This Week goes bi-weekly to cut costs

In an effort to reduce the cost of printing and staff production time, This Week will be published every other week starting with this issue. We will continue to distribute the newsletter in campus mail every other Monday and it will include events and information for the upcoming two-week period.

Since there will be twice the information in a limited number of pages, we ask that articles submitted be as brief as possible. We may be required to edit certain articles because of space. Calendar items will include meetings and events that involve 25 or more people.

The deadline will be noon on the Tuesday before publication. We cannot guarantee publication of information submitted after that time.

As an additional cost saving measure, the administration has requested that information normally circulated to faculty and staff in memo form be included in This Week. ~

Faculty, staff respond to Dr. Palms' teleconference

A videotape of the teleconference presented by USC President John Palms on Wednesday, October 9, which outlined a draft strategic philosophy for the system, is available in Kimbel Library.

Immediately following the teleconference, a faculty forum was held to discuss Dr. Palms' remarks and the draft copy of his written document, Building on Tradition: A Statewide Community. A summary of this discussion will be sent to Dr. Palms. A copy of this summary also will be available in Kimbel Library.

Faculty, staff

Any faculty member would would like a copy of Building on Tradition: A Statewide Community, should contact Chris Martin.

On Tuesday, October 29, a system meeting will be held in Columbia to discuss both the teleconference and the written document. Faculty and staff are encouraged to submit their reactions or comments on both to Ron Ingle no later than Monday, October 21. These comments will be included in the discussion on October 29. ~

Women in Business forum set

The Wall School will hold the first in a series of forums called The Wall School of Business and the Community on Wednesday, October 23 at 3:30 p.m., in SCI 208. The forum Women in Business, is free and open to the public.

The forum will feature a panel of business leaders and educators who will discuss the expectations they have for college students with business backgrounds entering the work force.

Included on the panel from Coastal are Janis Chesson, Paul Peterson and SGA president, Trevor Tarleton. Susie Shoman, executive director, Georgetown County Arts Commission and Susan Slack, corporate controller for Waccamaw Corporation also will be on the panel. The forum will be moderated by Marios Katsiolouides and Betsy Puskar.

The forum is sponsored by Coastal's Management and Organization Club, and the Institutional Support Committee of the Board of Visitors of the Wall School of Business. For more information, call Katsiolouides at ext. 2129. ~

Passport to feature jazz-pop great Susannah McCorkle

The 1991-1992 Wheelwright Passport season will feature jazz-pop vocalist Susannah McCorkle, Saturday, October 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium.

McCorkle will appear with her jazz trio at Coastal while travelling from the Algonquin Hotel in New York City, where she appears regularly, to scheduled performances in Japan. Her more than 2,000-song repertoire includes standards by the greatest songwriters of the 20th century including Cole Porter, Johnny Mercer, George Gershwin, Paul Simon, Johnny Mercer, Yip Harburg, and Harry Warren.

American-born, McCorkle began singing professionally as a student in Europe, where she discovered vintage American musicals and jazz. She performs in major clubs and concert halls throughout the country with groups ranging in size from jazz trio to symphony orchestra.

Critics have called her the best female jazz singer of her generation. According to the Sept. 23 issue of New York magazine, "Susannah McCorkle seems to have left even the New York Times speechless, rendering the paper able to gush only that she 'lets her gorgeous, sultry singing transport the listener to places that elude non-musical description.'"

McCorkle, a Concord jazz recording artist, has released 10 albums. She shares the Concord label with legendary artists Rosemary Clooney, Mel Torme and George Shearing. She also is a published fiction writer and a former interpreter and translator in four European languages.

For more information or tickets, contact the box office at extension 2502. ~

Coastal's Teaching Center Network holds conference

The Coastal Carolina College/Horry County Teaching Center Network will hold the 14th conference in its Classroom Series Friday, October 18 at Conway High School. The Teaching Center Network is a collaborative effort to improve instruction in the public schools and in higher education.

The theme Restructuring: Visions for the 21st Century offers educators an opportunity to rethink processes, to reconsider which students do not have opportunities to learn, and to reshape thinking about education as it now exists. The program explores solutions that build on new views of assessment and evaluation; that present researched solution in curriculum, instruction, and technology; and that discuss proven techniques in effective teaching, learning, and supervision.

