This Week's Announcements

Student Media has opened two positions: a webmaster to service all three student publications and a new business manager for The Chanticleer and Tempo. Pick up applications in the Student Activities Office (see Diane Wilson) in the Student Center. Positions close Nov. 17, and interviewing will be the week of Nov. 27.

CCU faculty and staff are invited to join Lifelong Learners for a "Lunch and Learn" session, "An Introduction to Arabic Culture," on Wednesday, Nov. 8 from noon to 1:30 p.m. in the Commons private dining room. Reservations are required; call 349-4001.

The deadline for submitting online proposals for the Celebration of Inquiry 2007 has been extended to Monday, Nov. 6 at 5 p.m.

The faculty of the Visual Arts Department at Coastal Carolina University and selected alumni will have their artworks featured in an exhibition at Gallery 57 in Pawleys Island. The opening reception will be held on Friday, Nov. 10 from 7 to 10 p.m. The gallery is located at The Shops at Sweetgrass, 11388-B Ocean Highway.

Yoav Wachsmann and Chris Podeschi will lead a discussion titled "Cut Down the Pine Forest and Build a Mall: What's the Problem?" on Thursday, Nov. 9 at 4:30 p.m. in room 137 of the Thomas W. and Robin W. Edwards College of Humanities and Fine Arts building. The program repeats on Nov. 16 at 6 p.m. at the Waccamaw Higher Education Center. The event is part of the university's "Tea and Ethics" series, which is free and open to the public. Complimentary tea and cookies will be served.

The Globalist Club presents "Modern and Old Insurgencies: The Human Impact of the Civil Wars in Iraq, Afghanistan, and Colombia," a talk by Colombian scholar Jorge Restrepo, who was recently cited by the Economist magazine for his pathbreaking research. The talk and discussion will be Wednesday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in Wall 317. The event, which is co-sponsored by the Wall School of Business and the Economics Day festivities, is open to the public and is free. A reception with refreshments will follow the discussion.

Reminder to all Seniors:

On-Campus interviews are scheduled from Nov. 6 to 17. All December and May graduating seniors are encouraged to meet with one or more employers looking to fill present and future career positions. You must be registered in MonsterTRAK and have a current resume submitted to the system to sign up for interviews. Login to MonsterTRAK and click on the InterviewTRAK link to see complete job descriptions and sign up for interviews, or stop by the Career Services office (Indigo House) for assistance.

Financial aid news and reminders

It will soon be time for students to complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) for financial aid for 2007-2008. Do your 2007-2008 FAFSA as soon as you file your 2006 federal income taxes after Jan. 1. Complete your FAFSA online by going to www.fafsa.ed.gov. Processing your FAFSA electronically is the fastest and most accurate way to complete your FAFSA.

Professors Ken Townsend and Paul Olsen will present "Journey to War" on Wednesday, Nov. 15 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in Edwards Recital Hall. Presented by the Honors Program and the Celebration of Inquiry, the program will feature the images and impressions of the professors who recently were embedded in Afghanistan with Alan Case's National Guard unit. The multimedia presentation is free and open to the public.
