KIMBEL LECTURE TO BE HELD DEC. 8

The Kimbel Lecture Series will present a lecture by broadcast journalist Robert MacNeil, Monday, December 8, 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. His topic will be "The Media and World Events." MacNeil is co-anchor of the Public Broadcasting System's "MacNeil/ Lehrer NewsHour."

A native of Canada, MacNeil joined the London bureau of Reuters News Service in 1955 where he worked for five years. In 1960, he joined NBC-TV as a foreign correspondent based in London. He covered many of the major international events of the early 1960's including the civil war in Algeria, the Cold War confrontation resulting from the construction of the Berlin Wall, and the Cuban missile crisis. Transferring to the Washington bureau in 1963, he covered the civil rights movement and the White House. From Dallas, Texas, he contributed to NBC's continuous coverage of the assassination of President Kennedy.

MacNeil also covered major news events such as the resignation of French President Charles DeGaulle, the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago, and the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Senator Robert Kennedy.

In 1973, he teamed with James Lehrer for the first time in live coverage of the Senate Watergate hearings for PBS. Their coverage won an Emmy Award.

The "Robert MacNeil Report" first aired on WNET in New York in 1975. Less than a year later it became "The MacNeil/Lehrer Report" and was aired nationally on PBS. It has won more than 30 awards for excellence in journalism.

The lecture is free and open to the public. Faculty are asked to encourage their students to attend.

COASTAL CAROLINA THEATRE TO PRESENT BRIGHTON BEACH MEMOIRS DEC. 5-7

Playwright Neil Simon has written a love letter to the past in his play "Brighton Beach Memoirs" which will be presented by Coastal Carolina Theatre December 5 and 6 at 8 p.m. and December 7 at 2:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium.

The story is set in 1937, and the family of the 15-year-old narrator, Eugene (played by Coastal junior David Russell) is caught up in many of the dilemmas common to lower middle-class families in Brighton Beach, New York during the Depression. His father (played by freshman Mike Evans) is attempting to hold down two jobs; his mother (played by Vicki Hanley, the only non-student performer in the cast) is torn between protecting her widowed sister, Blanche (Renee Kotsovos, a junior) and her frail daughter (senior Rebekah Browne) and her two sons (the older of whom is played by sophomore Jason Poole). While Blanche is caught up in her own problems, she is attempting to deal with her 16-year-old daughter Nora (junior Cathy Callahan), an aspiring actress.

The production is directed by Linda Hollandsworth.

For ticket information, phone the Wheelwright box office.

SIKORA OPENS ONE-MAN SHOW ON CAMPUS

Zdzislaw Sikora, associate professor of art, opened a one-man show entitled "A New Direction: The Flora Suite" Sunday afternoon in the Student Center Gallery. Sikora said the work is an entirely different direction from what he has done in the past and that it is a significant break. The show includes nine new prints along with the plates. The gallery is open during business hours and by appointment.

COASTAL GRAD RECEIVES INTERNSHIP GRANT

Jack Wygand, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wygand of North Myrtle Beach, has been chosen to receive the first Coastal Advertising Student Internship Grant. A 1986 marketing graduate of Coastal, Jack did internships at The Sun News and Crowder and Company Advertising. Presently, Wygand is a creative-sales representative for WYNA radio in Whiteville, NC. During the month of November, he set a 10-station sales record.

LIBRARY HOURS EXTENDED

Kimbel Library will extend its hours for the final three weeks of the semester. The library will remain open until 10 p.m. each evening, Monday through Thursday, from December 1 through December 18. Weekend hours will remain the same: Saturday, noon to 4 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 to 9 p.m.

Faculty members are asked to announce the extended hours to their classes.

UNITED WAY DRIVE TO BEGIN

The United Way of Horry County annual fund raising drive on campus will begin Monday, November 24 and continue through December 2. All faculty and staff should have received a pledge card in campus mail by Nov. 24. If you did not receive a packet or need additional information, contact Nadine Godwin, ext. 2014.

NOON-TIME ENTERTAINMENT

Chris Brady will perform December 3 in the Student Center from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The event is sponsored by Campus Union and students, faculty, and staff are welcome.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

The Campus Union is sponsoring a semi-formal Christmas dance December 12 from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Ocean Dunes Club. Free food and drinks will be provided, and music will be by "Top Secret." Students must present a Coastal and age I.D. Admission is $2, and faculty and staff are invited to attend.

