ELIANA PADRÓN VS. LINDSAY HICKMAN

THE BATTLE FOR SGA PRESIDENT
10-year-old claims to be dwarf, steals second car in two weeks

Thirteen year old girl scout Danielle Lei from San Francisco, sold 117 boxes of girl scout cookies in just two hours when she set up her stand outside The Green Cross medical marijuana clinic. Lei’s mother said she takes her two daughters to different places around San Francisco to sell cookies so “they can learn about different environments.”

Committing a crime in Yellowstone national park may not be a problem

The only area that is both in the state of Idaho and the district of Wyoming is that 50-mile patch of Yellowstone that is in Idaho. And since no one actually lives in that 50-mile patch, prosecutors would not be able to empanel a jury that lives in both the state and district in which the crime was committed.

Florida woman to face charges if she doesn’t use lights

Imagine if you used no electricity and water and didn’t have to pay those bills at all- sounds a lot like Robin Speronis. The city code of enforcement is challenging that she doesn’t have “approved water supply” considering she survives off rain water. Speronis has one month to “plug up” or face consequences.

Who’s got the munchies?

Thirteen year old girl scout Danielle Lei from San Francisco, sold 117 boxes of girl scout cookies in just two hours when she set up her stand outside The Green Cross medical marijuana clinic. Lei’s mother said she takes her two daughters to different places around San Francisco to sell cookies so “they can learn about different environments.”

We want to hear what you have to say!

Email any questions, letters to the editor, or corrections to: chanticleernews@gmail.com

www.thechantnews.com Facebook.com/TheChanticleer

@TheChanticleer @TheChanticleerCCU

See your AD here in our next issue!
Contact: Ben Harris - bfharris@g.coastal.edu
Awkwardly passing people in the hallway

By: Kelley McDonnell
Editor in Chief

We all do it, see someone you kinda sorta know in the hall and waiting until it is socially acceptable to recognize them. This is something that has been going on ever since I can remember, so why can’t we find a solution? Whether this means pretending to text until you get to that point, or looking at every single ceiling or floor tile until your side vision lets you look.

It’s different, however, when you may know that person very well. Then you could see them from far away and simply begin your conversation early. But sometimes that’s still awkward because if there’s people between the two of you, you’re yelling through them.

You also have the option of just looking at the wall or your phone as you walk by, pretending not to see that person at all to avoid an awkward situation. If you say hi too soon, the conversation may be longer than the traditional friendly “hey what’s up” and at that point you may have to add in “yeah well it was good to see you, good luck on your test.” But if you say hi too late, the other person may think you’re not going to say hey at all and may whip their phone out, and then you walk past each other like you’re never seen each other before... awkward.

Can we all just agree to do the whole “I’m texting until I’m about 8 feet away from the person and then I’ll look up and say hello?” because that would avoid so many awkward situations for something that has been going on way too long. Life is awkward. And I personally would like to eliminate at least one awkward common occurrence in my life, wouldn’t you?

Adios, gazebos. Literally.

A gazebo mysteriously caught fire on Prince Lawn last week, but was extinguished shortly after. No one was hurt in the fire and the cause was not determined, according to Travis Overton, dean of students.
Kyle Minor fiction reading

By: Samantha Riley
Features Editor

On Thursday February 20th, “The Words to Say It Visiting Writers Series” at Coastal Carolina University hosted American writer Kyle Minor.

With the recent publication of his second collection of short fiction that was released earlier this month, “Praying Drunk” has received much praise from critics and is something that the Boston Globe refers to as a “terrific collection.”

Although he was born and raised in Florida, Minor found himself in Kentucky and Indiana before attending Ohio State University. During his stay he blossomed as a writer and was a three time honoree in “The Atlantic Monthly” Student Writing Awards. One of the pieces from Minor’s first collection of short fiction, “In the Devil’s Territory” was chosen for Houghton Mifflin’s “Best American Mystery Stories 2008” anthology. He also won the 2012 Iowa Review Prize for Short Fiction and the Tara M. Kroger Prize for Short Fiction.

His stories and essays appear in literary journals including, Southern Review, Gettysburg Review, Gulf Coast and anthologies including “Best American Nonrequired Reading” and Random House’s “Twentysomething Essays by Twentysomething Writers.”

