

10-7-1991

Coastal Carolina College This Week, October 7, 1991

USC Coastal Carolina College

Coastal Carolina University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/this-week>

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the History Commons

Recommended Citation

USC Coastal Carolina College and Coastal Carolina University, "Coastal Carolina College This Week, October 7, 1991" (1991). Coastal Carolina College This Week. 493.
<https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/this-week/493>

This Periodical is brought to you for free and open access by the CCU Newsletters at CCU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Coastal Carolina College This Week by an authorized administrator of CCU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact commons@coastal.edu.

THIRDS WEEK

A Weekly Newsletter for Faculty and Staff of Coastal Carolina College Vol. 2 No. 28 October 7, 1991

Campus Calendar

Monday, October 7th

- Guardian Ad Litem program – 6 to 9 p.m., KL 237. Contact: Betsy Chapman

Tuesday, October 8th

- M.A.T. testing – 3 to 4 p.m., EMS 204. Contact: Linda Ford
- Guardian Ad Litem program – 6 to 9 p.m., KL 237. Contact: Betsy Chapman
- Volleyball – Coastal at Winthrop, 7 p.m. Contact: Debbie Fore
- Horry County Teaching Network meeting – noon to 2:30 p.m., GCEC 003. Contact: Gwen Turner

Wednesday, October 9th

- Teleconference with USC President John Palms – 3 p.m., WA. Contact: Ron Ingle
- Career Information Fair – 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Kimbel Gymnasium. Contact: Mollie Starbuck
- Wellness Committee meeting – 1:30 p.m., EMS Conference room. Contact: Patti Loebis
- Soccer – Coastal at UNC Greensboro, 7 p.m. Contact: Paul Banta
- School of Education intern meeting – 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., GCEC 003. Contact: Gwen Turner

Friday, October 11th

- Imaginary Invalid performance – 7:30 p.m., WA. Contact: Wheelwright Box Office
- Men's Golf – Campbell University Tournament. Contact: Tom Brennan
- Volleyball – Coastal at Liberty, 7 p.m. Contact: Debbie Fore

Saturday, October 12th

- Imaginary Invalid performance – 7:30 p.m., WA. Contact: Wheelwright Box Office
- Volleyball – Coastal at Radford, 1 p.m.; Coastal vs. Wisconsin at Radford, 3 p.m. Contact: Debbie Fore
- GRE testing – TBA, campus. Contact: Admissions Office
- Men's Golf – Campbell University Tournament. Contact: Tom Brennan

Sunday, October 13th

- Imaginary Invalid performance – 3 p.m., WA. Contact: Wheelwright Box Office
- Volleyball – Coastal vs. James Madison, noon. Contact: Debbie Fore

Monday, October 14th

- Richard Schuster piano concert – 8 p.m., WA. Contact: Philip Powell
- Midpoint in regular fall semester.
- Guardian Ad Litem program – continues through October 16, 6 to 9 p.m., KL 237. Contact: Betsy Chapman

Soviet journalist Boris Notkin to lecture at Coastal Boris Notkin, Soviet news anchor, professor, reporter and interpreter, will speak in Wheelwright Auditorium on Monday, October 21 at 7:30 p.m. Part of the Kimbel Distinguished Lecture Series, the lecture is free and open to the public. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis, and tickets are available in Wheelwright Box Office, open weekdays from noon to 5 p.m.

Notkin is anchor and commentator for the popular Soviet television program Good Evening Moscow, described as a cross between 60 Minutes and Good Morning America. As a journalist, Notkin has tackled subjects previously untouched by Soviet journalists, such as organized crime, crooked bureaucrats, shoddy medical care, and Stalin's purges. His guests on the show have included politicians, scientists, and entertainers from around the world. The Soviet viewing audience for Good Evening Moscow is estimated to be more than 40 million.

A Moscow native and resident, Notkin graduated from the University of Moscow with a Ph.D. in Soviet-Social history. He has published numerous articles and three books on political rhetoric, political psychology and the psycholinguistical aspects of teaching interpretation. Since 1970, Notkin has been a contributing writer to the Literary Gazette, which he calls "the most liberal publication in the Soviet Union." He is a professor of rhetoric at the University of Moscow. He also is a Fulbright Fellow and taught at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, lecturing on Reporting Under Glasnost and Perestroika.