COASTAL CAROLINA PEOPLE

o Dr. James Rex, vice chancellor for academic affairs, attended the Southeast Regional Policy Workshop in Atlanta last week. The Center for Policy Research in Education at Rutgers University sponsored the workshop and invited a group of state education policy-makers from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, and South Carolina to discuss recent reforms undertaken in the Southeastern states and throughout the nation. The Center for Policy Research in Education is funded by the U.S. Department of Education.

o Lindy Smith has left her position in the Records Office to attend graduate school full-time. She is now working as a graduate assistant in the Academic Affairs Office. Her new telephone extension is 2085.

o Jim Henderson, associate professor of government and international studies, recently attended the Latin American Studies Association meeting in Boston. He chaired a panel on Liberal, Conservative, and Positivist Thought in the Development of Modern Latin America, and presented a paper entitled "Conservative Thought in Twentieth Century Latin America: A Statistical Approach to the Study of Intellectual History." Other members of the panel were from Fordham University, the University of Geneva, and the University of the Andes in Bogota, Columbia.

Henderson has also published a paper entitled "Como Leyo la Historia Laureano Gomez." It appeared in the Annals of the Fifth Congress of Colombian History. The Congress was held in July 1985 in Armenia, Columbia.

o Karen D. Carpenter, assistant professor of Nursing, delivered a presentation on the pharmacology of beta adrenergic blocking drugs to the Grand Strand Chapter of the American Association of Critical Care Nurses on November 10.

o Janice Schuster, assistant librarian, was elected vice-chair/chair-elect of the Government Documents Round Table of the South Carolina Library Association at the annual meeting in Columbia. She will be responsible for the group's newsletter, and will serve as chair when necessary.

o An article by Dr. Ballou Skinner, professor of physics, will be reprinted in The Instructional Development at Waterloo, a newsletter published by the University of Waterloo, Waterloo, Ontario. The newsletter is published to improve the quality of teaching and learning in the university and is distributed to faculty, other academics, and some 2,000 alumni and friends. The editors selected Ballou's article "The Myth of Teaching for Critical Thinking" which appears in the educational psychology textbook, Education and Psychology. It deals with teaching methodologies of physics as they relate to the development of the cognitive domain.

o Larry Carr, assistant professor of physical education, made a presentation on a three-year study on vision and baseball hitting conducted with Dr. Mark Dean to the annual conference of the South Carolina Alliance of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance held November 7-9 in Myrtle Beach. During the project, five different teams were studied to analyze the best battery of tests an optometrist could use to determine a batter's visual ability level. The tests attempt to analyze the hitter's visual system as it applies to his or her ability to hit a baseball successfully.

o Dr. Lynne Smith, library director, completed her term as chair of the college and university section of the South Carolina Library Association by serving as moderator for a program entitled "Librarians as Managers" presented at the association's recent annual conference.

o Dr. David E. Millard, assistant professor of English, read a paper, "Walker Percy's Ghosts, Minds, and Brains," for the Conceptual Literary Schemas section at the 10th annual meeting of the American Imagery Conference in San Francisco, November 14.

o Dr. Anne Graves, assistant professor of special education, recently presented a paper at the Annual Teacher Education Division for the Exceptional Children Conference in Atlanta. The title of the paper was "Direct Instruction In Use."

STUDENT HEALTH INFO SERVICE INITIATED

A Student Health Information Service (SHIS) has been initiated at Coastal by the administration in cooperation with the Student Government Association. The service will provide students with information about existing community health services and practitioners and will provide general medical information about student health concerns. There is no charge; however, the cost of any health care is the responsibility of the student.

Tom Wiemken has been appointed coordinator of the service. A former medical corpsman in the Air Force, Wiemken is an emergency medical technician and a CPR/first aid instructor. In 1983, he graduated from the Medical University of South Carolina as a physician's assistant.

SHIS will be part of the Office of Counseling Services and will be supervised by Dr. Joseph Mazurkiewicz in cooperation with Butch Fennell. Presently, Fennell provides health care referral information and athletic treatment to students while the Office of Security administers the college's medical emergency procedure which arranges for transport of students to Conway Hospital. The increased number of athletic teams and the requirement that Fennell accompany teams on away trips has necessitated an interim service prior to the planned on-campus student health care service that will be in place when the residence halls open.

SHIS is located on the second floor of the Student Center in room 202, telephone extension 2327. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Should a students require health information at other times, they should contact Counseling Services, ext. 2305.
