FELINE INFESTATION

The CHANTICLER
FREE | Feb. 20th - Feb. 24th, 2012 | Vol: 50 Issue 17
the student voice of Coastal Carolina University

NEWS

FELINE INFESTATION

SGA Elections QA/RA will be the presidential candidates

STUDENT LIFE

Student Highlights Student Manual for EPSA seed

FEATURES

Coastal Dance Party Zaheela benefitted from Gehrig’s Disease

OPINION

Ask the Mighty Or One of your sources of nourishment

SPORTS

Win it for the Skipper Coastal Softball gets Coach 600 Win

SGA elections QA/RA will be the presidential candidates

NEWS

ZACH DERITIS

Those of you who live on or around campus are most likely aware of the wild cats roaming the grounds. These wild cats may seem cute and cuddly, but students and community members should be warned: they could potentially be harmful to your health.

Aside from creating a lot of noise and tearing through people’s trash, many of these stray cats have not been vaccinated or neutered, which means they could be carrying dangerous diseases that can spread to other litter they produce.

It is a common practice in South Carolina for business, home and farm owners to use these cats to protect their property from pests like rats, snakes and rodents that could harm crops. The issue is these cats are very rarely spayed or neutered before they are released into the wild, creating a boom in the population. Some cats have been seen living in and around dumpsters for months at a time, because they serve as a readily available food source.

This problem with wild cat populations is not limited to just the Courtyard/Myrtle Beach area; it is an issue all over the state. According to a report done by WIS News 10 in Columbia, South Carolina, one cat could be responsible for a half-million kittens in one year. With all of these cats, there is the potential of people getting diseases from them only increase.

“We have problems with fleas and people can get sick from when they go to the bathroom,” said James Hendricks Jr., the director of Facilities Operations at the Office of Facilities Planning and Management. “There’s even a problem with rabies. The cats sometimes fight the raccoons for food and the raccoons sometimes spread rabies to the cats.”

These cats are not typically dangerous. In fact, they typically try to avoid contact with people as much as possible. According to Sandy Williams, the director of Facilities Planning and Management, one man was attacked when he opened the bed of his truck.

Unprovoked attacks are very uncommon, but not as uncommon, when people get too close to the cats. Some people have a need to take care of or feed these stray cats, which is when the situation becomes dangerous.

Both the Human Society of Horry County and a non-profit organization based in Myrtle Beach called San-R-Cats strongly urge people not to feed these cats. As hard as it is to be turned to these adorable animals, feeding them just creates more problems. They become dependent on people, which mean they stop going after the pests like the rats and snakes. It also means you are just exposing yourself to diseases like a bacterial infection known as Salmonellosis, a disease that spreads from cat feces known as Tompills, and of course rabies, which can be difficult to identify because the cats are not as partial to hunting either at night or day as other animals. Nocturnal animals roaming around during the day is a tell-tale sign of the upcoming most species.

San-R-Cats established a new alternative to petting the animals down called TNR, which stands for Trap, Neuter and Release. This is a safe process in which animal control officers trap the cats, bring them to the animal shelter where they are spayed or neutered as well as given vaccinations, and then released back where they were found.

The Human Society of Animal have also given the CNS area a warning that says, as the weather gets warmer, the more kittens will be last but remember that feeding them without giving them a proper home is doing more harm than good so please, just leave them be.

These cats are called “feral” or wild cats. Feral cats are either born in the wild and have no previously established relationships with humans or they are born domesticated, lost, and reverted back to their primal instincts to survive.

STUDENT VERSUS FOOD

COURTNEY MOSER

On campus, students always talk about food. Whether they are stating they are hungry, trying to figure out what they are going to scrounge up out of their kitchen, what they ate last night for dinner, or where they are going to eat on campus, food is always a common topic.

The conversation can go on forever, and if you have been on campus recently, you have probably heard the gossip of the sickness going around due to on-campus dining.

Rumors spread like wildfire, and it started with students getting sick from something they ate. freshman Melissa Birenbrad was one of them. Birenbrad was having a normal weekend hanging out with her friends in her UP dorm when all of the sudden her stom- ach started to ache uncontrollably. She didn’t know what was wrong except that she couldn’t leave the bathroom. She was sick to her stomach for 9 hours straight until she finally called a friend to take her to the hospital.

Once at the hospital, the doctors did the normal check-up for a walk-in patient. They asked Melissa what she ate that, and she replied, “3 bagels, chicken wrap from University Place Deli.” The doctors at the hospital then felt the need to tell her she was the fifth student to come in with the same symptoms that day after eating from Coastal Dining Services.

“I was shocked to hear that news, but even more relieved that it wasn’t just me,” Birenbrad said.

While at the hospital, the doctors treated her symptoms by giving her medicine to help with the nausea and diarrhea.

“I was prescribed Phenergan, which is an anti-nausea medicine, and was told to stay hydrated and to only consume liquids for 24 hours.”

Now, this diagnosis is a little more difficult than a cut and dry answer. Rumors that the students’ illness were caused by Salmonella, a farm of food poisoning that is caused by an infection of a bacterial stomach virus, which gave them these same symptoms.

Many of the students who went to the hospital or who had symptoms but did not get treated are all recovered and going about their normal lives again.

“It was annoying and debilitating, but it wasn’t the end of the world,” said Birenbrad.

If you have any symptoms you should follow the R.P.R. diet: rest, painting bread, rice, apples and toast. Also, stay hydrated until the virus passes. Make sure you wash your hands with soap and water and tell your friends to do the same. If you have any more questions, contact Student Health Services at (843) 394-6454.

