This Week's Announcements

Dave's Blog (<http://www.coastal.edu/president/blog/>) has been established to promote dialogue between Coastal Carolina University President David A. DeCenzo and the university community. He will post ideas and comments that are specific to the campus and some that relate to other issues that impact our students and higher education. All are invited to join the discussion; the only requirement is that you include your name and e-mail address. With the new blog, Coastal joins a long list of universities whose presidents have blogs, including Arizona State, Michigan State, Towson University and

University of Washington.

More blog news:

The Office of International Programs and Services is now hosting "Blogging the World: Coastal Students around the Globe." OIPS started this initiative this past fall by selecting a few students from the semester-abroad participants to report about their experience. For more about the student blogs, please go to www.coastal.edu/international <<http://www.coastal.edu/international>> and click the title link. Students who are interested in or thinking about studying abroad for a semester are invited to become bloggers as well. Contact Hiroyoshi Hiratsuka at hhiratsu@coastal.edu.

A Spring Career & Internship Fair will be held on Friday, Feb. 15 from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Small Gym in the Williams Brice Recreation Center. Career-minded sophomores, juniors and seniors from all majors are invited to meet recruiters from more than 50 organizations. Students must bring resumes and dress professionally. For the full list of participating employers, go to the Career Services Web site at www.coastal.edu/career <http://www.coastal.edu/career>. Pre-event Job Search Workshops for students will also be held at the Career Center before the Feb. 15 fair.

These on-campus positions have just been posted. Go online to learn more about them.

CCU employees are required to have a form W-4 on file or the highest rate will be withheld, which is single with zero allowances. Please take the time to complete a new W-4 form even if you already have one on file and return it to the Payroll Office, SNGL 113. You can find the 2008 W-4 form at www.coastal.edu/forms but you must print the form and send it to Payroll. If you are not sure how many allowances you can claim, go to the IRS website, www.irs.gov/individuals, and use the Withholding Calculator to assist in determining the appropriate number of allowances for you. Contact Jill Conway, payroll manager, at extension 2042 if you have questions.
