Summer Hours

Effective Monday, June 6, the normal working hours for college employees who usually work from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. will change to 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. These summer hours will remain in effect until August 19. The summer hours are consistent with those of the University's Columbia campus and most other campuses within the system.

The Chancellor has requested that all administrative offices remain open until 5 p.m. each day. This could be managed by assigning one employee each week to work from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Please keep the appropriate administrative council member informed of the steps you've taken to insure coverage of your area from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. beginning June 6 and ending August 19.

Disability Income Salary Continuation Plan

If you would like more information about this plan or want to enroll, please call the personnel office, ext. 2035 or 2036 to schedule an appointment.

Coastal Joins ACT

In April, Coastal Carolina College joined the American College Testing Program (ACT) in the field testing of ACT's new college sophomore level exam, the Collegiate Assessment of Academic Proficiency (CAAP). All items for CAAP were written by two and four-year teaching faculty at public and private colleges and universities throughout the nation. The exam assesses foundational academic skills in four areas: reading, writing, mathematics and critical things. CAAP is designed to assist institutions with academic program and individual student evaluation.

Over 30,000 student in forty states participated in the CAAP field test. ACT will now analyze the results and finalize the CAAP exams for use during the pilot period which begins on September 1 of this year. School officials will be receiving the results from the April field test in June.

ACT is pleased to congratulate Coastal Carolina College on its leading role in the development of the CAAP as a national standardized exam which can help institutions of higher education assess selected student learning outcomes and evaluate essential components of their general education program.

For more information on the CAAP project contact Lindy Smith, ext. 2051, Dr. David Lutz, ACT (319) 337-1051 or Dr. Kate Ulmer, ACT (319) 337-1548.

Coastal To Present "Scratch"

Coastal Carolina Theatre will present a special presentation of the play, "Scratch" by Archibald Mac Leish on May 19, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m., and May 22 at 2:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium.

"Scratch" is presented as part of the South Carolina Bar "Bravo Constitution!" project which commemorates the bicentennial of the United States Constitution in community and educational theatres throughout South Carolina by sponsoring plays that raise constitutional issues.

"Scratch" is based on Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster," a thrilling play that deals with the triumph of human freedom.

"Scratch" is directed by David Majewski, director of the Coastal Carolina Theatre. The play also features three veteran performers of the Coastal Carolina stage. Archibald Buchan plays the part of Daniel Webster. Buchan was last seen in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," as Brick. Stephen C. Purcell portrays the character of Scratch. He recently was seen as Ephraim Cabot in "Desire Under the Elms." David F. Russell rounds out the cast with his performance as Jabez Stone. He has performed this past season in "Desire Under the Elms," "Charley's Aunt," and "The Diviners," as well as "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof."

Proceeds from a special performance on May 19 for the South Carolina Bar Association will go to the South Carolina Bar's Pro Bono Program which extends the Constitution's coverage to poor people in civil litigation through volunteer lawyer participation.

General admission for the performances is $5 and tickets may be purchased at the box office, ext. 2502.

Mini-Workshop On Computers Offered

Graduate and Continuing Education will offer a mini-workshop on the introduction of computers on Saturday, May 21 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The workshop will be held in Kearns Hall, room 208. The fee is $35.

The one-day course will provide a brief overview on the use of microcomputers. Topics will include microcomputer terminology, theories of computer operation, the DOS operating system, keyboard and symbols. It also will cover helpful hints on evaluating computer software and hardware.

Linda Kuydendall, who teaches graduate courses at Coastal and has extensive experience in training and private counseling, is the instructor.

To register or for more information contact Graduate and Continuing Education, ext. 2676.

Coastal Professor To Conduct Career Change Seminar

Ed Cerny, director of the MBA and internship programs, will conduct an informative seminar on how to get started in the career you really want on May 26 from 7 to 9 p.m. in KH-201. The seminar is open to the public.

The seminar will explore methods on how to make a career change and how to choose the career of your choice according to one's attitudes, interests and experience.

Cerny, author of the newly written book Learn to Market Yourself, will give those attending the seminar a free copy of the book. Learn to Market Yourself is an updated edition which provides valuable guidance and useful methods in obtaining the job of your choice.

The book focuses on six key areas that contribute to pinpointing the right kind of job. They include: your goals in life; what you can offer to an employer; who you would like to work for; how much you are worth; where you would like to work; and when is the right time to promote yourself.

There is a $29 fee for the seminar and the deadline for registration is May 23.

For more information and to register contact Ed Cerny, ext. 2651.

Coastal Carolina People

o Dr. Tim Touzel, associate professor of elementary education, will be a reviewer for the Research Council for Diagnostic and Prescriptive Mathematics. He also coordinated and was one of eight instructors in the training of 95 teachers from Horry, Georgetown and Sumter counties for the state mandated APT assessment program.

o Thomas E. Jones, director of Wheelwright Auditorium, recently attended an Orson Welles: Theatre, Radio, Film Retrospective and Critical Examination held at the Tisch School of the Arts, New York University in New York. Papers were presented by experts from both this country and abroad that had been associated with Welles throughout his career. Among the presenters were George Fanto (a principal cinematographer,) Richard Wilson (an assistant director on several of Welles' films), and Ruth Warrick (who played a principal role in Citizen Kane). The four day event brought together associates and scholars to pay tribute to Welles and his work.
