New Positions At Coastal Carolina

The Dean of the School of Business Administration at USC-Coastal Carolina College is resigning his position to return to full time teaching, Dr. Fred W. Hicks, Chancellor of the college, has announced. Dr. Darcy Carr, now in his fourth year as Dean of the School of Business Administration, has announced his plan to leave his position at the end of the current academic year in order to return to the classroom.

"Dr. Carr has demonstrated sustained concern that the School of Business Administration develop as one of the best small college business schools in the Southeast," says Chancellor Hicks. "We all wish him well as he returns to the classroom. He will make a positive contribution to the teaching faculty and I appreciate all his efforts toward building a strong business program at Coastal Carolina."

A native of Philadelphia, Carr joined the Coastal Carolina College faculty ten years ago, following service as an instructor at Pennsylvania State University. He holds a bachelor's degree from Furman University and a master's degree and Ph.D from Penn State. His academic discipline is economics, which he will resume teaching full time in the fall of 1984.

Hicks says a nationwide search has now begun to find a new dean for the Coastal Carolina School of Business Administration.

In other administrative action announced by the college, Professor Stewart Strothers of the School of Teacher Education has been named as Minority Student Advisor. A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Strothers joined the Coastal Carolina College faculty in 1974. He holds degrees in psychology and counseling from the University of Pittsburgh and is an assistant professor at Coastal Carolina.

"This is an important position for the college and I feel Professor Strothers is the proper person for it," says Hicks. "In a region which has such a large minority population and which has long tradition of minority accomplishment, this post is vital. The administration hopes to see greater minority representation in the student population and it's important that the college have a professional on staff who can relate to the particular needs and goals of minority students."

Hicks also announced the appointment of six new full time faculty members at the college: Assistant Professor of Education Sandra Bowden, Assistant Professor of Marketing Edward Cerny, Assistant Professor Accounting Barbara J. Driver, Nursing Instructor Laurie L. Mitchell, Assistant Professor for Counseling, Cynthia Terres and Assistant Professor of Mathematics Don E. Beken. Dr. Sandra Bowden holds a Ph.D from the University of South Carolina. She will be accepting her new position at Coastal Carolina College as an assistant professor at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge. Professor Edward Cerny holds an MBA in Marketing from Fordham University and was an instructor in the College of Business at USC-Columbia prior to his appointment at Coastal Carolina College. Professor Barbara Driver was a tax accountant with an accounting firm in Georgetown, S.C. before accepting her new teaching post at the college. A former accounting instructor at Midlands Technical College in Columbia, she holds an MBA in Accounting from the University of South Carolina.

Dr. Don Beken earned a Ph.D in Mathematics from the University of Mississippi and a master's degree from the University of West Virginia. Before coming to Coastal Carolina College, Dr. Beken was a mathematics instructor at The University of Mississippi. He also taught at Texas Tech University.

Nursing Instructor Laurie Mitchell is formerly community health nurse for the Richland County Health Department. She holds a degree from Clemson University and is completing degree requirements at USC-Columbia. Professor Cynthia Terres held an M.S. in Counseling from USC-Columbia, an Ed.S. from Appalachian State University and a master's degree in Counseling from Ohio University. In her new position as Director of Student Counseling at Coastal Carolina College, she will provide professional counseling for students and personal counseling for employees. Prior to her appointment at the college, she served as a counselor at USC-Columbia.

Race for Life Challenge

by Bugs Hill, Features Editor

Coastal Carolina's Alpha Phi Omega fraternity challenges all other service organizations at the college to a BMX race. The challenge race will be held Friday, October 12 at the Grand Prix Track across from the Myrtle Beach Air Force base.

This event has been dubbed THE RACE FOR LIFE and all proceeds will go to help battle Leukemia. The entry fee of $5 will be donated to the American Cancer Society. The first place team will receive $600 for trophies and challenges across from the Myrtle Beach Air Force base.

There will be two divisions in the event, female and male, if numbers warrant doing so. Winners in each division will probably be the most awesome race in the history of BMX.

Sigma Tau Delta Induction

October 20 marked a very important date for Coastal Carolina's Chi Ro chapter of the National English Society, Sigma Tau Delta. Inducted were 3 new members. The induction ceremony, conducted by Sally Purcell, East Hill, and Lynn Radcliffe, was solemn and eloquent as the purposes and goals of the prestigious society were outlined. Eligibility for membership requires a grade-point ratio of 3.0 or higher with a concentration in English studies.

Following the ceremony in the Blue Room, a pleasant reception with wine and hors d'oeuvres provided fellowship for the old and new members. Congratulations to Kimberly Dunbar, John Durrell, Sherry Estridge, Norma Webster, Trudy Sava­geau, and Nanette Giannamore on their initiation into this honorable organization.

