This Week's Announcements

Chao wins Paul Rice poetry contest

William S. Chao, a junior English major from Spartanburg, was named the winner of the fifth Paul Rice Poetry Broadside Series Contest, a competition open to currently enrolled Coastal Carolina students. The final judge, poet Sandra Beasley of Washington, D.C., selected "Seriously Funny" by Chao as the winner. He will receive a $100 gift card to the Coastal Carolina bookstore and 25 copies of the broadside, which will be produced by the end of the semester in an edition of 100 numbered copies. Honorable mentions went to David Weber for "Cancer of Faith" and Elizabeth Perry for "Poseidon's First Summer."

Check out Coastal Today

Watch Coastal Today, a lively half-hour look at what's happening on the Coastal Carolina University campus, including interviews with students, alumni, faculty and staff. Hosted by Robin Russell, the show airs 21 times per week on HTC, Time Warner Cable and digital SCETV. The programs are now on the Web at www.coastal.edu/coastaltoday/current.html.

Here's this week's lineup:

Time Warner, Cable Channel 5, Saturdays at 2 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

Orientation date added

An additional Orientation date has been added for the new Spring 2009 students. The early Spring Orientation will be held on Friday, Dec.12. The second Spring Orientation date is still Monday, Jan. 12, 2009. Orientation is now required for all students "freshman and transfer" so we have added a second date to accommodate students who would like to register early for classes. Both of the programs will follow the same schedule. Orientation will begin at 9 a.m. with the welcome and conclude at approximately 2 p.m. (check in begins at 8:30 a.m.). The advising and registration period will be from 11 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Contact

Amanda Craddock, director of enrollment events, if you have questions at 843-349-2979 or acraddoc@coastal.edu.
