Message From The Chancellor

Coastal Carolina faculty and staff have a tradition of strong support of the Family Fund and I am asking each of you to help us continue in that direction this year by making a pledge. Last year three quarters of our campus participated in the Family Fund. That's a figure we can take pride in and one that puts us about even with the Spartanburg and Aiken campuses; we were all ahead of most offices of the Columbia campus in participation last year.

When you receive your Family Fund packet, please take the time to look over the enclosed information. It explains the Family Fund, gives details on how your contributions are used and describes the Family Fund Endowment. I feel confident that, once you see the way your donations support Coastal's mission and the responsible way they are handled, you will feel even better about giving through the Family Fund. Many of us also like to support the United Way and you will find a pledge card for that organization in your packet. The United Way funds some extremely worthy causes in our area.

We all receive many requests for contributions, especially during this time of year, and have to make some hard decisions about the best uses of our charitable dollars. I ask that you give the Family Fund and United Way serious consideration.

Prague Symphony Orchestra To Perform At Coastal

The Prague Symphony Orchestra, among the premier orchestras of the world, will perform at Coastal on Tuesday, October 25 at 8 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium.

Founded in 1934, the Prague Symphony Orchestra has completed more than 40 acclaimed international tours, performing throughout Western Europe, the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, Scandinavia, Greece, Turkey and Poland.

While excellent in the traditional repertoire, the orchestra is best known for its rich and exciting interpretations of Bohemian masterpieces. In its early years, the ensemble worked mostly in film recording and developed such artistic, political, and social significance that it became attached to the City Council of Prague in 1952. Its name was then changed from Symphony Orchestra FOK (Film-Opera-Koncert) to the Prague Symphony Orchestra and it began giving public performances on a regular basis under such distinguished conductors as Dr. Vaclav Smetacek, Jindrich Rohan, and Vaclav Neumann, who led the orchestra from 1956 to 1963.

The orchestra's current chief conductor and artistic director is Jiri Belohlavek, who was born in Prague in 1946. Belohlavek joined the orchestra in 1977 and has toured with them to North America, Germany, Spain, Britain, Austria, and Switzerland. Belohlavek has also maintained his association with the Czech Philharmonic, where he was assistant conductor from 1970 to 1972.

In addition to the orchestra's public performances, it collaborates with Czechoslovak Radio and records for Supraphon and Panton Records.

Tickets for the performance are $25. To make reservations, contact the box office, ext. 2502. Early ticket purchase is suggested.

The Afterdeck Helps Alumni Association's Scholarship Fund

The management of The Afterdeck is helping the Coastal Alumni Association raise money for its scholarship program. During the month of October, all donations collected at the door will go directly to Coastal Alumni Association to fund scholarships for Coastal students. Those who would like to support this effort may stop by The Afterdeck on Restaurant Row between now and October 27 to make a contribution.

Coastal's Alumni Association will continue its annual phonathon on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings through October 27 from 6 to 9 p.m.

The association's board of directors and other alumni, along with Coastal students, will be calling Coastal graduates in the area to ask for their support of the Annual Alumni Loyalty Fund.

Gifts to the Loyalty Fund provide annual scholarships to rising seniors and support Coastal's expanding academic needs.

The Chosen Sisters To Perform In Burroughs Lecture Series

The Burroughs Lecture Series in Southern History and Culture will feature The Chosen Sisters presenting "A Concert of Lowcountry Spirituals and Gospel Music" on Monday, October 24 at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theater. The program is free and open to the public.

The Chosen Sisters of Plantersville, South Carolina were honored this year at a joint session of the legislature with the state's first annual Folk Heritage Award. They have sung together for three decades. Their music, sung a capella in the traditional style of the lowcountry, is punctuated by polyrhythmic handclapping and footstamping. In addition to performing in numerous churches in the Waccamaw Region, they have sung at the South Carolina State Fair and at the National Folk Festival in Massachusetts.

Blum Develops Computer Software

Professor Richard Blum, instructor of computer science, gave a demonstration of a new innovative software product he is developing at the MacIntosh Users Group meeting in Myrtle Beach.

Blum, co-author of the Bank Street Writer, one of the most widely used word processors in elementary and secondary schools, and author of other software products, demonstrated an audio/video production system for the MacIntosh computer.

Employing video animation and digitized sound, the system assists production of material for videotape or interactive video. It is particularly suited for conveying conceptual material, especially in a video of mathematical or scientific concepts.

In the future, Blum sees the product being used to create interactive software manuals and interactive textbooks. This represents a radical new concept in the utilization of computers.