Keynote speaker Phillip Schlechty, founder of the Center for Leadership and School Reform in Louisville, Kentucky, has written and lectured extensively on educational reform.

This is the largest conference undertaken by the network and will bring together Coastal faculty and students; Horry County teachers, staff, and administrators; and high school Teacher Cadet students.

Officers of the Teaching Center Network are president, Gilbert Stefanides, principal, Conway Middle School; vice president, Johnny Caulder, assistant principal, North Myrtle Beach Middle School; secretary, Jessie Brown, assistant professor at Coastal; and treasurer, Joanne Porter, assistant principal, Socastee Elementary School. Sandy Bowden, director of field services and special projects at Coastal, is the executive director of the network. Jessie Brown is chair of the conference steering committee which is made up of college faculty, students, and school teachers, staff, and administrators. ~

Choir to present pops concerts

The Coastal Carolina Concert Choir will present two pops concerts, Monday, October 21 and Wednesday, October 23 at 12:30 p.m. in the SC overflow area. The performances are free and open to the public.

The Choir is under the direction of Carolyn Cox. The Choral Ensemble, under the direction of William Prante, also will perform.

Program selections include Battle Hymn of the Republic, God Bless the USA, and Summer Me, Winter Me. Soloists include Coastal students Kristi Brown, Rob Powell, Dean Reynolds, Amy Burgess and Carlton Bridges; and professor Preston McKeever-Floyd. ~

Orientation series continues for faculty

The New Faculty Orientation Series, designed to acquaint new faculty with college services, policies, and procedures, will continue on Tuesday, October 29 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Kearns Hall education conference room. All faculty are invited to attend.

Janis Chesson will speak on affirmative action issues.

For more information, contact Chris Martin at extension 2086. ~

Math technology seminar scheduled

Technology in Classrooms which Use Mathematics, a helpful seminar for anyone who uses mathematics in the classroom, will be held Friday, October 18 at 2:30 p.m., in KH 201. The seminar, which is free and open to the public, will explain the use of super-calculators, HP48S, TI-81, and Casio 7700G, and software DERIVE and MATHEMATICA. For information, contact Subhash Saxena at extension 2076. ~

Graduate registration, advisement for spring 1992 semester set

Advisement appointments for graduate students on the Coastal campus for the spring 1992 semester may be scheduled Monday, November 4 through Friday, November 8 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Graduate Office. Students also may register in the Graduate Office following advisement.

According to Helen Hood, graduate registrar at Coastal, students will avoid lines during the late registration period in January and may have a better selection of classes if they take this opportunity to register early.

Students will be able to use telephone registration (TIPS) beginning Wednesday, November 6. Spring 1992 invoices will be mailed Tuesday, December 10.

USC graduate courses are offered at Coastal in education, librarianship, English, math, psychology, history, government, art education, social work, and public health administration.

Television instruction through USC in some disciplines provides an alternative to traditional classroom instruction. Instruction for these courses is offered on closed-circuit television, through ETV or on tapes. Courses leading to the Professional MBA degree and the master's of engineering degree are included.

For more information about registration or eligibility requirements, contact the Graduate Office at extension 2671. ~

If you've been in the news, PR wants to know

Public Relations is preparing an article about faculty who have been featured in the news or who have shared their expertise about timely issues with reporters. The article will be the cover story in the next issue of Preview, a recruitment publication that is issued five times a year by Public Relations and Admissions.

The expertise and diversity of our faculty is a great asset to our college, and we want to make certain high school students know our story before they make a decision about what college to attend.

Public Relations keeps records of media contacts made through the office; however, many media contacts are made directly with faculty. If you have information to share, please call Cathy McPherson at extension 2015. She will take the information over the telephone or set up a meeting time that is convenient for you. Preview goes to press October 21. ~

Athletic season tickets now available!

With the interest generated for season tickets for Coastal's 1991-1992 basketball season, seats in Kimbel Gymnasium have been numbered and season tickets will be sold. The purchase of a season ticket includes admission to home games for men's and women's basketball, baseball and soccer.

The price for faculty and staff, if purchased before Tuesday, November 5, is $25 for an individual and $65 for spouse and up to two children. After November 5, the cost will be the regular season ticket price of $5 per game, $50 for an individual, or $125 for a spouse and up to two children. Season ticket holders have reserved seat(s) during the entire basketball season.

