4-9-2012

The Chanticleer, 2012-04-09

Coastal Carolina University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/chanticleer

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the History Commons

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/chanticleer/589

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Kimbel Library and Bryan Information Commons at CCU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chanticleer Student Newspaper by an authorized administrator of CCU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact commons@coastal.edu.
WHAT DO YOU DO WHEN TRAGEDY STRIKES?

CHAD YATES

Last week, a shooting at the tiny Oklos University in Oakland, Calif. left seven people dead. While we would all like to think something like this could never happen at Coastal Carolina University, the reality of the matter is that it is a possibility.

In light of this tragedy, it is important to understand both individual actions and university response in the case of a catastrophe. As required by law, Coastal Carolina’s Emergency Response Manual (ERM) outlines the preferred course of action by individuals in the case of many instances, including: bomb threats, earthquakes, fires, hurricanes, hazardous waste spills, hostage situations, tornadoes and active shooters.

However, in the context of this article, the main focus is on the case of an active shooter.

The Emergency Response Manual outlines what to do when a shooter is in a campus building, outside of a campus building as well as in an office or classroom. According to the manual, in the case of a shooter in a campus building, the abbreviated preferred course of action is as follows:

1. Do not sound the fire alarm to evacuate the building.
2. Be prepared to evacuate.
3. Lock yourself in a room for protection.

"CINO Day" will have the same carnival-type feel to it like every other year, but this year we have a whole new set of inflatables and a tin pie," said Jimmy Marino, the public relations coordinator for the activities board. "The zip line is about 190 yards long, it is comprised of two large stands that will tower above everything on Prince Lawn and send its riders flying past one another.

This year, the theme is "Operation CINO," this will create a drill themed day where all the team players feel as though you are running drills. "Fifers will be posted all over campus leading up to the event," said Marinos. "We have already utilized our social networking sites, so everyone should go on Facebook and see the event for pictures and updates."

A lot of students look forward to CINO Day all year, as it is a day where everyone on campus can take a break from their busy schedules and participate in fun things on campus. And everyone has their favorite part of this Coastal tradition. "My favorite part is the free food," said Brad Davis, a junior PGM major. "Prince Lawn gives away food all the time but nothing is better than CINO Day." On the contrary, Marinos loves the energy that CINO Day brings to Coastal students and faculty. "Students really recognize this as one of the best and most anticipated traditions on campus all year, and the hay is already starting," said Marinos. "Everyone is excited and Prince Lawn is packed the whole day."

The Coastal Activities Board will be posting updates about CINO Day until the day of the event. To find out all the inside information, "like" the Coastal Activities Board on Facebook and join the "CINO Day 2012" group. "All students should come out and experience this tradition," said Marinos. "Operation CINO, they surely won’t be a disappointment."
NEW RUNNING STORE IN MYRTLE BEACH

SHANE NORRIS
Editor-in-Chief

Chad Yates
Asst. Editor

Jenna Kazmierczak
Art Director

Photo Editor: Courtney Moser
Section Editors: TJ Sunberg, Carl Nogas, Alexx Altman
Business Manager: James Zeller
Faculty Advisor: Patricia O’Connor

The Chanticleer is the editorially independent student-produced newspaper of Coastal Carolina University. It is published weekly during the fall and spring semesters with an Orientation Issue distributed during summer months.

Opinions expressed in The Chanticleer are those of the editors or authors and do not necessarily express the opinions of the university’s student body, administration, faculty or staff. Letters to the editor are welcome from the CCU community. The editor reserves the right to condense submissions and edit for length and space. Submission does not guarantee publication.

Advertisements are paid advertisements and reflect the views and opinions of the advertisers, not The Chanticleer or Coastal Carolina University. Letters to the editor are welcome from the CCU community. The editor reserves the right to condense submissions and edit for length and space. Submission does not guarantee publication.

