CCU to host research symposium

Coastal will host the first Big South Undergraduate Research Symposium on Friday, March 23 and Saturday, March 24. More than 200 students from Coastal and eight other universities will be presenting the results of their research in a variety of academic disciplines.

Students, faculty and staff are invited to attend any of the symposium sessions free of charge. Please just stop by the registration desk in Wheelwright Lobby during the days of the symposium to pick up your free pass and program booklet. If you wish to participate in all of the symposium activities including reception and lunch, then regular registration is $100 for faculty and $75 for students until March 5, and $125 and $95 respectively thereafter.

Click www.coastal.edu/bigsur to learn more about this event's schedule, invited speakers, and regular registration.

Planning starts for CINO Day

CINO Day will be held Friday, April 20 on Prince Lawn from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Anyone interested in participating in planning for the annual event should contact Samantha LeClair, assistant coordinator for Coastal Productions Board or Chris Donevant-Haines in the Office of Student Activities and Leadership, Student Center 106 at 349-2301.

Jackson Center seeking student assistant director

The student position of assistant director for the Jackson Family Center for Ethics and Values is now open. The year-long position with the option to reapply runs from Aug. 16, 2007 to Aug. 15, 2008. The assistant director position has secretarial duties as well as the responsibility of taking care of the daily business of the Jackson Center. Any CCU students who will have graduated by May 2007 (including all students who graduated before May '07) are eligible to apply. Applications and a detailed description of the position are available in the Jackson Center, EHFA 274. The deadline for applications is Friday, April 13. For more information, e-mail the Center at jacksoncenter@coastal.edu or call the current assistant director, Billy Baird, at 843-349-4149.

Cold showers and chilly swims start today

Beginning Monday, March 5, there will be no hot water in the Recreation Center due to the installation of a new boiler. There will be no hot water in the shower, and the temperature of the swimming pool will begin to drop. The pool will remain open until further notice, but the temperature will be decreasing as the week progresses.

Time to order graduation supplies

The Graduation Finale will be Tuesday, March 6 in the Rotunda and CCU Bookstore in University Hall from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Various CCU representatives will be available to answer questions concerning graduation. A Jostens representative will take announcement and ring orders. Caps, gowns and tassels can be ordered at the CCU Bookstore.