PHOTO CREDIT: Courtesy of Campus Photo

PHOTO CREDIT: Courtesy of Campus Photo

The CHANTICLER
SGA PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

CHAD YATES

PHOTO: Chad Yates

JENNA KAZMIERCZAK

Art Director

PHOTO EDITOR:

Courtney Moer

SECTION EDITORS:

Jenni Davis

Cari Nogas

Alex Altman

BUSINESS MANAGER:

James Zeller

FACULTY ADVISORS:

Patricia O’Connor

Owen Eaves

The Chanticleer is the editorially independent student-produced newspaper of Coastal Carolina University. It is published weekly during the fall and spring semesters with an Orientation Issue distributed during summer months.

Opinions expressed in The Chanticleer are those of the editors or author and do not necessarily express the opinions of the university's student body, administration, faculty or staff.

Letters to the editor are welcome from the CCU community. The editor reserves the right to condense submissions and edit for length and space. Submission does not guarantee publication.

Advertisements are paid advertisements and reflect the views and opinions of the advertiser, not The Chanticleer or Coastal Carolina University.

Some material MAY NOT be suitable for people under 17 years of age.

The Chanticleer is committed to accuracy. If you find an error in this edition of The Chanticleer, let us know. Report mistakes to thechanticleer@gmail.com and corrections will be printed in the following issue.

MEET THE STAFF

SHANE NORRIS

Editor-in-Chief

CHAD YATES

Asst. Editor

Desmond Wallace

Why do you think you are the best candidate for the president of SGA?

After serving in SGA for four years, I know what it takes to be a successful student body president. I have held a number of leadership positions in SGA during my tenure and currently serve as chief of staff. I have served as president of Phi Alpha Delta (a law fraternity), served as the chair of CUC’s delegation to the South Carolina Student Legislature and was team captain of CUC’s first Mock Trial team. Through all of these different roles, I have acquired the leadership qualities necessary to lead SGA in order to serve as the student body advocate.

What will be your plan of action to implement those goals?

The first thing I will do is meet with the administration to discuss our plans for the upcoming year. I will also hold at least two town hall meetings each semester, open to all students. I will also work with The Chanticleer to have SGA updates printed weekly and appear on WCCU radio whenever possible.

How will you, as the Student Body President, help foster a better student experience at Coastal Carolina University?

As the student body president, I will continue to reach out to all students. It is my experience that students are looking for ways to get involved on campus. However, getting involved does not necessarily mean joining a student organization. I will work with The Chanticleer to have SGA updates printed weekly and appear on WCCU radio whenever possible. By being involved, I have learned a lot about the job done right. As a Communication leader, I have the opportunity to see my opinions and ideas.

What specific skills do you bring to the table that makes you a good fit for this position?

As noted above, because of the number of leadership positions I have held on campus, I possess the necessary leadership skills to lead SGA. Not only have I held leadership positions in SGA, I have gone beyond my role. In the past, I have sat in on Executive Board meetings, filled in as chair of the Executive Board meetings and served as facilitator for the Executive Board’s monthly meeting.

How will you engage with students to best explore the needs of the student body?

I pledge to attend as many club and organization meetings as possible. In addition, I will hold at least two town hall meetings each semester, open to all students. I will also work with The Chanticleer to have SGA updates printed weekly and appear on WCCU radio whenever possible.

How will you, as the Student Body President, help foster a better student experience at Coastal Carolina University?

As the student body president, I will continue to reach out to all students. It is my experience that students are looking for ways to get involved on campus. However, getting involved does not necessarily mean joining a student organization. I will work with The Chanticleer to have SGA updates printed weekly and appear on WCCU radio whenever possible.

What specific skills do you bring to the table that makes you a good fit for this position?

As noted above, because of the number of leadership positions I have held on campus, I possess the necessary leadership skills to lead SGA. Not only have I held leadership positions in SGA, I have gone beyond my role. In the past, I have sat in on Executive Board meetings, filled in as chair of the Executive Board meetings and served as facilitator for the Executive Board’s monthly meeting.

How will you engage with students to best explore the needs of the student body?

I hold SGA meetings once a week and I would like to implement an open forum once a month where the students can express their thoughts and opinions on the school, so I can take that back to the faculty. Also, I would like to work with a bunch of organizations, I hope to get some opinions from them.

How will you, as the Student Body President, help foster a better student experience at Coastal Carolina University?

If we can get students involved when they are freshmen, I believe it will change the entire Coastal experience. The students will meet more people and make connections which in turn will enhance their networking and brighten their Coastal experience.

What specific skills do you bring to the table that makes you a good fit for this position?

I am very sociable, which helps me network and meet some people. This will help me get the things I need to do faster and more efficiently. Also, by being involved, I have learned a lot about how Coastal is run and who I need to talk to get the job done right. As a Communication major, I am not afraid to speak in front of a group of people or represent the student body.

Anything else you would like to add?

I would like to encourage everyone to come out and vote. I want everyone to be heard and have a voice. I would also like to thank you for the opportunity to run and I hope to see my opinions and ideas in the student body advocate.

Alex Rutherford

Why do you think you are the best candidate for the president of SGA?

Because I have been very involved on campus. I have been in SGA for two years and on four other main goals or missions that you will set out to achieve as president?

My main goals are to get the information on what is going on around campus out to the students. I want the students to be actively involved on campus and help enrich the student experience.

What will be your plan of action to implement those goals?

I want to work with clubs and organizations involved in the freshman orientation classes so students can get involved and be active on campus. I would also try to get information to the students when the fact is found that otherwise, when the new student recreational center is finished and when parking lots are being closed.

