowment for the Arts and the South Carolina Arts Commission.

The Mixmaster Art Exhibit, a juried exhibition of approximately 40 works of art by Southeastern artists, will be presented to patrons during the months of February and March.

On March 8th, concert pianist Robert Blocker will perform. A featured performer with the Dallas Symphony, the Fort Worth Symphony and others, Blocker will bring his unique piano artistry to Wheelwright Auditorium.

The final performance of the series, on March 29th, will feature the Frank Holder Dance Company, one of America's premiere dance groups. Bands Established on Campus

by: BARRY MYERS
Feature writer

Besides the obvious job of Director of admissions, Marsh Myers also has a few music ideas up his sleeve. Students, faculty, staff, and the community have a variety of musical groups to choose from here at Coastal. The variety consists of a Jazz Band, a Dance Band, a Brass quintet or a Pep Band. Whether you are a beginner or an accomplished musician there is a place for you in one or more of the groups.

The bands basically play standard arrangements. If you were listening to a Jazz Band, you would hear Benny Goodman and Duke Ellington type music. Ellington, this, also would be the sound of the Big Band songs like, "Rock Around the Clock" and "In The Mood." The differences in the Jazz and the Dance Band would primarily be the number of instruments. The Dance Band is a small version of the Jazz Band. This same Dance Band will be playing at the Homecoming and the Miss South Carolina Pageant.

The Brass Quintet contains instruments like the trumpet, trombone and the tuba. The Quintet plays classical type music. Touring the schools and playing for the Festival are some events planned for the Brass Quintet.

The Pep Band is always popular. It not only helps to stimulate the players but also the crowd at games. A Pep Band can only be successful if the players are dedicated. Fight songs and marches is what you'll usually hear out of this group. The Pep Band usually is made up of members of the previous groups mentioned.

The music provided for these bands is a story in itself; as much of the music is original arrangements. The arranger of this music died, and his music lay untouched in a trunk in the basement of a home in Winchester, Va. for twenty years. A successful phone call provided the lucky find for Marsh Myers. These arrangements save in cost of buying expensive sheet music.

After successful auditions, partial scholarships are offered to students who wish to play in these bands. That is not to say that you have to be a student to participate. Anyone interested from the community is welcome and it can only prove to be a rewarding and enjoyable experience.

The candidates are to be informed that there will be a picture made for the program, The Chanticleer, and The Athenaeum of all the contestants and the reigning queen in room 201 of the College Center on Fri. Jan. 22, at 2:30. They are to come prepared to have their picture made and they are to have a brief resume stating their class, major, residence, ambition, and any related information.