New Running Store Opens on Myrtle Beach

The controversial cartoon from the Daily Tar Heel was published just a day after a rally took place on campus demanding justice for Trayvon Martin. Many student readers and community members alike were outraged due to the inappropriateness of the cartoons.

The store officially opened Saturday, April 7 from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be a morning group run, giveaways, raffles and a free cookout.

For more information check out their website www.blackdogrunning.com

UNC and UT EDITORIALS FACE ANGRY STUDENTS OVER TRAYVON MARTIN CARTOONS

ZACH DERTITS

On the March 27 publication of the University of Texas’ student newspaper, The Daily Texan, an editorial cartoon was published suggesting the recent media coverage of the Trayvon Martin shooting has been overblown, included a derogatory term for an African-American and even misspelled the boy’s name, sparking outrage around the country.

The controversial editorial cartoon, by Stephanie Eisner, was in a chair labeled, “The Media,” under a word bubble that says, “And them... the Big Bad White man killed the Hand­some, sweet, innocent, colored boy!!”

The editorial cartoonist, Stephanie Eisner, was let go from the paper almost immediately but it is unclear if she was fired or if she stepped down after an angry protest of student readers gathered outside the newspaper’s office. The editors quickly issued an editorial apology for the cartoon.

On March 29, another cartoon depicting the scene of Martin’s shooting was published in The Daily Tar Heel, the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill’s student newspaper, also sparking immediate outrage around the Chapel Hill campus.

The cartoon depicts George Zimmerman holding a gun in his hand while being questioned by police officer saying, “This wasn’t about race. I shot because I felt threatened. Skittles are full of high fructose corn syrup.”

Black Dog Running isn’t just for experienced runners either. Brass and his staff welcome runners of all levels and aim to educate.

“If it doesn’t matter if your running your first mile or your 50th marathon, we’re going to treat everyone the same,” said Brass. “[We] kind of cater towards those people and explain what we’re think­ ing, the whole process. I’m a big proponent of not only just getting them in the right stuff but giving proper advice.”

If you’re wondering where the name of the store came from, all you need do is walk in and look around. Brass named the shop after his always­faithful running partner Guineas, his black lab. As the official store mascot Guineas can be found behind the counter of the store greeting customers.

The store officially opened Saturday, April 7 but is hosting a Grand Opening Saturday April 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be a morning group run, giveaways, raffles and a free cookout.

For more information check out their website www.blackdogrunning.com

The store officially opened Saturday, April 7 but is hosting a Grand Opening Saturday April 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be a morning group run, giveaways, raffles and a free cookout.

For more information check out their website www.blackdogrunning.com

The cartoon depicts George Zimmerman holding a gun in his hand while being questioned by police officer saying, “This wasn’t about race. I shot because I felt threatened. Skittles are full of high fructose corn syrup.”

Black Dog Running isn’t just for experienced runners either. Brass and his staff welcome runners of all levels and aim to educate.

“If it doesn’t matter if your running your first mile or your 50th marathon, we’re going to treat everyone the same,” said Brass. “[We] kind of cater towards those people and explain what we’re think­ ing, the whole process. I’m a big proponent of not only just getting them in the right stuff but giving proper advice.”

If you’re wondering where the name of the store came from, all you need do is walk in and look around. Brass named the shop after his always­faithful running partner Guineas, his black lab. As the official store mascot Guineas can be found behind the counter of the store greeting customers.

The store officially opened Saturday, April 7 but is hosting a Grand Opening Saturday April 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be a morning group run, giveaways, raffles and a free cookout.

For more information check out their website www.blackdogrunning.com

The store officially opened Saturday, April 7 but is hosting a Grand Opening Saturday April 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be a morning group run, giveaways, raffles and a free cookout.

For more information check out their website www.blackdogrunning.com

The cartoon depicts George Zimmerman holding a gun in his hand while being questioned by police officer saying, “This wasn’t about race. I shot because I felt threatened. Skittles are full of high fructose corn syrup.”
MEET THE GREEK
CARI NOGAS
Amanda Johnson
Senior
Double Major: Marketing and Management
Alpha Xi Delta

Where are you from?
Beacon Falls, Connecticut.