How will you, as the Student Body President, help foster a better student experience at Coastal Carolina University?

If we can get students involved when they are freshmen, I believe it will change the entire Coastal experience. The students will meet more people and make connections which in turn will enhance their networking and brighten their Coastal experience.

What specific skills do you bring to the table that makes you a good fit for this position?

I am very sociable, which helps me network and meet some people. This will help me get the things I need to do faster and more efficiently. Also, by being involved, I have learned a lot about how Coastal is run and who I need to talk to get the job done right. As a Communication major, I am not afraid to speak in front of a group of people or represent the student body.

Anything else you would like to add?

I would like to encourage everyone to come out and vote. I want everyone to be heard and have a voice. I would also like to thank you for the opportunity to run and I hope to see my opinions and ideas not an easy vote, said Assembly Deputy Speaker John Wisniewski. "The fight for civil rights has never been an easy battle."

CASEY RUTKOWSKI

Leadership opportunities in fraternities and sororities can range in levels of responsibility. The most responsibility and pressure, however, is on the Executive Board. An executive board usually consists of seven or eight people who run the chapter and organize events. Though each chapter may not call each position the same, generally boards have the same duties.

All of the Greek organizations have a chapter president. The president is the face of him or her chapter and is responsible for the safety and actions of the chapter. They oversee all other positions in the organizations and work to make their organization perform to the best of its ability and international standards.

“Is it my second term as President of Gamma Phi Beta?” said Amber Baasikis. “And though it is a lot of work, it is more rewarding to know that when I work my hardest, I see my sisters have fun, win events and awards for our chapter and grow into beautiful women.”

Executive boards help the president with many duties.

“Though I am president, my executive board makes it easier to lead the chapter,” said Baasikis. “We have a great team with one common interest of wanting the absolute best for every sister and wanting to make alumni proud of our chapter.”

Another position on the executive board is the vice president. The vice president does a lot of the paper work for the chapter.

Financial vice president, or treasurer, is also a very important position on the board that deals with the finances of the chapter. The financial vice president deals with all of the dues submitted by members and manages the organization’s budget and bills.

There is also a membership educational vice president that handles and schedules all of the brotherhood or sisterhood events for the semester. This position equally focuses on the academic status of each member and the chapter as a whole.

Membership vice president is a position on the executive board that revolves around the recruitment process of the chapter. This position makes the decision of what to wear, how to recruits, bid day events and oversees the entire recruitment process. Depending on the Panhellic council, there is a vice president that is in charge of handling relations with other chapters on campus and discussing events in Greek life. They are also in charge of events like Greek Week.

A public relations vice president’s duties are to control the image of the chapter and regulate the view of the chapter to others.

Every executive board’s position is vital to running a Greek organization and they work together to make the chapter function.

LEADERSHIP THROUGH EXECUTIVE BOARDS

GIVE P.E.A.C.E. A CHANCE

JAMES ZELLER

Each year, several new clubs and organizations are formed here at Coastal. The newest of these, P.E.A.C.E., was formed just this semester and is looking for interested students to join. P.E.A.C.E. is an acronym for “Performers Emerging Above Circumstances to Excel.”

P.E.A.C.E. is an organization with ambitions of uniting great poets, rappers, singers, artists and writers who are striving to be innovators to create new ideas for our generation. P.E.A.C.E. will hold its first event, an Open-Mic night, at the end of March. Looking ahead, P.E.A.C.E. also plans to hold a weekly freestyle battle, called 106 & CHANT, for aspiring rappers to showcase their skills. President Joshua Bosill has high aspirations for P.E.A.C.E. and encourages members to, “be one of the individuals responsible for setting a trend; not following it... Soon P.E.A.C.E. will be a trend on this campus and everybody will follow it. So make sure you’re a part of setting that trend now.”

As a new organization, P.E.A.C.E. is still looking for more members with talent and ambition to enhance the Coastal experience. P.E.A.C.E. will also attempt to connect with the local community by performing at the local school as a form of community service. Anyone interested in more information about P.E.A.C.E. can contact President Joshua Bosill at jbosill@coastal.edu.

CASEY RUTKOWSKI

Many of the Greek organizations have a chapter president. The president is the face of the chapter and is responsible for the safety and actions of the chapter. They oversee all other positions in the organizations and work to make their organization perform to the best of its ability and international standards.

“Is it my second term as President of Gamma Phi Beta?” said Amber Baasikis. “And though it is a lot of work, it is more rewarding to know that when I work my hardest, I see my sisters have fun, win events and awards for our chapter and grow into beautiful women.”

Executive boards help the president with many duties.

“Though I am president, my executive board makes it easier to lead the chapter,” said Baasikis. “We have a great team with one common interest of wanting the absolute best for every sister and wanting to make alumni proud of our chapter.”

Another position on the executive board is the vice president. The vice president does a lot of the paper work for the chapter.

Financial vice president, or treasurer, is also a very important position on the board that deals with the finances of the chapter. The financial vice president deals with all of the dues submitted by members and manages the organization’s budget and bills.

There is also a membership educational vice president that handles and schedules all of the brotherhood or sisterhood events for the semester. This position equally focuses on the academic status of each member and the chapter as a whole.

Membership vice president is a position on the executive board that revolves around the recruitment process of the chapter. This position makes the decision of what to wear, how to recruits, bid day events and oversees the entire recruitment process. Depending on the Panhellic council, there is a vice president that is in charge of handling relations with other chapters on campus and discussing events in Greek life. They are also in charge of events like Greek Week.

