Samuel Taylor Eubanks, a freshman political science major from Spartanburg, was presented with the Robert W. Squatriglia Outstanding Undergraduate Leader Award for 2007-2008 at the May 1 meeting of the Rotary Club of Conway. The award is co-sponsored annually by CCU's Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK), the national leadership honor society, and the Rotary Club of Conway. The award is given to a Coastal student who best exemplifies the ideals of ODK and the Rotary motto of "service above self."

Florence Eliza Glaze recently delivered an invited lecture and led a discussion at the Università di Salerno (Italy) on manuscript studies and research methods useful for pursuing scholarship in the history of medieval Italian medicine. Glaze was invited by members of the Facoltà di Lettere e Filosofia at Salerno to address a group of graduate students, undergraduates, faculty and the general public. Graduate students traveled from Rome and Siena to attend the event. Glaze also delivered a presentation at the American Academy in Rome, where she is resident as the Andrew W. Mellon Fellow in Medieval Studies.
