1995 Homecoming celebration offers assortment of activities

The 1995 Homecoming celebration at Coastal will be held Friday, Feb. 3, and Saturday, Feb. 4.

The celebration will begin Friday, Feb. 3 with the CINO Homecoming Golf Tournament at Burning Ridge Golf Club. The tournament is sponsored by the Coastal baseball program; all proceeds benefit the CINO Club, the university's athletic booster club. Tee times begin at 11:30 a.m. Entry forms are available by calling extension 2932. Registration is required by Jan. 25.

The Coastal Carolina University Service Awards Dinner will be held on Friday, Feb. 3 at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Center Dining Room. Honorees have been selected from the university's volunteer groups for recognition during this special event. The dinner is open to university volunteer groups, faculty and administrative staff. Reservations are necessary. Dinner is $10.

Homecoming activities for Saturday, Feb. 4 include:

- The President's Cup 5K Race and One-Mile Walk begin at 8 a.m. The races are open to students, faculty, staff and the community. Pre-registration is required by Feb. 3. Entry forms are available by contacting the Office of Alumni Affairs at extension 2006.

- The Wheelwright for Kids program will be held in Wheelwright Auditorium from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. While alumni participate in Homecoming activities, their children (ages 5 to 12) can enjoy basic theatrical instruction: stage presence, makeup, costuming, speech, etc. Lunch will be served.

- The Alumni Art Show will be held in the Admissions Building from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The show will feature the work of Nina, Class of 1990, an artist-in-residence at the Broadway Fine Art Gallery in Myrtle Beach.

- Former Chanticleers and Lady Chants will get together for the Men's Alumni Basketball Game at 10 a.m. and the Women's Alumni Basketball game at 11 a.m. Both are in the Physical Education Center Gymnasium.

• The Alumni Baseball Game will be held at noon on the baseball field. The game is free and open to the public.

- A Chili Chowdown and Pep Rally for students, alumni, faculty and staff will be held on the Athenaeum Patio at 12:30 p.m. In case of rain, the event will be held in the Admissions Building, room 003.

- The Lady Chants take on UNC Asheville in Kimbel Gymnasium at 3 p.m. Admission is $5; $3 for alumni and includes entrance into the Chanticleer game.

- An English Majors' Reunion will be held in the Singleton Building Foyer from 4 to 5 p.m.

- The Chanticleers compete against Erskine College in Kimbel Gymnasium at 5:30 p.m. Admission is $5; $3 for alumni. The 1995 Homecoming King and Queen will be crowned during halftime.

- The Coastal Carolina Alumni Association will host the President's Alumni Reception in the Admissions Building at 7 p.m. The reception is open to alumni, faculty, staff and their guests. Reservations are requested.

- A semi-formal dance for students, alumni, faculty and staff will be held at the Sea Mist Resort in Myrtle Beach from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The cost is $1 each for students and their guests; students must present a validated Coastal identification card or a paid tuition fee receipt for entrance.

For reservations or more information about Homecoming activities, contact Mona Dukes of Alumni Affairs at extension 2006. ♦

Coastal to host HIV/AIDS panel discussion

An HIV/AIDS panel discussion will be held Monday, Jan. 30 at 1:30 p.m. in the Wall School of Business Auditorium. The panel is composed of health care professionals, community service group representatives and church leaders. The event is free and open to the public.

Five panelists will discuss HIV/AIDS surveillance and case management. They are:

- Dr. Robert Ball of the HIV/AIDS division of the South Carolina DHEC in Columbia;
- Dr. Bill Davis, medical director of S.O.S. Health Care in Myrtle Beach;
- Chad Lucas, of CareTeam and the Ryan White Clinic of Horry County;
- The Rev. Tommy Tipton of Prince George Episcopal Church in Georgetown; and
- Bruce Touchton of Columbia, whose wife and son died of AIDS.

Moderators are Roscia H. Hardee, a nurse and adult health program director of the DHEC Waccamaw Health District in Conway, and Jacque Whitaker, former executive director of Mercy Hospice of Myrtle Beach.

The panel discussion was arranged by adjunct faculty member Stanton Collins, a physician and clinical consultant with the DHEC Waccamaw Health District in Conway. Collins teaches a three-credit undergraduate health education course, epidemiology of HIV/AIDS, which is being offered for the first time at Coastal this spring. The course focuses on numerous aspects of the HIV/AIDS epidemic and features guest speakers and class discussion.

According to Collins, "The primary goal of this course is to educate the public in order that we may contain this disease as much as possible until a cure is found. By doing so, we hope to improve the quality of life for the victims and to remove the social stigma of this epidemic."

Collins received a medical degree from the Medical University of South Carolina and a bachelor's degree from Furman University. He conducted graduate studies at the University of Pennsylvania and completed his residency at Emory University.

