Dr. Smith to visit campus Sept. 13

Dr. Art Smith, the new chief executive of the USC system, will be on campus Thursday, September 13. Faculty and staff are invited to meet with him from 4 to 5 p.m. in Student Center 205. ∞

Joyner hosts ETV series

Charles Joyner will be the on-camera host of "Legacy of Conflict," a four-part series on South Carolina and the Civil War which will air on the South Carolina Educational Television Network at 10:30 p.m. September 24 - 27.

The series was filmed on location throughout the state. Several sequences were filmed in Conway, Little River, Wachesaw, Hobcaw, and other locations in the Wacamaw Region.

It features interviews with local historians Rod Gragg and Burgin Berry as well as segments with nationally and internationally-recognized scholars of the Civil War era.

In addition to serving as host, Joyner is the producer and writer for the series. ∞

Visiting artist to open exhibit

The mural and easel works of artist Sidney Larson will be featured at Coastal this month.

Larson has completed 27 panels for nine mural projects in three states. His most recent murals can be seen in the New

Municipal Building in Jefferson City, Mo. and in the Guitar Building Lobby in Columbia, Mo. The Colorado-native has been a professor of art at Columbia College in Columbia, Mo. since 1951. He is also the curator for the State

Historical Society of Missouri. Larson has written numerous reviews and other critical matter on art and design.

Larson will discuss his work in a lecture-slideshow set for Tuesday, September 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the the Graduate and Continuing Education Building Little Theater. (See Visiting, page 2)

1990-91 Film Series begins with Tampopo

Juzo Itami's comedy, Tampopo, starts the Coastal Film Series on Sunday, September 9 at 3 p.m.

The critically-acclaimed Japanese comedy is about food and people's passion for it. Itami's 1986 film offers perceptive observations about the way people relate to food. At the same time, Tampopo spoofs westerns, gangster films, and the Japanese family.

Critics call Tampopo a wonderfully funny and creative film of comical characters in absurd situations.

Single ticket admission is $2 prior to the performance or at the door; student tickets are $1. Season tickets for the seven-film series are $12. All films will be shown in Wheelwright. ∞

Children of alcoholics is topic of series

"Adult Children of Alcoholics," an educational series for students, faculty, and staff, will be held on four consecutive Tuesdays, beginning October 2, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Student Center.

Workshop leader Janet Godwin said this is excellent opportunity to explore an issue that can affect friends and colleagues. The program may be of interest to those who have lived with an addicted person, those who were raised in a dysfunctional home, or those who want to learn more about the impact of chemical dependency on the family.

This free series is open only to members of the Coastal Carolina community. The Office of Alcohol and Drug Awareness requests that participants register in advance so that handout materials can be prepared.

For more information, contact Vicki Gardner, ext. 2340. ∞

Rotary seeks applicants for study in England

Local Rotary clubs are looking for women to travel to England as part of the organization's Group Study Exchange Program funded through the Rotary Foundation.

Four women, ages 25 to 35, will be selected to visit England at the organization's expense from March 16 through April 27. The women will study the country's education, government, and cultural institutions. They also will observe their own professions.

Applicants must have been employed full-time in a recognized business or profession for at least two years and be a U.S. citizen. For additional selection criteria and application information, contact Bob Squatriglia, ext. 2300. ∞
