Scott Hamilton Quintet To Perform At Coastal

The Scott Hamilton Quintet will perform in a jazz concert Thursday, February 1, at 8 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The group features two-time Grammy nominee and Concord Jazz recording artist Scott Hamilton. His contemporary jazz saxophone style follows the tradition of Coleman Hawkins and Ben Webster.

Ticket price is $7, and $4 for students with a Coastal I.D.

For more information, contact the Wheelwright box office, ext. 2502.

Faculty Reminder

Coastal's Scholarship Committee requests faculty to announce to their classes the Coastal student scholarship deadline is February 1. Applications must be received in the scholarship office by this date to be considered for a scholarship.

Scholarship awards are based on academic achievement, financial need, residency, activities, majors, and various other criteria depending on the particular scholarship; therefore, all students should be encouraged to submit an application. Funds to support the scholarship program come from individuals, organizations, and companies who have elected to invest in academic excellence at Coastal. Often, individual donors are persons who have succeeded in the Coastal service area and want to insure that others have the same opportunity. Organizations and companies seek to insure the regional advantages of excellent students at Coastal. Joining private scholarship donors are the taxpayers of Horry County who, through the Horry County Higher Education Commission, have dedicated funds for students who are residents of Horry County.

Scholarship donors have established more than 335 scholarships available to students enrolled or planning to enroll at Coastal. Each scholarship offers up to a full-tuition award to one or more students for a variable period between one semester and five years.

For more information or to pick up an application, contact Margaret Ammons, ext. 2012, in the Chancellor's Suite, E. M. Singleton Building.

Memo To All Operators Of University Vehicles

(The following memo was received from Carl B. Stokes, senior vice president, division of law enforcement and safety, University of South Carolina-Columbia campus.)

Since 1988 the University has been a part of the State of South Carolina Fleet Safety Program administered by the Budget and Control Board. As part of the Program, President Holderman appointed an Accident Review Board consisting of employees from throughout the system who meet quarterly.

In 1988, there were 57 accidents involving University vehicles. Of those accidents, 28 drivers were given corrective action consisting of oral counseling, writing counseling, and/or compulsory attendance in the Defensive Driving Class.

In 1989, there were 87 accidents involving University vehicles of which 66 corrective actions were taken consisting of oral and written counseling, compulsory attendance in the Defensive Driving Class, as well as suspensions from driving University vehicles for a period of three months and one year.

From these statistics, you can see that everyone driving a University vehicle has got to be more aware of their bad driving habits. Last year, the Legislature passed a mandatory seat belt law. As a REMINDER, please inform all of your employees who drive University vehicles to BUCKLE UP!

The primary reason for the Fleet Safety Program is to reduce accidents as well as insurance premiums; but, as you can see from the statistics above, accidents have increased. Every accident, whether in a state vehicle or a private vehicle, affects everyone's insurance; therefore, it would behoove each of us to be more conscious toward our driving habits.

"Straight Talk About Undergraduate Admission" Program Scheduled

The office of admission will hold a "Straight Talk About Undergraduate Admission," Thursday, February 8, at 7 p.m. in the Graduate and Continuing Education Center, room

005. The program is free and open to prospective Coastal students and parents.

College representatives will discuss step-by-step undergraduate admission procedures, information about admission requirements, deadline dates, and the Honors Program, a program for students whose test scores and previous grades predict outstanding college-level achievement.

College administrators and counselors will explain options for students who do not meet admission criteria, including special summer programs and courses.

Individuals who have been accepted as Coastal Carolina College students should attend the session to learn about admission categories.

Preregistration is requested, but not required.

For more information, phone the office of admission, ext. 2026.

All members of the campus community are invited to attend this panel presentation and open discussion which is intended to increase student and faculty awareness of and involvement in developing a campus alcohol and drug policy.

Panelists include professors Sandy Baird, Andy Hendrick and Joe Mazurkiewicz, and student Donna Mitchell. Moderator is Gary Allen, student.

Brazilian Film To Be Presented At Coastal

A feature-length film concerning the life of Xica da Silva, mistress of Brazil's wealthiest man in the eighteenth century, will be presented Tuesday, February 6, at 7 p.m. in the Graduate and Continuing Education Center, room 003. The presentation is free and open to the public.

The 1976 production, directed by Carlos Diegues, one of Brazil's leading film makers, tells the legendary true story of a black slave, whom Diegues describes as "our Joan of Arc. Sort of."

Set during the diamond rush of the eighteenth century, the slave Xica da Silva, parlays a determination into a rise to power that eventually makes her the unofficial Empress of Brazil.

This festive exercise in Brazilian Baroque is dominated by the dynamic central performance of Zere Motta, described by Diegues as "a combination of Ertha Kitt and Cameran Miranda."

Coastal Carolina College's Comprehensive Enrichment Program in International Studies is chief sponsor of the program. The film will be placed in its historical setting by Dr. James Henderson, Latin American specialist and associate professor of government and international studies.

A discussion will follow the film. Coffee will be provided by Graduate and Continuing Education, the program's co-sponsor.

For more information, contact Dr. James Henderson, ext. 2626.

Wellness Committee Meeting Scheduled

The wellness committee will meet Wednesday, January 31 at 11 a.m., in the EMS conference room. Anyone who would like to meet with this committee is welcome to attend. For more information, contact Marshall Parker, ext. 2810.

Ms. Coastal, Mindy Spires, will draw the winning ticket.

Your support of the RSA is requested - YOU COULD BE THE LUCKY WINNER!

U.S. Census Bureau Issues "Help Wanted" Notice

The U.S. Census Bureau has begun its search for employees to help with one of the nation's most important endeavors, the 1990 census of population and housing.

The first temporary jobs will involve door-to-door delivery of census questionnaires to area residents during March. The second major operation, April through June, will be follow-up visits made necessary because some households will not mail back their census questionnaires on or before the April 1 deadline-Census Day.

To help ease the hiring burden, Congress has passed legislation that will allow military and civilian federal retirees to take a temporary census job without having an effect on their retirement benefits as required by previous law.

Depending on the type of position, the jobs pay from $5 to $8.50 per hour, and census field workers will be reimbursed 24 cents per mile for automobile expenses.

Persons interested in information about temporary census employment should contact the nearest state employment office or the local Census Bureau office in Florence. The address is U.S. Bureau of the Census, McMillian Federal Bldg., 401 W. Evans Street, Florence, SC 29501.
