Edwin Newman Scheduled As Spring Lecturer For Kimbel Distinguished Lecture Series

Edwin Newman, a 35-year veteran of NBC-TV News, will speak at Coastal, Tuesday, April 4, at 8 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium, as part of the Kimbel Distinguished Lecture Series. Although the lecture is free and open to the public, tickets are required for admission. They are available on a first-come, first-served basis at Wheelwright box office, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Newman retired from NBC News in 1984, after 35 years with the network. During that time, he headed the NBC bureaus in London, Rome and Paris, reported from three dozen countries and anchored nearly every kind of news program the network produced.

The Kimbel Distinguished Lecture Series is sponsored by the Kimbel Trust, the Episcopal Diocese of South Carolina, The Sun News, Coastal Educational Foundation, Inc. and USC Coastal Carolina College.

For more information about the lecture, phone Wheelwright box office, ext. 2502.

Seminar Series On Future Of Coastal For Faculty And Staff

The fifth in a series of programs for faculty and staff on the future of Coastal is scheduled for Tuesday, April 4, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theater.

The guests for this program are Ashby Ward from the Grand Strand Myrtle Beach Chamber of Commerce; Debbie Brooks from the Conway Chamber of Commerce; and Bill Oberst from the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce.

The seminars are designed to help faculty and administrators understand the potential future role of Coastal. Guests will explain what they do and how the college has been involved in the past, and will talk about how they see Coastal in the future of this region. The informality of the program should lead to numerous interactive questions and answers. The goal is to help all of us understand what the community expects of us, and then to use this information to help formulate how we can be helpful in the future development of this region.

The fifth program, scheduled for Tuesday, April 11, will have as guests Cliff B. Dodson, Georgetown County School District Supervisor; John Dawsey, Horry County School

Superintendent; and Dr. Kent Sharples, president of Horry-Georgetown Technical College. The seminar will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theater.

The final program in the series on the Future Role of Coastal will be April 17, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theater.

All faculty and staff are encouraged to attend. For more information, contact the Chancellor's office, ext. 2002.

Faculty/Staff VS. Alumni Softball Game Scheduled

The faculty/staff vs. alumni softball game, sponsored by Alumni Affairs, will be Monday, April 3 at 4 p.m. on the softball field. Dr. Edward M. Singleton will be pitching the first ball. Chancellor Eaglin will pitch for the faculty/staff team.

A cook-out will immediately follow the game. For more information, contact Patrick Snell, ext 2006.

Les Deux Amis To Perform At Coastal

Duo guitarists, Les Deux Amis (the two friends), will perform with the USC Coastal Carolina College Ensemble and the Vocal Arts Ensemble of Wilmington, Thursday, April 6, at 8 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium, as part of the Spring Arts Festival at the college.

A lecture and demonstration also will be given by the duo Friday, April 7, at 10:30 a.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. Both events are open to the public; however, tickets are required for the Thursday performance.

Les Deux Amis members, Brian Morris and Joseph Hoey got their start at Florida State University where they received their masters degrees. In 1985, after performing together for less than one year, the duo won third prize in the Guitar Foundation of America's International Duo Competition.

Morris and Hoey's music ranges from Renaissance to Ragtime and Mozart to Modern. They have performed in a series of concerts sponsored by the North Carolina Composers Alliance and traveled with the UNC-Wilmington Camerata on a five-state tour.

The two are visiting artists-in-residence at the Beaufort and

Dr. Donald Harper Lecture Scheduled At Coastal

Dr. Donald Harper, an expert in the area of clinical psychopharmacology, will present a lecture entitled "The Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil and Drug Abuse of the Psychobiology of Religion," Monday, April 3, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Student Center, room 205, at USC Coastal Carolina College. The presentation is sponsored by the Psychology and Philosophy clubs, and is free and open to the public.

Harper has conducted research in areas such as kidney malfunctions, regulation of blood pressure, and the effects of certain medications and drugs.

After completing a year of research in psychopharmacology, Harper served an internship at Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas. He then went on to New Haven, Connecticut to undergo a training program in neurology at Yale University with an emphasis on behavioral neurology. During that time, he also was a post-doctoral fellow and presented resident and medical community lectures on a variety of subjects.