The reading that Minor presented was from his second and most recent collection of short fiction entitled “Praying Drunk.” Publishers Weekly called this collection a “dazzling, emotional, funny, captivating puzzle.”

While blending the combination of real places that Minor knows well such as Florida and Kentucky with elements of fiction such as robots, the piece is described as surreal.

The different forms of craft Minor uses in his writing produces a unique product. The Los Angeles Times said, “The beauty of ‘Praying Drunk’ is that it transcends suffering to evoke the sublime.”

The fiction reading took place between 4:30pm and 5:15pm in the Edwards Recital Hall. With almost every seat filled Minor was able to hook his audience and keep them fully engaged with lines such as “When you are young and full of piss and vinegar, caution is not a thing you take too naturally.”

After the reading everyone was invited to small reception in the hallway where the audience had the opportunity to interact with the author. He was also available to sign books and answer any questions from the audience members.

Minor has taught creative writing and literature at a number of schools, including the University of Toledo, Capital University, Ohio State University and Gotham Writers Workshop in New York City.

In addition to teaching fiction writing and screenwriting at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis, Minor holds three masters degrees and writes a biweekly column for Salon.com.
CHANT THE VOTE

February 24-28th on Coastal Connections
ON CAMPUS

CCU dominates 2014 ADDY awards

By: Kelley McDonnell
Editor In Chief

Our very own graphic design and photography students took home an impressive 51 ADDY awards in the student division in print design, web design, packaging, illustration and photography. Honorable mention would have to go to Marcello Garofalo who took home special honors receiving the Best in Show Award for his Chasing the Paper Canoe book design. The region of awards includes the Florence, Georgetown, Charleston, and Myrtle Beach areas as well as Wilmington, NC.

“We just submitted our best pieces into the category which they belong,” said Erica Burkett, Art Director for Archarios.

Listed below are the winners’ names:
- Marcello Garofalo
- Tracy Fish
- Tim Hodge
- Erica Burkett
- Hannah McKeen
- Brittany Mauro
- Nicole Saltky
- Landen Martin
- Daniel Mableton
- Cory McNaier
- Christopher Cottingham
- Josh Jones
- Chris Johnson
- Nora D. Kyles
- Diamond McCray
- Olivia C. Bennett
- Brandon Alston
- Tori Jordan
- Dan Wilt
- Matthew Fram
- Pat Siebel
- Shawnté Posely
- Emilee Rosen
- Savannah Todd
- Sydney Blair
- Lori Sircable
- Lindsay Falberg
- Emily Englehart
- Corey Baumann
- Tyler Buse
- Charles Merchant
- Caleb Sarris
- Emily Munn
- Josh Jones

Although only the names are listed, multiple students won multiple awards and ultimately dominated the ADDY awards this year hosted by the American Advertising Federation-Coastal Carolinas.

Wellness Week provides encouragement for CCU students

By: Kelley McDonnell
Editor In Chief

It’s no secret that Coastal Carolina faculty and staff are always finding ways to help students and make them feel at home. Last week was “Wellness Week” on campus where various events were held to raise awareness.

Mirrorless-Monday was advertised as a day where no one would look at themselves in the mirror to promote high self esteem and positive body image. Another event that took place on campus was “The Vagina Monologues” by Eve Ensler which collected a five dollar entrance fee donated to the Rape Crisis Center of Horry and Georgetown Counties. The University’s Women’s and Gender Studies and Students Advocating Gender Equality (SAGE) hosted the play.

Campus Recreation also participated by hosting group exercise classes during the week and even offering “Cycle Cinema,” a spinning class where participants watch “The Bachelor” on TV Monitors while cycling.

The Wellness Fair took place on Prince Lawn where there were various tables set up including games, t-shirts, free eating disorder screenings for students, music by campus radio station WCCU, contests, featured exhibitions from the Teal Temptation dance club, and chances for students to sample healthy snacks and win prizes.

“It’s an opportunity to raise awareness about wellness; there were healthy food options which basically shows you what you should eat vs. what you shouldn’t eat,” said Christina Butterfass, Intern for the Coastal Outreach Advocacy Student Team (COAST).

