USC-COASTAL CAROLINA COLLEGE

EVA GABOR TO SPEAK

Actress/commedienne Eva Gabor will speak at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 24, in Wheelwright Auditorium. Her appearance is part of the Kimbel Distinguished Lecture Series.

JOURNALIST JACK BASS TO SPEAK AT COASTAL

South Carolina journalist Jack Bass, a specialist in Southern politics, will deliver a public address Thursday, April 26, at 7 p.m. in room 205 of the Student Center at USC-Coastal Carolina College. Bass, a former Neiman Fellow at Harvard University, is director of American South Special Projects at the University of South Carolina in Columbia. He will speak about and show a pilot of his new instructional television course for college credit, "The American South Comes of Age".

THANKS FROM THE LIBRARY

The Library's "Research Clinics" were a success. Twenty-nine students took advantage of the opportunity for a scheduled session with a reference librarian showing them how to research their term papers or similar research assignments. Feedback from these students indicates that students found the sessions "very helpful," so the reference department plans to offer these clinics each semester. Mary Bull and Jane Caldwell wish to thank faculty members who encouraged their students to participate.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR-IN-RESIDENCE

The Council for International Exchange of Scholars is now receiving proposals for the 1985-86 Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence program. Community and junior colleges, and universities may submit proposals to invite a scholar from abroad to lecture for an academic year or term in any field of the humanities or social science.

Two separate competitions are conducted, according to the type of institution: (1) those which have not had frequent opportunities to receive scholars from abroad as lecturers and are introducing programs with an international perspective on their campus, and (2) those which have an established international or area studies program. Institutions are asked to provide a supplement to the Fulbright stipend.

Additional information and proposal forms may be obtained from CIES. The deadline for receipt of proposals is November 1, 1984.

Last year approximately 70 colleges and universities received awards through the Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence program. The Fulbright program is funded and administered by the United States Information Agency.

STEINEM IN BOOKSTORE

Gloria Steinem's new book, Outrageous Acts and Everyday Rebellions, is now available in the campus bookstore.

This Week is published by U.S.C. Coastal Carolina College, an equal opportunity employer subscribing to all Civil Rights legislation.

INTERCULTURAL AFFAIRS ANNOUNCEMENT

GRADUATION CALENDAR ANNOUNCED

Friday, May 4, 1984, at 5:00 p.m., graduation rehearsal will be held in the Kimbel Gymnasium.

Immediately afterwards, the alumni association will sponsor a reception for May graduates. The reception will be held on the patio of the Fine Arts Building. Faculty and administrators will be invited.

At 4:00 p.m. on Friday, a ceremony will be held in the Blue Room of Wheelwright Auditorium to commission our first Army ROTC graduate.

The commencement ceremony will take place at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, May 5, in Kimbel Gymnasium. Dr. Raleigh Kirby Godsey, president of Mercer University in Macon, Georgia, will be guest speaker. A nationally-known theologian, Dr. Godsey earned a doctor of theology degree from the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and a Ph.D. from Tulane University.

Immediately after commencement, a photographer will take pictures of graduates in room 354 of the Williams Brice Building. A reception for all commencement guests will be held on the lawn of the Fine Arts Building immediately following graduation.

A reception for special guests, Coastal faculty and staff, and others will be held at the home of Dr. Fred and Ann Hicks concurrently.