What are your commitments outside of Alpha Xi Delta?
I am a member of the Greek Work committee, a fraternity and sorority life ambassador and I also work at the car wash on campus.

Have you held any positions within Alpha Xi Delta?
I was the first membership vice president, but now that I am a senior I’m on the chapter life council committee (planning formal, social, Greek Week and sisterhood events) and help out with whatever is needed.

What is your favorite part about leadership?
I learned that communication and time management are key; being able to communicate what needs to be done and executing it. But I also learned that it is just as important to be a motivator and a person everyone can follow; people really look up to you.

WCCU RADIO UPDATE
WCCU Radio is excited to announce the new shows premiering on-air this week! The new shows are advisor, music and comedy. Look out for new station posters with the dates and times for all of our on-air shows.

As the end of the school year approaches, all of the management staff is looking for those who have an interest in becoming the new managers of WCCU Radio. If you have a passion for radio and would like to take part in an amazing opportunity, contact the station’s advisor, Ms. Patricia O’Connor at pocoomoji@coastal.edu to set up an interview.

WCCU Radio will host another benefit concert sometime in the spring! Express your interest now in what local artists you would like to see on our Facebook page. Like us at WCCU Radio!

If you are having trouble listening to the station online, it is available on iTunes Radio, then College Radio, search “Coastal Carolina.” There is also an app available on Android and Phone/ “Tune In” and search “Coastal Carolina.” Listen live every hour of everyday to WCCU Radio!

BACKSTAGE BIO: JUSTINA ADORNO
KRISTA GIERLACH
Justina Adorno is a Junior BPA Acting Major majoring in theater from the Bronx, N.Y.; however, she moved to Columbia, S.C. when she was 11.

Coastal became her college of choice for its location as well as her connection to Assistant Professor Monica Bell, whom she met in Governess School for the Arts and Humanities where she took Suzuki workshops taught by Bell. “It was like a savory family thing,” she felt tuck.

While at Coastal, Adorno has performed in “Eurydice,” where she played the role of “Eurydice” as a freshman, “The Gilbert and Sullivan’s Showcase,” “The Dancers” done in the Palacio (Pi) relates to emotion. Ethos is an official communication organization. The first, logos (Lambda), stands for logic. Pathos (Pi) relates to emotion. Logos (Eta) is defined as character credibility and ethics. There are six goals of Lambda Pi Eta.

The first is character, foster and reward social and scholastic achievement in communication studies. The next goal is to stimulate interest in the field of communication, The third is to promote and encourage professional development among communication majors. The next goal is to provide an opportunity to discuss and exchange ideas in the field of communication. The fifth goal is to establish and maintain close working relationships to be different from one another since they were all very different in real life.

Repeatedly, Adorno mentioned the help of Russell. Specifically, “Robin would stop in at a moment and do character work in a circle and it helped, SO MUCH,” said Adorno. “We were all learning, since our cast consists of freshmen all the way up to seniors so some of us had more experience than others in the sense that we had more classical, but you would not have noticed because our rehearsals were like classes.”

“We were like a family and our mama was Robin,” said Adorno. “We couldn’t believe she was our director, she really set the tone for this production and opened our eyes and hearts to this production.”

Another way to say it, “The Laramie Project” was special for Adorno “she was the message is what drove the play. Other words, she felt as an actor, her job was to tell Matthew Shepard’s story, because, after all, the play is for him.”

Upon graduation, Adorno has various potential plans for her life. She wants to move to New York and audition for specific companies of her choice along with anything else that she finds a long the way.

She also wants to travel around the globe, and ultimately use theatre to change the lives of others. “I know it sounds cliché,” said Adorno. “But I just want to be happy.”

She is thrilled that she has one more year left at Coastal to figure a few things out.