A public relations vice president’s duties are to control the image of the chapter and regulate the view of the chapter to others.

Every executive board’s position is vital to running a Greek organization and they work together to make the chapter function.

COASTAL STUDENT SELECTED FOR CYBERINFRASTRUCTURE PROGRAM

SHANE NORRIS

A few weeks ago, Brian Atkinson, got some very exciting news. The Junior Computer Science major found out he was one of 50 students nationwide selected for 2011-2012 Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) Cyberinfrastructure Student Engagement Program.

“I was stoked,” said Atkinson. “I have an internship going with Clemson now. I was hoping Noth- ing’s a guarantee but it felt good going into it.”

Atkinson attends an orientation for the program Feb. 21 through Feb. 23 and from then on will participate in bimonthly webinars throughout the year. With successful completion of the course Atkinson would become qualified to attend SC12, a super computing conference.

“I went to SC11 and words just can’t describe it,” said Atkinson.

All his life Atkinson has enjoyed working with computers, but just recently he decided to pursue them as a career. After taking courses in music Atkinson took some time off and ended up working for Christie Digital Systems.

Atkinson plans to finish his undergraduate degree at Coastal before finding a graduate program.

MEET THE GREEK

CAROL NORGAS

Alex Rutherford

Sophomore
Communication Major
Pi Kappa Phi

Where are you from?
Spartanburg, South Carolina

What are your commitments outside of your sorority?
I am parliamentarian for SGA, in College Republicans, a part of CINOQuest and work with WCUM Radio.

Have you held any positions within Gamma Phi Beta?
I was Relay for Life and Scott Hucks chair last semester and I am currently the Push America Chairman

Have you learned anything about leadership?
Leadership is a skill that takes time to master and is truly essential to run all organizations.

What is your favorite part about Greek Life?
Brotherhood and all the bonds and friendships I have made along the way.

COASTAL STUDENT SELECTED FOR CYBERINFRASTRUCTURE PROGRAM

SHANE NORRIS

A few weeks ago, Brian Atkinson, got some very exciting news. The Junior Computer Science major found out he was one of 50 students nationwide selected for 2011-2012 Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) Cyberinfrastructure Student Engagement Program.

“I was stoked,” said Atkinson. “I have an internship going with Clemson now. I was hoping Nothing’s a guarantee but it felt good going into it.”

Atkinson attends an orientation for the program Feb. 21 through Feb. 23 and from then on will participate in bimonthly webinars throughout the year. With successful completion of the course Atkinson would become qualified to attend SC12, a super computing conference.

“I went to SC11 and words just can’t describe it,” said Atkinson.

All his life Atkinson has enjoyed working with computers, but just recently he decided to pursue them as a career. After taking courses in music Atkinson took some time off and ended up working for Christie Digital Systems.

Atkinson plans to finish his undergraduate degree at Coastal before finding a graduate program.
WE WANT YOU!

We are currently seeking as many contributing writers as possible. We encourage any prospective writers to attend our weekly meetings on Mondays at 6:00 p.m. in the LB Jackson Center room 206. The Chanticleer is a great way for prospective writers to acquire published material and gain valuable experience for possible internships and job opportunities.

Story ideas can be submitted to The Chanticleer via email at chanticleervews@gmail.com. You can follow us on Twitter @ChanticleerNews, and look for us on Facebook at The Chanticleer. We look forward to receiving your articles and welcoming you to our staff.

CORRECTION FROM THE LAST ISSUE

The Chanticleer would like to point out an error in Issue 16. There was a rouge number four in the front page photo. This was an accident that slipped through the editing process.

WCCU RADIO UPDATE

WCCU Radio is pleased to announce its new on-air staff, after auditioning two weeks ago. The station took on 10 new DJs with shows ranging from advice talk shows to specific types of music shows to a new comedy show. Be on the lookout for show names, dates and times on flyers posted all around campus.

The management at WCCU Radio, along with the adviser team, is looking for students who would like the experience to be the new management staff starting in the fall of 2017. The positions of station manager, program manager and business/marketing manager are available. An email with more information will be sent out soon, but if there is any interest, please contact Patricia O'Connor at poconno@coastal.edu to express your interest.

If you are having trouble listening to the station online, it is available on iTunes Radio, the College Radio Network, search "Coastal Carolina." There is also an app available on Android and iPhone; "Tune In" and search "Coastal Carolina."

Listen live every hour of everyday to WCCU Radio!

SARA KASPER

Fight against Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), also known as Lou Gehrig’s Disease while being away from your usual, boring workout. Coastal is hosting a Zumbathon to raise money to support victims of ALS on Wed., Feb 22 at 5 p.m. in the small gym in the Williams-Brice building.

ALS is a disease affecting the nerve cells that control voluntary movement. Victims of ALS lose control of their muscles and often become paralyzed. Zumb instructors Leah Barcellona, Ashlee Do­

United They Dance

Krista Gierlach

Haley Chapel is a junior Acting Major at Coastal Carolina University starring as Beatrice Rasponi in “Servant of Two Masters,” currently running in the Edwards Blackbox Theatre.

In this production, her first “main stage” role at CCE, she plays a woman who is dressed as a man for the entirety of the show.

This proved to be easy for her because it’s not the first time she’s had to perform as the opposite gender.

“I’ve done this whole pretending to be a boy more than once,” said Chapel.

Chapel has been involved in several “Second Stage,” or student run, productions, including “Dead Man’s Cell Phone” last semester.

Chapel expresses much joy in working on “Servant of Two Masters,” specifically with guest director Joe DiFattachere.