Harper is presently in private practice in Lafayette, Louisiana. After implementing the Department of Neurology for a large multi-specialty group, he developed an independent practice, helping patients with difficult pain management problems and was a consultant for the Indigent Defender's Office. He has taught neurology at the University Medical Center in Louisiana. Recently he has been involved with the Louisiana State Medical Society Committee on Chronic Diseases and the Pharmacy and Ethics Committees of Lafayette General Hospital. He also is a physician member of the National Headache Foundation and is a certified addictionologist.

A native of Kansas City, Missouri, Harper received his undergraduate training at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was a National Merit Scholar. He received his graduate education from the Harvard Medical School, Southwestern Medical School, and his doctoral education from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas.

For more information about the lecture, contact the Psychology Department at Coastal, ext. 2273.

CINO Day Activities Scheduled

Coastal's Annual Coastal Is Number One (CINO) Day, sponsored by Campus Union, will be Friday, April 7, 12 noon to 5 p.m. on the soccer field. The events are open to faculty, staff and students.

Team games are scheduled and music will be provided by the band "Leggs" and Dance Ltd. Show.

Faculty, staff and students are encouraged to participate in the team games. Teams consists of eight people, plus two alternates. Each team must have four male and four female participants. Team applications are available in the student activities office.

Applications are also being taken for ten student assistants to work during CINO Day. The assistants will be paid $25 for the day and applications can be obtained in the student activities office.

Admission is $3 each and includes a barbecue dinner, free pepsi, a CINO Day mug, and a video button. Video buttons will display the person's picture taken that day. CINO Day T-shirts are available for $5 each.

Coastal's WalkAmerica committee for the March of Dimes will provide a dunking booth to raise money for the Coastal WalkAmerica team. Faculty, staff and administrators have volunteered to sit in the booth. Donations of $1 for three tries at dunking "your favorite person" will be accepted. The volunteer sitting in the booth who is able to raise the most money will receive a WalkAmerica T-shirt. Anyone who would like to volunteer should call Nancy Burton, ext. 2003 or Kay Kierspe, ext. 2329.

For more information about CINO Day, contact Aniza Rowe, ext. 2326.

WalkAmerica '89 For March Of Dimes Scheduled For April 8

The March of Dimes "WalkAmerica" walk will be Saturday, April 8 beginning at 9 a.m. at the Pavilion in Myrtle Beach. Coastal faculty, staff and students will be participating as a team in "WalkAmerica" to raise money for the prevention of birth defects.

Various groups on campus have been working to raise money by challenging other groups or areas to exceed their contributions. Anyone who would like to participate can join Coastal's team this week.

Faculty, staff and administrator volunteers are needed to sit in a WalkAmerica dunking booth during CINO Day, Friday, April 7. Volunteers will sit in the booth for 20-30 minute intervals. Donations of $1 for three tries to dunk their "favorite volunteer" will be accepted from hopeful participants. The volunteer who is able to raise the highest dollar amount will receive a WalkAmerica T-shirt. To volunteer, contact Nancy Burton, ext. 2003, or Kay Kierspe, ext. 2329.

All participants are reminded to turn in their envelopes no later than Thursday, April 6 to Kay Kierspe, SC-206. Additional donations will be accepted through April 8.

Each individual collecting $50 or more will receive a WalkAmerica '89 T-shirt if their collections are turned in by April 7.

Last year 1,800 Horry County area participants (60 teams) walked and raised over $65,000. This year's walk has more than 100 teams registered and is expected to go well beyond the dollar amount raised last year. Numerous awards and prizes, donated by local businesses, will be presented to teams and individual participants on April 8.

For more information about participating as a walker or making donations, contact Kay Kierspe, ext. 2329, Vicki Gardner, ext. 2340, or Nancy Burton, Horry County WalkAmerica executive committee member, ext. 2003.

Coastal Film Society To Present "Long Day's Journey Into Night"

The Coastal Film Society will present "Long Day's Journey Into Night," Sunday, April 9, at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Little Theater.

The 1962 film, directed by Sidney Lumet, is the life story of playwright Eugene O'Neill. Ralph Richardson plays an aging Shakespearean actor, stuck in one role for life. Katherine Hepburn is the actor's drug-addicted mother and Jason Robards portrays the son, also an alcoholic.

Tickets are $2 each, and are available at the door.

Freshman Essay Contest Winners Announced

Betty Flanigan of Conway and Dawn Hitchcock of Myrtle Beach are the winners of the first annual USC Coastal Carolina College Freshman Essay Contest.

Flanigan and Hitchcock, both returning students, were selected as winners, on the basis of quality and depth of thought and expression in their essays.