Adorno’s ambition also includes her desire to open an animal shelter, and if possible, somehow combine this project with a theatre to help raise money.

“I’m weird,” Adorno said. “I want random things to flow with one another. But those are two of my passions so why not combine them.”

Adorno also mentions, “As a senior, I think that I hardly ever have a balance between social life, school work, and most important to her, performing Adorno shares her self as a passionate person, inspired by life itself. She also expresses her connection with her family and specifically her mother.

Prior to every show, Adorno has rituals that are different for each show and character she portrays.

“For the most part, there is some sort of vocal warm-up I do before I probably the bathroom. If I connected a song with my character I usually listen to that. Then I spend through all my lines and then there’s something weird why I am doing this show and why I love acting Right back to stage, I’ll just say a happy goodnight and make choices and don’t hold back. Follow your impulse!” said Adorno.

Upson Eta is the chapter of Lambda Pi Eta at Coastal Carolina University. There are currently 50 active members on campus. Membership to this chapter is through invitation only. There are also requirements for membership consideration. Students must have at least a 3.25 cumulative GPA with at least 60 semester credit hours completed. Students must also have at least a 3.20 communication GPA with at least 12 semester credit hours completed in the field of communication. A communication instructor or advisor must recommend the student and the student must be a campus leader with ethical standards in keeping with the organization’s mission and goals.

LAMBDA PI ETA
CARI NOGAS
 Lambda Pi Eta is an official communication honors society of the National Communication Association (NCA). There are over 400 active chapters, which can be found at four-year colleges and universities. Lambda Pi Eta was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1985, became a part of the National Communication Association in 1988 and the association’s official honor society in 1995.

Lambda Pi Eta signifies what an individual described in The Rhetic as the three ingredients of permission. The first, logos (Lambda), stands for logic. Pathos (Pi) relates to emotion. Logos (Eta) is defined as character credibility and ethics. There are six goals of Lambda Pi Eta.

The first is character, foster and reward scholastic achievement in communication studies. The next goal is to stimulate interest in the field of communication. The third is to promote and encourage professional development among communication majors. The next goal is to provide an opportunity to discuss and exchange ideas in the field of communication. The fifth goal is to establish and maintain close working relationships to be different from one another since they were all very different in real life.

Repeatedly, Adorno mentioned the help of Russell. Specifically, “Robin would stop in at a moment and do character work in a circle and it helped, SO MUCH,” said Adorno. “We were all learning, since our cast consists of freshmen all the way up to seniors so some of us had more experience than others in the sense that we had more classical, but you would not have noticed because our rehearsals were like classes.”

“We were like a family and our mama was Robin,” said Adorno. “We couldn’t believe she was our director, she really set the tone for this production and opened our eyes and hearts to this production.”

Another way to say it, “The Laramie Project” was special for Adorno “she was the message is what drove the play. Other words, she felt as an actor, her job was to tell Matthew Shepard’s story, because, after all, the play is for him.”

Upon graduation, Adorno has various potential plans for her life. She wants to move to New York and audition for specific companies of her choice along with anything else that she finds a long the way.

She also wants to travel around the globe, and ultimately use theatre to change the lives of others. “I know it sounds cliché,” said Adorno. “But I just want to be happy.”

She is thrilled that she has one more year left at Coastal to figure a few things out.

Adorno’s ambition also includes her desire to open an animal shelter, and if possible, somehow combine this project with a theatre to help raise money.

“I’m weird,” Adorno said. “I want random things to flow with one another. But those are two of my passions so why not combine them.”

Adorno also mentions, “As a senior, I think that I hardly ever have a balance between social life, school work, and most important to her, performing Adorno shares her self as a passionate person, inspired by life itself. She also expresses her connection with her family and specifically her mother.

Prior to every show, Adorno has rituals that are different for each show and character she portrays.

