FACULTY/STAFF

PAUL PETERSON'S article, "Rediscovering the American Origins of Judicial Review," appears in the Fall 1984 issue of The John Marshall Law Review. The article was co-written with P. Allan Dionisopoulos of Northern Illinois University.

SUBHASH C. SAXENA recently attended the annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society and Mathematical Association of America, which was held in Anaheim, Ca. Dr. Saxena participated in two workshops on "Fair Allocations" dealing with applications of mathematics in political and social sciences. He also was a participant in some mini-courses dealing with "Applications of Discrete Mathematics" and "Groups, Graphs and Computing."

CYNTHIA TERRES and IDA SMITH recently presented workshops at the following schools and conferences:

"Motivation" to the teachers at Hampton School District No. 1, Hampton, SC.

"Coping with Stressful Environments," and "Multimodal Counseling and Twelve Step Programs" to the South Carolina Association for Counseling and Development Annual Conference at the Myrtle Beach Hilton.

At the conference, Dr. Terres received the 1985 Post-Secondary Counselor of the Year Award, given by the South Carolina School Counselor Association.

ED CERNY attended the Hotel Motel & Restaurant Supply Show of the Southeast held in Myrtle Beach the week of January 28.

JACQUELINE L. GMUCA, assistant professor of English, served as conference organizer for "Learning in Many Tongues: Education and the International Student" at the University of North Carolina in Charlotte from January 25-26. The conference, co-sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English, focused on the cultural, educational, and linguistic backgrounds of international students as well as the difficulties encountered by students learning in another language and ways of resolving these difficulties.

FRED W. HICKS spoke to the Mullins Rotary Club on February 1 about the college's future. Chancellor Hicks also spoke to the Conway chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution on Wednesday, February 6. The DAR topic was on Coastal's history and traditions.

BARBARA DRIVER attended the North Carolina and South Carolina Council of the National Association of Accountants in Spartanburg, January 25-26.

TO PONDER.

Luck is what enabled others to get where they are. Talent is what enabled us to get where we are.
