35th annual collegiate fishing match set for Oct. 31

Almost two decades ago, Hurricane Hugo wiped out Coastal Carolina University's annual intercollegiate fishing match and seminar. Hugo sent teams from Western Ontario, Yale, Francis Marion and UNC-Wilmington running for home on the first full day of the Sixteenth Annual Coastal Carolina Invitational. Participants were looking forward to two days of fishing in the Gulf Stream, but waves were already 20-feet high out there as a killer hurricane headed for South Carolina.

Go gaming at Kimbel

Kimbel Library is celebrating the first National Gaming Day on Saturday, Nov. 15 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. This event was formed by the American Library Association to remind library users that there are more to libraries than just books. This is an opportunity to learn more about Kimbel Library and see why it has become such a popular gathering place for students. This event is free and open to Coastal Carolina University students, faculty and staff. The library will provide a selection of video and board games, but players are also invited to bring their own favorites. Video gaming consoles for the Xbox 360 and Playstation 3 will be available. Light refreshments will also be provided. Stay tuned to the FaceBook Event or Kimbel Library Blog (<http://kimbellibrary.blogspot.com>) for updates.