“For the most part, there is some sort of vocal warm-up I do before I probably the bathroom. If I connected a song with my character I usually listen to that. Then I spend through all my lines and then there’s something weird why I am doing this show and why I love acting Right back to stage, I’ll just say a happy goodnight and make choices and don’t hold back. Follow your impulse!” said Adorno.

Upson Eta is the chapter of Lambda Pi Eta at Coastal Carolina University. There are currently 50 active members on campus. Membership to this chapter is through invitation only. There are also requirements for membership consideration. Students must have at least a 3.25 cumulative GPA with at least 60 semester credit hours completed. Students must also have at least a 3.20 communication GPA with at least 12 semester credit hours completed in the field of communication. A communication instructor or advisor must recommend the student and the student must be a campus leader with ethical standards in keeping with the organization’s mission and goals.
8 • 18
2012
THE MAIN EVENT

Will You Be There?

www.monarch544.com • 843.347.7770
PILOBOLUS PERFORMANCE THEATRE COMES TO COASTAL

KRISTA GIERLACH

On Tuesday, April 3, "Pilobolus" the modern performance company graced Coastal's own Wheelwright Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. and stunned the audience with their acrobatic dance movements.

For 40 years, this unique dance company has been in existence, and performed in the 79th Annual Academy Awards. "Pilobolus" has also won several awards and traveled internationally.

"In keeping with the energy and spirit of its biological namesake... the company has continued to grow toward the light, expanding and refining its unique methods of collective creative production to assemble a repertoire of more than 100 choreographic works," stated the Pilobolus program.

In this specific performance, dancers Shawn Fitzgerald Ahern, Matt Del Rosario, Eriko Jimbo, Jordan Kriston, Jan Kuribayashi, Manelich Minniefee, and Nile H. Russell presented five of their pieces.

The hand becomes a person and he plays with the dog, then leans and turns the dog into a half-dog, half-human. This left the audience gasping in amazement. "It was mind-blowing," shared senior BFA Dramatic Arts Major Rachel Hogan.

"Kokoro" was next and performed by Del Rosario, Jimbo, Kriston, Kuribayashi, Minniefee, and Russell all in nude garments. They tumbled and danced in incredible ways, and images were projected on their bodies. Freshman BFA Technology and Design Major DJ Quakenbush worked backstage on the show. "I had a hard time not getting distracted from my work backstage because of the amazing spectacle happening onstage," said Quakenbush.

After a 15 minute intermission, the two female performers, Kriston and Jimbo, presented "Duet" which was an intimate piece that lyrically portrayed a dynamic relationship. Lastly, a different number entitled "Megawatt" was performed along with music by "Prime" "Radubeat9," and "Squarepush." This included all the dancers and involved a form of simulated electric shock that went throughout the bodies of the performers.

The audience was in awe by the end and stood with applause for the incredible dancers.

CORRECTIONS FROM THE LAST ISSUE OF THE CHANTICLEER

In the last issue of The Chanticleer, Volume 50, Issue 21, the front page sidebar from the "Features" section should have read "Theatre Dept. Production" instead of "Music Dept. Production." Also, on the sports schedule on page 13 under the men's tennis section, the April 6 matchup should have read "Wurzburg" instead of "Wurzburgs."

At The Chanticleer, we are committed to the highest level of accuracy. We welcome any corrections found in this issue. Please e-mail mistakes to chanticleernews@gmail.com.

REvolutions

IT'S BETTER ON TOP

THE WAIT IS OVER!

Zbar, formerly of Barney Stones, is now open upstairs in Revolutions. Serving up the best martinis on the beach with bartenders so hot... you can't wait to get on top!

bar

NOW OPEN

Celebrity Square • Broadway at the Beach • 843-444-8032 • fantasticclubs.com

(843) 379-4626 • 1320 E Cooper Avenue, Myrtle Beach, SC 29577 • (843) 967-0373

C.getActivityNotifyForAdm: true
LEAH BARCELONA

Everyone knows Student Health Services isn't the fastest place on campus, but this week I had one of my worst encounters with them yet. First off, they aren't open on weekends, which makes it very hard to make an appointment for Monday morning. Since I couldn't make an appointment for Monday, I decided to wake up at 6:30 a.m. to beat the crowd and get in right away.