See Notkin on page 2.

Notkin

Continued from page 1

Notkin served as an interpreter for Ronald Reagan and Edward Kennedy on their excursions to the Soviet Union.

The Kimbel Distinguished Lecture Series is sponsored by the Kimbel Trust, Coastal Educational Foundation, Inc., the Episcopal Diocese of South Carolina, Ocean View Memorial Foundation, the Sun News, and USC Coastal Carolina College.

For more information, contact the Public Relations Department at extension 2003. ~

Pharmacy school representative visits campus

Dr. Farid Sadik, associate dean of the School of Pharmacy of USC Columbia, will be on campus Tuesday, October 15 from 10 a.m. to noon in SCI 123. Sadik will meet with students interested in attending pharmacy school to discuss general information and admission requirements. Literature will be available.

All students are welcome to attend and no appointments are necessary.

For more information, contact Carl Freeman at extension 2203. ~

This Week is published every Monday by the Public Relations Office. Information to be included should be submitted by noon the Wednesday before publication.

Coastal Carolina College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution.

Teleconference with USC president scheduled for faculty

USC President John Palms will present, by teleconference to the USC System, a draft strategic philosophy for the University system, Wednesday, October 9, at 3 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. All faculty are urged to attend.

Immediately following the teleconference, the faculty will discuss President Palms presentation. Palms has asked each system campus to summarize the response in a report for his consideration as he develops a comprehensive system philosophy.

For more information, contact Ron Ingle at extension 2089. ~

Coastal hosts Middle and Elementary School Academy of Science for workshop

Nearly 600 students, teachers, and parents from a nine county region were at Coastal Saturday, September 28 when the college hosted the Region IV Middle and Elementary School Academy of Science. The purpose of the workshop was to motivate and recruit students in grades four through eight in the fields of science, mathematics, and engineering.

Host coordinator and Coastal biology professor Richard Moore said, "The fall workshop gives students, educators and parents an opportunity to experience science and math in new and exciting sessions. It also sparks an understanding of the research process among students and gives examples of potential research topics."

Students from Horry, Williamsburg, Marion, Dillon, Florence, Chesterfield, Marlboro, Lee and Darlington counties attended the Saturday workshop.

The most popular sessions included such titles as: Marine Science for All Ages, Oceanography in Antarctica, Snakes Alive, and Adventures With Slime Mold.

According to Don Jordan, vice president of the South Carolina Academy of Science, this was the first-ever meeting of this sort held in the state. Next year, meetings will be expanded to other regions in the state, he said. Eventually, there will be seven regional meetings held around the state on an annual basis. ~

A message from the chancellor . . .

In September, all faculty members received a memo from Brandy Hamilton, editor-in-chief of the Atheneum, requesting your representation in the yearbook.

The yearbook is important to students, and your willingness to participate lets them know that you support projects of interest to them.

Please take a few minutes of your time to furnish a photograph, or call extension 2332 for an appointment with the photographer who will be on campus Monday, October 7 through Friday, October 11, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Ron Eaglin

Orientation series for new faculty continues

The new faculty orientation series to acquaint new faculty with the college's services, policies, and procedures continues on Thursday, October 15 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Kearns Hall education conference room. All faculty members are invited to attend.

During this session, Richard Moore will discuss grants and research development.

For more information, contact Academic Affairs at extension 2086. ~

Archarios accepts works for fall 1991 issue

The Archarios staff is accepting photography, essays, plays, poetry, prose, and two- and three-dimensional artwork for publication in the fall 1991 issue of Coastal's literary magazine. The deadline for work to be submitted is Wednesday, October 23 at 3 p.m. All art will be judged that day in the Art Center graphics room.

For more information, call the Archarios office at extension 2328. The office is located in SC 203B. ~

Campus Cafeteria Menu

The campus cafeteria menu features a daily lunch special which includes one entree plus three vegetables (or two vegetables and dessert of the day) with a dinner roll and a small beverage for $3.75.