For more information about the panel discussion, call Lynne Brock at extension 2602. ♦

Horner named to commission of SACS

Executive Vice President Sally M. Horner has been named to the governing board of the Commission on Colleges division of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Horner received the honor at the 99th annual meeting of SACS held in December in San Antonio, Texas.

There are five members from South Carolina on the commission board; candidates are elected for three-year terms and may succeed themselves for one additional three-year term.

Founded in 1895 and headquartered in Decatur, Ga., the Southern Association is one of six regional accrediting bodies in the United States and covers 11 Southern states from Virginia to Texas, as well as American schools in Latin America. The association is a non-governmental agency.

Accreditation is a process of helping institutions improve through a systematic program of evaluation. It assures not only that an institution meets minimum standards, but also that it demonstrates a commitment to providing quality education programs.

Horner has been involved with the accreditation work of the commission for 10 years. She participates in peer reviews an average of twice yearly, serves on task forces to study specific accreditation issues for the commission and chairs a study committee on financial standards for member institutions.

Coastal hosts Thamyris as part of Wheelwright Series

Three members of the 20th century chamber ensemble, Thamyris, will present a performance of contemporary compositions as part of the 1994-1995 Wheelwright Series on Saturday, Jan. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Tickets are $12, $5 for students.

Since its founding in 1987, the group has performed numerous world premieres and has commissioned works by more than 30 composers including Alvin Singleton, Wendell Logan, Caspar Johannes Walter, Charles Wuorinen and Stephen Paulus.

Members of the ensemble are: Cheryl Boyd-Waddell, soprano; Peggy Benkeser, percussion; and Laura Gordy, piano. A Charleston Post and Courier review referred to the trio as "first-rate musicians with a highly interesting program of contemporary music."

Thamyris' programming celebrates the music of the modern world from its origins to the diversity of current musical language. Works of historic and artistic importance are blended in programs that emphasize the wealth of 20th century musical trends, including cross-cultural influences and collaborations with other art forms and media.

"I am honored and pleased to have been elected a commissioner to SACS," Horner said. "It carries a great deal of responsibility for furthering the accreditation process which assures quality in higher education in the South."

More than 3,000 delegates attended the annual meeting included faculty, administrators and educational professionals representing the more than 12,000 accredited public and private schools and colleges, universities, occupational institutions, military schools, industry schools, high schools, junior high schools, middle schools, elementary schools and early childhood centers and kindergartens. Delegates attended workshops and seminars on more than 100 topics, took action on accreditation issues and set policy for the regional accrediting agency.

Horner presented one of four invited pre-conference workshops. Her topic was the integration of budgeting and planning for higher education.

In 1993, President Ingle named Horner Executive Vice President. In this capacity, she serves as the chief fiscal and chief planning officer. Horner joined Coastal in 1984 as vice chancellor for planning and fiscal affairs. She is a professor of chemistry. Horner graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a Ph.D. in inorganic chemistry and a bachelor's degree in chemistry, both from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. ♦

According to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution, lack of pretension is one of the most likable aspects of a concert by Thamyris. The review said, "the performers talk to their audiences in a down-to-earth fashion, with enthusiasm for what they do."

Thamyris was appointed Ensemble-in-Residence at Georgia's Clayton State College's Spivey Hall in 1991. The ensemble received the 1993 and 1994 Cultural Olympiad Regional Designation Awards, the 1994 ASCAP/Chamber Music America Award and the 1992 Special Commendation for Adventuresome Programming.

Thamyris' compact disc recording, No Longer of That World, is available on ACA Digital and the ensemble is on the Touring Roster of the Georgia Council for the Arts.

In addition to the concert performance, the ensemble will instruct master classes/clinics on the use of percussion, piano and voice in contemporary music. These classes are open to the public. For more information, call Pat Alexander at extension 2511.

Program (WAVE) during the spring semester and is soliciting instructors for related courses. Each course will be one session in length and no more than one day in duration. An honorarium will be offered to instructors.

The Coastal WAVE Program is designed to offer non-credit short courses of local interest for adults and families in Horry and Georgetown counties. Course topics may include natural history of local habitats, such as salt marshes or swamps, as well as animals, such as alligators, sea turtles, bears, birds, marine mammals or other sea creatures. Course offerings may include canoeing or kayaking trips along the Waccamaw or Pee Dee rivers, or through a salt marsh, and beachcombing and shelling expeditions. Local archaeology and history, including that of the Native Americans, may be explored. Examples of course topics could include activities such as nature photography, painting or drawing, fishing, boating skills and safety, and local crafts or cooking.

Courses will be taught in cooperation with professors and students from Coastal, local museums and state parks, local businesses and individuals with special interests or expertise.

A small fee will be charged for each course in accordance with the cost of materials, rentals or entrance fees.

The Coastal WAVE Program is designed to further expand on the center's mission to provide outreach programs to foster a strong, supportive relationship between Coastal and the local community.

