Students interested in joining any of these staff are urged to contact these new editors through the Office of Student Activities.

SCIENCE NEWS

The television show, "South Carolina Coastal Development," had its first showing as part of the ETV Series "Oceans and Man" on April 28. This show was produced by Dr. Richard Dame of the Marine Science Department, with a grant from the South Carolina Coastal Council. The series is also part of a course available through USC's Telecommunications Office.

All faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend the following lectures to be given by prospective Physics faculty members in Room 120 of the Science Building at the indicated times.

Wednesday, May 23, 2:00 p.m.

Dr. E. Franklin Harris, of Elon College, NC, will speak on his recent research activities which include solar thermal power and imaging in space studies.

Saturday, May 26, 11:00 a.m.

Dr. Jacobus A. Petterson, of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, will present a talk and short computer-graphics movie on the subject of periodicities in stellar x-ray binaries.

Wednesday, May 30, 11:00 a.m.

Dr. Michael V. Torbett, of Carnegie Institution of Washington, will address the topic of the origin and evolution of the asteroid.

This Week is published by U.S.C. Coastal Carolina College, an equal opportunity employer subscribing to all Civil Rights legislation.

BASEBALL TEAM GOES TO WORLD SERIES

MAGAZINE INDEX

The library has received a new index to magazine articles on a 30-day trial basis. Magazine Index is a unique index to current issues of popular, general interest magazines.

It is pre-loaded into a microfilm viewer that students find easy to use. Please stop by the library and try it out. They would like to hear your comments.

FACULTY/STAFF ACTIVITIES

- A) Thomas E. Jones, Chairman of the Department of Theatre and Speech in the School of Humanities has just returned from the Spring Meeting of the Southern Atlantic State Association for Asian and African Studies that was held at East Carolina University in Greenville, North Carolina. Mr. Jones serves on the Educational Materials Committee for the Consortia. He recently also attended a meeting of the South Carolina International Studies Consortia that was held at Columbia College.

WORKSHOPS

The S.C. State Personnel Division, Training and Development Unit, will sponsor a workshop on May 29-30 in Columbia on the Manner of Speaking. Also, USC Personnel, with grant support from the Staff Enrichment Development Committee, is offering electronic typewriting for University employees on May 29 from 2:00 - 5:00 p.m. in Room 2013 in the coliseum. For further information concerning this workshop, please call our Personnel Office at Ext. 198.

CONTINUING EDUCATION COURSES

A seminar, Coping With Stress, will be sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education on May 22. Coping with Stress will examine various kinds of stressful stimuli, some of the physical and psychological effects of stress, and ways to measure the effects of stress. Unsuccessful and successful strategies for dealing with stress will be explored. Dr. Joan Piroch will be the seminar leader. For more information contact the Office of Continuing Education, Ext. 190.

Skeletal remains from the past give us much information about what life was like on earth many years ago. Few archaeological sites have been discovered in Horry County but we can learn much from our known sites. A Galivants Ferry location will be the focal point for non-credit and credit courses (graduate and under-graduate) being sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education. Dr. Ted Rathbun, physical anthropologist professor, USC-Columbia, will be teaching the courses and will be at Coastal on May 24, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 104 of the Academic Building to give a preview of what will be included in the courses. For further information, contact the Office of Continuing Education, Ext. 190.

NOTICE TO FACULTY AND STAFF

Due to limited help in the Graphics Shop in the Media Center, more time will be required on work orders requiring typesetting and paste-up. Also, orders will be processed according to the work load of the Graphics Shop prior to that time.