Wellness Week is put on by students, staff, faculty, and community members who want to promote healthy eating and being positive and confident in your body image.

Jose Obando presents “The 350+ Year Evolution of Salsa”

By: Hallie Bonds
Staff Writer

Last Tuesday Jose Obando, Director of the Musical Instrument Archive at the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art bought the music of salsa to life in Johnson Auditorium. This event definitely had you feeling the percussion running through your body.

Joined along with him was also his band who serenaded attendees with salsa music in between his lecture. Obando spoke of the development of salsa that began with the manufacturing and use of percussion by the Africans, also that the salsa has 95 influences.

Some of the crowd members got to play the clave to help make the beat sustain and go up on the stage to do a little Hispanic dancing. It was hard to not notice Obando’s piano player as he played some of the keys with his elbows impressing the audience. Jose Obando and his salsa band was definitely an event that bought life to everyone in attendance.
PSYCH FILM SERIES
S.H.O.R.E.
PRESENTS:
SILVER LININGS PLAYBOOK
WEDNESDAY
FEB. 26TH
7 P.M.
Brittain 101.
SGA controversy: A one woman debate

By: Samantha Bergold
Staff Writer

It's that time of year again, election time! The Student Government Association held a Presidential debate on February 20 for the student body to hear the viewpoints of the two presidential candidates running. The event was live tweeted and vined and the debate had questions from the SGA as well as students.

The debate started by having both candidates, Eliana Padrón and Lindsay Hickman, discuss general information on their background.

Eliana Padrón discussed how she is currently the Vice President of Public Relations and active in the Coastal community. Padrón has created events for the SGA, like SGA Wednesdays. If elected, she will have the senate implement more clubs for Coastal to gain retention.

Lindsay Hickman discussed her active role in the Coastal community by attending athletic games and being involved in different clubs. Hickman said she represents the voice of the normal everyday student.

Hickman then proceeded to walk out of the debate to support the Woman's Basketball team. SGA did not know this was going to occur. And although Padrón proceeded to stand up to make a statement back to Hickman, Kaitlin Page, the current Student Body President, encouraged her not to. When further questions were asked about Hickman leaving the debate, the Dean of Students said to focus on the debate at hand.

“She made a decision to leave and it is her campaign and she can run it any way she chooses,” said Page.

Padrón has no comment. “I said all I wanted to say and I feel having a debate when five events are happening on campus at the same time does not properly represent the student body. I expected these biases running, I have not got any support from the SGA. The President, the Vice President and three senators all retweeted the opponents campaign, they did not retweet me as well,” said Hickman.

Social media has played a huge part in campaigns run by CCU students this election, with candidates posting Instagram photos and asking for retweets. “The allegation that I excluded the NAACP from the debate is incorrect. The debate is open to everyone and is scheduled to last about an hour. Students are more than able to leave early to attend other events,” said Padrón in regard to the allegations earlier in the day.

To read the full official statement you can go to Padrón's twitter @Eliana_Nohemi.

Students developed their own opinions for the events that took place at the debate.

“I feel that before the debate I was unbiased but seeing how Hickman represented herself at the debate it concerns me that if she were to win, she would handle herself this way in a public setting and embarrass Coastal's reputation,” said Chelsey Nees, Padrón’s sorority sister.

It seems as if the opinions are split right down the middle. “I think Lindsay is a great person who wants what's best for everyone at Coastal. She represents a great student by supporting everything and by showing great leadership and taking control,” said Megan Hoverman, sophomore.

What do you think? Voting begins today at 8:00 am on Coastal Connections for the Student Body President, Executive Vice President, Vice President for Public Relations, Vice President for Finance and Senator for the Colleges.
"Our fans gave us that extra level tonight."
--Coach Ellis

After the big win over Gardner-Webb

Coastal is in 1st place

Wednesday
Feb. 26
vs. Presbyterian @ 7

Saturday, March 1
vs. CSU @ 2

#Goteal

goccusports.com ticketreturn.com/ccu
Chants win on senior day

Alexx Pucket and Katelyn Connor lead the Women’s Basketball Team past Presbyterian

By: Kyle Jordan
Sports Editor

The seniors on the CCU Women’s Basketball Team ended their regular season Coastal careers with a win on Saturday as the Chanticleers slipped past Presbyterian for a 57-50 win.

