USC-COASTAL CAROLINA COLLEGE

PANEL OF PRESIDENTS

The second meeting of the Panel of Presidents with Chancellor Fred W. Hicks is from 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. today (Monday, Oct. 22) in Student Center 107. Please arrive before 8 a.m., go through the breakfast line and return to SC 107 for the 8 a.m. meeting.

VOICE RECITAL

Camille Scott will have her junior voice recital at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24 in Wheelwright Performing Arts Center. Scott is a coloratura who will sing romantic, impressionistic and contemporary selections. Her instructor, Janet Inman, said the program also will include one aria and an Appalachian folk song.

FACULTY HOUSE

The Faculty House board of governors was pleased with the response to the membership drive. Anyone who missed the opportunity to join may still do so by contacting Claudia Cleary (ext. 2440). All faculty and staff members are encouraged to join what is expected to be a good social year.

DR. WIGHTMAN EULOGY

The annual business meeting of the Carolinas Symposium on British Studies held recently at Appalachian State University took time in its program to commemorate the loss of the late Dr. Joseph Wightman. He was eulogized as "the soul of patience and reason, kindness and good humor, a fine scholar and a true gentleman."

JOG-A-THON

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes will hold its annual jog-a-thon to raise funds for the state ministry. Coastal Carolina College's six man cross-country team will be competing in the NAIA District 6 Conference Championship that day at USC-Spartanburg. Anyone wishing to help sponsor Coastal's team in the five-mile race for F.C.A. should contact Ed Cerny at ext. 2655. The campus goal is to raise $3,500.

AUDITIONS

Auditions for Once Upon A Mattress will be at 7 p.m. today and Tuesday in Wheelwright Performing Arts Center. Actors, singers and dancers are needed. Auditioners should prepare a song and bring the music. An accompanist will be provided.

TELECONFERENCE

A teleconference on "Anorexia/Bulimia and Other Eating Disorders" will be held Saturday in room 201 of the Academic Building. There is a $35 fee for the seminar, which begins at 9:30 a.m. and ends at 3 p.m. One of the presenters will be Arnold E. Andersen, M.D., director of the Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia Treatment Center at John Hopkins Hospital. For information, contact the Office of Continuing Education.

CHANCELLOR'S INTERNS

The chancellor's interns for fall 1984 have been selected. They are:

- Terri Davis of Conway, a junior business major.
- Connie Anne Evans, a junior business major.
- Mike Mongeon, a junior political science major.
- Edd Patterson, a senior mathematics and computer science major.
- Bennett Turner, the lead intern, a senior psychology and business major.
- Steve Vereen, a sophomore political science major

The interns act as administrative assistants to USC—Coastal Carolina College Chancellor Fred W. Hicks, helping in the daily workings of the office. They also accompany the chancellor to meetings as a way of learning more about administrative functions.

FACULTY/STAFF

(a) "Marketing Yourself" by Ed Cerny has been chosen to appear in the National Research Bureau's April 1985 issue of The American Salesman.

(b) Ed Cerny has been chosen to present a paper at the Joint Popular and American Culture Associations' annual meeting April 30 in Louisville, Ky. The title of the presentation is "Consumer Reaction to New Proposed Cigarette Warning Labels—A projective Study."

(c) Dr. Robert N. Robinson and Dr. Ronald D. Lackey have completed their work with the summer chaplain program to hotels and motels on the Grand Strand. This was a 24-hour service to over 300 properties on the Grand Strand, specifically the guests and staffs of the members of the Greater Myrtle Beach Hotel/Motel Association. Dr. Robinson was supervisor to theological seminarians and other counsellors employed as chaplains. Professional counsellors and local clergy volunteered for part-time service as needed.

(d) Randall A. Wells spoke to a section of the S.C. Council of Teachers of English. His subject was "Babar of Beowulf: Writing Along the Way." On Oct. 10, Wells represented the organization MADD on the "D'Antoni Television Show," in Myrtle Beach.

(e) Professors Don Millus, Joyce Parker and Linda Schwartz attended a British Symposium at Appalachian State University on Oct. 12-14. This symposium is made up of history and English professors. Dr. Millus is on the board of directors.

(f) Joan Piroch and Tony Albinak recently attended a conference sponsored jointly by the Enzor Research Foundation and the South Carolina Society of Neuroscience. The focus of the one-day symposium held at the William S. Hall Psychiatric Institute in Columbia was: "Strategies in the development of psychopharmacologic aspects to treat memory dysfunction."

(g) Dr. Bob Squatriglia has been elected 1984-1985 vice president for public affairs, Greater Conway Area Chamber of Commerce. He continues his role as a member of the board of directors.

(h) Joan Piroch and Tony Albinak conducted a workshop dealing with biofeedback and relaxation training applications in a business setting. The presentation was part of the third annual Waccamaw Mental Health Stress Conference, held at the Landmark Hotel in Myrtle Beach.