“He is fantastic, it’s such a breath of fresh air,” said Chapel. “He has insight to stuff none of us has ever worked with. He is just fantastic, and funny.”

hope to do even better with this one.”

Of course, those that partake in Zumba do more than just raise money. The ultimate goal of participants is to get a great workout and promote healthy lifestyles through dance. Zumba has become popular all over the nation. It draws the great workout from fun, energetic, sassy dance moves.

“We’re not there just to get paid. We are there to promote a healthy lifestyle and show people that working out isn’t supposed to be hard or boring, it’s supposed to be fun,” said Barcellona.

“We encourage everyone to come out and join us on Wednesday, it will be a lot of fun. So ditch the workout and join the party!”

The event is completely free, but donations are encouraged.

Although a gifted actor, Chapel hasn’t always dreamed of going to school for acting. She is originally from Richmond, Va. and planned to study in Hawaii for Animal Conservation while acting on the side.

However, after some convincing from her parents, she chose to make acting her major and came to study at Coastal. Chapel said she takes a lot of what she does from her favorite actress Natalie Port­man and French actress Marion Cotillard.

Prior to any show she’s been in, Chapel runs a mile to get out of [her] own head.

After shows, she said she tries to let the charac­ter go.

“I’ve played disturbing characters and I have a hard time getting out of character, so I have to make a conscious effort to map back into Haley,” said Chapel.

Chapel plans to continue acting once she graduates. However, she plans to take her studying abroad to Italy next semester because she wants to act outside the US because of how appreciated acting is overseas.

Ultimately, Chapel is willing to let life take her down whichever path it is destined.

“My plan is to follow my heart,” said Chapel.

BACKSTAGE BIOS

United They Dance

Krista Gierlach

Haley Chapel is a junior Acting Major at Coastal Carolina University starring as Beatrice Rasponi in “Servant of Two Masters,” currently running in the Edwards Blackbox Theatre.

In this production, her first "main stage" role at CCE, she plays a woman who is dressed as a man for the entirety of the show.

This proved to be easy for her because it’s not the first time she’s had to perform as the opposite gender.

“I’ve done this whole pretending to be a boy more than once,” said Chapel.

Chapel has been involved in several “Second Stage,” or student run, productions, including “Dead Man’s Cell Phone” last semester.

Chapel expresses much joy in working on “Servant of Two Masters,” specifically with guest director Joe DiFattachere.

“He is fantastic, it’s such a breath of fresh air,” said Chapel. “He has insight to stuff none of us has ever worked with. He is just fantastic, and funny.”

hope to do even better with this one.”

Of course, those that partake in Zumba do more than just raise money. The ultimate goal of participants is to get a great workout and promote healthy lifestyles through dance. Zumba has become popular all over the nation. It draws the great workout from fun, energetic, sassy dance moves.

“We’re not there just to get paid. We are there to promote a healthy lifestyle and show people that working out isn’t supposed to be hard or boring, it’s supposed to be fun,” said Barcellona.

“We encourage everyone to come out and join us on Wednesday, it will be a lot of fun. So ditch the workout and join the party!”

The event is completely free, but donations are encouraged.

Although a gifted actor, Chapel hasn’t always dreamed of going to school for acting. She is originally from Richmond, Va. and planned to study in Hawaii for Animal Conservation while acting on the side.

However, after some convincing from her parents, she chose to make acting her major and came to study at Coastal. Chapel said she takes a lot of what she does from her favorite actress Natalie Portman and French actress Marion Cotillard.

Prior to any show she’s been in, Chapel runs a mile to get out of [her] own head.

After shows, she said she tries to let the charac­ter go.

“I’ve played disturbing characters and I have a hard time getting out of character, so I have to make a conscious effort to map back into Haley,” said Chapel.

Chapel plans to continue acting once she graduates. However, she plans to take her studying abroad to Italy next semester because she wants to act outside the US because of how appreciated acting is overseas.

Ultimately, Chapel is willing to let life take her down whichever path it is destined.

“My plan is to follow my heart,” said Chapel.

BACKSTAGE BIOS

SARA KASPER

Fight against Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), also known as Lou Gehrig’s Disease while being away from your usual, boring workout. Coastal is hosting a Zumbathon to raise money to support victims of ALS on Wed., Feb 22 at 5 p.m. in the small gym in the Williams-Brice building.

ALS is a disease affecting the nerve cells that control voluntary movement. Victims of ALS lose control of their muscles and often become paralyzed. Zumb instructors Leah Barcellona, Ashlee Do­

Krista Gierlach

Haley Chapel is a junior Acting Major at Coastal Carolina University starring as Beatrice Rasponi in “Servant of Two Masters,” currently running in the Edwards Blackbox Theatre.

In this production, her first “main stage” role at CCE, she plays a woman who is dressed as a man for the entirety of the show.

This proved to be easy for her because it’s not the first time she’s had to perform as the opposite gender.

“I’ve done this whole pretending to be a boy more than once,” said Chapel.

Chapel has been involved in several “Second Stage,” or student run, productions, including “Dead Man’s Cell Phone” last semester.

Chapel expresses much joy in working on “Servant of Two Masters,” specifically with guest director Joe DiFattachere.

“He is fantastic, it’s such a breath of fresh air,” said Chapel. “He has insight to stuff none of us has ever worked with. He is just fantastic, and funny.”

hope to do even better with this one.”

Of course, those that partake in Zumba do more than just raise money. The ultimate goal of participants is to get a great workout and promote healthy lifestyles through dance. Zumba has become popular all over the nation. It draws the great workout from fun, energetic, sassy dance moves.

