Kimbel Lecture Series Announces 1988-89 Programs

An Evening with Robby Benson

Robby Benson

Monday, December 5, 1988 - 7:30 p.m.

A film actor since his 15th birthday, Robby Benson is also a writer, a producer, a director, and a composer of film scores. His acting credits include One on One, Jeremy, The Chosen, Ice Castles, Tribute (with Jack Lemmon) and Harry and Son (with Paul Newman). He wrote the screenplay for Jeremy as well as One on One. Benson just finished post production on Crack in the Mirror which he also directed and in which he stars.

Growing Up in South Africa: A South African's Memoirs

Dr. Es'kia Mphahlele

Wednesday, February 8, 1989 - 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Es'kia Mphahlele, a distinguished South African writer and scholar, is considered one of the leading black literary voices in South Africa. He has written or edited more than 17 books since his first collection of short stories appeared in 1947. Since his return to South Africa in 1977, after a 20-year exile, he has been professor and head of African literature at the University of Witwatersrand.

What's Right With America

Douglas Edwards

Wednesday, March 15, 1989 - 8:00 p.m.

Douglas Edwards has anchored a daily network television news broadcast since August 1948, without interruption, longer than any other broadcast journalist. Edwards was the anchor of "The CBS Television News," which was broadcast on Saturday nights from 1946 to 1948. In 1948, he assumed anchor duties on CBS News' first Monday-through-Friday evening news broadcast which was titled "Douglas Edwards With the News." In 1962, he moved to the CBS News weekday afternoon shows, an assignment he currently holds with "Newsbreak."

Kimbel lectures are free and open to the public. Tickets may be picked up in the box office beginning two weeks before each performance. The series is sponsored by the Kimbel Trust, the Episcopal Diocese of South Carolina, the Knight Foundation, The Sun News, and the Coastal Educational Foundation, Inc.

Coastal Theater Series To Present "Bell, Book and Candle"

"Bell, Book and Candle," a comedy about witchery, casting spells, and supernaturalism, is the second theater production of the season for Coastal Carolina Theater. The opening performance is Friday, December 2 at 8 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium, with additional performances on Saturday, December 3 at 8 p.m., and Sunday, December 4 at 2:30 p.m.

The lead role of Gillian Holroyd, a young lady who beholds the power of witchery and is more talented at her craft than most witches, is played by Jennifer Kallmeyer. Holroyd falls in love with a publisher named Sheperd Henderson, played by Chad Ayers, who breaks off an engagement with another woman, due to a magical spell Holroyd casts on him.

Miss Holroyd, Gillian's aunt and confidante, is played by Doris Hudson. She is also a witch, but does not possess the powerful talents of her niece. Cast as Nicky Holroyd, the brother of Gillian, is Marc Kaufmann, who is a fun-loving but fairly lazy warlock. Kaufmann recently appeared as Audrey II, the plant in "Little Shop of Horrors."

Sidney Redlitch, a successful author who drinks a lot and writes about magic, is played by Willie Shaw.

The director of the play is Jeff Nichols, visiting professor of theater and speech. Stage manager is Suzanne Banks.

"Bell, Book and Candle" was written by John Van Druten.

Tickets are $7, students $4, and may be purchased at the door or in advance through the Wheelwright box office.

Opera Carolina To Present "Hansel and Gretel" At Coastal

Humperdinck's classic play, "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented by Opera Carolina, Southeast's largest musical theater company, on Tuesday, December 6 at 8 p.m. in the Wheelwright Auditorium.

Opera Carolina has received rave reviews for its presentation of the fairy tale, "Hansel and Gretel." The familiar story involves a brother and sister, who live with their mother in an impoverished state while the father is away from home trying to find a way to make a living. The children are then banished to the woods by a frustrated mother. All ends well, when the family reunites at the end, but not before Hansel and Gretel have an adventure in the woods, which includes witches and gingerbread houses.

Opera Carolina's home base is in Charlotte. The company is a member of OPERA America, Inc. and is funded in part, by the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Arts and Science Council of Charlotte-Mecklenburg County. The North Carolina Arts Council recognizes Opera Carolina as a statewide arts resource and provides grant assistance from funds appropriated by the North Carolina General Assembly. Opera Carolina tours to member states under the auspices of the Southern Arts Federation.

The performance is sponsored by the Wheelwright Council for the Arts.

Tickets are $7, students $4, and will go on sale Monday, November 14. For more information and to make reservations, contact the Wheelwright box office.

Personnel Announces Bonus Increases

On December 15, 1988, each permanent classified staff member who has been in continuous state service since June 1, 1988, will receive a bonus of $365.00. This payment will not be included in your December 15 payroll check, but will come in a separate check. Taxes will be withheld, but the bonus will not be subject to deductions of the retirement systems. If your payroll check is directly deposited into your bank account, your bonus will also be directly deposited.

John Michael Vlach To Speak In Burroughs Lecture Series

The Burroughs Lecture Series in Southern History and Culture will feature John Michael Vlach as guest lecturer on Monday, November 21 at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theater. The program is free and open to the public.

Vlach, who is professor of American Studies at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., will speak on "Coastal Development and Lowcountry Culture." He has done extensive fieldwork in South Carolina and is author of Charleston Blacksmith: The Work of Philip Simmons and The Afro-American Tradition in the Decorative Arts.