The Chanticleers improve to .500 in the Big South with the win.

Coastal opened the game with a 7-0 lead and never allowed Presbyterian back into the contest until midway through the second half.

After the Chants headed into the locker room with a comfortable 34-23 half-time lead, Coastal saw their lead climb as high as 43-27 before the Blue Hose put together a 15-2 run to cut the deficit to one,45-44.

A pair of free throws by CCU’s Karsen Sims and Jena Hamrick’s two points in the paint put Coastal up by seven with just under three minutes left to play. The Chants were able to retain the lead until the final buzzer.

Alexx Pucket was the Chant’s leading scorer with 15 points and Katelyn Connor followed with 14.

The Chants will close out their regular season schedule this week on the road as they travel to Gardner-Webb and UNC Ashville. Coastal will play Gardner-Webb on Thursday at 7pm and UNC Ashville on Saturday at 2pm.

Coastal starts off Baseball at the Beach with a Win and a Loss

By: Sierra Doherty
Staff Writer

Coastal opened the Caravelle Resort’s Baseball at the Beach Tournament with a win over George Mason on Thursday.

CCU took the lead at the bottom of the third inning, with three runs, scored by Richard Carter, Anthony Marks, and Michael Paez. Mason scored one run at the top of the seventh and another run was scored on a passed ball in the eighth, but Coastal was able to prevent further scoring, ending in a 3-0 win.

Pitcher Cole Schaefer, credited with the win, admitted to being a little nervous before the game, but words from teammate Patrick Corbett helped him to gain some confidence. Schaefer delivered six strikeouts in the first three innings, keeping Mason from scoring early.

After the game, Schaefer commented, “Glad to come out to get a good win...Good to get a good outing after [his] last appearance.”

Unfortunately, the Chants fell to Illinois Saturday. Illinois took the lead at the top of the second inning and then pulled even farther ahead in the fifth inning with four more runs. Coastal came back in the fifth with two runs scored by Richard Carter and Reid Moman. Carter scored another run in the seventh. A home run in the eighth hit by G.K. Young brought the Chants within one run, but they weren’t able to catch up to Illinois by the end of the game.

The Chants continue in the Caravelle Resort tournament when they play Rhode Island on Friday, February 28, at 5:30pm.

Have a story that you would like to share?

Email us at: chanticleernews@gmail.com
Softball Roundup

By: Kyle Jordan
Sports Editor

The Softball team hit the road this past weekend to Gainesville, FL, for the Lipton Tournament at the University of Florida.

The Chants began their tournament schedule on Friday against Georgia Southern. The game was scoreless until the fifth inning when the Eagles went on a three run scoring spree to put the Chants away 3-0. CCU’s Kiana Quolas was the losing pitcher.

The Chants played their second game of the tournament on Saturday against Georgia Southern. The game was scoreless until the fifth inning when the Eagles went on a three run scoring spree to put the Chants away 3-0. CCU’s Kiana Quolas was the losing pitcher.

The Chants played their second game of the tournament on Saturday against Troy University. Troy handed the Chants their second loss of the tournament and their third loss overall in a 4-1 defeat. Once again Kiana Quolas was the losing pitcher. Quolas finished the game with 10 strikeouts.

Coastal got another crack at Georgia Southern on Saturday night and made up for Friday’s shutout loss to the Eagles with a 2-1 victory.

The Eagles struck early and took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but CCU pitcher Ashley Bagwell kept the Chants in the game and forced the Eagles to go hitless for the remainder of the contest. Bagwell finished the game with four strikeouts and surpassed the 500 career strikeouts mark. Bagwell’s career total currently stands at 501.

The Chants fired back with runs in the second and third innings to take the lead and eventually seal the contest. Brooke Donovan’s single to centerfield in the second inning brought Amanda Daneker home for the tying run and Quolas’s single in the third inning brought Bri Chiusano home for the game winner.

The Chanticleers will return to Conway S.C., this Friday for the Coastal Carolina Invitational Tournament. The Chanticleers will begin their tournament schedule against Marshall University at 2pm at the CCU Softball Field.