“We’re not there just to get paid. We are there to promote a healthy lifestyle and show people that working out isn’t supposed to be hard or boring, it’s supposed to be fun,” said Barcellona.

“We encourage everyone to come out and join us on Wednesday, it will be a lot of fun. So ditch the workout and join the party!”

The event is completely free, but donations are encouraged.

Although a gifted actor, Chapel hasn’t always dreamed of going to school for acting. She is originally from Richmond, Va. and planned to study in Hawaii for Animal Conservation while acting on the side.

However, after some convincing from her parents, she chose to make acting her major and came to study at Coastal. Chapel said she takes a lot of what she does from her favorite actress Natalie Portman and French actress Marion Cotillard.

Prior to any show she’s been in, Chapel runs a mile to get out of [her] own head.

After shows, she said she tries to let the charac­ter go.

“I’ve played disturbing characters and I have a hard time getting out of character, so I have to make a conscious effort to map back into Haley,” said Chapel.

Chapel plans to continue acting once she graduates. However, she plans to take her studying abroad to Italy next semester because she wants to act outside the US because of how appreciated acting is overseas.

Ultimately, Chapel is willing to let life take her down whichever path it is destined.

“My plan is to follow my heart,” said Chapel.

BACKSTAGE BIOS

SARA KASPER

Fight against Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), also known as Lou Gehrig’s Disease while being away from your usual, boring workout. Coastal is hosting a Zumbathon to raise money to support victims of ALS on Wed., Feb 22 at 5 p.m. in the small gym in the Williams-Brice building.

ALS is a disease affecting the nerve cells that control voluntary movement. Victims of ALS lose control of their muscles and often become paralyzed. Zumb instructors Leah Barcellona, Ashlee Do­
MAKING SOME ME TIME

CHAD YATES

You ever get the feeling that there's just not enough time in the day to accomplish what you want? If you do, trust me, you aren't alone. I feel that way almost every single day. It's kind of weird. I try to stay ahead of the curve when it comes to getting much every aspect of my life, sometimes so much that I drive myself crazy thinking about all the things I want to do in my life. I definitely think that's a good characteristic to have, but it has almost gotten me in "work, work, work" mindset so much that I feel totally out of place if I'm not constantly doing something to help myself out.

If you are like me in that sense, there's something that you need to consider. While you may be so wrapped up in whatever you are working on at the time, the little things that are so vital can often go unnoticed.

I find myself so concerned with things like: polishing my resume, getting the paper done, getting school-work done, writing papers, exploring options, and then it hit me that they were completely putting me a cliche. But seriously... it's so true. A lot of the things that we are most proud of and that need attention. Balance is important, so make time.

This semester I have neglected an amazing source of culture right beneath my nose for the past three and a half years... Coastal's performing arts. In the Chanticleer we've featured CCU's performing arts before... and in fact Coastal was rated one of the best theatre departments in the world, but I wonder how many students have actually witnessed or enjoyed in.

This semester I've attended two totally different style of performances, musical theatre in Bigfoot and Other Lost Souls and physical theatre in A Servant of Two Masters. Both productions amazed me with the skill and talent of the performers... and then it hit me that they were CCU students and that's something for us all to be proud of. I wouldn't at all be surprised to hear that in a few years current Coastal students are off on Broadway or in Europe performing.

So I guess the message I'm trying to get across is, take advantage of the awesome talent that is before us while it's only $5-$10 a ticket because one day it'll cost a whole lot more.

SHANE NORRIS

CURTAIN CALL TO ACTION

I've always fancied myself as a cultured person. I attended theatre in high school, visited art museums and the like, I'm no renaissance man by son... a long shot but I like the arts. However, until this extremely dire.

So a few weeks ago, I decided to help out coaching two youth basketball teams in Surfside. For me, while I know it is no truly heroic deed or anything, it is something that's very intrinsically rewarding. It's really crazy how something that simple can make you feel so great.

I think, for anyone who is constantly on the go, taking a little time out of your day to do something that gives you a satisfied feeling, no matter what it is, is crucial. I know sometimes it's hard to do that when your brain is running a million miles an hour with a multitude of different thoughts, but it provides a necessary outlet from everything else going on that allows you to see things differently, even if just for a split second.

So, I encourage you go-getters to remain go-getters, but there's a whole other part of you that needs attention. Make time, please.

Ask the Mighty Oz

Dear Hopelessly Homesick,

So you have crossed over the excited phase that consumes most first year college students and the reality is setting in. The friends you have made here may seem kind of superficial, the beach a bit murky and your mood a little blue. I think everyone hits this wall at some point during undergrad; I know I did. You don't have to be hopeless though. There are diamonds in the rough all around us. You might be surprised by the people that are very compatible with you here at CCU and in the Conway Myrtle Beach area. I would bet that there are tons facing your very dilemma. Involves yourself in some community and collegiate activities that you think that you might enjoy. Birds of a feather flock together (very true for the second cliche). But seriously, get out there and start some conversations, and when you do, don't hold them up to any preconceived expectations, just have an open mind and an open heart.

Of course this shouldn't take away from the relationships that still live back in your hometown. Utilize all of the tools at your disposal to stay connected with loved ones back home. Make a random phone call just to check up, comment on a few pictures on Facebook, send an e-mail about something that reminded you of someone or made you laugh. Remember, the strongest relationships don't require constant communication though it is nice to have. The people who really love you, with whom you have a very secure and healthy relationship with, will know that you think about each other even in absence of communication. Those kind of saviors don't need reassurance... they just know.