Campus Mourns Loss

BY DR. ROBERT SQUATRIGLIA
Special To The Chanticleer

It is with great sadness that I report to you the untimely death of Mark Edward Nichols, a student at the College and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Nichols. Mark died as a result of injuries sustained in a traffic accident Saturday evening, October 29, 1983.

A Rosary was said at the MacMillan-Small Funeral Home on Tuesday, November 1. A Funeral Mass was held at the Myrtle Beach Air Force Base Chapel at 10 AM. Wednesday, November 2, followed by burial at Hillcrest Cemetery.

Spring Arts Festival

by Mary R. Bull, Special to the Chanticleer

Coastal’s sixth annual Spring Arts Festival will be held March 29-31, 1984 on campus. The Festival Committee invites you to participate by sponsoring a food booth during the Festival. Such participation makes the Festival more enjoyable for campus guests and gives you the chance to raise money for your organization. It also increases the visibility of your club on campus.

Festival events are scheduled for three full days: Thursday, March 29 (elementary school day); Friday, March 30 (high school day); and Saturday, March 31 (community day). Food booths are needed all three days.

Ty Curtis

Top 40 entertainment will be provided by Ty Curtis at Campus Union’s Rathskellar following an acclamatory introduction “DON’T THROW IT AWAY!” Then on Nov. 19th it’s “DON’T KEEP IT AWAY!” Over 6,000 students were dazzled (with piano and blackboard) with Ty’s methods and techniques used in composing his lyrics and music (He can do number!). He stressed the importance of technique and emphasized that the way to achieve mastery is through the process of education. Dr. Thompson’s hour and 15 minute presentation. Following an acclamatory introduction by Stephen Purcell, Mr. Thompson dazzled (with piano and blackboard) with his methods and techniques used in composing his lyrics and music. He is one of Swift’s “Star”, “Thoroughly Modern Millie” and co-authored “Once Upon A Mattress.” Carpe Diem sponsored Mr. Thompson’s hour and 15 minute presentation.

Tintinabulary Thompson

by SANDRA JEFFCOTT
Special To The Chanticleer

“Sanitation Department, degenerate, effervescent, cottage cheese and raisins” combined to make Jay Thompson’s brilliant performance October 20, one that was filled with music and mirth. Mr. Thompson brought the Little Theatre to life with his energetic personality reverberating from the walls. He is lyricist of “Star”, “Thoroughly Modern Millie”, and co-authored “Once Upon A Mattress.” Carpe Diem sponsored Mr. Thompson’s hour and 15 minute presentation.

Steinem To Appear At Coastal

by Jim Petitt
Managing Editor

Ms. Steinem will speak at the Second Annual Conference On Women, to be held May 12, 1984 at Wheelwright Auditorium. A partial listing of other speakers and topics include: Dr. Betty Puskar — The Art of Assertiveness, Dr. Roy Talbert — History of Women in America, Dr. Sandra Bowden — Language and Sexism, Claudia Cleary — Philosophy of Feminism, Veronica Davis — The Black Woman: A Minority within a Minority, and Dr. Paul Stanton — Dynamics of a Relationship between the Sexes. This is only a sample! Other topics will range from sex to stress.

The Conference On Women is sponsored by Coastal’s Department of Continuing Education and their first conference last April proved to be an overwhelming success. The upcoming effort promises to be even more exciting, so mark your calendar now and make plans to attend.

Basketball Prospectus--1983-84

Although the two top scorers and rebounders are gone from last years squad, there is still room for optimism at Coastal Carolina College.

The cause for this optimism is a batch of tall and talented recruits Head Coach Russ Bergman has brought in to go along with an experienced backcourt. This combination should once again make the Fighting Chanticleers a team to be reckoned with in this year's race for the NAIA District six crown.

Coastal finished last season with a 21-10 record and bowed out of the District six tourney early via a 51-50 loss to Winthrop in the first round.

The Chants will miss the services of their all-time leading scorer Tony Whittington, (16.0 points per game, 6.7 rebounds per game) and Jeff Roberts, (13.2 ppg, 8.6 rpg) who finished their careers at the end of last season.

The only returning player in the frontcourt is 6-7 senior Harlan Bailey. Bailey averaged 4.2 ppg while collecting 2.3 rebounds each game.

Other players battling for the spots vacated by Whittington and Roberts will be a group of six junior college transfers, they are: Derek Bell, 6-9 from Abbeville S.C., Darin Clark, also 6-9, from Tampa Fl., Gerald Byers, 6-6 out of Kings Mountain, N.C., Wayne Davis, 6-7 from Columbia, S.C., Jeff Norman, 6-5, from Fayetteville, N.C., and Eliere Woodberry, 6-3 from Johnsonville, S.C.