Once I arrived, there were already people waiting at the door and they all had appointments. Since I was considered a walk-in, I had to wait for over an hour before I could be called to the back. As I waited, they had me fill out paperwork again, even though I had already filled out paperwork there a number of times.

They put me in an examining room, and then 20 minutes later switched me to another room. The nurse asked me to fill out a survey on smoking, which was fine, as I figured it was to see how much students knew about what kinds of diseases you can get and where you can get them. When the nurse practitioner came to evaluate me, she went over my answers on the survey. After she corrected my survey, she gave me another test to see what I learned.

I'm sorry, but the whole reason I was at the health center was to get better, not to take and re-take a test. If I wanted to take a test, I would have gone to my class instead. After waiting to see a doctor for three hours, the last thing I wanted to do was that, and then definitely the straw that broke the camel's back.

In my opinion, I think we should have a better system over at student health services. Instead of giving me a survey about smoking they should have given me a survey on how to improve their operating system. People get sick everyday, and I think they should be open on Saturdays to help the students that have busy schedules during the week. But I must say, my complaint with student health services has nothing to do with the people that work there, because they were lovely. They just have to re-evaluate their organization process.
Where change is taking place!

Stop by & Tour our NEW MODEL

Sign a Lease by April 6th & receive $100 CASH

LOVE WHERE YOU LIVE!

TEXT CWCCU to LIVW2C (548922)
visit us at www.walk2campus.com

Receive a $50 or $100 gift card when you sign a lease! Only 100 available, hurry in today!

Cove
at Coastal Carolina

Apartment Features:
- Flat Screen TV in Every Living Room
- Floor Plans with Ceiling Fans
- High Speed Internet and Cable
- Deluxe Master Bathrooms with Walk-in Showers
- Gas Heat and Cooking
- On-site Laundry Facilities
- Student Recreation Programs
- Resident Assistant Program
- Individual Kitchens
- Individual Bathrooms
- Gated Community

Your perfect apartment is just a click away. Hurry and like our page today!

Find us on

Stop by our leasing trailer today on the corner of 544 and Jackson Bluff Road.

888.807.4090 | TheCoveCCU.com

*See leasing office for details. Offer expires 7/30/22
TRIVIA

1. What major league baseball team started playing in Coors Stadium in 1995?
2. The Fresh Prince of whom was the subject of a sitcom of 180+ shows?
3. Sculptor Dreretic, Auguste Bartholdi, hailed the face of the Statue of Liberty on whom?
4. Who did Randall Tarpey beat to win the world middleweight boxing title in 1951?
5. Who did Neil Diamond duet with on the 70's number one hit "You Don't Bring Me Flowers?"
6. Playwright Arthur Miller was married to which famous blonde actress?

QUOTES

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever: its loveliness increases; it will never pass into nothingness."
- John Keats

"Baseball happens to be a game of cumulative tension but football, basketball and hockey are played with hand grenades and machine guns."
- John Leonard

"It is my feeling that Time repays all things with Time all things are revealed, Time is the father of truth."
- Premnis Rabanis

"A person without a sense of humor is like a wagon without springs. It's jolted by every pebble on the road."
- Henry Ward Beecher

ANSWERS

```
DAILY SUDOKU
Mon 2-Apr-2012

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>8</th>
<th>9</th>
<th>2</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Very hard
```
WHAT'S THE WORD?

COURTNEY MOSER.

Each week The Chanticleer asks our readers a random question.

We asked CCU students...

What's your favorite summer activity?