Monitors the student activities board and community events, keep the ties back home, not assured that you are still cared about by the people you no longer see on a regular basis, and, if things get really tough, utilize the free counseling services at the student health center (it will be worth the time). Best Regards.

Dear Oz,

I often find myself sitting in my dorm browsing Facebook and checking in with all my friends and family from home. When I first graduated high school I couldn't wait to get out of my hometown and the first semester of college was great. But this semester I just get sad and lonely all the time... help!

Sincerely,

Hopelessly Homesick

How to contact Mighty Oz

I am requesting your letters and e-mails to facilitate earnest and helpful communication regarding anything that you find troubling, confusing, hopeless, or frightening. I will be happy to address scenarios ranging from the light-hearted to the extremely serious. You can send anonymous e-mails (from an address that is not attached to your name) to writerA@gmail.com or commit written letters in sealed envelopes to The Chanticleer office (Jackson Student Center, room 205). Please sign your letters by an anonymous title that you wish to be addressed by (if you don't, I will have to come up with one for you). Please be open, forthcoming, unashamed, and unrestrained when describing any situation or asking any question. In your letters, please include as much detail as you can, so the more that I know, the more targeted my response can be.

Thank you to all my writers and The Chanticleer readers in advance for their participation.
Spend less. Get more. Live closer!
2 Bedroom / 2 Bathroom
Starting at $535/mo. All Inclusive

- Phase II New Units Available
- All Utilities Included (Cable & Internet Tool)
- Furnished & Unfurnished Units Available
- 1 Block from Coastal, Don’t Search for Parking!
- Pool

LOVE WHERE YOU LIVE!

TEXT CWCCU to LIVW2C (548922)
visit us at www.walk2campus.com
1512 Hicks Circle | 843-234-1188

Receive a $50 or $100 gift card when you sign a lease! Only 100 available, hurry in today!*
TRIVIA

1. In this classic fairy tale, what was the name of the little man who could turn straw into gold?
2. In Greek mythology, Pan was the god of the woods, fields and fertility. He was half-man and half-what?
3. Which famous novel features the characters of Ralph, Jack, and Piggy?
4. Which two cities are referred to in the title of Charles Dickens’ “Tale Of Two Cities”?
5. What was the name of the cow in the pantomime “Jack and the Beanstalk”?
6. Which of Shakespeare’s plays begins with the words “If music be the food of love, play on”?

QUOTES

“All the glory of the world would be buried in oblivion, unless God had provided mortals with the remedy of books.”
- Richard De Bury
“We are such stuff as dreams are made on, and our little life is rounded with a sleep.”
- William Shakespeare
“It seems to me we can never give up longing and wishing while we are alive. There are certain things we feel to be beautiful and good, and we must hunger for them.”
- George Eliot
“I’ve learned that courage is not the absence of fear, but the triumph over it. The brave man is not he who does not feel afraid, but he who conquers that fear.”
- Nelson Mandela

CRIME LOG

2/12 Assist another agency - simple
A CCU DPO officer responded to Wild Wing Blvd. In reference to a request for assistance from CPD. The CCU DPO officer assisted while the CPD officer interviewed the driver and searched the vehicle. Alcohol and marijuana were found in the vehicle and the CPD officer issued citations for both. This incident is administratively closed.

2/12/12 Shoplifting
A CCU DPO officer responded to the Hacker Golf Course in reference to a shoplifting complaint. The incident occurred on 02/12/12. The complainant described the missing property and the subjects involved. Video surveillance of the incident is being reviewed. The subjects have not been located at this time. This incident is under investigation.

2/12/12 Traffic stop - Disregarding a traffic signal, DUS
While on patrol a CCU DPO officer observed a vehicle disregard a traffic signal and stop the vehicle. The driver was interviewed and discovered to be driving on a suspended license. The driver was issued a warning for the traffic violation and a citation for the license suspension.

2/13/12 Simple possession of marijuana
A CCU DPO officer and members of the 15th Circuit Solicitors Drug Enforcement Unit encountered a search warrant on an apartment in University Place. While searching the premises marijuana was found. The suspect was issued a citation for simple possession of marijuana and released.

2/13/12 FTC Fraud
The victim came to the CCU DPO office to report that someone removed property belonging to the victim from the CINO grille. The victim also reported that someone used the victim’s financial transaction card without permission. This incident is under investigation.

DONT WORRY! WE JUST MOVED
Please Find Us At Our New Location:
2159 Hwy 544 (Right Behind Top Ten Burgers)

COASTAL DOLLAR TIRE
& AUTO SERVICE

Full Service Auto Repair
10% Student Discount for CCU/HGTC

Thank You to all of our Loyal Customers

www.CoastalDollarTire.com
M-F: 8AM-5PM
SAT: 8AM-12PM
Can Charge Parents’ Credit Card Over the Phone

Upscale Salon
Featuring:
LED Rejuvenation Light Therapy
(Promotes Collagen Production)
Multi-Level Tanning Packages
Airbrush Spray Tanning
HCG Weight Loss System
Complete Line of Nutritional/Energy Products

SOL 360*
TANNING AND NUTRITION CENTER
Mon-Thu 9am-9pm  Fri 9am-8pm  Sat 9am-7pm  Sun 12pm-6pm
Carolina Forest Kroger Shopping Center
216-177D (east)
www.so360tan.com
$10 off all month packages

CHANTICLEER
EMAIL QUESTIONS, LETTERS
TO THE EDITOR, AND CORRECTIONS TO:
CHANTICLEERNES@GMAIL.COM
reviews from the roost

WHAT'S THE WORD?

COURTNEY MOSER

Each week the Chanticleer asks our readers a random question.

