A message from the Chancellor

Very shortly we will all have a chance to show how strongly we believe in our work here at Coastal.

By October 15, you will receive a visit from a fellow employee bringing you your Family Fund pledge card. For those of you who are new to the campus, the Family Fund is our method of making financial gifts to the college. Our gifts tell other donors to the college that we join them in their belief that our work is worth supporting. Our gifts testify to the fact that we believe strongly enough in the college to be willing to give of our personal resources in order to strengthen it.

I appreciate the role each of you play in the ongoing development of Coastal and am proud of the fact that many of you are willing to go above and beyond the normal call of duty by making a pledge to the Family Fund.

Thank you for giving serious consideration to beginning or renewing your pledge. Let's aim for campus-wide participation this year.

Sincerely,
Ron Eaglin

Wall ground breaking set for Wednesday

Faculty and staff are invited to ground breaking ceremonies for the E. Craig Wall Sr. School of Business Administration Building Wednesday, October 10, 11 a.m. at the building site on Chanticleer Drive.∞

Center for Marine and Wetland Studies to host public forum on dredging

Coastal is hosting a public forum on dredging Thursday, October 11, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Myrtle Beach Martinique Hotel, 7100 North Ocean Boulevard. The forum, Dredging Issues: Port of Georgetown, is open to the public at no charge.

As the second in Coastal's Center for Marine and Wetland Studies four-part series on Environmental Issues, the public forum on dredging will feature professionals who serve as panelists. Included are Earl Hayter of Clemson University, Don Herndon of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Steve Gilbert of the U.S. Department of Fish and Wildlife, and William Oberst of the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce.

The forum will be moderated by Paul Gayes, director of Coastal's Center for Marine and Wetland Studies.

Other public forums in the series are Coastal Pollution: Risk Assessment in Setting Environmental Pollution Standards on Thursday, Oct. 25, and Wetland Issues: Environmental Assessment, Regulatory Policies, and Implications for Future Economic Development on Thursday, November 8.

The Fall Forum on Environmental Issues is sponsored, in part, by the Myrtle Beach Hotel and Motel Association, the Myrtle Beach Martinique Hotel, the Oceanview Foundation, and the Sun News. ∞

Auditions set for Miss Reardon

Auditions for And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little, a comedy by Paul Zindel, will be held Wednesday, October 10 from 2:30 to 4 p.m. and Thursday, October 11 at 7 p.m. in the Little Theater in the Graduate and Continuing Education Center.

Zindel's scathing comedy reveals the turbulence and often hilarious relationships between three sisters following the death of their mother. Zindel also wrote the drama The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds and is the author of several novels.

Performance dates are November 16 - 18. Rehearsals begin Monday, October 15.

Director Sandi Shakelford is looking for a cast of seven, including five women between the ages of 20 and 50, and two men, one in his late teens and the other early to middle age.

Scripts are on reserve in Kimbel Library.

For more information, contact Sandi Shakelford. ∞

Staff enrichment funds available

The staff enrichment committee has announced the availability of funds for work-related seminars and workshops to enhance productivity and job effectiveness.

Applications are available for full-time staff and may be obtained from Cenita Gerald, Office of Admission, ext. 2032.

Chanticleer editor applications being accepted

The student media committee is accepting applications for editor of the Chanticleer. Students interested in the position must apply by October 19th. Applications are available in the student affairs office. Interviews for the position will be held October 23, beginning at 2:30 p.m. For more information, contact the Office of Student Activities, SC 206. ∞

Coastal Theater presents Scapino

Scapino, a Jim Dale and Frank Dunlop comedy, will be presented as part of the Wheelwright Passport Coastal Theater series Friday, October 12, and Saturday, October 3 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, October 14 at 3 p.m.

Scapino is loosely based on a Moliere play, Les Fourberies de Scapin. Critics have called Scapino comedy madness.

Scapino director and costume designer Charles Whetzel said, "The play was a financial and critical hit on Broadway in the 1970s because it was a perfect evening of fun for the entire family. The New York Times said at the time, 'If you miss it, you will be crazy, and if your kids miss it, you will be simply inhuman.'"

The production is designed by Ken Parks. A recent graduate of the University of Mississippi with a master's degree in fine arts, Parks is the newly appointed professor of design and technical theater. Parks comes to Horry County after a successful season with the Oklahoma Shakespeare Festival.

The cast of Scapino includes many faces familiar to Coastal Carolina College Theater as well as some new ones. Sean Pierce, Michael Matthews, Lou Nordeen and Ted Detwiler recently performed in South Pacific. Kitty Gundling, David Russell and Sol Steinberg appeared in The Tempest. New to the Coastal stage are Lynn Mulhern, Debbie Rahn, Robin McPherson, Rorie Litos and Matt Morris.

Admission is $7 and student tickets are $4. Tickets are available from the Wheelwright Box Office from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from noon to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. For more information, call the Wheelwright Box Office at 349-2502. ∞

Coastal Carolina People

Jacqueline L. Gmuca recently had a character analysis of Cathleen ni Houlihan published in Magill's Cyclopedia of Literary Characters II. Gmuca also lectured at the national conference, Responsibilities for Literacy, on the topic "School-College Collaboration for Appropriate Assessment of Literacy." This presentation was based on her work with Beck Middle School in Georgetown as a higher education representative for Project REACH, the South Carolina Rural Education Alliance for Collaborative Humanities.

Walter Stanaland attended a symposium on Habitat Restoration of Wetlands at the invitation of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, September 25-26. This conference brought more than 15 international speakers on topics such as restoring salt marshes, creating salt marshes, eliminating pollution in salt marshes, managing plant life, hydroelectric power facilities on streams, disused docking areas, artificial reefs, oil spills, and other related topics.

Thomas E. Jones recently presented a program to the League of Independent Artists in Myrtle Beach. With assistance from two readers from the local community, Jones presented a reader's theater performance of Edgar Lee Masters Spoon River Anthology. He also spoke on the state of the Arts on the Grand Strand with an overview of the many arts programs available in both the Horry and Georgetown areas. ∞

New faculty orientation series continues

The series of new faculty orientation meetings continue with the next presentation Tuesday, October 16th from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Kearns Hall education conference room.

The speakers for this session are Marsh Myers and Richard Moore. Myers, associate vice chancellor for academic development/registrar, will discuss student retention. Moore, assistant vice chancellor for grants and sponsored research will discuss grants and research development.

The presentations are open to all faculty members. For more information, contact academic affairs, ext. 2086.