Player Profiles

By: Kyle Jordan
Sports Editor

Nadia Luttner
Golf
From: Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Year: Junior
Birthday: October 6, 1992
Major: Communication
Sport: Golf
Honors/Awards: I went to Kansas my freshman year of college and was part of a team victory that took place in Phoenix, Arizona. I made the Dean’s list last semester for Fall 2013.

Voghens Larrieux
Rod Holder
From: Chesapeake, Virginia
Year: Sophomore
Birthday: November 1st 1994
Major: Recreational Sports Management
Position: Defensive end
Honors/Awards: In high school I made all district team. In my football season at Coastal Carolina University we broke the record for most quarterback hurries.
COLLEGE CUISINE

Southwestern Omelet
By: Sierra Doherty
Staff Writer

What You’ll Need:
- 1 tablespoon of canola oil
- 1 jalapeño pepper
- 1 yellow onion
- 1 avocado
- 1 small tomato
- 2 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 slice of bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 1/4 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Salsa, optional

Let’s Get Started:
Begin by chopping up onion, jalapeño, tomato, and avocado. How much you use depends on how stuffed you want your omelet.

Next, in a frying pan, sauté your onion and jalapeño in oil until tender (or until onion turns clear). Remove with a slotted spoon and set aside.

After that, pour eggs into the same skillet that was used for the onion and jalapeño. Let that cook on low heat for about 2 minutes.

Sprinkle onion, jalapeño, tomato, avocado, bacon and cheese on half of the egg mixture.

Then Fold omelet over filling. Cook for about 2 more minutes, or until eggs are set. If desired, sprinkle more cheese over the top and serve with salsa. Enjoy!

Marissa Morgan Bachrach
Teal Trailblazer

Favorite part of working on campus:
My boss understands that school and studies come first and is very flexible and understanding. If I ever have a conflict or concern about getting school work done it can easily be sorted out.

Other involvement on campus:
I am a sister of Phi Sigma Sigma and part of the National Society of Leadership and Success.

Favorite joke: I can’t pick just one, but it’s really easy to make me laugh.

Which celebrity would you trade places with:
Beyonce; she is really talented and a great role model. She stands as a symbol of strength and independence for females of all ages.

Something no one knows about you:
My dream job would entail me traveling the world and painting murals. I’m really artsy fartsy!
Women’s Spring 2014 Trends

By: Hallie Bonds
Staff Writer

With spring approaching in a couple of weeks, here’s a look into some of the trends for the upcoming season.

1. Black and White
   Black and white is one of the hottest color combinations for this upcoming spring season. The classic black and white color scheme is sophisticated and easy to add a pop of color to with something simple, like a brightly colored cardigan. This look is definitely something you can never go wrong with.

2. Pastels
   A returning favorite to bring in the spring season through fashion, pastel colors can give you that instant girly look. News shades are taking the way rather than your typical lavender and pastel yellow Easter egg colors. Sure to make you look light and fresh, there are shades to match any skin tone.

3. Metallics
   Whether you have a metallic staple piece such as a blouse, or you decide to accessorize with metallics in a shiny clutch, Metallics are definitely guaranteed to add a pop of glam to your outfit and have everyone looking your way.

4. Wide-Leg Trousers
   These trousers can be found in many beautiful and edgy patterns for the spring time. They give you a flowy look that will blow right the beautiful spring breeze. Pair them with a crop top or sheer blouse and you are set for a beautiful spring day. They are sure to be flattering for any shape or size which makes them even more desirable.

5. Florals
   Florals always bring in the spring season with a nice touch of femininity. This season, some of the floral prints are starting to have a more modern touch. Whether you want to wear a beautiful floral dress or just want to accessorize with a floral headband you are sure to be screaming springtime fashion.

MUSIC REVIEW

Britney Spears - Britney Jean
By: Samantha Bergold
Staff writer

Britney Jean truly is Britney Spears’s most personal album to date. Her eighth studio album was released a little over two months ago, right before she started her new residence in Vegas. Her voice has changed over the decade; she’s been singing in pop culture, but it’s still the same old Britney.