We asked CCU students...

Where is your favorite place to eat on or off campus?

"The Sandwich Club next to Food Lion because it's homemade and has a family setting. Plus it takes Cino Cash." - Vanna Elekites, Sophomore

"Cino because it's the only place I trust to eat." - Jon Miller, Sophomore

"Tropical Smoothie because it's the healthiest option and it takes Cino Cash which is always good." - Ashley Novis, Sophomore

CHAUNCEY'S CINEMA

The editors weigh in on upcoming movies

Wanderlust (Feb. 24)
This film follows George (Paul Rudd) and Linda (Jennifer Aniston) as they find themselves forced to move from their New York home into George's brother's house in Atlanta. However, as they make their way down south, the couple stumbles across a rather curious community where pretty much anything goes. Is this what the couple needs, or will their stay make their situation even worse?

Act of Valor (Feb. 24)
In this highly anticipated film, in which a real-life Navy SEAL team stars in, a group of special forces soldiers and marines of our nation's heroes. Fictionalizing real operations, this film is sure to take you on the ride of a lifetime, full of emotion and respect for those who risk their lives to protect ours. This film is a "can't miss."

Tyler Perry's Good Deeds (Feb. 24)
This film stars Tyler Perry as Wesley Deeds, a successful and caring man who has always done what is expected of him. But he experiences a chance encounter with someone that's not his usual type, something changes in Deeds. Perhaps this chance encounter is the universe's way of motivating him to strive for the life he has always wanted, rather than always catering to the desires of those around him...

TEAL TUNES

What's coming from the headphones of The Chanticleer staff?

Shane
R.O.B.
Outland

"Don't even hang unless you plan to hit something."

Chad
Heather Nicole
Espar

"Definitely one of the best new wrappers."

Jenna
Reza a Million Bucks
Chase Race

"Appreciate the little things!"
SARAH MAPLES
Softball
2B/OF
The senior kicked off the Lady Chants opening weekend with a bang as she blasted a home run against the Marshall Thundering Herd. Maples was named to the Big South Conference All-Academic team last season with a .251 average and led the team in doubles with 11.

JACOB MAY
Baseball
2B/OF
The sophomore outfielder is expected to do big things this season after starting 36 games last season. He was rated the 26th best prospect in the Northwoods League by Perfect Game Summer 2011.

KIM SHERAVKO
Coastal Carolina softball kicked off their 2012 season by clinching their head coach's 400th collegiate win.

JACOB MAY
Baseball
2B/OF
The sophomore outfielder is expected to do big things this season after starting 36 games last season. He was rated the 26th best prospect in the Northwoods League by Perfect Game Summer 2011.

TJ'S TAKE
TJ SUNDBERG

Normally, I'm not one to believe that sports championships are meant to be. The idea that a team is going to win no matter what just because they are talented High Point team. High Point shooting was locked in from the beginning, and every Coastal run was captured in the final game. The crowd was in full force, creating a great atmosphere for the game. Coastal played off of the intensity of the crowd, and captured a key win in the final game on the conference slate.

and I would be happy people, but I would be happier," said Mike Galfano, the accountant. "Why would they be happy? Well, my wife was a Patriots fan and he was a Giants fan.

"I just bet whatever I won because I figured I wouldn't have it any other way. The only way to get a psychic reading is to have one done on you by someone who has done it before," she continued.

Well $9,000, later, it's Super Bowl Sunday. And all of the money is on the line.

"I just bet whatever I won because I figured I wouldn't have it any other way. The only way to get a psychic reading is to have one done on you by someone who has done it before,

"I didn't think it would actually happen," said Galfano. "But once things started shaping up for the Giants, I started placing some bets.

Well $9,000, later, it's Super Bowl Sunday. And all of the money is on the line.

"I just bet whatever I won because I figured I wouldn't have it any other way. The only way to get a psychic reading is to have one done on you by someone who has done it before," she continued.

"I didn't think it would actually happen," said Galfano. "But once things started shaping up for the Giants, I started placing some bets.

Well $9,000, later, it's Super Bowl Sunday. And all of the money is on the line.

"I just bet whatever I won because I figured I wouldn't have it any other way. The only way to get a psychic reading is to have one done on you by someone who has done it before," she continued.

"I didn't think it would actually happen," said Galfano. "But once things started shaping up for the Giants, I started placing some bets.

Well $9,000, later, it's Super Bowl Sunday. And all of the money is on the line.
WELLNESS WEEK 2012
Coastal Carolina University

WELLNESS FAIR
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22ND
10 A.M. – 2 P.M.
PRINCE LAWN
FREE FOOD, GAMES, EATING DISORDER SCREENINGS AND WCCU LIVE REMOTE

ENJOY THE BEST IN THE CLOSEST APARTMENT COMPLEX TO CAMPUS WALKING DISTANCE TO COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY 1, 2 AND 3 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AVAILABLE FRIENDLY AND DEPENDABLE MANAGEMENT ON-SITE BASKETBALL COURT IN-UNIT WASHER AND DRYER HUGE WALK-IN CLOSETS OUTDOOR GRILLING ON-SITE GYM PET FRIENDLY

Patriot's Hollow APARTMENTS

CONTACT: AISYLYNN STRAIT PHONE: (843) 549-0015 FAX: (843) 549-0030 AISY.PATRIOTSHOLLOW@GMAIL.COM

ADDRESS: 321 PATRIOTS HOLLOW WAY CONWAY, SC 29526

facebook question of the week

11 Chocolate stuff
4 Sour stuff
2 Skittles

What is your favorite candy?