Family Fund Campaign Successful

The Family Fund pledge total has exceeded last year's figures. This continues to be a great year for the Family Fund and your participation is important. The campaign officially ended Friday, but last-minute pledges will continue to be gratefully received by the Advancement Office this week. Thanks for caring about our school enough to make this a highly successful campaign.

Behavioral Science Lunch and Lecture Series

The Behavioral Science Lunch and Lecture Series will present "Psychosocial Influences on Immune Response" by Dr. Tony Albiniak, Wednesday, November 4, 11:30 a.m. in Science 122.

Faculty, staff and students should bring a bag lunch, if they chose to eat with the group, or simply join in the exchange. For more information, contact Billy Hills, ext. 2276.

Playcard Environmental Education Center Plans Open House

Playcard Environmental Education Center, a 200-acre natural black water swamp preserve, will hold an open house on Saturday, November 7 from 1 to 4 p.m. with an afternoon of activities for wildlife enthusiasts of all ages.

Activities include a hot air balloon, a nationally-known storyteller for children, exhibitions by Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, wildlife exhibitions, a parachutist, tours of the undisturbed natural swampland environment and refreshments. All activities are free.

The Center is located on S.C. 410, approximately 20 miles north of Conway and eight miles southwest of Loris.

The Environmental Education Center is the culmination of a project undertaken by the Horry County Conservation Foundation to preserve the Playcard Swamp as an educational and research center for the study of the natural lowcountry swamp environment. The center is being utilized as an educational facility for students and for environmental research.

The Center has a newly-constructed educational building and when fully developed, the Center will have on-site educational facilities to accommodate single-day and over-night programs. There will also be a natural amphitheater for outdoor programs, hiking trails marked for environmental study, outdoor laboratories for on-site research, canoes, docks and observation decks for viewing the natural setting.

Playcard Swamp is the natural habitat for alligators, black bears, and beavers as well as being a perfect environment for many varieties of wetland plantlife threatened by extinction in many parts of the country.

For more information, contact Mack Sarvis, ext. 2920.

Second Speaker Set for Bicentennial Series

"The Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Promise of Liberty," the second in a series of three programs celebrating the bicentennial of the U. S. Constitution, will be held Thursday, November 5, at 2:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theatre.

The speaker is Dr. Hrach Gregorian of the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH). Dr. Gregorian heads the Endowment's Foundations of American Society program which is designed to encourage scholarship and public programs on the history and founding principles of America. He received his Ph.D. in political science from Brandeis University. Prior to his work with NEH, he taught political science at Kenyon and Simmons colleges. He is the author of a number of journal articles and professional papers on political philosophy and American government.

The program is sponsored by the Department of Government. It is free and open to the public. For further information, contact Jack Riley, ext. 2625.

Dr. Nicholas K. Coch To Present Seminars

The Department of Marine Science has invited Dr. Nicholas K. Coch of the City University of New York-Queens College to present two seminars on Thursday, November 12 at 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. in Science 107.

Dr. Coch will speak on "Sedimentary Facies and Dispersal Patterns in Urban Estuaries-A Tale of Two Systems" and "Hudson River Estuary Pollution, Resources and Management." Dr. Coch is an expert in estuary sedimentation and will be developing future collaborative research with members of the Marine Science Department. For further information, contact Paul Gayes, ext. 2213.

Telephone Techniques Program Announced

Personnel Services and Continuing Education are sponsoring a telephone techniques program November 4, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in SC 205. It will be conducted by Linda Kuykendall. Enrollment is limited to the first 25 who register.

The telephone is a part of our daily lives and impressions are formed based upon the way we handle calls. Bring a bag lunch and come to the seminar to learn tips on how to make callers feel positive about Coastal Carolina College.

For more information or to register, call Continuing Education, ext. 2672.

Coastal Theatre To Stage "The Diviners"

The Coastal Carolina Theatre's American College Theatre Festival entry, "The Diviners," opens Friday, November 13 in Wheelwright Auditorium. With performances running on November 14 and 15, this play by Jim Leonard, Jr. marks Coastal's fifth entry in the ACTF. Friday and Saturday performances are at 8 p.m. and Sunday is a 2:30 p.m. matinee.