Entree selections for the week of October 7, are as follows:

Monday: Salisbury Steak
or Barbeque Chicken

Tuesday: Chicken Parmesan
or Beef Stew

Wednesday: Baked Pork Chops
or Chicken Noodles

Thursday: Meat Loaf
or Fettucini Alfredo

Friday: Baked Lasagna
or Fried Shrimp

The campus cafeteria is open on Saturdays from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. featuring various grill selections. ~

Birthdays This Week

October

- 9 Traci Hallman
- 10 Wanda Lewis
- 11 Tom Jones
Dorothy Rhyne
- 12 Suzanne Cormier
- 13 Thomas Isekenegebe
Mollie Bethea-Floyd

Fall Forum planned to discuss environmental issues

To promote the exchange of information and discussion of pressing environmental issues facing the Grand Strand, the Center for Marine and Wetland Studies is hosting the annual Fall Forum in two parts - Thursday, October 17 and Thursday, November 7. The theme of the 1991 series is environmental issues. Both parts of the Fall Forum are free and open to the public.

South Carolina's Offshore Oil and Gas Potential will be held Thursday, October 17 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Myrtle Beach Martinique Hotel, 7100 North Ocean Boulevard, Myrtle Beach. Included on the panel of professionals are: Tim Sullivan, chief of the Environmental Studies and Leasing Section of the Atlantic O.C.S. Region Mineral Management Service; Donna Moffit, director of the O.C.S. Office, North Carolina Department of Administration; Beth Partlow, deputy director for Environment and Natural Resources, Office of the Governor (South Carolina); and Thomas Joiner, president of Tom Joiner and Associates, Inc. Consulting Geologists, Tuscaloosa, Ala. A representative from South Carolina Wildlife and Marine Resources also will be a panelist. The forum will be moderated by Richard Moore. The panel will accept questions from the public.

Wetlands Regulations will be held Thursday, November 7 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Myrtle Beach Martinique Hotel, 7100 North Ocean Boulevard, Myrtle Beach. Included as panelists are: James Perry, Virginia Institute of Marine Science; Charles Rhodes of the Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C.; Susan Stiner of LPA Engineering, Columbia, S.C.; and Jake Duncan of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Charleston, S.C. Wetlands Regulations will be moderated by Paul Booth. The panel will accept questions from the public.

In conjunction with the Fall Forum, the Center for Marine and Wetland Studies will host Career Opportunities in Marine Affairs, Thursday, October 17 from 1 to 2 p.m. in SC 205. Amy Petrosky, public affairs officer for the Atlantic Outer Shelf Region of the Mineral Management Service, Herndon, Va., will conduct the seminar. Career Opportunities in Marine Affairs is free and open to Coastal students.

An additional seminar, Environmental Impacts of Outer Continental Shelf Development, will be held Thursday, October 17 from 3 to 4 p.m. in SC 205. James Lane, chief of the Environmental Studies Unit of the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf Region of the Mineral Management Service, Herndon, Va., will conduct the seminar. Environmental Impacts of Outer Continental Shelf Development is free and open to the public.

The Center for Marine and Wetland Studies is partially funded through the Horry County Higher Education Commission. Its mission is to facilitate research of the marine and wetland environment of the area. Ongoing projects include studies of coastal erosion, relative sea level changes, mineral resources and geological framework, wetlands, and water quality.

For more information on Fall Forum or the seminars, call Steve Berkowitz at extension 2229. ~

Coastal music student to perform

Amy Caskey, a senior music and religion major at Coastal, will perform Sunday, October 13 at 2 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of Conway, 603 Elm Street, Conway. Caskey is from Lancaster, S.C.

Caskey will sing works by Handel, Fasalo, Brahms, Del Leuto, Schubert, Smith and Mozart. She will be accompanied by Dee Anne Smith, pianist, and Patrick Coyle, baritone. The recital is free and open to the public. ~

Guest pianist to perform at Coastal Pianist Richard Schuster will perform in Wheelwright Auditorium at Monday, October 14 at 8 p.m. The concert is free and open to the public.

Schuster is a music student at Indiana University where he is one of two students studying with the dean of the piano faculty. While Schuster has performed throughout the Northeast and Midwest, this recital marks his first performance in the Southeast. He will perform works by Liszt, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, and Bartok.