For more information, to teach a course or to be included on the mailing list, contact Sharon Gilman, WAVE Program director, at extension 2248. ♦

Student exchange program to England offered

Coastal Carolina University will offer a reciprocal student exchange program to Nene College in Northampton, England beginning spring 1997.

The enabling agreement for the exchange with Nene College is the Palmetto Partnership for International Exchange. Comprising the partnership are the College of Charleston and Lander, Winthrop and Coastal Carolina universities. Coastal is the "agent" for the agreement.

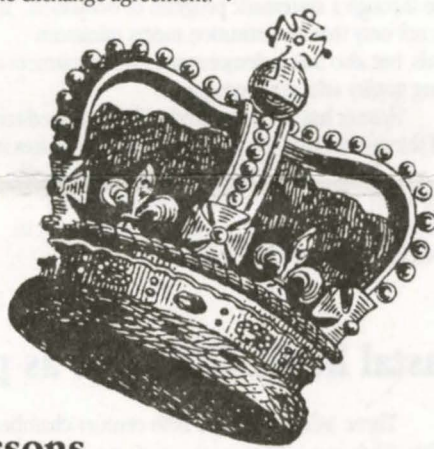

Through the agreement, the four Palmetto Partnership member institutions will identify approximately 30 students collectively to send to Nene College.

Students will pay tuition and housing fees to their home institutions.

President Ron Ingle signed the exchange contract January 13.

Nene College director S. Martin Gaskell (U.S. equivalent to college president); the dean of the schools of arts and social sciences, Michael Penny; and the head of the school of social sciences, Julia Bush, visited each of the institutions represented in the Palmetto Partnership the week of Jan. 9 to receive the signatures of school officials for the exchange agreement. ♦

New registration workshop

A two-part registration training workshop for faculty and staff is scheduled for March 1995. Since the registration process will be completely different, the workshops are required for all faculty and staff who assist with registering students for classes or are involved with the registration process.

Part one of the training will be in a large group format to introduce the DATATEL method of registration. Information provided in this session is necessary and preliminary to part two, which involves a hands-on, practical experience format.

All registration training will be provided by Information Technology Services with support from the Office of the Registrar.

Participants may choose to attend part one on Wednesday, March 8 or Thursday, March 9 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Wall Auditorium.

Part two will be held in the computer training lab, WALL 108, and is limited to 10 participants per session. Ten different sessions have been scheduled to accommodate everyone involved in the training program.

Participants should choose a morning session from 9 a.m. to 11:20 a.m. or an afternoon session from 2 to 4:30 p.m. on one of the following dates:

- Tuesday, March 14
- Wednesday, March 15
- Thursday, March 16
- Tuesday, March 21
- Wednesday, March 22

To register for the workshops, faculty and staff working directly for an academic school should contact the dean of their school; all other staff should contact Tina Davis at extension 2258. Participants should request their first and second choice when registering for part two of the workshop in case their preferred session has reached capacity. The deadline to register is Wednesday, Feb. 15. ♦

Counseling services organizes support group

A support group for women students who are, or have been, involved in abusive relationships will be offered by counseling services during the spring semester. Participants may attend meetings on Tuesdays from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., or Wednesday from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. All meetings will be held in SC 201.

The meetings will be conducted by Stacy Cretzmeyer, a licensed and national board Certified associate counselor and experienced domestic violence counselor.

Faculty and staff are requested to assist in informing students about the support group and to refer students, if applicable.

For more information, contact Cretzmeyer at extension 2900. ♦

The next issue of On Campus will be Monday, Feb. 6; deadline to submit information is Tuesday, January 31.

Travel writers group offers free writers workshop

The Society of American Travel Writers will hold a convention in Myrtle Beach in February. As part of the convention, the group will sponsor a free educational workshop for faculty, students and professionals on Wednesday, Feb. 1 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Radisson Resort Hotel Convention Hall in Myrtle Beach.

The focus of the seminar concerns the process of getting published in the travel industry and also will include information about photography.

Faculty, staff and students who are interested in attending the workshop should contact Ed Cerny at extension 2651 before the registration deadline of Monday, Jan. 30. ♦

Coastal Carolina People

Ed Cerny recently conducted a marketing seminar at the annual Tri-State Chapter of the International Association of Convention and Visitor Bureaus. The convention, which involved participants from North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, was held in Durham, N.C.

Steve Hamelman published a review essay of "The Romance of Real Life: Charles Brockden Brown and The Origins of American Culture" (Stephen Watts, 1994) in the latest volume of Early American Literature. Hamelman's current work on Brown includes "Secret to the Last: Brockden Brown's Ormond," an essay which he recently submitted to Essays in Literature. ♦

Reduced CRPTA fare cards

Coastal Rapid Public Transit Authority (CRPTA) offers reduced fare cards for Coastal students. Students receive a 25 percent discount. Cards are valid for one year; students must present a validated Coastal identification card to receive a card.

Fare cards are available in the Office of Student Activities.

For more information, call Monique Jones at CRPTA weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 248-7277. ♦
