This Week's Announcements

Help Coastal Carolina University Women's Volleyball raise money and awareness for the war against cancer. Wear pink and gain free admission to the next game against Winthrop on Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 6 p.m. in Kimbel Arena. The goal is to raise $5,000 for the Side-Out Foundation. One hundred percent of the proceeds go to the Side-Out Foundation and local breast cancer organizations. To make a donation or pledge, contact Kristen Bauer at kbauer@coastal.edu.

Banned Books Week at Kimbel Library

This week, Sept. 27 through Oct. 4, is Banned Books Week. Kimbel Library is celebrating with a display and a continuously-running PowerPoint presentation. This event has been observed during the last week of September each year since 1982 to remind Americans not to take their freedom to read for granted.

What will they think of next?

Students in need of some clean clothes might want to check out laundryview.com. It's an online monitoring system that lets you see which washers and dryers are being used in a particular campus location. It will send you an alert to let you know when your clothes are dry or when a washer or dryer becomes available. You can also view the best times for getting an available machine. For instance, Waccamaw Hall, Room 1, stays busy between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and 6 to 10 p.m. On the other hand, 6 a.m. on any given day is an excellent time to do your laundry! Check it out.

These on-campus positions have just been posted. Go online to learn more.