For more information, call Philip Powell at extension 2515. ~

Coastal Carolina People

Sally Horner has been invited to serve as a panelist for a forum session at the annual meeting of the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools on December 6. The topic of the forum is "To Recommend Or Not Recommend: A Forum for Visiting Committee Members."

Glenda Sweet, Susan Meyers, Sally Purcell, and Jill Sessoms attended the 10th Annual Southern Writers Symposium at Fayetteville Methodist College, Fayetteville, North Carolina, September 27 and 28. This year's featured author was North Carolina writer Lee Smith who spoke to conference participants and also autographed copies of her novels and short story collections. ~

Bulletin Board

For Sale: 1985 Subaru GL. Good condition, PW, digital console. $2,300. For more information, call extension 2002 or 347-8543 after 5:30 p.m.

Needed: Female bowler from Coastal for Monday night ladies league at Waccamaw Lanes. Bowling begins at 7 p.m. each Monday. For information, contact Kay Alford at extension 2084.

Coastal Theater to present Molière's The Imaginary Invalid

Coastal Theater will present The Imaginary Invalid, a French comedy written by Molière and updated by Miles Malleon, Friday, October 11 and Saturday, October 12 at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, October 13 at 3:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The play is a hilarious farce about doctors and hypochondria.

Molière wrote 12 of the most durable and penetratingly satirical full-length comedies of all time. As a comic writer, critics rank him with Aristophanes, Plautus, and George Bernard Shaw.

The Imaginary Invalid, written in 1673, was not only the playwright's 27th and final play, but represents a turning of his characteristic slapstick upon himself. During Molière's fourth performance of the comedy's lead role, the playwright proved he was not deluding himself about his health – he was seized with a convulsion while taking the burlesque physician's oath near the end of the play and died at home that evening.

Born Jean-Baptiste Poquelin in Paris 1622, Molière was educated as a Latin scholar at a Jesuit school and later joined a troupe of players, with whom he acted with for 13 years. In 1658, his troupe came to Paris and appeared before the king and his court. Molière later enjoyed such royal support that on several occasions when new plays were opening at court, Louis XIV participated in them, acting small roles and in some cases dancing in the ballets.

The strongest influence on Molière's theater came from the Italian Commedia del arte troupes with their stock characters and situations. He created a gallery of incisive portraits including Tartuffe the religious hypocrite, and Orgon the dupe, Jourdain the social climber; Scapino the trickster; and Argan the hypochondriac.

The Imaginary Invalid is directed by Charles Whetzel. In his third season as director of theater at Coastal, Whetzel also directed Coastal productions of Scapino, South Pacific, Story Theater, and The Glass Menagerie.

"The lasting quality of Molière's humor was the main reason we chose this production," Whetzel said. "We chose this production, as well, to showcase our design team. The technical standards set last season serve only as a starting point for the future of theater at Coastal Carolina College. Theater patrons can expect great visual treats this year," he said.

"Malleon's adaptation makes the play accessible to all audiences and heightens the satire," Whetzel said. "The play is suitable for all ages and families are encouraged to attend."

The cast includes Michael Matthews as Argan. Matthews appeared in South Pacific and Pvt. Wars as well as playing the trickster Scapino in the play of the same name last season.

Coastal students in the production are Michael Kelly, Eric Lavoie, Bridgette Moore, Kimberly Lindemann, Ron Newcomb, Sean Pierce, Beth-Anne Higgins, and Wil Shaw.

Melissa Detwiler, Lou Nordeen, and Ted Detwiler also are members of the cast.

The set is designed by Don Naggiar, who comes to the college from the University Oregon where he earned his master's degree in fine arts. Last summer, Naggiar studied theater in England and France. He teaches introduction to theater arts, acting and technical courses at Coastal.

Vivian Brooks is the costumer for The Imaginary Invalid. She has been the costumer shop foreman at USC Columbia and costumer for the Workshop Theater in Columbia.

Tickets are $8 for adults and $6 for students, and are available in the Wheelwright Box Office, open weekdays from noon to 5 p.m. ~