Faculty and staff who would like an application or more information, should contact Carole Abner at extension 2820, or Sports Information at extension 2822. ~

Faculty House memberships available

Faculty House memberships are available for faculty and staff members for a fee of $20 per semester. Several social events are being planned for members and will be announced as they occur. For more information or to join Faculty House, contact Jimmy Soles at extension 2362 or Linda Hollandsworth at extension 2439. ~

Support Group for students formed

The Alcohol and Drug Prevention Program will sponsor a support group for students in recovery from alcohol, drugs, or eating disorders. The group will meet every Wednesday, beginning October 23 and continuing through the end of the fall semester, from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in KL 239. Attendance is not required at every meeting.

For more information, contact Vicki Gardner at extension 2340. ~

Intramural Update

Intramural activities for the fall semester are being enjoyed by the most participants in the past few years. Coastal currently has 16 teams involved in flag football. Games are played Monday through Thursday from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the soccer practice field.

Other intramural activities include free aerobics held on Monday and Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 7 p.m. and six-on-six co-ed volleyball which will begin Wednesday, October 23.

Timex Fitness Week will be observed Monday, October 21 through Thursday, October 24, with many activities planned. Participants will be eligible to win free gifts and discount coupons for products.

The Intramural Department will host a faculty and staff night during November where faculty and staff can learn more about intramural programs and participate in activities. Details will be announced at a later date.

For more information about the intramural program for faculty, staff, and students, contact Debbie Fore at extension 2830, or visit the intramural office in WB 104. ~

Coastal plans Pearl Harbor commemoration

Coastal will hold a special ceremony Saturday, December 7 at 10 a.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium to mark the 50th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor. Speakers and film footage of the Pearl Harbor bombing are included in the program. The ceremony is free and open to the public, and a special invitation is extended to World War II veterans. For more information, contact Randall Wells at extension 2433. ~

Nineteen vie for 1991 Ms. Coastal Carolina College crown

The 1991 Ms. Coastal Carolina College Pageant will be held Saturday, October 19 at 7 p.m. in Wheelwright Auditorium. The pageant is open to the public. Admission is $3 and $2 for students.

To compete, contestants must be sponsored by a campus club or organization, have at least a 2.0 grade point ratio, and be full-time Coastal students. The winner will be selected based upon competitions in talent, evening gown, response to a random question, and an interview held prior to the pageant.

For more information, contact the Student Activities Office at extension 2303. ~

This Week is published biweekly on Monday by the Public Relations Office. Information to be included should be submitted by noon the Tuesday before publication.

Coastal Carolina People

Karen D. Carpenter's article "Oxygen Transport in the Blood" was published in Critical Care Nurse: The Journal of Clinical Excellence for Critical Care Nurses, Vol. 11, No. 9. The article is comprised of how oxygen is dissolved in the blood; transmitted through the bloodstream by hemoglobin; factors that affect oxygen delivery to body cells in critically ill patients whose inherent physiologic mechanisms have been compromised; and a discussion of factors that affect the oxyhemoglobin dissociation curve. The article was selected as the feature article for continuing education credits for October 1991.

David Barnwell has had a book review published in the current edition of the journal Language. His review is of Learning Strategies in Second Language Acquisition by J. M. O'Malley and A. Chamot.

Jack M. Kendree II has been selected as associate editor for the Journal of Real Estate Literature (JREL). This national journal, published by the American Real Estate Society (ARES), publishes a high quality series of case studies suitable for classroom use. He will serve as a referee for these real estate cases.

Linda Lyerly was recently nominated for and attended the National Leadership Institute on Aging held in Estes Park, Colorado. The ten-day institute, sponsored by a grant from the U.S. Administration on Aging, is co-ordinated by faculty at the University of Colorado at Denver.

Paul Rice will be on the faculty of the South Carolina Writers Workshop's annual meeting at Hilton Head October 18-20. Along with Ann Deagon, Toi Derricotte, Leon Stokesbury, and David Bottom, he will be reading his poetry, conducting workshops, and lecturing on the craft of poetry.

Fred Hicks recently made a presentation on Vietnam War literature and poetry to four of Barbara Goggan's senior and honor students classes at Socastee High School. ~