"Go to the beach. Perfect way to relax and relieve any stress."
- Brylee Smith, Sophomore Communication

"Slip and slide because that's what summer days are made for."
- Holly Gilby, Sophomore Communication

"Go golfing because it's so fun and relaxing on a sunny day."
- Brandon Kelly, Sophomore Political Science

CHAUNCEY'S CINEMA

The editors weigh in on upcoming movies

Lockout (April 13)

After a man is wrongly convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage against the U.S., Snow Guy Pierce is faced with the task of rescuing the president's daughter from an out-of-this-world prison—literally. His mission? Save her from an outer space prison ridden with violent inmates. His prize? Freedom.

The Lucky One (April 20)

Zack Efron plays Logan Thibault, a Marine who just served three tours in Iraq, as he travels to North Carolina to find Beth Clayton (Taylor Schilling). Thibault believes this woman was his good luck charm during the war, and is determined to win her over. Sounds a bit like a Choosing Turkey movie...

Chimpanzee (April 20)

Disneynature follows a young 3-year old chimpanzee as he is separated from his family and adopted by a fully grown male. This film is made by the same people who made Planet Earth focus, and according to IMDB.com "maintains a tricky balance: the film are totally cute while keeping it incredibly real."

TEAL TUNES

What's coming from the headphones of The Chanticleer staff?

Shane
Forever Reign
Hillbong Law
"There is no greater motivation than the Lord."

Chad
Loud Noises
Emen
"Emen takes best verse in this rhyme but Royce kills it too."

Jenna
Free Fallin'
Tom Petty
"Once it's stuck in your head it won't leave!!"
PLAYER PROFILE

KATE FOSNACHT
Women's Tennis

Fosnacht was named Big South Freshman of the Week for the fourth time this season on March 27, 2012. The freshman has a collegiate athletics. Her play has helped the Lady Chants to a 13-3 record on the year, as well as an undefeated conference record. Fosnacht was named Big South Women's Tennis Player of the Week, as well as an undefeated conference record in javelin. He currently ranks sixth in the NCAA and has a chance to compete in the 2012 US Olympic Trials.

WOMEN'S SOCCER JOURNEY TO THE TOURNEY RELEASED

TJ SUNDBERG
Second year Women's Soccer head coach Paul Hogan received their schedule for the 2012 season last week. Unlike most teams, the Chant season start won't be a cakewalk. They begin with a trip to Lexington, Ky. to take on SEC opponent and recent men's basketball national champion Kentucky.

"Kentucky's a great team and should really prepare us for the season," said Hogan. "They have a great track record at Lexington." The game will be followed by a home match against Elon and The Citadel and home matches against Wofford and UNC-Wilmington.

For the fourth time in the last five seasons, Coastal starts conference play on the road but will wrap it up at home before heading into the Big South Conference tournament. The tournament has some changes this year as well. The quarterfinal round will be hosted by the top four seeds, and followed by the semi-finals. The finals will be played at Winthrop University, with the winner landing a spot in the NCAA Tournament.

SPRING FOOTBALL IN SESSION UNDER NEW HEAD COACH

KIM SHERAYKO

The Chanticleers football team began spring football practices and scrimmages under new head coach Joe Moglia in preparation for the upcoming 2012 football season.

"We have a long way to go as everyone understanding our entire schemes and systems," said Coach Moglia in a team release. "But that is expected with a new coaching staff." Entering spring, Moglia stated, "I think the thing that sets Aramis apart right now is that he has a lot of snaps under his belt," new offensive coordinator Dave Patenaude told the Sun News. "He found a way to make plays. Of all the cut-ups in the game I watched from last year, he's kind of shifty and has a good understand­ ing of where he wants to go." Even with 11 games under Hilary's belt from the 2011 season, he will be tested due to the implementation of the new up-tempo offense.
Church Services
Every Sunday @ 5:30PM
Lackey Chapel
Free Home Cooked Meal After Service

Club Meetings
Edwards Building
Room 110 @ 7:30pm
Every Monday

GOT LENT?