Campus Supply Relocation Complete

Campus Supply have completed their relocation to their new building and are ready to resume normal operations.

The new location is in the metal building nearest Highway 544, across the road from the entrance to Pine Valley Estates.

The cooperation and patience of faculty and staff during the move was most appreciated. Everyone is cordially invited to visit the new facility at their convenience.

New Student Activities Bulletin Board Procedure

In order to more effectively use limited student activities bulletin board space and to eliminate overcrowding of posted information, the Student Government Association, in conjunction with the Office of Student Activities, is implementing a new procedure for "Student Activities" bulletin boards. The new procedure is as follows:

- o All information for posters must be submitted to the Office of Student Activities no later than three working days prior to the date you wish to have it posted. There will be no exceptions.
- o Information must be specific and complete.
- o Information must be approved by the Office of Student Activities and placed in designated area.
- o The Student Government bulletin board coordinator will collect information daily.
- o All information will be coordinated and printed on 8-1/2" x 11" posters.
- o The bulletin board coordinator will then be responsible for posting information on bulletin boards and removing it at the conclusion of the event.

Note: Individuals wishing to create their own posters may do so provided they do not exceed 8-1/2" x 11". These should also be submitted to the Student Activities Office for approval and posting.

This procedure does not affect departmental bulletin boards.

Video Tapes And Slide Programs Available From The National Gallery Of Art

The Art Department at Coastal has arranged with The National Gallery of Art for the permanent loan of a number of video tapes and slide programs encompassing a variety of topics related to art and history.

Two of these excellent films which may be of significant use in areas other than art history are:

Leonardo, To Know How To See is a 55-minute program concerning the major influence Leonardo Da Vinci had on western culture through his scientific and artistic achievements.

Of Time, Tombs, and Treasures is a fascinating look at the discovery of Tutankhamun's tomb. This film may be of special interest to those who have visited the Ramesses exhibit in Charlotte.

For more information and a complete list of the materials available from the National Gallery, contact Michelle Houd in Kimbel Library's media center.

Library Book Order Deadlines

Kimbel Library has announced the following deadlines for faculty to submit book requests to the library.

Friday, December 2: 60% of funds must be encumbered.

Wednesday, February 1, 1989: 100% of funds must be encumbered.

Please mail initialed CHOICE cards or completed 3 x 5 requests cards to Charmaine Tomczyk. If funds are not encumbered by these deadlines, they will revert back to the general library fund for other purchases.

For more information regarding book orders or fund accounting, contact Charmaine Tomczyk, ext. 2403.

Kimbel Library Offers Research Clinics For Students

Kimbel Library is offering research clinics for students who would like special assistance in learning how to conduct library research for a specific research assignment from November 14 through December 2. Individual appointments with one of the reference librarians will last approximately 30-minutes.

To schedule an appointment, students should stop by the library's information desk or reference desk during regular library hours.

Coastal Carolina People

o Dr. Ballou Skinner, professor of physics, was an invited participant in a special NASA conference held in Williamsburg, Virginia on November 9 through 11. The conference, recognizing the 25th Anniversary of the NASA/ASSE Summer Faculty Fellowship Program, had as its theme "Looking to the Future of Space: The Next 25 Years." Topics included future research ventures between NASA and the universities, future space missions of the Shuttle, the purposes of the space station, projected space projects of the 1990's, required space technologies for 2000 and beyond, man's exploration of Mars, and NASA's interaction with Washington and the World.

o Dr. Paul T. Gayes, assistant professor of marine science and geology recently participated in a habitat assessment of the Continental Slope off Savannah, Georgia in conjunction with the South Carolina Department of Wildlife and Marine Resources. The research cruise was conducted aboard the R/V Seaward Johnson of the Harbor Branch Foundation, Ft. Pierce, Florida. Dr. Gayes made four submersible dives in the research submarine, Sea Link II, in water depths of 1800 to 1900 feet describing and sampling bottom habitats and geologic features. Some of the samples taken will be made available to the Coastal Carolina marine science courses for examination and study and a seminar presentation of the submersible dives will be offered soon.

o Dr. Jill Sessoms, assistant professor of English, coordinated the sixth annual conference of the South Carolina Association of Developmental Educators, which was held in Hilton Head from November 3 through 5. Approximately 150 persons attended the conference. Dr. Sessoms is president-elect of the organization and will assume the presidency of SCADE in January 1988.

o Dr. Richard Moore, assistant vice chancellor for grants and sponsored research, attended the meeting of the Southeastern Estuarine Research Society on October 27 through 29 in Jacksonville, Florida. Also at the meeting was Coastal Alum Dr. Mark Peterson (Marine Science), who is currently a postdoctoral researcher at the Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institute in Ft. Pierce, Florida.

o Dr. Douglas Nelson, professor of marine science and geology, recently attended the 100th anniversary convention of the Geologic Society of America in Denver, Colorado. During the five day meeting, research from a wide variety of geologic related topics were presented. Sea level rise, understanding the most recent ice age and the relation between climate, ocean circulation and ecology of marine organisms were major symposia that were attended.

o Dr. Gerald Boyles, professor of finance, and Dr. Darcy Carr, associate professor of economics, presented their research paper, "Changes in Investor Preferences Since the October 1987 Stock Market Crash," at the annual meeting of the Institute of Management Science. The paper will be published in the Proceedings of TIMS.