The American College Theatre Festival is presented and produced by the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and is sponsored by the National Broadcasting Company with the support of the Kennedy Center Corporate Fund, the U. S. Department of Education and Ryder Systems. Coastal's past entries include "Seascape" by Edward Albee, "Oedipus the King" by Sophocles, "The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia" by Preston Jones and "Tartuffe" by Moliere.

"The Diviners" is the story of a young, disturbed boy who is befriended by a disenchanted preacher. In a moving story, built on short vignette-style scenes; this play builds to climax which has been called "one of the true magic moments in theatre."

The Coastal production is being directed by David E. Majewski, chairman of the Department of Theatre and Speech. In the feature role of Buddy, the young boy, is David F. Russell. As the preacher, C. C. Showers, is David Buyck. Other leading characters are portrayed by Jacqueline Rebekah Browne as Jennie Mae, Buddy's sister and Bob Stocks as Ferris Layman, Buddy's father.

The design team for "The Diviners" includes David E. Majewski (scenery), Timothy M. Harvey (lighting) and Robin Armitage-Majewski (costumes).

For ticket information, call the Wheelwright Box Office, ext. 2502.

Tickets for "The Nutcracker" Go on Sale

Tickets for the Alabama Ballet's December 1 production of "The Nutcracker" at Coastal Carolina College are available now through the Wheelwright Box Office and at several other locations in the area.

The 7:30 p.m. performance in Wheelwright Auditorium is sponsored by the Wheelwright Council for the Performing Arts. Select seat prices are $15 for general admission and $7.50 for students; other seats are $12 for general admission and $6 for students.

Tickets may be purchased at the box office on campus or at chamber of commerce offices in Conway, Myrtle Beach, and Georgetown. For further information, contact the Wheelwright Box Office, ext. 2502.

Founders Day Nominees Sought

Founders Day is an annual celebration honoring individuals who have contributed to the historic and academic significance or to the physical development of Coastal Carolina College. Our next celebration is set for February 15.

Billy Alford, Chairman of the Horry County Higher Education Commission, and Jimmy Johnson, President of the Coastal Educational Foundation, Inc., are now accepting nominations for special recognition. Coastal faculty and staff are invited to submit names of honorees to the Chancellor's office. The deadline for nominations is November 15.

Walt Disney World Representative Coming to Campus

Kent Phillips of Walt Disney World will be on campus Wednesday, November 18 for a presentation and interviews with students who are interested in the Walt Disney World Internship program.

Through this program, students have an opportunity to earn six hours of college credit by working at Walt Disney World from January to May. Students interested in participating must be sophomores or higher and have a minimum 2.75 GPR.

For more information and an application contact Ed Cerny, ext. 2651.

Coastal Wellness Program for Faculty and Staff

Health Quote for the Week:

*"Let exercise come before meals, not after."
Hippocrates: Aphorisms, c. 400 B.C.*

Fitness Testing Results

Eighteen faculty and staff members participated in the free fitness testing provided by the Physical Education Center during the month of October.

Most of the participants were surprised at the results of their fitness level and body fat measurement. Fitness levels were much lower and body fat measurements were much higher than they expected, according to Allison Hunt, graduate assistant.

An exercise prescription was given to the participants, as most were interested in getting into better physical shape. If the prescription is followed, definite improvement should result.

The Wellness Committee would like to thank everyone who participated in this fitness evaluation and wish each one success in achieving their fitness goals.

A Note of Thanks

Zoe Ann and I would like to thank the faculty, staff and students at Coastal for the prayers and concern they have shown for our son, Zach. As you know, Zach came down with meningoencephalitis last month and we had to take him to the Medical University in Charleston.

Thanks to a lot of answered prayer and tender care we were able to bring him home. He is weak now, but it appears, Lord willing, he will have a complete recovery. It really meant a great deal to our family to know the Coastal family cared so much.

*Sincerely,
Ed and Zoe Ann Cerny*
