FOUNDATION GOLF TOURNEY SCHEDULED

The Coastal Educational Foundation will hold the inaugural Coastal Carolina Classic Golf Tournament Saturday, August 23 at Myrtle Beach National and Sunday, August 24 at Burning Ridge.

The format for the event is a two-person team, best ball, two-day tournament. The first day, players will play with 75% of their handicaps, and the second day, handicaps will be cut to 50%. The best ten gross scores will comprise the championship flight. Net flights will be determined, and there will be no more than ten teams per flight.

Tournament director Paul Stanton said the field will be limited to 70 teams, and they will be chosen on a first-come, first-served basis.

The cost of the event is $150 per team (tax deductible) and includes 2 days of green fees, carts, cocktail party, refreshments on the course, and a fish fry.

For more information, phone the College Advancement Office, ext. 2014.

COASTAL SOCCER PLAYER RECEIVES CHRISTENBERRY AWARD

Coastal soccer standout Don Pokorny has been named as the first recipient of the Big South Conference's annual Dr. George A. Christenberry Award for academic excellence achieved by a graduating senior athlete. This award will be given annually to the senior athlete with the highest grade point average in the conference.

Pokorny, a St. Louis native, accumulated a 3.75 overall GPA and was named to the Dean's all four semesters while at Coastal. In May, he received his B.S. degree in experimental psychology and was the recipient of the Academic Award for Outstanding Achievement in Psychology. He attended Belleville Area Community College in Illinois before transferring to Coastal two years ago.

The Christenberry award is named in honor of Dr. George A. Christenberry who was charter president of the Big South Conference and was instrumental in its formation. He recently retired after 16 years as president of Augusta College and three years as president of the Big South.

COASTAL CAROLINA PEOPLE

o ED CERNY, assistant professor of business administration, has received one of five fellowships granted by the American Academy of Advertising to attend the Retail Advertising Conference this winter in Chicago.

o KAREN CARPENTER, assistant professor of nursing, and BERNICE CAVANAGH, instructor of nursing, recently attended a two-day seminar on "Hemodynamic Monitoring and Current Issues in Critical Care." The conference was held in Myrtle Beach.

This Week is published by U.S.C. Coastal Carolina College, an equal opportunity employer subscribing to all Civil Rights legislation.

o DR. DOUGLAS NELSON, professor of marine science, has received a contract from South Carolina Coastal Council to conduct beach erosion monitoring surveys.

Nelson will be responsible for surveying 26 locations in North Myrtle Beach and on Hog Island. The project has employed several marine science students to assist in the surveys. Coastal Council is having similar studies done along the entire South Carolina coast to monitor the state's beaches.

o JOHN VROOMAN, head baseball coach and assistant AD, recently spoke to the Surfside Rotary. His topic was "The Coastal Carolina College Athletic Program and its Future."

o HOLLY ESHELMAN and PHILIP MASSEY are extending an open invitation to their friends at Coastal to attend their wedding. The ceremony will be held Sunday, August 3, at noon, in the First Baptist Church, Conway.