Flanigan's essay, "A Woman's Place," is about changing attitudes. Hitchcock's essay, "My Father's Eyes," focuses on her relationship with her father through the years.

The students will receive a $50 award for their achievement. The contest is sponsored by the Department of Humanities and Fine Arts and funded by the Horry County Higher Education Commission.

U.S. Commission On Civil Rights Director To Present Lecture

John C. Eastman, director of congressional and public affairs for the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, will discuss the topic "The Artificial Congress: The Impact of Race in American Politics," Friday, April 14 at 1:30 p.m., in SC-205. Sponsored by the Department of Government and the Coastal Educational Foundation, the lecture is free and open to the public.

Eastman, the author of numerous published articles on civil rights, foreign policy and political science, will demonstrate in his discussion, a theory that suggests a significant number of blacks and Hispanics vote Democrat, even though they may disagree with a candidate's views on issues. According to Eastman, the voting patterns result in a majority in Congress that does not accurately reflect the majority opinion in the country.

Eastman also will discuss the strategy that Lee Atwater developed for breaking these voting patterns, and outline the tactics he believes Atwater should maintain to be successful.

A third segment of the lecture will include an assessment of President George Bush's first 75 days, and whether he has made any strides toward accomplishing the strategy of Atwater.

A native of Lincoln Nebraska, Eastman received his B.A. in politics and economics at the University of Dallas, graduating cum laude. He received an M.A. in government at the Claremont Graduate School, where he is presently working on his Ph.D. in government.

Eastman was previously the campaign manager for Bill Allen's U.S. Senate race in 1985; research director for Bill Campbell's race for controller in 1986; president of John Eastman & Associates, a political consulting business, 1985 to 1987; and campaign manager for Charles House in his race for Congress in 1986.

Eastman is presently an editor and contributor for In Sickness and Health: Essays Concerning U.S. Involvement in South Africa.

For more information about the lecture, contact Jack Riley, ext. 2625

Coastal's Annual Women's Conference To Be Held In April

Coastal will hold its 1989 Conference on Women, "Women's Ways of Knowing," Saturday, April 15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the college. Registration will be from 8:30 to 11 a.m.

Professionals throughout the state will attend the conference, and will discuss topics such as women and medical issues; stress management; women and leadership; women and the home environment; the building of self-esteem; women and politics; and women and intuition.

The conference will feature writers Nancy Goldberger, author of the highly-acclaimed book Women's Ways of Knowing, and Eleanora Tate, Myrtle Beach resident and author of the children's books The Secret of Gumbo Grove and Just an Overnight Guest.

Goldberger is a visiting scholar in psychology at New York University. In her book, she and fellow colleagues examine women's ways of knowing and describe five different perspectives that women view reality and draw conclusions about truth, knowledge and authority.

Tate is president of the public relations firm, Positive Images. She works to promote a positive image of women and black culture through her books and lectures.

This year's conference is co-sponsored by Graduate and Continuing Education, the South Carolina Women in Higher Education Administration, Coast magazine, USC Columbia Women Student's Services, and USC Coastal Division of Student Development.

Registration fee for the conference is $75 and includes lunch. Scholarships are available to women who cannot attend the conference otherwise.

For more information about registration or scholarships, contact Audrey Garland, ext. 2672.

Coastal Carolina Theater To Present "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" a play that reveals the turbulent roles of marriage, will be presented by Coastal Carolina Theater, Friday, April 14 at 8 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium, with additional performances Saturday, April 15 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, April 16 at 2:30 p.m.

Set in a New England college town, this Edward Albee play tells the story of the married couple, George, played by Jeff Woodward, and Martha, played by Lisa Bonner.

After spending an evening at a party, an intoxicated George and Martha play host to another couple, Nick, played by Chad Ayers, and Honey, played by Kathy Wren.

As the night continues, the couples continue drinking, and Martha decides to bitterly discuss her marital difficulties in the company of her guests. Martha and George, in their drunken state, reveal their emotions of desperation, including the hatred and resentment they feel toward each other.

By the end of the evening, it is apparent George and Martha believe that their lives have been ruined by marriage and then each blame the other for the mess.

The director of the play is Jeff Nichols, visiting professor of theater and speech. Scene designer is Mark Kaufmann; costume designer is Donna Catton-Johnson; lighting designer is Tim Hicks; and stage manager is Jennifer Kallmeyer.

Tickets are $7; $4 students, and may be purchased at the door or in advance at the Wheelwright box office at ext. 2502.
