OPERATION OF THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE

Meredith Jacobs, former chief of the college news bureau, has moved to California, where her husband has taken a job as features editor of The Bakersfield Californian. I am taking a leave of absence beginning Monday, January 6, to be press secretary for Phil Lader, former Winthrop College president running for governor.

A search is in progress to fill my position. Until a new PR Director is hired, please cooperate with the Chancellor in handling all media relations through the Office of College Advancement. Colonel Baxley will appoint members of his staff to handle various aspects of the public relations function. Also, only promotional ads placed by me before January 6 will run until the new PR Director is hired. If you have questions about this, please call Colonel Baxley.

Thank you for the many growth opportunities you have provided me here at Coastal. Best wishes for a good spring semester.

Mary Eaddy

A set of reproducible tax forms is available at the reserve desk along with a number of instructional pamphlets and guides.

HOMECOMING IS FEBRUARY 8

Coastal's Homecoming is scheduled for February 8. Alumni are being invited back to campus for an all class reunion on this day. Events for the day include; the men's and women's basketball game, the alumni basketball game, a bar-b-que lunch for all in attendance, and of course the alumni evening reception and the college homecoming dance. This year's reception and dance will be held at the Ocean Dunes Resort in Myrtle Beach at 8:00 p.m..

The Chants play Armstrong State at 5:00 p.m. and the Ladies will play Baptist College at 2:30 p.m.. The time has not at this date been set for the alumni game.

CAST IS SELECTED FOR NEXT PRODUCTION THE FIFTH OF JULY

Coastal Carolina Theatre recently selected its cast for THE FIFTH OF JULY by Lanford Wilson, scheduled for February 21-23 in Wheelwright Performing Arts Center on the Coastal Carolina College campus.

Cast members are Curtis Lambert, David Loar, David Russell, Mavis Anderson, Melissa Brewer, Rebecca Perry, Carolina Trinks and Thomas E. Cowart. The director of the production is Professor Thomas E. Jones of the college's department of theatre and speech, and is assisted by Tim Harvey and Art Trinks, serving as assistant director and stage manager respectively.

THE FIFTH OF JULY is a fascinating look at some extraordinary people in a small town in the Midwest the day after the Bicentennial Fourth. One of the characters is this slightly dotty Aunt Sally (Caroline Trinks) who's carrying her Jewish husband's ashes around in a candy box. In the play we are dealing with four youngish musketeers of the embattled Berkely sixties, unfrocked revolutionaries uneasily splashing about in a 1976 Missouri backwater (and with their equally quixotic kinfolk or associates) as they nervously try to make peace with peace.

Tickets for the play are $4.00 and reservations may be made by calling the Wheelwright Performing Arts Center box office. (ext.2502) Curtain times are 8:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

JOHN S. PATTERSON TO PERFORM FEBRUARY 1

Actor , John S. Patterson , will present his one-man performance as The Dream Keeper in "The Dream Keeper Speaks: The World of Langston Hughes" February 1 at Wheelwright Auditorium. This one-man performance piece is based on approximately 80 poems of Langston Hughes. "The Dream Keeper Speaks" is a dynamic evening of theater which presents a wide selection of Hughes' work - from the openly political poems of the 20s and 30s through the character sketches, dance and protest poems of the 40s, 50s and 60s.

FACULTY/STAFF AND STUDENT NEWS

THOMAS E. JONES, Assistant Professor of Speech-Theatre, has just returned from the National Convention of the American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages that was held in Chicago, December 27-29 in the Palmer House.

Professor Jones presented a paper at the convention on the Edward Gordon Craig Production of HAMLET at the Moscow Art Theatre in the Russian Theatre Panel. This is the second time Professor Jones has been invited to present a paper before this National Convention.