TOMS One Day Without Shoes Event
11am-2 pm
Prints Listed: "Barefoot Zone"

CAREERS WITH A CAUSE
TOMS One Day Without Shoes Event 11am-2 pm
Prints Listed: "Barefoot Zone"

Start Something That Matters Party
7 pm-9 pm

300 Ward
7:30 pm
Welcome and Overview
7:50 pm
For Toddlers, The TOMS Store Documentary Viewing
8:45 pm
Documentary Session
7:50 pm
Be Someone Who Matters, Dr. Mark Mitchell
8:10 pm
Curriend with a Local Panel made up of local non-profits who give back
8:20 pm
Q&A and Answer Session, Open Discussion
9:00 pm
Dinner

Special thanks to our lunch sponsor, The Cove

TJ'S TAKE
TJ SUNDENBERG
I watched a little bit of the women's national championship last week. I'm going to be completely honest, at some points I was as entertained as I would be watching paint dry on a wall. The Baylor University Brittney Griner's were up by more than 20 points at half time. Why even play the game? Did anyone really think Notre Dame stood a chance?

I know I didn't. I'm not sure why I even flipped on the channel; I should have just gone straight to bed.

I mean, in all honesty they should have just went straight to the Final Four. Considering it had all one seed in it. It's been the same teams every year for the last three years. I feel like, Baylor, Connecticut, Stanford, and Notre Dame. Year in and year out. Then the game is supposed to be decided by who's had a better first half. I'm not sure why anyone even pays to attend. Hell, I feel like they should start paying fans to go to these games.

I know I heard about it, but it's true. I've even heard girls say watching women's sports is boring; and these girls played that sport!

I mean, I took a look at the bracket for the women's tournament. There were only four upset in the first round. And one was an 8/9 matchup.

If I never looked for the purpose of writing this article, I never would even know that. Why don't they just shorten the tournament? Or at least put a mercy rule on all of the games. This way I can watch more quality television instead of wanting to rip my eyes out because of extreme boredom.

So I'll leave you with my proposal for a women's sports mercy rule:

1. For basketball, if a team is up by 25 points at halftime and within the first five minutes of the second half the losing team doesn't cut the lead to 15, end the game.

2. For soccer, if a team is up by 3 goals with 20 minutes left in the game, end the game.

3. For softball, the little league rule. 10 runs by the 6th inning or 7 by the start of the 7th inning.
SEXUAL ASSAULT AWARENESS WEEK
April 9-13, 2012
"Let's Talk About It!
Connect, Respect, Prevent Sexual Assault!"

PREVIEW EVENT:
Wednesday, April 4 7 p.m. Wall Auditorium
Psych Film Series Presents:
"Wrestling With Manhood"

Monday, April 9
Stand Up, Speak Out! 6 – 8 p.m. Woods Covered Pavilion
Join students, faculty and staff to Speak out against sexual violence!

Tuesday, April 10
“How ‘Bout This Party?” 7 p.m. Edwards Black Box Theater
An Interactive Theater
Performance on Sexual Assault and Alcohol featuring Theater Delta

Wednesday, April 11
Teal Ribbons Distributed 9 a.m. 3 p.m. Student Center Deck

Thursday, April 12
Walk A Mile (In Her Shoes)
Registration begins at 3:30 p.m. Spadoni Park Circle
Walk Begins at 4:30 p.m.
Come watch as men walk a mile in high heels with the help of their "Blister Sisters!"
Event includes display of the Clothesline Project, music food and fun

Friday, April 13
Denim Day All Day Campus-Wide
Wear denim to show your support for ending sexual violence!

Sponsored by the Coastal Carolina CARES Coalition

ENJOY THE BEST IN THE CLOSEST APARTMENT COMPLEX TO CAMPUS
IN STUDENT HOUSING

CONTACT: AIESLYNN STRAIT PHONE: (843) 369-0015
FAX: (843) 369-0036 AIESY.PATRIOTSHOLLOW@GMAIL.COM
ADDRESS: 253 PATRIOTS HOLLOW WAY CONWAY, SC 29526