The title offers fans a more personal touch. Britney Jean is the nickname her family has called her over the years. The album features Will.I.Am., T.I. and her sister, Jamie Lynn. Will.I.Am was very hands on in this album, helping cowrite many of the songs with Britney.

The first song on the album, “Alien” relays a state of mind Britney has felt over the years of being alone and “a stranger in the crowd.” The song has a hit beat and is very relatable. “Alien” will be released as a single later in the year.

“Work Work” shows that even with her older age she is still sassy, confident and a pop icon. The song “Work Work” was released in early September and truly sets the mood for her album. The song has a fun and catchy dance rhythm that will motivate you.

The single “Perfume” was Britney’s second single released from the album. Spear’s gets even more emotional to fans as the song chronicles a hard relationship experience she went through in the past.

“Passenger” is an amazing song about letting go and letting someone else ‘take the wheel.’ The tranquil and spiritual melody shows her fans that she has overcome her dark past and is stronger than ever.

The album ends on a positive note with “Now That I Found You”, showing that Spears is in a happy state of mind. The song is a deep melody of how love conquers all.

Britney is still the boss. The album shows that Britney is still a pop icon and will not stop creating hit singles anytime soon.

NETFLIX PIX

American Psycho
By: Hallie Bonds
Staff writer

If you love movies with violence in them, this is definitely a movie for you to watch. This psychological thriller will have you questioning your own sanity. Christian Bale plays Patrick Bateman who has the perfect looks and the typical high-class office job. Yet behind all that perfection, he hides a secret identity of a serial killer. Bateman lures new guests into his beautiful apartment every night for an evening full of surprises, and impressing them with his diverse CD collection. “American Psycho” will leave you staring at the TV in shock. It’s not so comforting wondering how someone who appears so normal can be hiding such a delirious personality.
Your charitable and compassionate nature is attracting attention. People with similar beliefs are drawn to you. You will make many new friends who will have a positive influence on your career this year. The prospects are favorable for a new romance.

AQUARIUS | Jan 20-Feb 19
You are a dynamic and talented individual. Devote your time to building up your self-confidence and creativity. Those around you will be pleasantly surprised by your versatility and ingenuity.

PISCES | Feb 20/March 20
To attain your goals, you will require the support and care of your colleagues and family. Your peers are eager for you to succeed and will offer beneficial advice.

ARIES | March 21/April 19
It's not the day to share details with others. Focus your energy on your own projects, and you will come out ahead. Don't feel you have to respond to every request.

TAURUS | April 20/May 20
Not everyone will honor a promise. The information you are given is likely to be false. Save yourself embarrassment by forming conclusions based on facts that you've verified yourself. Trust your own judgment.

GEMINI | May 21/June 20
You have a great deal of creativity, and you should use it to your advantage. Your insight and intuition could lead to a new moneymaking opportunity. A change in locale will inspire you and offer a new perspective.

SCORPIO | Oct 24/Nov 22
Keep yourself occupied today. Get together with some close friends or trusted relatives for some stimulating conversations. You will get moody and restless if you spend too much time alone.

LIBRA | Sept 23/Oct. 23
Your ego may be feeling bruised by some recent tension at home. Don't dwell on the negative influences around you. Reaffirm your self-confidence by channeling your abilities into a new hobby.

CAPRICORN | Dec 22/Jan 19
Shake your lethargic attitude by doing something physical. Walking, swimming, cycling or hiking will not only engage your muscles; they will also help to release your imagination.

---

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

---

ACROSS

1 Henning's wing
2 Saxon
3 Contents of Pandora's box
4 From a distance
5 Who won't settle down
6 Have no chance at winning
7 "Peter, Peter, pumpkin...
8 "Maria"
9 "Little (Manhattan neighborhood)
10 Says further
11 Has star potential
12 Advance warning
13 Revenge or tennis, for example
14 Aark measure
15 Kind of view
16 Type of pattern or pilot
17 Sharp mountain ridge
18 One thing to do at
19 Sundane winter warmer
20 Remove from the action
21 One pointing at a target
22 Living dangerously
23 Broadcaster
24 Grown-up grizzles
25 Big splash after-math
26 Clergymans' abode
27 Rain unit
28 Crash

