VISITING SCIENTIST TO GIVE PUBLIC SEMINAR

Dr. Heinrich K. Eichhorn, professor of astronomy at the University of Florida, will give a public seminar Tuesday, January 27 at 1:30 p.m. in Room 120 in the Science Building. In the seminar, entitled "How to Massage Data," Eichhorn will discuss how scientists can deduct good information from bad data. This should be of particular interest to science, math, and computer science majors. However, the talk will be non-technical, and everyone is invited to attend.

EXPLORATION OF DREAMS TOPIC OF SHORT COURSE

The Office of Continuing Education is offering an evening short course entitled "ECK-VIDYA, an Exploration of Dreams," Thursday, February 5, 7-9:30 p.m.

Participants in the course will discuss the structure and framework of dreams, their spiritual nature and how to understand their function. The instructor will cover daydreams and the dream worlds of children and pets. Nightmares and dream neuroses will also be discussed.

The program is free and open to the public. For more information call the Office of Continuing Education, ext. 2672.

BEGINNING & INTERMEDIATE GOLF OFFERED

The Office of Continuing Education is offering beginning and intermediate golf classes starting February 9 and 10 at Quail Creek Golf Course. The instructor is Chip Camlin, a Class "A" PGA golf professional.

Participants may register for section I which meets from 1-3 p.m., section II which meets from 3-5 p.m., or section III which meets from 2-4 p.m. Sections I and II will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Section III will be held Tuesday and Thursday. Enrollment will be limited to five per section so early registration is recommended. For more information call the Office of Continuing Education, ext. 2672.

STRESS MANAGEMENT SEMINAR FOR FACULTY AND STAFF

Stress Management seminars for faculty and staff will begin January 27 and 28. The program consists of four sessions and will be led by Joseph Mazurkiewicz and Tony Albinak. One seminar will be conducted on four successive Tuesdays from 1 to 2 p.m. and a second will meet on Wednesdays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The four sessions are:

- 1 - Intro: Sources and Manifestations of Stress.
- 2 - Dealing with Stress on the Job and Interpersonal Conflict
- 3 - Cognitive and Behavioral Restructuring
- 4 - Life-Style Models of Change and Stress Management

Relaxation techniques will be employed in each session. A list of campus resources will be made available to the participants.

These sessions will be held in room 204 in the Student Center. You may register or get additional information by contacting either of the instructors or Ron Lackey.

A LA CARTE TO PERFORM IN LITTLE THEATER

This is the weekend A la Carte, a sensational piano-duo, is doing special performances in the Little Theater at Coastal Carolina College. Friday and Saturday performances will be at 8 p.m., and the Sunday matinee will be at 3 p.m. Donations are $5 in advance and $6 at the door. Proceeds will be used to help support the Coastal Carolina Choir in their efforts to travel to Europe this summer.

WALT DISNEY WORLD TO INTERVIEW STUDENTS

Tony Jenkins, of Walt Disney World,

will be on campus Wednesday, March 25 to discuss Disney World internships. His 8:30 a.m. presentation will be in room 205 of the Student Center.

Jenkins will be interviewing students for both summer and fall internships. Students must attend the 8:30 a.m. presentation to sign up for interviews to be held later that morning.

In order to receive credit for the internship students must have earned a 2.75 through at least 60 hours at Coastal.

COASTAL CAROLINA PEOPLE

o Donald J. Millus, professor of English, recently had an article published in Moreana, the publication of the St. Thomas More Society, in Algiers, France. The article entitled "The Tyndale Edition: Still Underground" appeared in the November issue of the publication. William Tyndale was the principle translator used in the King James version of the Bible. Millus is a member of the editorial board for the publication of Tyndale's controversial works.

o Tom Boyd, associate professor of psychology, was a participant in the recent Ninth Annual National Institute on the Teaching of Psychology. The Institute was sponsored by the University of Illinois, and held at Clearwater Beach, Florida. It featured the latest research and teaching procedures in a number of areas including introductory, developmental and biological psychology; the history of psychology, the use of computers, the psychology of motivation, women's issues in psychology and the construction of tests.

o Dr. Jacqueline L. Gmuca, assistant professor of English, has been invited to speak to the Charlotte Forum on Children's Literature. At the Forum's February meeting of children's librarians and media specialists, Gmuca will discuss the fantasy works of Chris Van Allsburg, the winner of two Caldecott awards for his picture books Jumanji and The Polar Express.

o Dr. Wade Baird, professor of psychology, recently completed a book review for the William C. Brown Publishing Co. The book is a textbook on personality theory entitled "Personality: An Integrated Perspective."

o Zdzislaw Sikora, associate professor of art, has been notified that his 1985 colour etching "Memento Mori," part of the "Point of Departure" portfolio, has been accepted for the permanent collections of the following institutions:

- Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York
- Brooklyn Museum of Art, New York
- Milwaukee Museum of Art, Wisconsin
- Boston Museum of Fine Art, Massachusetts
- Mint Museum of Art, Charlotte, North Carolina

These represent some of the strongest collections in the country.