Experience runs deep in the Chanticleer backcourt with five veteran guards returning.

Six-foot senior Robert Gray averaged 12.1 points per game last season and dished out 73 assists will most likely run the offense for Bergman.

Sophomore Rhue Pringle stepped in and started most of last year as a freshman and averaged 8.5 ppg and had 77 assists. Senior Charlie Miller also saw plenty of action in 82-83, averaging 7.0 ppg with 36 assists.

Brian Black, a 6-2 junior, with good outside range is also battling for a starting job. Black averaged 4.9 ppg with 26 assists. Mark D'Antoni will also challenge for playing time. The 5-11 senior has been a District six all-academic performer the past two seasons.

The Big "O"

Temporary acting chief of Police of Coastal Carolina College is Phillip Ockunzzi is sometimes called "The Big O."

Ockunzzi is a retired Chief of Police from Ohio with 25 years experience and is also a World War II Veteran. He loves the two years he has spent working with Coastal Carolina college and feels getting to know the students has been the most rewarding part of his job here on campus. The friendly smiles that pass by seem to enlighten his day, "Smile and the world will smile back," laughed Big O.

Ockunzzi feels the focal point of his job on campus is to protect life, limb and property, but the majority of his work involves dealing with illegal parking and no decals. Big O feels that stricter traffic enforcement is a must. He wants to urge every student to purchase a parking sticker and if for some reason a student is driving a temporary or borrowed car they should go to the business office and get a temporary parking sticker at NO COST.

"There is no way to escape a ticket if you have no decal," explained Ockunzzi, "I can get the serial number or the tag number of the car and find out who it belongs to."

If a student is having a problem with parking or some other matter Ockunzzi wants students to feel free to talk with him. "One of the things I want to develop with the students here is a friendship."

If for some reason a student has locked his or her car keys in a car, Ockunzzi can get into locked cars. He also has jumper cables and is here for any kind of advice.

One of the major factors Ockunzzi wants to stress is every student should pick up a temporary parking sticker at the business office and read it. Also as a reminder when "Lots Filled" signs are posted at parking lot entrances please use the ballfield to park. This problem should soon be solved with more parking space. We will all be glad of that!

To contact Phillip Ockunzzi call the school operator and ask for extension 211 which will connect you with the guard shack where someone will be to call Ockunzzi on his radio.

Students might have noticed Ockunzzi on campus riding in his cart. He is the one with a smile on his face and a definite "Have a good day!" on his mind.

AN ROTC SCHOLARSHIP WILL TAKE CARE OF TUITION WHILE YOU TAKE CARE OF BUSINESS.

Coming up with good grades is a job in itself. It's even harder if you have to worry about coming up with tuition too. Army ROTC can lighten that load. We've got scholarships that pay tuition, required fees and an amount for books and supplies. Plus, pay up to $1,000 each year they're in effect.

What if you don't receive one? ROTC can still help—with financial assistance—up to $1,000 a year—for your last two years in the program.

So check out a way to keep your mind on the books not on the books. Find out more by contacting your Army ROTC Professor of Military Science.

Chants Picked 5th In District Survey

by TERESA RICHARDSON
Sports Editor

Coastal's Men's basketball team was picked to finish in a tie for fifth by a poll of NAIA District 6 coaches at their annual Press Day. USC-Spartanburg was picked as the favorite this year, College Charleston grabbed the runner-up spot. Central Wesleyan is picked third, Lander fourth, while Coastal and Presbyterian tied for fifth.

Coach Russ Bergman was surprised by the pick after having expectations for a winning season. Our team is anxiously awaiting their first game and are hopeful about going to Kansas City for the Nationals. GOOD LUCK GUYS!!!

Still Wanted: P.Y.T. for lonely owner of bicycle shop. Apply in person Mr. C's Bicycles, Highway 17, Garden City.

Math Lab Moved

by JEAN GRADY
Staff Reporter

Because of the needed office space, the math lab has been moved from room 121 to room 106 of the EMS Building. The lab is open in all students. Students are welcome to come in for help, whenever they find they are having difficulty in their classes. The lab is staffed with student tutors and personnel from the math department. The lab is primarily under the direction of Professors Deborah Vrooman and Stephen West.

Approximately twenty-five students use the lab per week. Many students find the lab a convenient place to work on homework assignments, because if they have difficulty there is available help.

The math lab hours are 12:00-2:15 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. On Tuesday and Thursday the hours are 11:30-3:00. The staff of the math lab encourages students to come in for help at the first sign of difficulty.

Interviews

A representative from Sands Resort will be on campus Wednesday, November 16, 1983 to interview December graduates for sales positions. To schedule an interview or for more information, contact the Career Planning and Placement Office, 206 G Student Center, extension 204.