DOWN

1 Some organ features
2 Quell, as concerns
3 Property maps
4 Up until this point
5 Sidekick
6 Ship not associated with 7-Down
7 Org. in "From the Earth to the Moon"
8 Like a war dance
9 Camera viewpoint
10 Failure for 7-Down
11 FBI
12 Type of duck or excuse
13 Rapturous rhymes
14 Word before "so!"
15 "and "not!
16 The Midshipmen
17 Knuckleball catcher
18 Beefy dish
19 Pueblo building material
20 Swiss heights
21 Printer's notation
22 Cart for heavy loads
23 Eyelid woe
24 Knowing when to be silent, e.g.
25 Chills and fever
26 Where many features thrive
27 Broadcast, as radio waves
28 Monarch catcher
29 Common connection
30 Monarch, as for outstanding service
31 Field of expertise
32 Sharing a family tree
33 Like a raccoon's tail
34 Water park chute
35 "Go, team!"
36 Annos
37 Open
38 Eskimo boat
39 Atom-splitting Nobelist
40 Unshackled
41 Unwanted email
42 Trojan princess of opera
43 "Dagnabbit!"
44 "The windows to the soul"
45 Fancy-schmancy tug
46 U.N. workers' grip.
47 Winter warmer
48 Atom-splitting Nobelist
49 Unshackled
50 Unwanted email
51 Trojan princess of opera
52 "Dagnabbit!"
53 "The windows to the soul"
54 Fancy-schmancy tug
55 U.N. workers' grip.
56 Winter warmer
57 Atom-splitting Nobelist
58 Unshackled
59 Unwanted email
60 Trojan princess of opera
61 Fancy-schmancy tug
62 U.N. workers' grip.
63 Winter warmer
64 Atom-splitting Nobelist
65 Unshackled
66 Unwanted email
67 Troy princess of opera
WEEKEND BEST BETS

By: Demarcus McDowell
Page-D Editor

The school week brings its share of intensive assignments and Coastal students always anticipate fun weekend activities to reduce the stress of a grueling class schedule. This weekend offers a variety of events that can peak anyone’s interest.

Come support the Men’s Basketball team as they battle Big South foe and in state rival Charleston Southern on Saturday, March 1 starting at 2 pm in the HTC Center Arena. It’s the last scheduled home game of the season so let’s have a large crowd cheering the Chants.

Rapper Juicy J will be performing at the House of Blues on Saturday, March 1 beginning at 9 pm. The “Bandz a Make Her Dance” rapper is making a stop in the Grand Strand for his Never Sober Tour. Ticket prices range between $27-$68 depending on seating. For more information about the show, contact the House of Blues at 843-272-3000.

Multicultural Student Services is presenting a Gospel Sing Out on Sunday, March 2 beginning at 4:30 pm in the Wheelwright Auditorium. This annual event is a community favorite featuring the soulful harmonies of Coastal Carolina University’s Inspirational Ambassadors. For ticket information, contact the Wheelwright Box Office at 843-349-2787.

Castano’s in North Myrtle Beach is hosting an Academy Awards Party on Sunday, March 2 beginning at 6 pm. Come walk down their red carpet and be treated like a star. Ms. Junior Teen United States will be in attendance to take pictures with you as you walk down the red carpet. Prizes will be given out for the best dressed, party favors and more. For more information about the party, contact Castano’s at 843-361-2000.

WHAT’S THE WORD?

We asked students this week what’s one thing people do when they’re at your place that irritates you the most?

Adrianna Seals
“I don’t like it when people sit on my bed.”

Sloan Jordan
“When they blow up my bathroom.”

Chyna Stevenson
“When people get a bottle of water and they don’t finish it. It’s a waste of my money.”

Zack Buffkin
“When people use my dishes without rinsing them off afterwards.”
CAUGHT ON CAMPUS

Aaliyah Watts and Cameron Driver trying to stay warm on the snow day.

CCU students Jordan Muason, Austin Nichols and Charlie Buckley posing for their picture on Prince Lawn.

Chauncey and Matt Thomas at the Wellness Fair on Prince

Kyle Massie taking time to enjoy the snow at the UP Lake.